DLR Secretary Issues Warning To Homeowners

Frank W. Stegman, secretary of the Department of Licensing and Regulation, advises homeowners to be cautious in selecting contractors now that the season for home improvement work is here.

Unscrupulouscontractors tend to prey on homeowners during the spring and summer months. The secretary urges every Marylander to use only contractors licensed by the Maryland Home Improvement Commission for work done on their homes.

There are persons who represent themselves to be contractors who illegally do work without a license. Although they may offer a lower price, Secretary Stegman warns, "buyer beware". By following a few simple procedures, homeowners can assist the Commission in safeguarding their consumer rights. These procedures are:

1. Be sure to obtain written estimates from licensed contractors only.

2. Before signing any contract, contact the Home Improvement Commission at 410-333-6309 to be sure that the contractor is currently licensed, and also to ask for the contractor's complaint record. Homeowners should be wary of doing business with any contractor who has had a large number of complaints in comparison to the volume of the contractor's business.

3. Ask the contractor for references in your area and check these references to see whether they were satisfied with the work done.

4. Ask for a copy of the contractor's liability insurance certificate and make sure it is current.

5. After selecting a contractor, be sure to get a written contract. Read your contract carefully to be sure that it contains details as to all work to be done, materials to be used, and completion dates.

6. Under Maryland law a contractor cannot require money down prior to the signing of a home improvement contract. At signing, no more than 1/3 of the total price is permitted.

7. Certain types of home improvements require building permits from your local government. Check with the permit department of your local government to see if your job requires a permit. If a permit is required, make the contractor show you the permit before you allow work to begin.

Even if a homeowner uses the precautions listed, there may be problems such as the contractor abandoning the work or poor workmanship. Should these problems arise, first contact the contractor to try to have them resolved. If this is unsuccessful, contact the Home Improvement Commission immediately. Many homeowners are assisted by the Commission which, under the Secretary's direction, investigates more than 3,000 complaints against licensed and unlicensed contractors yearly. The sooner homeowners contact the Commission, the better the chances are of having their complaints resolved without having to go through a lengthy hearing process.

For additional information, contact the Home Improvement Commission at 410-333-6309.

Video-Conference On Ecosystems Management Set

A satellite video-conference titled "Management of Forest Ecosystems: Assessing New Opportunities" will be held this Saturday, May 20, in the video-conference room (#314) at Garrett Community College, McHenry.

Presented by the Oklahoma Cooperative Extension Service and sponsored in Garrett County by the Garrett County Forestry Board, the Maryland Cooperative Extension Service, and the Maryland Tree Farm Program, the conference is designed to help landowners learn more about ecosystem-based management. Topics include the value of ecosystem-based management, case study of cross-ownership management, and what the non-industrial private landowner can do. A live question and answer session with experts on the subject will be part of the program.

Final registration for the program will be from 10:30 to 11 a.m., and the conference will be from 11 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. The question and answer session to address specific issues that concern Garrett County forestland owners will follow.

There is no charge to attend the conference, but seating is limited and persons are encouraged to register early by calling the local Forest Service office at 334-3296.

For those who cannot attend the conference, the Forestry Board will tape the program for later viewing. Also, those who have access to a satellite dish television may pick-up the conference live at the following coordinates: Telstar 401, Transponder 16, Channel 16; polarity: horizontal; downlink frequency: 4,020 MHz; audio subcarriers: 6.2 and 6.8; and orbital location: 97 degrees west.

TERMS OF SALE: Cash (no checks) on the day of sale of the full amount of taxes due on the property sold, together with interest, penalties and expenses of sale. Residue of purchase price shall remain on credit.

Purchasers will be issued a certificate of sale, which may be recorded among the Land Records of Garrett County. The holder of any certificate of sale, his heirs or assigns, may at any time after the expiration of six months from the date of sale, file a bill of complaint to foreclose all rights of redemption of the property to which such certificate relates. Unless a proceeding to foreclose the right of redemption is filed within two years of the date of the certificate of sale, the certificate shall be void and all rights to the holder of the certificate shall cease and all money received by the Treasurer on account of said sale shall be deemed forfeited. Upon foreclosure and payment of the balance of the purchase price and all taxes, interest, penalties and costs, which have accrued, in the meantime, the Treasurer will execute a deed which will vest in the purchaser an absolute and indefeasible title in fee simple in the property, free and clear of all alienations and descents.

The right of redemption continued until foreclosed as above, upon payment of the whole amount of money received by the Treasurer from the sale of the property, together with interest at 10 percent (10%) per annum from the date of sale to the date of redemption together with all taxes, interest and penalties accrued which have been paid by the holders of the certificate of sale and the total disbursements of the holder of the certificate of sale made in accordance with law. All costs as to examination of title, preparation and deed. Court costs and other expenses accruing after the sale must be assumed by the purchaser.

ALL BIDDERS MUST REGISTER AT THE TREASURER'S OFFICE PRIOR TO THE SALE.

ALL SALES ARE FINAL.
MRS. PATTY L. GLOVER
Treasurer of Garrett County

Pro-Business Bills Signed By Gov. Glendening

A package of bills that represent his aggressive pro-business agenda aimed at making Maryland the national benchmark for economic development was signed into law this week by Governor Parris N. Glendening. The legislation includes measures to make it easier for companies to do business in Maryland, others that make Maryland more attractive for businesses considering relocating to the state, as well as bills providing tax relief for businesses and consumers, according to the governor.

"It was a session marked by cooperation between government, legislators and business, and we accomplished a great deal toward improving Maryland's business climate, Governor Glendening said. "It was the most pro-business session in two decades."

Joining the governor for the bill signing were Senate President Thomas V. "Mike" Miller, Jr., Speaker Pro Tem Elijah E. Cummings, representing Speaker of the House Casper R. Taylor, Jr., and Secretary of State John Willis.

Twenty-two of the 23 pro-business bills proposed by the Glendening administration were passed by the Maryland General Assembly and signed today by the governor, including House Bill 404, creating the Neighborhood Business Development Program and Fund, to help revitalize distressed neighborhoods; House Bill 717, which strengthens the state's Minority Business Enterprise Program; and House Bill 1185, which reorganizes the state's economic development agency into a new Department of Business and Economic Development, effective July 1, and creates a private-sector Maryland Economic Development Commission.

"I am very pleased at the progress made during this session toward making Maryland more competitive and friendlier for business," said James T. Brady, secretary of the new economic development department.

The governor also signed Senate Bill 98, which reduces closing costs for firsttime homebuyers; House Bill 800, which requires an economic impact analysis of all bills so as not to negatively impact small businesses; House Bill 1377, which extends the operation of the Small Business Development Center Network statewide; House Bill 717, which expands the Surety Bond Program of the Maryland Small Business Development Financing Authority; Senate Bill 743, which expands financing available to small businesses through the Maryland Seafood and Aquaculture Loan Fund; House Bill 842, which establishes the Forum for Rural Maryland to address issues of the state's rural areas; Senate Bill 648, which offers credits for clean-fuel vehicles; Senate Bills 113 and 152, which provide tax relief for vehicle rentals; Senate Bill 442, which allows interstate banking and branching; and Senate Bill 868, which creates a state reserve account and enables counties to offer a personal property income tax credit for equipment used in research and development.

"The reorganization of DEED and the various tax-related bills that the governor is signing represent a sound beginning in achieving his promise of substantial improvements in Maryland's business climate," said Champe McCulloch, president of the Maryland Chamber of Commerce. "We welcome the governor's response to the needs of the business community, we look forward to continuing a productive relationship with his administration, and we're particularly pleased that DEED will be reorganized to focus on economic development."

The governor signed over 225 bills into law, after signing another 114 bills into law April 11. The next bill signing ceremonies are scheduled for May 18 and May 25.

Rotary Exchange Student Bridges Nationality Gap Through Dance

MURIEL DONCQ

by Mary McEwen

When the music begins and the dancers jump into action, no one watching would know that one girl in the group is from another land and another culture. Thus the beauty of music and hip hop dancing - a strong bridge over the nationality gap between Belgian Rotary exchange student Muriel Doncq and her Garrett Countian co-dancers from Brenda's Body Shop.

Miss Doncq, a resident of a Brussels suburb, has been in the county since August of last year, attending school at Northern High and spending a great deal of time with Brenda Brosnihan, local aerobics and dance ace.

"Muriel is a delightful girl," Brosnihan said. "She's enthusiastic and fun. She's also a wonderful dancer with lots of talent."

Brosnihan said Muriel has been assisting with the senior jazz classes for middle school girls at Brenda's Body Shop.

"It has been very enjoyable having her instruct the younger students at the shop," Brosnihan said. "Her leadership, knowledge, and skill have been inspirational to us all."

The young smiling Belgian came to the mountains of Maryland with a lengthy background in dance and gymnastics. Her parents were both instrumental in establishing a gymnastics program in their town, for which her mother serves as an occupational therapist. Muriel has been involved in gymnastics for eight years and jazz dance for three. Her two younger sisters are also avid gymnasts.

"When I found out from the Rotary where I was going - to a rural area in Maryland - I asked," she said timidly, "is there any dance there? And they said 'well, no, not really.' So I was a little unhappy about that."

However, Muriel's first host family, George and Madeline Collins, detected her longing for the dance floor. Madeline then made contact with Brenda and directed Muriel to the shop.

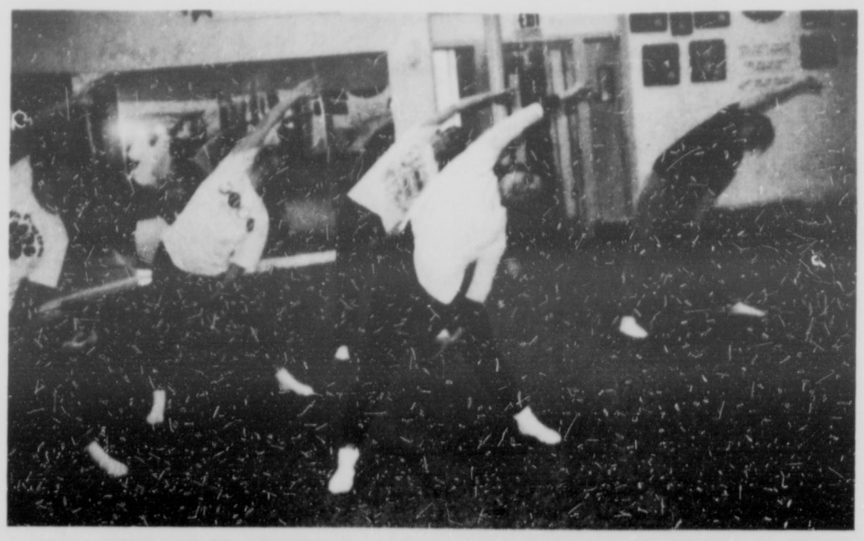
"And I just love it," she said with enthusiasm. Brosnihan said the French-speaking Belgian has been tireless in her contributions to the other dancers and has also learned a great deal herself.

"At times communication has been challenging," Brenda said. "But the love of music and dance has been the special bond. Dance and the arts are truly a universal language."

Aerobic dancing was new to Muriel, as was hip hop. Her expertise in jazz dance was a fair exchange, though.

"It has been fun to share some American pop culture like hip hop dancing and aerobics," said Erin Long, a dancer at the shop. "Muriel has challenged us with her style of dance and we have challenged her with the athletics of aerobics."

The product of some of this collaboration will be put on stage next week as Brenda and Company will present its 12th annual spring recital, "That's Entertainment," on Friday, May 19, and Saturday, May 20, at Southern High School. Along with the 142 area performers, Muriel will perform a solo she choreographed as well as dance with the high school jazz class in several routines. The show, which begins at 7 p.m. each evening, is open to the public and tickets are available at Brenda's Body Shop or, if still available, at the door.



THE LANGUAGE OF DANCE has shattered most communication barriers for Muriel Doncq, a Rotary exchange student from Belgium, and her friends at Brenda's Body Shop in Oakland. Muriel joined up with Brenda Brosnihan several months ago to learn and to teach, trading dance and aerobic techniques among Brosnihan's many students. The Belgian will be a featured dancer at Brenda and Company's 12th annual spring recital "That's Entertainment," scheduled at Southern High School on May 19 and 20 at 7 p.m. She is also part of the high school team which will perform several numbers. Pictured above and below is the team in rehearsal. Shown above left to right are Stephanie Friend, Noelle Collins, Melanie Cook, Muriel, and Shannon Spurrier. Pictured below are Noelle, Muriel, and Melanie. Another dancer in the group not pictured is Erin Long.

In addition to hip hopping at Brenda's, Muriel has filled her remaining time with a variety of activities. Currently she is a member of Northern's junior varsity track and field team, jumping hurtles. She was also a member of the girls' volleyball team, but because of time constraints had to quit that extra-curricular activity. The exchange student also recently appeared in the Frostburg State University spring dance concert, having been accepted into the college group after an audition.

Her career goal is to become a physical therapist, and she has spent time at Garrett County Memorial Hospital's physical therapy department, observing and assisting. Her Rotary duties have kept her busy as well, as she attends several meetings every month. Muriel, who speaks English with apparent ease, was also chosen among 24 other area exchange students to be interviewed on a Pennsylvania television station about her American experiences.

The young woman has lived with the Collins family and with Dr. Walter and Sandra Naumann. Her current home is with Bill and Becky Aikens. She will remain in the county until June 25, when she will embark on a several-state five-week tour of the U.S. with other Rotary exchange participants.

And what has been the most difficult thing for this teen traveler? Missing her family is certainly near the top of the list, but her main complaint is with something more ordinary.

"The food here - it's so fattening!" she exclaimed. With all the aerobics and jazz, one has to doubt if even a shadow of fat stays anywhere near this energized young woman.

"We're really going to miss her," Brenda said. "She's added so much - we've all learned a lot."

Local Individuals Win Awards From MD Science Center

Winners of the 1995 Maryland Science Week programs, announced by the Maryland Science Week Commission recently, included one local teacher and three students, according to a release from the Maryland Science Center. The winners were announced at a celebration titled "Celebrate Science," held at the science center late last month.

Von Mosser, a teacher at Northern High School, was among 21 other state teachers selected as Martin Marietta Graduate Fellows. The goal of this program is to enhance mathematics and science education in the state by providing teachers with "real-world" summer internship experiences in research facilities.

In another category, "Imagine Your Tomorrow, Today," Maryland students in the third, fourth, and fifth grades were invited to draw or paint how they think people will travel and live in space in the year 2015. The entrants wrote essays to accompany their drawings.

In Garrett County, three students were chosen as 1995 winners in this contest. They were Shane Yoder, Arin Phares, and Joshua Williams.

The "Celebrate Science" event was held at the Maryland Science Center and was hosted by Bob Heck of Maryland Public Television.

Marriage Enrichment Film Series Slated At Church Of Christ

A Marriage Enrichment Film Series is planned at the Oakland Church of Christ, beginning May 19, and continuing for four consecutive Friday evenings from 7-9 p.m.

The award-winning series by Dr. Carl Brecheen, a professor of Bible and family relations, and Dr. Paul Faulkner, director of the Institute of Marriage and Family Studies in Abilene, Texas, has been viewed by more than two million people in churches worldwide, according to a spokesperson from the church. Humor and insight are featured in the eight, 45-minute films.

Two films will be viewed each evening, and the schedule is as follows: May 19, "Made For Each Other" and "The Trouble With Us Is Me"; May 26, "What Husbands Need To Know" and "What Wives Need To Know"; June 2, "How To Kill Communiciation" and "The Communication Lifeline"; and June 9, "Speaking Frankly About Sex" and "Renewing Romance In Marriage."

The public is invited to attend any or all of the series. A break for refreshments will follow each film, and admission is free. The church is locted at 1300 Memorial Drive, Oakland.

ACCIDENT ELEMENTARY RECYCLES - In observance of Earth Appreciation Week, fifth grade students at Accident Elementary School recently participated in a recycling project in which they used the discarded edges of computer paper to make jewelry. The paper jewelry was then sold to members of the faculty, staff, and student body to raise funds to purchase a tree for the school grounds. The following week a flowering pear tree from Jim Holler's Nursery was planted by the students in front of the school. Students participating in the event included Crystal Arndt, Michael Ashby, Mark Bergstrom, Brooke Butler, Eddie Clemons, Lindsey Doerr, T.J. Durst, Christina Flockhart, Justin Fontaine, Rebecca Friend, Jenny Graham, Joey Graham, Holly Hare, Cristy Holler, Tracylynn McKenzie, Theresa Miller, Erin Nell, Elliott Perfetti, Micah Plevyak, Mark Roberts, Megan Sisler, Brett Stein, Jason Snelling, and Vincent Sellers. Some of the students are pictured above displaying their recycled paper jewelry.

Masons To Meet

Oakland Lodge No. 192, Ancient, Free, and Accepted Masons, will have a regular communication on Tuesday, May 23, 7:30 p.m., at the Paul B. Naylor Masonic Temple, 3 South First St. There will be a Second Degree. Worshipful Master D. Kenneth Harris invites all Master Masons to attend and join in the social and refreshments following the meeting.

Tap Ensemble To Perform May 26 at SHS

The National Tap Ensemble will perform a free tap dance concert on Friday, May 26, at 8 p.m. in Southern High School's cafetorium.

The concert, titled Tops in Tap: An American Tradition, will trace the history of tap dancing from the era of minstrel shows to today's "Techno Tap," according to a spokesperson for the tap ensemble.

The presentation of the National Tap Ensemble is part of the Maryland State Arts Council's 1995 Touring Residency Program, and is presented by the Garrett County Arts Council. For more information, persons may call the council at 387-3121. The performances are in honor of National Tap Dance Day and Older Americans' Month.

Annual Oakland Memorial Day Observance Set

The annual Oakland Memorial Day observance will be conducted on Monday, May 29, beginning with a parade through downtown Oakland and concluding with the memorial services at the Oakland Cemetery.

The guest speaker for the ceremonies at the cemetery will be Richard J. Santos, National Executive Committeeman for the American Legion, Department of Maryland, Inc. A photo and biography of Santos will appear in next week's issue of The Republican.

Any organization or individuals wishing to participate in the parade or ceremony at the cemetery may obtain more information by contacting Proctor Kildow Post 71, American Legion, Oakland, at 334-2228, or Jerry Swiger, Memorial Day chairman, at 334-1707 by May 20.

Boal Receives Degree At WVU

Brian Robert Boal, son of Robert and Leanna Boal, Oakland, was among those who received undergraduate diplomas at West Virginia University, Morgantown, during commencement ceremonies there Sunday.

Boal, a 1991 graduate of Southern High School, was awarded a bachelor of science degree in accounting, magna cum laude (with high honors) from the WVU College of Business and Economics. He has accepted a position with the Price-Waterhouse Accounting Firm in Pittsburgh, beginning this August.

DRANE ARTIFACTS ON DISPLAY - As part of the third annual celebration of Maryland Archeology Week, the Accident Branch of the Ruth Enlow Library, in conjunction with the Accident Cultural and Historical Society and the Maryland Historical Trust's office of archeology, will display artifacts found on the Drane house property during the several excavations conducted there. Among the items on display are a 1787 Spanish coin, a fragment of a bone lice comb, horseshoes, bone and metal buttons, a slate pencil, a thimble, and a bone tuning key. Librarians Janet Otto and Mary Lou Harman, pictured left to right, are shown displaying some of the Drane artifacts, which may be viewed during regular library hours. The Drane house is open to visitors at no charge, and arrangements to tour the house may be made by contacting the Accident Town Hall at 746-6346 on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays.

Dinners Planned By Deep Creek VFD

The Deep Creek Volunteer Fire Department and its Ladies Auxiliary will host a spaghetti supper at the fire hall in McHenry on Friday, May 26, from 5-8 p.m. In addition to spaghetti, the meal includes garlic toast, salad, beverage and dessert.

The cost for the meal is $5 for adults and $2.50 for children under 12. Carry-outs will be available for an extra 25 cents.

Other suppers are also planned for Friday, June 30 and July 28.

A chicken barbecue will be served at the Deep Creek fire hall, McHenry, on Saturday and Sunday, May 27-28, from noon until 6 p.m. The dinner is sponsored by the Deep Creek volunteer firemen.

Country Kids To Hold Dinner

The Country Kids 4-H club will sponsor a spaghetti dinner, this Saturday, May 20, from 4 until 7 p.m. It will be held at the Oak Park Church of the Brethren, across from Southern High School.

The menu includes spaghetti with meatballs, cole slaw, roll, dessert and drinks. The cost is $5 for adults and $2.50 for children over 2. Children under 2 eat free.

Tickets may be purchased in advance from any club member or at the door. Carry-outs will be available.

The proceeds will be used for upcoming club activities.

Farming In Maryland.....

Corn -- New Postemergence Herbicides

by Dr. Ron Ritter, University of Md.

Exceed -- A combination of two sulfonylurea herbicides (one being Beacon) by Ciba-Geigy. More broadleaf activity than Beacon alone. Still weak on grasses. I will only recommend this product in combination with Banvel or 2,4-D.

Permit -- Monsanto got a label for this sulfonylurea over the winter. A broadleaf product, but extremely weak on common lambsquarters. Needs Banvel or 2,4-D added to it. It's greatest asset is excellent nutsedge control.

Resource -- Labeled for corn and soybeans by Alent. Not a sulfonylurea. It's biggest fit is excellent velvetleaf control. It's weak on larger sized common lambsquarters.

Shotgun -- Ag-Chem (UAP) has a 2,4-D + atrazine package-mix available. It does everything you would expect from 2,4-D + atrazine.

Broadstrike Post -- A combination of Broadstrike + Stinger + 2,4-D by DowElanco. Labeled but not promoting it until 1996. Another broadleaf material.

Sencor + 2,4-D or Banvel -- Mobay (Miles, Bayer, or whatever they go by) recently received a full federal label for this combination. We have tried it for the past two years. Looks good on most annual broadleaf weeds including common lambsquarters.

Other Corn Entries -- This whole area of biotechnology is going to impact us from now on. As you know, we have the IR/IT corn lines available. Cyanamid has been promoting the use of Contour = (Pursuit + atrazine) or Resolve = (Pursuit + Banvel) on them. Finally, Dekalb and Pioneer do have some sethoxydim resistant (coded SR) corn lines available. I will be testing them this summer. Sethoxydim is the common name for the herbicide Poast. Yes, for those of you that don't know, we now have corn lines where you can apply Poast overtop of them without injury.

Pursuit On Alfalfa

Pursuit herbicide has been labeled for use on alfalfa. Use rate is four to six ounces per acre. Can be used on new seedings, once the plant emerges, not per-emergence or preplant incorporated. I see its assets in three places: 1) After first cutting - would probably recommend six ounces; 2) For late summer/early fall planting after plants emerge. Use the four ounce rate for early control of chickweed and other winter annuals; 3) For a late winter/early spring planting after plants emerge. Use the four ounce rate for early control of summer annuals. One last thing about Pursuit on alfalfa - the label states, "Do not feed, graze or harvest alfalfa for 30 days following an application of Pursuit to alfalfa." The rotational crop guidelines are also pretty specific - when in doubt read the label.

Be Careful With The Super Sweets Corn

Many of you who have tried the super sweets probably found out that the germination rate can be poor. The super sweets seed is characterized by the shrunken seed. This seed does not have the large amount of stored energy as the regular corn seed; therefore, it must germinate quickly and have very little resistance in coming up through the soil. Soil temperature is critical for good germination. I would suggest a soil temperature of at least 65 degrees or preferably higher before planting. Also, the soil must be finely prepared for easy emergence.

Scholarship Applications Being Accepted

The Garrett County Livestock Association recently announced the continuation of a scholarship program for youth enrolled in the Garrett County 4-H or FFA programs.

Keith Cannon, scholarship committee chairman, indicated the program was established in 1993 with a donation from Buffalo Coal Company during the Annual Garrett County Livestock Association Sale.

The association in conjunction with Garrett County 4-H Clubs and FFA Chapters conducted additional fund raising activities and in 1994, over $1,200 was awarded to five 4H/FFA members. Additional fund raising activities are being conducted and the number and dollar amounts of the scholarships for 1995 will be announced at a later date.

Applications for the scholarships are currently being accepted and are due June 19, 1995. Applicants must be a 4-H or FFA member in Garrett County and a high school graduate or equivalent. Youth will be asked to complete an application including an essay, submit two letters of reference and hold an interview with the selection committee.

The scholarship can be used for any post high school education including college, trade or technical school.

Recipients of the scholarship(s) will be announced during the awards ceremony held at the Garrett County Fair. For additional information on the 4-H/FFA Scholarship Program, those interested should contact Keith Cannon, chairman, Northern or Southern High School FFA Vocational Agricultural instructors, or the Extension Service Office at 334-1990.

Individuals or businesses interested in contributing to the scholarship program are asked to contact the above listed individuals.

CRP Signup Dates Scheduled

Agriculture Secretary Dan Glickman says that producers with acreage under contract in the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) may sign up at their local Consolidated Farm Service Agency (CFSA) office from May 15 to June 2 to request release from the terms and conditions of the CRP contract.

During the same period, CRP participants with contracts expiring September 30, 1995, may submit requests to CFSA to modify their contracts by extending the expiration date to September 30, 1996.

Producers in Garrett County can stop by the CFSA office in the Oakland Courthouse from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. or call 301-334-1901 for more information.

Governor's Pesticide Council To Hold Public Forum May 24

Governor Parris N. Glendening's Pesticide Council is seeking public participation and direct input during its monthly meeting on May 24 in Annapolis.

The Governor's Pesticide Council was formed to provide a mechanism by which a variety of people could have input into evaluation and development of state pesticide programs relating to pesticide use. The council advises the governor and secretary of agriculture on actions necessary to produce healthy agricultural products and to allow proper pest control while protecting the health and safety of Maryland citizens and the environment. The council's 15 members represent pesticide manufacturers, regulators, scientists, pesticide users, local government, environmental organization and the public.

"We want the public to be a big part of our decision making process and we are encouraging people or groups to give an oral presentation to the council on specific issues or concerns relating to pesticides," said Maryland Secretary of Agriculture Lewis Riley.

The council generally meets on the fourth Wednesday of each month at the Maryland Department of Agriculture headquarters. Public forums are held regularly during the year at which the public may present their questions, issues or support relating to pesticide management programs. The May 24 meeting will be the tenth in a series of scheduled forums held to provide an opportunity for direct public comment.

The council has formed two subcommittees to focus on specific issues. The Regulatory Subcommittee is addressing pesticide surveys, management, storage, and disposal regulations or programs. The Education Subcommittee is considering integrated pest management (IPM) programs in schools and pesticide education programs for farmers, commercial pesticide applicators, and the general public. Both subcommittees are considering issues presented by members of the public during prior public forums.

Anyone who wishes to make a presentation or report to the council on May 24, should write to Mary Ellen Setting, council staff, Governor's Pesticide Council, c/o Maryland Department of Agriculture, 50 Harry S. Truman Parkway, Room 500, Annapolis, MD 21401 or call Mrs. Setting at (410) 841-5710. Requests must be received by May 22.

Your Chance To Learn More About Ostriches

On Monday, May 22 at 7 p.m., an informational meeting will be held regarding the production of ostriches. The meeting will take place at the Preston High School on Rt. 26 South of Kingwood. The evening's speakers will be Zoann Parker, Penn State Cooperative Extension Poultry Science and ostrich expert, and Charles and Jen Frye, Preston County ostrich producers. Information, literature, and a sample of ostrich burger will be available to participants. Since we will be having cooked samples of ostrich burger, we would appreciate it if you would call the extension office at (304) 329-1391 if you plan to attend this meeting so that we can be sure to have enough samples for each participant.

In the past year many area residents have expressed interest in this production alternative. The breeding, raising, and marketing of ostriches has been an active industry in South Africa since the mid-1800's. Since then, it has expanded to other countries including Canada, Israel, France, and Asia. In the United States, the ostrich industry is still relatively new, but it continues to grow daily.

Currently the ostrich industry in the United States is in the breeder market. This means that ostrich owners are trying to meet the demand for fertile eggs, chicks, and older birds. As the ostrich industry grows, the breeder market will be replaced by the commercial market. Producers hope that a commercial market will develop for meat and also for leather and feathers.

Buying options include:

Fertilized Eggs -- You need specialized equipment and should have knowledge of incubation and hatching.

Chicks -- May be least expensive entry level and also has minimal space requirements.

Yearlings and Unproven Breeders -- Mid-priced option and they are insurable.

Proven Breeders -- Most expensive, but also lowest risk factor. Have known reproductive potential and should have faster return on your investment.

A fee of 25 cents will be required to cover the insurance policy for this meeting.

West Virginia Sheep and Lambs Predator Death Loss

A total of 5,575 head of sheep and lambs were lost from animal predators during 1994. This represented 34.0 percent of the 16,600 head of sheep and lambs lost from all causes and resulted in a loss from predators to farmers and ranchers of $251,525.

Administration Unveils Farm Bill Plan

Agriculture Secretary Dan Glickman presented the administration's recommendations for the 1995 farm bill, pledging to make needed reforms while maintaining a safety net for "farmers, rural America, and the millions who depend on USDA's nutrition and feeding programs."

He said the Clinton administration has two overriding goals for the farm bill debate: to empower, not encumber, U.S. agriculture, and to sustain rural America.

"We are not going to abandon rural America or the American consumer," Glickman said. "We are working to ensure the American farmer is treated fairly in trade abroad. We are committed to doing the same at home."

The proposals were based on the administration's $1.5 billion cut in farm program spending over the next five years-much less than the cuts in the $8 billion to $9 billion range proposed by the house and senate budget committees.

"This is a farm bill, not a budget bill," Glickman said. He said cuts beyond the Clinton proposal would be "very harmful to rural America."

He also noted that U.S. farm program spending must be viewed in context "with what the rest of the world is doing."

It would be "plain stupid" to make major cuts in farm spending, he said, when the European Union plans to spend $50 billion on farm programs next year.

Highlights of Glickman's farm bill recommendations:

* Planting flexibility: Flexibility would be increased by combining all crop bases into a total acreage base, with deficiency payments determined as they are in current programs. No base increase. Percentage of base for alternative crops would be increased gradually from 15 percent to 100 percent.

* Conservation farm option: Producers in priority environment areas would be permitted to receive payments for producing under a whole farm conservation plan.

* Targeting program payment to farmers: A means test would be applied, excluding payments to individuals who earn $100,000 or more per year in off-farm income, targeting payments to those who depend on farm income to earn a living.

* Various rural development programs, including: Investing in rural economies, improving the information infrastructure for rural America, targeting programs to those areas of greatest need and developing business activity.

* Conservation reserve program reauthorization: Additional program enrollments permitted through 2000 on environmentally sensitive lands. Economic use of CRP acres allowed for a reduced rental rate.

* Wetlands reserve program: The program would be amended to give the secretary flexibility in the timing of compensation payments and other administrative tasks.

* International programs: Plans include refocusing emerging market program, targeting export credit guarantees and making P.L. 480 food assistance programs more effective for market development.

* Food and nutrition: Food stamp reform, commodity program consolidation and enhanced nutrition education.

* Research, education and economics: Establishment of a research, education and economics policy council; refocus of national research and education priorities; and strengthened agricultural research and education partnerships.

* Food safety: Meat and poultry food safety reform and pesticide regulation.

Soybean Planting Begins

For the week ending May 14, soil conditions were favorable for some Maryland farmers to begin planting soybeans. Across the state, topsoil moisture was six percent short, 86 percent adequate, and eight percent surplus. Subsoil moisture was 20 percent short, 78 percent adequate, and two percent surplus. Conditions allowed for an average of 4.0 days suitable for fieldwork.

Planting of crops and vegetables made good progress during the few days available. Land preparation remained ahead of normal with 90 percent completed. Small grain crops were in fair to mostly good condition. Wheat heading was ahead of normal, while barley heading was nearly complete and some rye was turning. Corn and soybean planting were at a normal pace. Potato and vegetabie planting were still behind normal except for sweet corn, which was ahead. Most of the apples, peaches, and strawberries were blooming. Pastures were fair to mostly good and hay was mostly adequate as haymaking began.

Maryland's progress for the week ending May 14 was as follows, listing the item, this week's percentage, last week's percentage, last year's percentage, and a percentage for the 5-year average.

Small Grains Progress: Wheat, heading, 66, 31, 47, 55; Barley, turned, 0, 0, 5, 11. Planting progress: Corn 67, 51, 68, 65; Soybeans 5, 0, 5, 6; Potatoes 87, 86, 93, 97; Watermelons 42, 29, 54, 50; Cantaloupe 48, 40, 56, 55. Haymaking: Alfalfa 4, 0, 9, 12; Other hay 4, 0, 7, 7. Fruit Bloom: Apples 85, 76, 95, 95; Peaches 95, 94, 100, 100; Strawberries 87, 83, 79, 85.

WEATHER

Maryland weather for the week ending May 12 had below normal temperatures and moderate precipitation. Temperatures averaged 58.8 degrees, 2.2 degrees below the normal of 61.0 degrees for the week of May 6 through May 12. The low temperature for the week was 28 degrees at Oakland, which also had the highest temperature at 80 degrees. Precipitation for the week ranged from none at Upper Marlboro to 1.56 inch at Cambridge.

USDA Announces Three Changes For CRP

"The Conservation Reserve Program (CRP), under which producers retired production from over 36.4 million acres of cropland under 10 to 15 year contracts, has three significant changes in it this year," said Kenneth R. Bachtel, chairperson of the Garrett County CFSA Committee.

Producers with CRP contracts expiring September 30, 1995, can extend the maturity dates for one year for part or all of the land. No new land can be added. Rental rates remain unchanged and crop insurance requirements will not apply to one-year extensions.

CRP participants have a one-time chance to withdraw part or all of their land from the program. Not all CRP acreage is eligible for removal. CRP acreage with cover such as filterstrips, waterways, strips along riparian areas, windbreaks, shelter belts, shallow water wildlife areas, certain timber establishments or wetlands and acreage subject to wildlife easements will be required to remain in CRP.

"Sign-up for the one-year extensions and early releases will be from May 15 to June 2," said Bachtel.

Concerning the third change Bachtel said that there will be modified program requirements covering CRP land preparation for fall seeding for producers whose contracts expire this year and who wish to plant CRP acres this fall. Under current requirements, CRP cover may be destroyed without penalty during the last 90 days of the contract, but not earlier than July 1, to prepare a seed bed for fall-planted crops only. In summer fallow and certain other arid areas, producers may apply for an earlier date than July 1 to conserve moisture.

The only reason a producer may apply for the earlier date is for the preparation of a seedbed for fall planting. In some areas, maintaining crop cover until July could effectively prevent the planting of a fall crop.

"Producers wishing to begin land preparation before July 1 must obtain approval from the county committee, and the CRP rental payment will be reduced," said Bachtel.

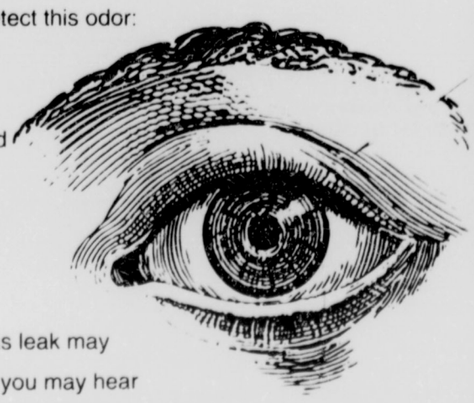
SOME COMMON SENSE WAYS TO DETECT A GAS LEAK.

Even with a system as safe and secure as your natural gas service, a leak could occur. That's why you and your family should learn some basic safety rules.

In cities, towns, or suburban areas.

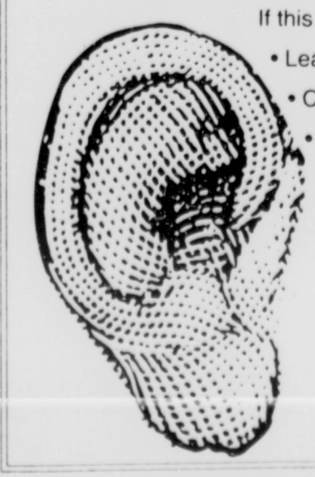
Your gas company adds a special scent to the otherwise odorless natural gas that's delivered to your home. If you detect this odor:

- Don't use matches or operate electrical switches, equipment or appliances.
- Leave your home, business or building and call the gas company from another site.
- Don't return until a gas company representative arrives.



In parks or rural areas.

Outside some cities and towns, a natural gas leak may not be detectable by scent. In these areas, you may hear a blowing or hissing sound or see dirt blowing into the air; water bubbling or being blown into the air at a puddle, pond, creek or river; brown patches in vegetation on or near a gas line; or fire coming from the ground or burning above it.



If this happens:

- Leave the area and warn others to stay away.
- Call the gas company and the police and fire departments.
- Don't try to extinguish a gas fire or operate any pipeline valves.

Horse Shows Announced By Saddle Club

The Mountain Top Saddle Club will hold its first-ever Dressage and Hunter/Jumper show on Saturday, May 20th at 8:00 a.m. The first open horse show of the season will be on Sunday, May 21, beginning at 10 a.m. Both shows will be held at the Garrett County Fair Grounds, Rt. 219, McHenry. The Open Pleasure Show will have English, Western, Youth, Pony, Hunter and Small Fry classes. A current negative Coggins Test is required. The entry fee will be $4 per class, with no charge admittance for spectators, and refreshments will be available.

Additional Open Pleasure Shows will be held on August 6 and September 10.

All-Game Shows are scheduled for June 25, beginning at 11 a.m.; July 8 at 4 p.m.; and September 17 at 11 a.m. These shows will be sanctioned by the West Virginia Contest Riders Association and will be run under WVCRA rules.

On July 9, the Saddle Tramps 4-H Club will sponsor a day of showing beginning at 8:30 a.m. with game classes. Pleasure classes will begin at approximately 10:30 a.m. Four-H members must show a current 4-H Horse & Pony Card to enter classes.

For more information, those interested may call 301-387-4550.

Legislature Discussed By Farm Bureau

There were many issues affecting agriculture this year in the Maryland State Legislature. Maryland Farm Bureau representatives say they were quite busy working with legislators and state agencies discussing issues that could have created problems for rural areas and agriculture. Listed below are some of the bills and resolutions that were introduced and what happened to them.

Transfer Tax

This bill, S.B.6, alters the distribution formula for revenues from the state transfer tax. It will increase the allocation for the Agricultural Land Preservation Fund from 13.2% to 14.5%. Maryland Farm Bureau supported and the bill passed both houses.

Insurance

Senate Bill 147/H.B. 107 would have prohibited any insurer, who offers a private passenger motor vehicle liability insurance policy from expressing any underlying risks consideration in geographic terms, or from using any rating territory smaller than the entire state of Maryland when determining the classification of any rate. Because these bills would have increased insurance rates in rural areas, Maryland Farm Bureau opposed. Both bills failed in committee.

Rights

This bill, S.B. 184, if passed by the General Assembly and approved by the voters, would have amended the Constitution of Maryland to guarantee a citizen the right to keep and bear arms for the defense of self, family, home, and state, and for hunting and recreational use. Maryland Farm Bureau supported the bill, however it was withdrawn.

Tax Credit

Senate Bill 225 provides that a governing body of a county may grant a property tax credit (up to 50 percent) against the county property tax imposed on real property that is used for agricultural purposes and is: 1. subject to a current soil conservation and water quality plan approved by the county soil conservation district, and 2. if eligible, subject to a certified nutrient management plan. The bill passed both houses.

Emissions

Two bills, S.B. 280/H.B. 1213, would have required the Motor Vehicle Administration and the Secretary of the Environment to establish a Diesel Vehicle Emissions Control Program in the state. Maryland Farm Bureau opposed the bills. The Senate bill was withdrawn, and the House bill failed in committee.

Speed Limit

Senate Bill 342 authorizes the State Highway Administration to increase, to the extent authorized by federal law, the maximum speed at which a person may lawfully drive a vehicle on certain interstate highways to not more than 65 miles an hour. The bill also provides that the number of points assessed for speeding in excess of a posted speed limit of 65 miles an hour by 20 miles an hour or more, shall be 5 points. The bill passed both houses.

Compensation

Senate Bill 473 stated that the owner of any private property has a cause of action against the state if: the application of a statute, regulation, guideline, or policy of the state restricts, limits, or otherwise infringes on a right to private property that would otherwise exist in the absence of such application, and the application just described would result in a discrete and non-negligible reduction in the fair market value of the affected portion of the private property of the lesser of: 25% or more; or $10,000 or more. Maryland Farm Bureau supports passage of private property rights protection legislation. They believe government should provide due process and compensation to the exact degree that an owner's right to use his property has been diminished by government action, however, the bill failed in Senate committee.

Wetlands

The purpose of S.B. 649/H.B. 820 was to make the necessary changes to Maryland's Nontidal Wetlands Law so that it would be consistent with the federal law. Then the state could have pursued assumption of the Federal Nontidal Wetlands Permit Program under the Clean Water Act, Section 404. If the state assumed the program it would be responsible for permitting and enforcement, and a federal permit would no longer be required.

In most respects, Maryland's current Nontidal Wetlands Program meets or exceeds federal standards. However, a number of adjustments (particularly as it relates to agriculture land) are necessary for full consistency, including; definitions, provisions for general permits, protection standards for activities that impact waters, and expanded authority for enforcement.

Maryland Farm Bureau supports the assumption, however feels the bills should be summer studied. Both bills failed in committee.

Reorganization

Senate Bill 809 will consolidate certain environmental regulatory programs into a single cabinet agency. This would have been accomplished by transferring certain environmental regulatory functions (such as water and water resources, tidal and nontidal wetlands and extraction of minerals) from the Department of Natural Resources to the Department of the Environment. The bill passed both houses.

Group Insurance

House Bill 8 alters eligibility requirements under the Maryland Health Insurance Reform Act to allow any employee of a small employer who works a certain number of hours per week to obtain health benefits under the act. The bill was amended to apply the act to self-employed individuals as well and passed both houses.

ATVs

House Bill 305 would have required all-terrain vehicles (ATVs) to be registered with the Motor Vehicle Administration. All-terrain vehicles were defined as a self-propelled vehicle that is less than 50 inches wide, dry weight less then 600 lbs. and travels on at least three low pressure tires. Also, mini-bikes and off-road motorcycles would have been included. A registered decal would have been issued and required to be displayed. Operators would have been required to wear protective head gear and an eye protective device. Maryland Farm Bureau supported the bill, but it failed in House committee.

Seed Law

House Bill 483 will authorize the Secretary of Agriculture to impose a civil penalty against any person who violates the Maryland Seed Law. The bill passed both houses.

Property Tax

Currently, before granting an agricultural use assessment on parcels of land less than 20 acres, the Department of Assessments and Taxation may require that the farm or agricultural use of that land, results in a average gross income of at least $2,500 from the land. House Bill 489, as amended, would allow the Department to use the "income test" on parcels of land larger than 20 acres if the land is not zoned for agricultural use. Maryland Farm Bureau supported, and the bill passed both houses.

Dairy

House Bill 587, originally the Maryland Milk Commission legislation, was amended to create a Task Force on Maryland's Dairy Industry. The purpose and responsibilities of the task force are to: 1.Assess: I. the current state of dairy farming in Maryland and, II. the long-term viability of Maryland dairy farming allied industries and services; 2. study the issues raised relating to the trends and viability of the Maryland dairy industry; 3. develop recommendations for methods to maintain and improve Maryland's dairy industry, preserve farmland, and promote the use and consumption of Maryland milk and dairy products; 4. in the course of its assessment, study, and development of recommendations, conduct meetings in different parts of the state, and encourage participation from all sectors of the state; 5. propose legislative, regulatory, and other changes required to implement the recommendations; 6. monitor the implementation of the recommendations until the task force terminates; and 7. before January 1, 1996, report its recommendations to the governor, House Environmental Matters Committee, and Senate Economic and Environmental Affairs Committee. Maryland Farm Bureau supported the bill and it passed both houses.

Right To Know

House Bill 742 would have required that a sign be posted to notify the public of pesticide application, 48 hours before the application. It also requires that the sign remain in place 48 hours after the pesticide application. Maryland Farm Bureau opposed the bill and it failed in House committee.

Pesticides

House Bill 738 would have established a Pesticide Reporting System in the Department of Agriculture for the purpose of compiling and maintaining a comprehensive data base of pesticide incidents that occur in the state, for facilitating appropriate responses to pesticide incidents, and for increasing the availability of information on types of pesticide incidents in order to improve regulation of pesticide application. This bill would have allowed a customer or any other person to report to the system an incident involving a potential threat to human, animal, or plant life or health resulting from a suspected misapplication of pesticide or a suspected reaction to other than the result intended in the application of the pesticide, whether or not the pesticide was properly applied. Maryland Farm Bureau opposed the bill and it failed in House committee.

Easement Offers

House Bill 778 as amended will only alter the period of an offer cycle during which time the Agricultural Land Preservation Foundation can offer to purchase certain agricultural preservation easements, from two cycles per year to one cycle per year. Maryland Farm Bureau supported the bill and it passed both houses.

Rural Forum

House Bill 842 will establish the Forum for Rural Maryland. It will act as a state wide rural development council. It will be set up as an independent unit in the executive branch of state government and will address issues and concerns of the citizens of rural Maryland. Forum members will include representatives from the governor's office, state Senate and House of Delegates, federal agencies, private sector profit and non-profit groups, and private citizens. An executive board will be established, consisting of members from the above organizations. It will be responsible for making policy recommendations to the forum and for implementing forum policy. The bill passed both houses.

Equine Activities

House Bill 1076 would have limited the civil liability of an equine activity sponsor or equine professional for injuries suffered by a participant in an equine activity. Maryland Farm Bureau supported the bill, but it failed in House committee.

Deer Farms

House Bill 1302 would have regulated the operation of commercial deer raising facilities. It would have required a license for operating a deer farm. It would have established state inspection standards for deer imported into the state, consistent with federal standards. It ensured that deer farms may not adversely affect the state's livestock industry or native wild game populations. Finally, it would have established standards for the import, export, transfer, transport and disease control of deer, as well as for the construction, operation and record keeping of deer farms. The bill was withdrawn.

The Prendergast School of Irish Dance, with classes in both Gaithersburg and Frederick, will perform during the 8th Annual McHenry Highland Festival on Saturday, June 3, at the Garrett County Fairgrounds in McHenry.

The school was founded by Margaret Prendergast Moebus, a veteran of Irish dance competitions, and opened in 1990 with nine students. The school participates in the annual St. Patrick's Day Parade in Washington, D.C., as well as several local and regional Irish dance competitions, known as feises (pronounced feshes), including Glen Echo, Baltimore, the National Capital (Washington, D.C.) and Delaware. The dancers range in age from 5-15 years old and dances performed are reels, soft- and hard-shoe jigs, hornpipes and a set piece; their costumes are authentic Celtic design.

Ms. Prendergast, a certified dance instructor, began Irish dancing when she was 7 and competed until she was 21 . As the daughter of parents who are natives of Ireland, she frequently competed at the World Irish Dancing Championships. She also performed many times in the New York-New Jersey area, including at Carnegie Hall and Radio City Music Hall. She grew up in New Jersey and moved to Maryland after she married. She and her husband, Philip Moebus, reside in Damascus.

Festival hours are 10 a.m. - 5 p.m. and admission is $5 for adults and free for children under 12. A ceilidh will be held Saturday evening at 8 p.m. at Will O' the Wisp (admission $3.00) and a Kirkin' O' the Tartans Sunday, June 4, at 9:30 a.m. at St. John's Episcopal Church in Deer Park.

The festival is sponsored by the Deep Creek Lake-Garrett County Promotion Council and Bell Atlantic Maryland, and funded in part by the Garrett County Arts Council, Maryland State Arts Council.

MAY IS MENTAL HEALTH MONTH - In observance of Maryland Mental Health Month, designated for May by the state Mental Hygiene Administration, the Garrett County Board of Commissioners recently proclaimed May to be Mental Health Month in the county. Pictured left to right are Betty Mallory, Barbara Briggs, Arthur Naylor, Martha Jachowski, and Debbie jo Adams-Noroski, all members of the Lighthouse, Inc., Board of Directors, and Commissioners John Braskey, Wayne Wilt, and Roger Glotfelty.

Applications For 4-H Scholarship Being Accepted

The Garrett County 4-H Program has announced that applications are now being accepted for the John Thomas Sealing Memorial Scholarship. This tuition scholarship will be presented to a freshman entering college in the fall of 1995 who plans to study the field of health care or education.

The recipient must be or have been a 4-H member and must be a graduate of a Garrett County High School or a resident of Garrett County for one year, with a high school diploma or equivalent.

The Garrett County Cooperative Extension Service 4-H program is serving as the sponsor's contact for the scholarship.

Application forms are available by contacting the Extension Office at 334-1990 and are due July 20. The scholarship recipient will be announced during the awards ceremony at the Garrett County Fair in August.

Girl Scouts Plan Summer Activities

Girl Scouts of Garrett County are preparing for a variety of activities planned during the summer, including an overnight campout at Camp Hickory, July 6-7.

Called "Nature's Journey," the campout will have a native American theme. Participants will make "dream catchers" and musical instruments like those used by native Americans. They will also be taught weaving, and a variety of uses for herbs.

The overnight event will also feature a Girl Scout tradition, "a campfire, s'mores, singing and fellowship," according to a spokesperson for the event.

Plans for a day camp at Chestnut Ridge Park, Aug. 16-18, are also underway. Scouts interested in attending are asked to see their leaders for applications.

4-H Club News

NORTH GLADE
by Bobby Schmidt, reporter

The regular meeting of the North Glade 4-H Club was held May 10. Fifteen members and 13 adults were present.

The members cleaned the Rose Hill Cemetery at North Glade.

The meeting was called to order by President Adam Herbert. Adam Bernard led the club in pledges.

Members will sell food at a farm auction at Lewis Lohr's on Saturday, May 27. Members are to be at the sale at 8:30 a.m. to set up.

A demonstration about child care was presented by Allison Hamilton.

Next month's meeting will be a June 14 farm visit. The club will meet at Bobby Schmidt's home at 5:30 p.m.

We decided to do the road clean-up. We also had a demonstration done by Hannah Schmuck on her broiler project, at her house.

Under new business we asked if anyone wanted to go to 4-H camp. We also decided on the 4th of July parade float committee. The meeting time will be discussed at a later date. Nancy Berkebile talked about a banner for the float that all family members are to work on. The next meeting will be May 25, at 7 p.m. at St. Paul's Church. Carrie and Amanda Hahn and Vicki Schlosnagle will have a demonstration on their rabbit projects. We will have a guest speaker. Kris DeWitt will talk about rabbits. We will also do a project on food and cooking, which will be lead by Robin Bowman.

OAK HILL
by Amanda Hahn, reporter

The pledges at the April Meeting were led by Lacie Berkebile and Hannah Schmuck. There were 12 members, seven parents, and four guests present.

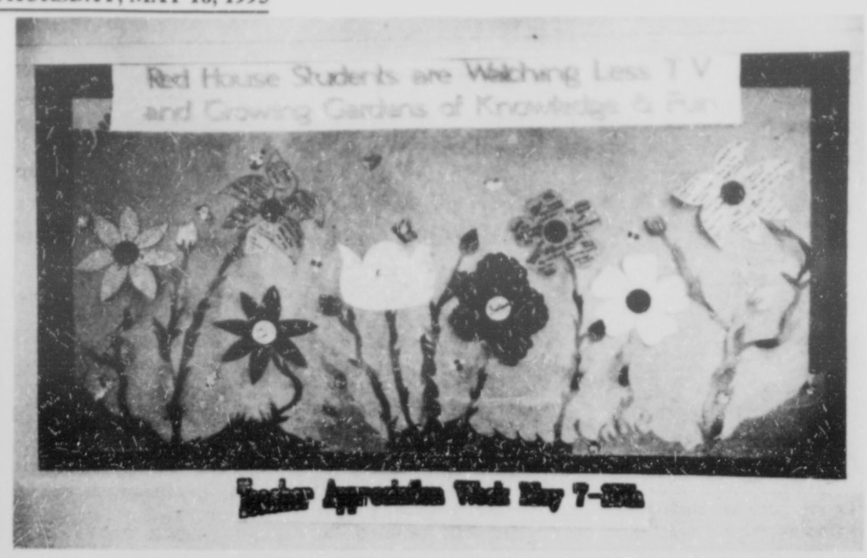
Red House Elementary Students Take Part In "TV Turn-Off Week"

NECKLACE-MAKING INSTEAD OF TV - Arts and crafts activities, including necklace and key chain making, were a part of Red House Elementary School's recent TV Turn-Off Week. Parents and staff supplied the students with lots of activities to help them stay away from the television at least for one week. See story. Pictured above are Travis Sanders and Amy Rolf, teaching assistant, as they work together on a project during the fun hour.



THE TELEVISIONS WERE SILENT in the homes of several Red House Elementary School students for a week last month as the children and their families took part in National TV Turn-Off Week. Students were offered numerous activity ideas to do during the week instead of watching television. The week of activities included a Reading Rally, a fun hour held after school, and other activities. The bulletin board above includes the alternative ideas of the students, who wrote them on the flower petals. Students below are pictured as they take part in the Fun Hour golf game. Shown left to right are Ben Friend, Tyler Glotfelty, Doug Paugh (teacher), Anthony Ackerman, Brian Wolf, and Brett Lambert.

In an effort to take a healthy break from television and focus on activities more academically, socially, and physically rewarding, students at Red House Elementary School participated in National TV Turn-Off Week, April 24-30.

Students and families were asked to monitor the amount of time their televisions were turned off during the week, and alternative ideas to television-watching, provided by resource teachers, were sent home each day. Random telephone calls were made to students' homes on Monday through Friday evenings to find out if students had their televisions turned off. If the TV was off at the time of the call, students were given free ice cream certificates.

Reading Rally Day was held Tuesday, with several retired Garrett County Board of Education individuals visiting the school and reading stories to the children. The retirees talked about what they did as children when they didn't have television, and also what they do now instead of watching.

Those visiting the school included Anna Bishop, Kay Hoye, Rosetta Rodeheaver, Pat Filsinger, Dorothy Spaid, Jane Fox, Mildred Wucik, Winona Lewis, and Phyllis Stemple.

A fun hour was held at the school on Thursday afternoon from 3:30 until 4:30, attended by approximately 80 students and 20 parents. Students and their guests took part in several activities, including golf, "flower-making," board games, puppetry, necklace and key chain making, and aerobics and line dancing.

A booklet titled Turn Off TV - Turn On To Life was distributed to the students. The book, compiled by Linda Buckel (school principal), Amy Harvey, and Amy Rolf, provided a collection of activities which promote alternatives to television viewing, as well as relative factual and statistical data. The suggestions in the 52-page book were selected from many letters and ideas that students, staff members, parents, relatives, and community members contributed.

The books were given to the students at the school's Excellence Fair, held on the Monday following TV Turn-Off Week. Each family that participated in the week's events was given a TV Turn-Off Certificate.

The special week was part of the school's improvement plan, according to Mrs. Buckel.

Repair Loans Are Available To Some Homeowners

Homeowners in rural areas who need repairs to their houses, but can't afford regular loans, may be eligible for a government loan at only one percent interest, according to Tim Taylor, Rural Economic and Community Development county supervisor.

"These loans from RECD (formerly Farmers Home Administration) are only available to very low-income people," Taylor said. "In this area very low-income is defined as about $14,000 depending on the number of people in the household and other factors."

Home repair loans can be used for such things as fixing or replacing a roof, replacing siding, installing insulation, storm windows and doors, replacing a heating system, repairing electrical wiring or plumbing, hooking up to sewer or water systems, or making a house more accessible for handicapped people.

"Even people who may have trouble repaying a one percent loan may be eligible if they have someone cosign the loan who could help repay if necessary," Taylor said. "Only a written promise to repay the loan is required on loans up to $2,500. Loans above that require mortgage security. The maximum loan is $15,000."

There is a very limited grant program to help very low-income homeowners 62 years old or older. Anyone interested in the program or wanting additional information should call Christine MacMillen or Sandy Nine at 301-334-1978 or 359-9694 or stop by the RECD office located at 203 South 4th St., Room 311, Courthouse, Oakland.

Sullivan Attends Seminar On Bad Faith Claims

Local attorney Paul C. Sullivan recently attended a seminar in Pittsburgh regarding Bad Faith Claims in Pennsylvania. Sullivan is the managing attorney in the local law firm of Sullivan & Sullivan, P.A., and is responsible for supervising all other trial attorneys in the firm. His practice is limited to personal injury claims in motor vehicle collision cases, although other attorneys in his firm handle other types of negligence, compensation, and disability claims.

The seminar, sponsored by the Pennsylvania Bar Institute of the Pennsylvania Bar Association, also covered Unfair Insurance Practices and ethical considerations for attorneys involved in bad faith claims.

In addition to Pennsylvania, Sullivan is admitted to practice in Maryland, West Virginia, Florida, and the District of Columbia and has offices in Cumberland, Westernport, and Swanton.

County Transit Driver Honored

Rocky Ford, a driver for the Garrett Transit Service's People Movers program, was a winner in a statewide "roadeo" competition recently sponsored by the Transportation Association of Maryland. Ford competed in the category of raised-roof, single-wheel van.

The driving contest, held at the Maryland Mass Transit Administration's northwest bus facility in Baltimore, required participants to demonstrate 12 driving and safety skills on an enclosed course. Over 20 drivers representing transportation providers from across Maryland competed in the event.

Garrett Transit driver John Shahan also competed and scored well in the event, a spokesperson stated. Shahan participated in the dual-wheel mini bus competition.

Smoothness of operation and overall driving time were also factors in the scoring of the contest.

The People Movers program is a service of the Garrett County Community Action Committee, Inc.

RECEIVES DONATION - Rob Michael, of State Farm Insurance, recently donated a Thermoscan ear thermometer to the health room at Dennett Road Elementary School. LIONS CLUB NEWS

The regular meeting of the Friendsville Lions Club was held May 11 at Twila's Old Mill Restaurant with 19 members and three guests in attendance. The meeting was presided over by President Marlin Lawson.

There was a request by a resident in the Friendsville area for help to buy glasses. This was voted on by the club and an appointment will be made.

The Roberts Brothers Circus will be at the Community Park in Friendsville on May 25 at 7 p.m. There were coloring contest papers that have been distributed throughout the schools. The winners will be given free tickets to the circus. Anyone wishing to purchase advance sale tickets may do so at Yough Hardware, Walt's Amoco, and Twila's Old Mill Restaurant, all in Friendsville, or from any Lion Club member.

There were 50-50 tickets sold at the meeting. The winner was Connie Wilt from Grantsville, who donated all the money back to the club.

There was a report given on the Bike-A-Thon that was held at the Community Park in Friendsville. This endeavor was "a great success."

Jon Thayer, zone chairman for District 22-W, gave a short message about monies for the Eye Research Hospital. He stated that extra funds for this are needed this year and asked the club to contribute. There are raffle tickets being sold to help fund this.

Lion Rob Smith and volunteer Sidney Louch recently built a ramp for a disabled persons at the home of a resident of Friendsville. This person is in a wheelchair and could not afford to build the ramp.

The mowing at the Community Park last week was done by Lions Marlin Lawson, who donated use of a weed eater, Walter Fearer, a mower, and Elton Sines, a community service worker.

The next meeting will be held Wednesday, May 24, at 6:30 p.m. at Twila's Old Mill Restaurant instead of Thursday because of the circus. All members are urged to attend this meeting.

Anyone wishing to join the Lions Club should contact any member.

There will be advertising banners sold to be placed in the circus tent. Any business wishing to advertise at this function should contact Walt Fearer.

Highland Cattle Show To Be Part Of Festival

The Mid-Atlantic Highland Cattle Association will hold its spring show during the 8th Annual McHenry Highland Festival on Saturday, June 3, at the Garrett County Fairgrounds in McHenry, beginning at noon. The Association serves cattle breeders in Delaware, Maryland, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Virginia, and West Virginia.

Records of highland cattle go back as far as the 12th century, and around 1884, American cattlemen began importing them to improve the blood lines of their herds. Because highland cattle originated in the severe harsh climate of Scotland, where only the fittest survived, they have developed into a hearty breed with characteristics that have remained uniform since the dawn of recorded history, thriving outdoors in severe weather and not requiring barn housing. Highlands require a minimum of management and care, foraging readily where feed is sparse and cleaning up what other cattle pass up. Despite their long horns, Highlands are known for their quiet, gentle dispositions and do not stress easily. Bulls are calm and easy-going, making it easier to handle and halter train them. In the British Isles, Highland beef is considered "gourmet" fare. Since their long hair acts as an insulator, the Highlands do not have a thick layer of fat like other beef breeds, which produces lean flavorful meat with little waste. The Association's Highland beef is raised naturally out of doors, not in feed lots, and they are not given steroids or growth hormone. These cattle are famous for their resistance to disease and sickness and they have emerged as the "breed of choice" for the competitive marketplace.

All cattle in the show must be registered with the American Scotch Highland Breeders Association and they will be judged in 19 classes. This show will offer education and insight about a unique breed of cattle.

Festival hours are 10 a.m. - 5 p.m. and admission is $5 for anyone 12 and over. A ceilidh, hosted by Wisp Golf & Ski Resort and the festival committee, will be held Saturday evening at 8 p.m. at Will O' the Wisp (admission $3) and a Kirkin' O' the Tartans at 9:30 a.m. Sunday at St. John's Episcopal Church on Route 135 in Deer Park.

The festival is sponsored by the Deep Creek Lake-Garrett County Promotion Council and Bell Atlantic Maryland and funded in part by a grant from the Garrett County Arts Council, Maryland State Arts Council. For information or advance tickets, persons may contact the McHenry Highland Festival at (301) 334-1948.

PERENNIAL NURSERY OPENS -- Perennials by Nurture Nature has opened at Deep Creek Lake. Owner Dianna Murk and her friend is pictured among the plants above. On weekends, plants will be available at her shop on Rt. 219 near Wayne's Water & Wells.

Let's Get Down To Business!

This is a feature of The Republican to better acquaint our readers with various area business establishments.

Perennials by Nurture Nature

Perennials by Nurture Nature has been opened at Deep Creek Lake by Dianna Murk. A small retail space, located on Rt. 219 at Deep Creek Lake near Wayne's Water & Wells, will be open on weekends. The nursery will be open Monday and Tuesday from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m., and Wednesday through Friday from 7 a.m. to 3 p.m. Murk will also take orders and has product sheets available. The business supplies both wholesale and retail concerns, and can be reached for information or orders at 387-0025.

Murk says she has been coming to the area since childhood and always loved the mountains. She has a great love for the earth, plants, animals and natural beauty. "I've always played in the dirt and had a passion for plants," she said. She studied horticulture for two years and has worked in all types of nursery's, responsible for everything from caring for bedding plants, propagation, and trees, to sales. She has owned two landscaping businesses which offered the public design, installation and proper maintenance.

With 20 years in horticulture, she now does consultations and design (no installations) and has a love for the natural look, which is why she chose perennials as a concentration for her business.

In her nursery, Murk has over 50 varieties of perennials of different sizes and colors. These include a herb line, an ornamental grass line, and an extensive flowering line.

"The beauty of perennials is that they are an alternative or enhancement to shrubs and annuals. They die back in the fall and return in the spring. Perennials can add interest, texture and depth to a garden," she explains, and adds, "with a little bit of proper knowledge and care, your garden can bloom or be enhanced all summer."

Murk will also present demonstrations and seminars on how to care for and select perennials and all around landscaping techniques. She invites anyone interested in plants or information to call for an appointment and availability.

Commencement Set For May 27 At Zion School

Commencement exercises at 7:30 p.m., Saturday, May 27, at Zion School of Christian Education, Grantsville, will mark the completion of 25 years of service by the institution. Rev. G.C. McCurry, Arnoldsville, Ga., will deliver the commencement address.

Preceding these activities at 7:30 p.m., Friday, May 26, Rev. Kenneth Dyar, pastor of Faith in God Chapel, Berkeley Springs, W.Va., will bring the baccalaureate sermon.

The general public is welcomed to attend these commemorative events.

To Attend Grad School

Heather Lynn Hesson, daughter of Robert Hesson and Sherri Hesson, both of Oakland, has recently been accepted into the master of science in the counseling psychology program at Frostburg State University.

Ms. Hesson is a 1991 graduate of Southern High School, a 1993 graduate of Garrett Community College, and a December 1994 graduate of FSU, with a bachelor of science degree in psychology. She graduated magna cum laude from Frostburg, and was also a member of Psi Chi, the national honor society for psychology students.

Heather is employed as a support counselor at Garrett County Lighthouse, Inc., and will begin her graduate studies in the fall.

She is the granddaughter of Charles and Claudia Tressler, Loch Lynn, and Virginia Hesson, Bethany Beach.

Civic Club Hosts Annual Dinner Event

The Junior Woman's Civic Club hosted its annual progressive dinner and election of officers recently.

Officers elected to serve for the 1995-96 club year are Brenda Crabtree, president; Beverly Haines, vice president; Debbie Holler, corresponding secretary; Kathleen Seaman, recording secretary; and Beverly Barb, treasurer.

During the business meeting, preparations were made for the Bucks Bingo event slated for May 5 at 6:30 p.m. at the Genus Center.

Several donation checks were also written during the meeting, and future fund raising events were discussed.

The door prize, a basket filled with napkins and napkin holders, was won by Angie Bosley. Special guest at the meeting was Susie Garner.

At the next JWCC meeting, scheduled for June 1 at Red Run Inn, the new officers will be formally installed. Persons interested in attending this meeting may call Vicki Naliborski at 387-6890, or contact any JWCC member.

Professional Baby Sitter Course Offered At GCC

Because of an overwhelming response to a professional baby sitters' training course offered in April, the Continuing Education Division of Garrett Community College has scheduled another class.

The course is being offered in two consecutive day-time sessions, according to a GCC spokesperson. A variety of subjects dealing with children will be included. The course provides 12 hours of professional instruction to students 13 years of age or older. Brochures with details on class subjects are available at the Oakland Center or the Continuing Education office of GCC.

The course is scheduled for Friday, June 23, and Saturday, June 24, from 9 a.m. until 3:35 p.m. each day, at the Oakland Center of GCC. Students who complete the entire 12 hours of instruction will receive a citation.

"The class offers training just in time for those who may be looking for summer baby sitting work," the spokesperson said.

For more information about the class, or to register, persons may call the Oakland Center at 334-8304.

Delta Kappa Gamma Meets

The Alpha Alpha Chapter of the Delta Kappa Gamma Society International recently met at the Mt. Zion United Methodist Church, Finzel.

The theme for the meeting was "Women in the Arts," and featured guest speaker Donna Baker, a local artist who displayed examples of her work for the members and discussed her experiences as an artist. A student at Garrett Community College, Baker operates a studio at Penn Alps Spruce Forest, Grantsville.

Chapter President Wilda Massi and members Irmgard Koscielniak and Jane Fox reported on the Alpha Beta state convention which was recently held in Timonium. The convention's theme was "Revitalize through Dedication." The members also attended a necrology service and presented a rose in memory of deceased member Lucile Sines.

Chapter member Dr. Judith Pula is making plans to attend the society's Northeast Regional Conference in New York this summer. She will conduct a workshop for the Delta Kappa Gamma Bulletin, the official journal of the Delta Kappa Gamma Society International. Pula, an assistant professor of English at Frostburg State University, serves on the Bulletin editorial board. She will also conduct a second workshop for Maryland's Alpha Beta State Conference.

Members attending the recent meeting were Massi, Anna Beachy, Pula, Carol Slagle, Anna Bishop, Anna Marie Miller, Linda Buckel, Cheryl Glotfelty, Koscielniak, Jean Grose, Alice Eary, Jane Fox, Amy Harman, Zip Robeson, Alice Snyder, Dot Minick, Alice Hevner, Lillian Reckner, and Rosanne Sherwood.

Thanks for answering the call.

This is the week America chooses to honor you—our emergency medical services personnel—the dedicated men and women who spend countless hours answering the call for help. While we think it's a great idea, at Garrett County Memorial Hospital, we believe you are special 365 days a year.

Special. . . for the hours you labor. For the love you share. For the care you deliver, the companionship you offer and the professionalism you display. For every little thing you do to make a patient more comfortable or a staff member's job a little easier.

For all this—and much, much more—a recognition with the most profound gratitude, on behalf of the patients, their families and the medical and support staff of Garrett County Memorial Hospital—thanks for answering the call.

Ridder Named President, CEO At Myersville

Richard G. Stanton, chairman of the Board of First United Corporation, and Maynard G. Grossnickle, chairman of the Board of Myersville Bank, this week jointly announced the appointment of Benjamin W. Ridder as president and chief executive officer of Myersville Bank. Ridder assumed this new position as of May 15.

"We are very pleased to see Ben serve as our President and CEO, Grossnickle said." "He brings with him a wealth of banking experience, with a special emphasis in marketing and sales. His most recent position is serving as senior vice president and director of sales and training for First United Corporation, our holding company. In this position he has played a large role in our recent expansion into the Frederick market. We are fortunate to be able to take advantage of his leadership with Myersville Bank."

Ridder received college training at Frostburg State University, Dunsmore Business School, and Garrett Community College. Prior to his banking career, he had a 13-year career in newspaper advertising sales and a three-year tour with the U.S. Navy.

Ridder joined First United National Bank & Trust, the lead bank for First United Corporation, in 1977, when he served as director of marketing. In 1982, he was promoted to vice president and director of marketing & planning. He was promoted to senior vice president and director of marketing & sales for First United Corporation in 1987. In 1989, he was named senior vice president and sales manager for the corporation. He assumed his most recent position of senior vice president and director of sales and training in 1993.

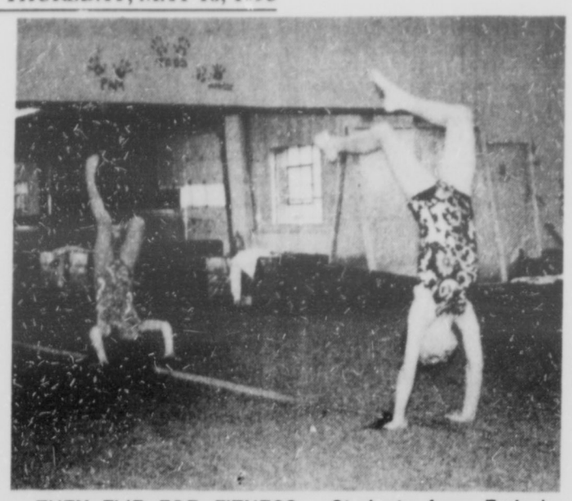
Since becoming a banker, he has graduated from the School of Bank Marketing and the Maryland Banking School. He received the designation of certified financial paraplanner from the College for Financial Planning, Denver, in 1987. He has also served as an instructor for several banking courses taught through the American Institute for Banking.

Ridder is a former member of the Oakland Rotary Club and has served on the boards of directors of the Mt. Top Chamber of Commerce and the Deep Creek Lake-Garrett County Promotion Council.

He and his wife, Helen, relocated to the Hagerstown area in 1994. This move facilitated his emphasis of directing the sales efforts for Myersville Bank. The Ridders have three sons, Kevin, Fred, and Richard, and three grandsons.

Mr. Ridder succeeds Terry L. Reiber as president and chief executive officer of Myersville Bank. Reiber will be assuming a new role at the corporation offices in the area of commercial lending.

Myersville Bank, an affiliate of First United Corporation as of March 30, 1995, posted assets of $77.28 million. The financial institution offers traditional and non-traditional banking services through a network of five community offices located throughout Washington and Frederick counties in Maryland.



THEY FLIP FOR FITNESS - Students from Fraley's Gymstrata, Loch Lynn, demonstrated their skills during a recent "Fitness Frenzy" event held at Northern High School. The event was part of the Garrett County Health Department's Exercise For A Healthier Tomorrow program, a county-wide project sponsored by the GCHD's AmeriCorps office. Gymnasts participating in the demonstration included Amanda Perry, Christa Hanline, Megan Swartzentruber, Erica Steyer, Kimberly Beiler, Randi Beiler, Megan Lilley, Megan Mahaffey, Roshawna Mongold, Jessica Mongold, Melissa Durst, Laura Preston, Emily Nemith, Heather Hanline, Andi Bender, and Nikki Moreland.

Event For New Parents Slated

New parents are invited to gather May 23 from 10 a.m. to noon for a group discussion on living and growing with infants. The event, sponsored by the Garrett County Health Department, will take place in the adjacent community services building.

The health department's community health nurse, Earleen Beckman, will be available at the event to answer questions on safety issues, breast feeding, infant development, and immunizations.

Parents may bring their infants to this event. Refreshments will be served. For more information, persons may call the county health department at 334-8111 or 895-3111.

Motivational Vocalist To Sing At SMS

Motivational musician Lauren Stalnecker will perform at Southern Middle School on May 25. The event is being sponsored by Food Lion supermarket and the Garrett County Health Department's Alcohol and Drug Abuse Prevention Program.

"Stalnecker presents a concert designed to inspire young people, motivating kids to develop a positive self-image, a hopeful outlook, and the desire to do the right thing, stop the violence, and avoid substance abuse," a health department spokesperson stated.

A recording artist, producer, composer, and writer, Stalnecker has been featured in Food Lion television commercials and is currently conducting a 60-city concert tour.

Stalnecker's "Yes to Life" concerts include up-beat songs and encourage students in the audience to participate through interactive video which is projected live on a large movie screen.

"Stalnecker has dedicated the last three years of his musical career, with the support of Food Lion, to performing for schools and youth organizations in an effort to reach students with a positive pop message encouraging kids to do the right thing," the health department spokesperson added.

For more information on this event, persons may contact Prevention Coordinator Sally Boone at the Garrett County Health Department at 334-8111.

Scottish Military Heritage Society To Participate At Highland Festival

The Scottish Military Heritage Society will honor the military traditions of Scotland during the 8th Annual McHenry Highland Festival on Saturday, June 3, at the Garrett County Fairgrounds in McHenry.

This Society celebrates the traditions of music and dance, crafts and husbandry, athletics and pageantry, and honors the Scottish military tradition. "Whether defending his glen or town from a foreign invader (or his neighbor) or serving in the armed forces of his native or adopted country, the Scot has earned a reputation for steadfast valor," stated a festival spokesperson. The Scottish Military Heritage Society honors the Scottish military tradition by demonstrating through the medium of "living history" the life of the Scottish soldier, and the woman who frequently accompanied him as they appeared at various times during the past 300 years.

The Stewarts of Appin, founded in 1984, portrays the men and women who followed "Bonnie Prince Charlie" during the Jacobite rebellion of 1745-46. The current regiment portrays the army camped at Duddingston, just outside Edinburgh, in the autumn of 1745 several days before routing General Cope ("Johnny Cope" of song) at the Battle of Prestonpans. Each of the member groups of the Society has set up a camp and invites all to visit with them and inspect the equipment and clothing of their time period. They will also perform demonstrations on the field at various times throughout the day.

Festival hours are 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and admission is $5 for anyone 12 and over. A ceilidh will be held Saturday evening at 8 p.m. at the Will O' the Wisp (admission $3), and a Kirkin' O' the Tartans at 9:30 a.m. Sunday, June 4, at St. John's Episcopal Church in Deer Park.

This festival is sponsored by the Deep Creek Lake-Garrett County Promotion Council and Bell Atlantic Maryland, and funded in part by the Garrett County Arts Council, Maryland State Arts Council. The ceilidh is hosted in part by the Wisp Golf & Ski Resort. For more information or advance tickets, persons may contact the McHenry Highland Festival, 200 South Third Street, Oakland, MD 21550; telephone (301) 334-1948.

Judith Friend Candidate For Mrs. West Va.

Judith A. Friend, Ph.D., wife of Larry A. Friend, formerly of Crellin, has been selected as a contestant in the official state "Mrs. West Virginia America" preliminary to "Mrs. America Pageant." The pageant will be held in Parkersburg, June 10 and 11.

Mrs. Friend became associate director of the West Virginia Coalition (WVCFN), which is the only statewide, anti-hunger, not- for-profit organization in West Virginia, in August 1993. Her main duties include expansion of the Summer Food Service Program, editor of the Anti-Hunger ADVOCATE, a quarterly newsletter, and public relations with the media.

Mrs. Friend received her Ph.D. in psychology from Kingsway Theological Seminary, in 1991. She did a summer session with Duke University in 1988 and in 1989 an internship with Emory University, in Israel.

She is president of the American Association of Direct Human Service Personnel (1994-96), certified as a human service provider, which has received national accreditation with the American Council on Education/Post secondary School Initiative. She is also a certified service facilitator and a trainer for that at association.

Mrs. Friend is also a member of the National Association for Female Executives, the American Association of University Women, the Health and Human Service Council of the Eastern Panhandle, Inc., the WV Chapter of the National Association of Social Workers, the WV Chapter of Disabled Veterans, and the WV chapter of the Nature Conservancy.

Nat'l Emergency Services Week Slated May 14-20

National Emergency Medical Services (EMS) Week, a celebration to honor approximately 750,000 EMS providers nationwide who deliver lifesaving emergency care, is scheduled for May 14-20. The 1995 EMS Week theme, "EMS: We're There For Life," emphasizes the significant role career and volunteer EMS providers play in saving lives.

"Since the general public is often the first at the scene of a medical emergency, it's essential for individuals to be prepared," commented Dr. Richard Perry, director of emergency services at Garrett County Memorial Hospital. "EMS Week is an excellent opportunity to educate the public about emergency preparedness, first aid, and injury prevention."

National EMS Week honors the lifesaving care EMS providers offer nationwide, 24 hours a day, seven days a week. "The men and women in this field deserve to be recognized and honored for their heroic efforts, and EMS Week is an opportunity to say thanks," said Perry. National Emergency Medical Services Week is sponsored by the American College of Emergency Physicians, along with the American Ambulance Association, the Emergency Nurses' Association, the International Association of Fire Chiefs, the National Association of Emergency Medical Technicians, the National Association of State EMS Directors, the National Council of State EMS Training Coordinators, the National Association of EMS Physicians, the U.S. Department of Transportation's National Highway Traffic Administration, Maternal and Child Health Bureau and the Federal Emergency Management Agency's United States Fire Administration.

Pipes And Drums To Be Host At Highland Fest

The Garrett Community College Pipes & Drums will perform as host band of the 8th Annual McHenry Highland Festival on Saturday, June 3, at the Garrett County Fairgrounds in McHenry.

The band was founded in 1979 as the "Garrett Highlanders," organized by Charles P. "Chip" Evans and Fred A. Thayer. A class of eight students started the course of instruction at Garrett Community College, Oakland Center. A member of the first class was the Rev. John A. Grant, who continues as a member of the band and serves as Pipe Sergeant. Thayer serves as Pipe Major and instructor.

GARRETT COMMUNITY COLLEGE PIPES & DRUMS

The band's first public performance was at Wisp's Summerfest in July 1980. Approximately 20 public performances per year have continued since that time and included an appearance at Rocky Gap State Park in 1988 to introduce Governor William Donald Schaefer at the Baltimore Symphony Orchestra's Western Maryland concert. The band was officially adopted by Garrett Community College in 1989 and is currently sponsored by the college; it is also supported through a grant from the Garrett County Arts Council, Maryland State Arts Council, and Westvaco Corporation has also been a sponsor. In 1989 the band led the dignitaries and athletes, both local and international, at the Whitewater World Championship ceremonies at Frostburg State University. It has served as host band for the McHenry Highland Festival since that event was organized eight years ago, which led to a cover story feature in Maryland Magazine's Summer 1993 issue entitled "Oatmeal Warriors." The band has participated regularly in the Christmas Walk in Oldtown, Alexandria, Va., and was seen on international TV in 1992 as the feature of that parade.

Formal instruction in piping and drumming is offered on the McHenry campus of Garrett Community College in a curriculum designed by P/M Thayer (who currently serves as chief judge of Maryland's Fourth Judicial Circuit). All interested people are encouraged to join in instruction and/or the band. The band is available for public performances, parades, or other functions either as a group or in solo, duet, or other configuration by calling the college or P/M Thayer.

Festival hours are 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and admission is $5 for anyone 12 and over. The band will also perform during the Kirkin' O' the Tartans on Sunday morning, June 4, at St. John's Episcopal Church on Route 135 in Deer Park at 9:30 a.m. A ceilidh, co-hosted by the festival committee and Wisp Golf & Ski Resort, will be held Saturday evening at 8 p.m. at Will O' the Wisp

This festival is sponsored by the Deep Creek Lake-Garrett County Promotion Council and in part by Bell Atlantic Maryland; it is funded in part by a grant from the Garrett County Arts Council, Maryland State Arts Council. For more information or advance tickets, persons may contact Festival Headquarters, 200 South Third Street, Oakland, MD 21550; telephone (301) 334-1948.

St. Paul's Hosts Native American Awareness Event

Native American Awareness was the theme of a mission event held recently at St. Paul's United Methodist Church, Oakland.

Participants gathered around a campfire where Native American history was discussed by various people dressed in Native American costumes.

Allen Barr told of Pre-Columbian times and also discussed his own Native American heritage. Charles Smith told of the Northern Woodland tribes. Jeremiah Friend of Friendsville, as portrayed by Vicki Evans, related stories of natives who lived and hunted in Garrett County.

The Trial of Tears was discussed by Tom Browning. The role of the West Virginia conference of the United Methodist Church in helping people of Native American ancestry in the Chestnut Ridge area of Phillipi, W.Va., was described by Virginia Grove. The United Methodist Church's Oklahoma Indian Conference, which was comprised and run by Native Americans, was explained by Carolyn Payne.

Various Native American crafts, arts, and artifacts were also displayed and participants had the opportunity to experiment with sand art.

The next mission awareness event will be held July 30.

ARMED SERVICES REVIEW

U.S. Air Force Airman Donald L. Frantz Jr., has graduated from Air Force basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Tex.

During the six weeks of training the airman studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special training in human relations.

In addition, airmen who completed basic training earn credits toward an associate degree through the Community College of the Air Force.

Frantz, son of Donald L. and Neva J. Frantz, Eglon, W.Va., is a graduate of North Chicago Community High School.

Yarbrough Speaks To CAC Volunteers At Annual Banquet

Boyd Yarbrough, assistant director of resident life at Frostburg State University, was the guest speaker at a recent banquet honoring 1994 Garrett County Community Action Committee volunteers. He spoke about volunteerism to the approximately 154 in attendance at the Bittinger fire hall.

"Mr. Yarbrough understands volunteerism because he is dedicated to giving of his own time," said Linda Green, director of the Community and Emergency Services (C&E) Department of the CAC, sponsor of the banquet.

Also in attendance at the banquet, were Garrett County Commissioners Wayne Wilt and Roger Glotfelty; Myra Kidd, a representative from Congressman Roscoe Bartlett's office; Pam Nelson, Governor's Commission on Service; Barbara Hornyak, representing the Area Agency on Aging (AAA); and Nancy Fazenbaker, representing Head Start.

Charles Ross was recognized as the CAC Volunteer of the Year. A member of the Commission on Aging (CoA), Ross has served one term as vice chairperson, and two terms as chairperson. He represents the CoA and AAA as a member of the Maryland Office on Aging's Senior Nutrition Advisory Council, and was recruited in 1986 as one of the first volunteers for a state-supported nursing home visitation program. He continues to serve in that capacity, even though funding has since been eliminated, according to AAA Director Adina Brode.

"Charles has actively served the senior citizens of Finzel, and the county as a whole, through his role on the CoA," said Brode. "He volunteers a great deal of his time visiting frail elderly in long term care facilities. We believe he exemplifies the type of individual deserving of recognition for service to the community."

Exceptional Volunteers recognized during the banquet were Carolyn Miller and Melissa Green. A spokesperson for C&E Services noted that Miller and Green volunteered nearly 2,000 combined hours of service to CAC programs during 1994.

Linda Green, Lori Stephens, Sandy Park, and Ethel Cassell, members of the CAC C&E Services staff, hosted the banquet. Organizers of the event were Shannon Ottaviani and Jeannie Frazee, AmeriCorps members from "A Start In Western MD."

"These volunteers give so much of themselves," Frazee said. "CAC is what it is because of them. We thank all of these wonderful people for what they do. And, we also thank the businesses, celebrities, guests, and staff members who made this banquet such a success." CAC has more than 300 volunteers who gave more than 75,000 combined hours of service during 1994, Frazee added.

Gifts, donated to the banquet by 98 Garrett County businesses, two Allegany County businesses, and 24 country music celebrities, were presented to all of the volunteers in attendance.

All other parties having or claiming to have any interest in the parcel of land containing 0.58 acre, more or less, situate in Election District No. 1, Garrett County, Maryland, and being the same as described in deed from The Board of County Commissioners of Garrett County, Maryland, to James Edward Murphy dated August 11, 1976, and recorded March 14, 1977, in Liber No. 374, folio 404, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland,
Defendants.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this proceeding is to secure the foreclosure of all rights of redemption in all that parcel of land containing 0.58 acre, more or less, situate in Election District No. 1, Garrett County, Maryland, and being the same as described in deed from The Board of County Commissioners of Garrett County, Maryland, to James Edward Murphy dated August 11, 1976, and recorded March 14, 1977, in Liber No. 374, folio 404, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland.

The Complaint states, among other things, that the amounts for redemption have not been paid, although more than six (6) months and one (1) day from the date of sale had expired.

IT IS THEREUPON, this 26th day of April, 1995, by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, ORDERED that notice be given by the insertion of a copy of this Order in some newspaper having a general circulation in Garrett County, once a week for four successive weeks before the 26th day of May, 1995 warning all persons interested in the said property to be and appear in this Court by the 26th day of June, 1995, and redeem the property and answer the Complaint, or thereafter a Judgment will be rendered foreclosing all rights of redemption in the property, and vesting in the Plaintiffs a title, free and clear of all encumbrances.

The Deep Creek Watershed Board of Zoning Appeals will conduct a public hearing on June 1, 1995 at 7:30 p.m. in the Planning Commission Meeting Room (Third Floor Courthouse, Oakland). The Board will review applications on the followed docketed cases:

1) Docket SE-259; an application made by Fairfax Concrete Products, Inc. for a Special Exception permit to allow the expansion of the Fairfax Concrete plant which is an accessory to the quarry operation on the Keystone Lime Company property located on the Quarry Road (Zoned TC).

2) Docket VR-361; an application made by Mr. Michael Stephens for a Variance from the terms of the Zoning Ordinance as it affects the provisions of the Ordinance regarding the storage of materials associated with a home occupation. Specifically, Mr. Stephens wishes to store vehicles and equipment used in a bituminous paving business. The property is located off U.S. 219 (Zoned LR).

3) Docket VR-362; an application made by Mr. and Mrs. Beard for a Variance from the terms of the Zoning Ordinance as it affects the side yard setback requirement for residences. Specifically, Mr. and Mrs. Beard are requesting a Variance to allow the construction of an addition which would extend to within 8.9 feet of the side line instead of the required 15 feet. The property is located on Kuskie Lane (Zoned LR).

4) Docket VR-363; an application made by Guy and Elaine Buzzelli for a Variance from the terms of Zoning Ordinance as it affects the set-back requirements for distances between mobile homes in a mobile home park. Specifically, Mr. and Mrs. Buzzelli are requesting a Variance to allow construction of an addition to their mobile home which would extend to within 14.6 feet of another unit instead of the required 20 feet. The property is located off Rock Lodge Road (Zoned LR).

5) Docket VR-364; an application made by Dr. and Mrs.. R.S. DeWaters for a Variance from the terms of the Zoning Ordinance as it affects the front yard set-back requirement for residences. Specifically, the applicants are requesting a Variance to allow construction of an addition to their residence which would extend to within 25 feet of the front line instead of the required 40 feet. The property is located on Hickory Ridge Lane (Zoned LR).

GARRETT COUNTY SANITARY COMMISSION
Chestnut Ridge Sewer Project
Town of Grantsville WWTP Improvements

INVITATION TO BID
RECEIPT OF PROPOSALS

Contract No. 2: Sealed bids marked "Bid of Chestnut Ridge Sewer Project - Contract No. 2" will be received by the Garrett County Sanitary Commission (hereinafter referred to as Owner), at 313 East Alder Street, Old Courthouse Room 200, Oakland, Maryland, 21550, until 2:00 p.m. on Friday, June 23, 1995, and the bids will subsequently be publicly opened and read.

Contract No. 3: Sealed bids marked "Bid for Chestnut Ridge Sewer Project - Contract No. 3" will be received by the Garrett County Sanitary Commission (hereinafter referred to as Owner), at 313 East Alder Street, Old Courthouse Room 200, Oakland, Maryland, 21550, until 2:00 p.m. on Friday, June 30, 1995, and the bids will subsequently be publicly opened and read.

GENERAL DESCRIPTION OF WORK

Contract No. 2: The project is to provide a sewer line extension from the Grantsvillle sewer system to the Chestnut Ridge Sanitary District. Contract No. 2 will construct approximately 20,800 linear feet of gravity sewer line, 340 linear feet of boring and jacking under I-68, 1,020 linear feet of 8" force main, 90 linear feet subaqueous force main crossings, approximately 4,100 linear feet of small diameter force main, thirty-two grinder pump stations, and one large capacity duplex sewage pumping station including emergency generator and site work, and various appurtenant work to the described scope.

Contract No. 3: The project is to provide a wastewater treatment plant expansion for the existing Town of Grantsville facility. Contract No. 3 will construct a new treatment train of 0.300 MGD capacity including a primary clarifier, submerged biological contactor unit, secondary clarifier, aerobic sludge digestor, sludge pumping station, and appurtenant piping and site work.

PRE-BID CONFERENCE

Contract Nos. 2 & 3: A pre-bid conference will be held for Contract No. 2 and No. 3 on Tuesday, June 6, 1995 at 2:00 p.m. in the office of the Owner to answer any questions concerning the contract documents. All bidders are invited to attend.

CONTRACT DOCUMENTS

Contract Documents will be available for inspection during regular working hours at the Office of the Owner.

Contract Documents may be obtained from the Owner upon written request and remittance of full payment of One Hundred-Twenty Dollars ($120.00) for Contract No. 2 and eight-five dollars ($85.00) for Contract No. 3 for each set with checks made payable to the Garrett County Sanitary District, Inc. Payment will not be refunded, said payment being retained by the Owner to cover cost of printing, handling and shipping. Requests for Contract Documents shall be submitted to:

Garrett County Sanitary District, Inc.
313 East Alder Street, Old Courthouse, Room 200
Oakland, Maryland 21550

All Bids must be made on the required Bid form. All blank spaces for Bid prices must be filled in, in ink or typewritten, and the bid form must be fully completed and executed when submitted.

The Owner reserves the right to waive any informalities or minor defects, or to reject any and all Bids. Any Bid may be withdrawn prior to the above scheduled time for the opening of Bids or authorized postponement thereof. Any Bid received after the time and date specified will not be considered. No Bidder may withdraw a Bid within 90 days after the actual date of the opening thereof. Should there be reasons why the contract cannot be awarded within the specified period, the time may be extended by mutual agreement between the Owner and the Bidder.

All questions and requests for clarification regarding the Contract Documents shall be made in writing to Jeff Gilbert, Engineer for the Garrett County Sanitary Commission, at the above address.

Bidders must satisfy themselves of the scope-of-work by examination of the site and a review of the Contract Documents including Addenda. After Bids have been submitted, the Bidder shall not assert that there was a misunderstanding concerning the quantities of work or of the nature of the work to be done. All excavation is unclassified without provisions for extra payment for rock excavation.

The Contract Documents contain the provisions required for the work included in the Project. Information obtained from an officer, agent or employee of the Owner or any other person shall not affect the risks or obligations assumed by the Contractor or relieve him from fulfilling any of the conditions of the Contract.

BID SECURITY AND BOND REQUIREMENTS

An acceptable Bid Bond, payable to the Owner, in the amount of five percent (5%) of the total bid must accompany each Bid. A certified check in the amount of five percent (5%) of the total bid, drawn on a solvent bank chartered in the state of Maryland, and payable to the Owner, may be substituted for the Bid Bond.

Attorneys-in-fact who sign Bid Bonds, Performance Bonds, Payment Bonds, or Defective Materials, Workmanship and Equipment Bonds must file with each Bond, a certified and effective dated copy of their power of attorney.

The Bid Bonds of all bidders, except the bonds submitted with the three (3) lowest acceptable bids, will be returned within a fifteen (15) day period following the time of opening of the bids. The Bid Bonds accompanying the three lowest acceptable bids will be returned after the Contract has been awarded to and executed by the successful bidder. Provided the Owner, for any reasons whatsoever, determines that it is not in its best interest to award a Contract, the Contract award will not be made by the Owner and the Owner will not then be liable for any payments whatsoever to the Bidder. Extension of time beyond the ninety (90) day period of the award may be made only by mutual agreement between the Owner, the Bidder, and the Bidder's Surety.

The party to whom the contract is awarded will be required to execute the Agreement within ten (10) calendar days from the date when Notice of Award is delivered to the Bidder. The Notice of Award will be accompanied by the necessary Agreement and contract forms. In case of failure of the Bidder to execute the Agreement, the Owner may, at his option, consider the Bidder in default.

The Owner within ten (10) days of receipt of an acceptable Agreement signed by the party to whom the contract was awarded, will sign the Agreement and return to such party an executed duplicate of the Agreement. Should the Owner not execute the Agreement within such period, the Bidder may, by Written Notice, withdraw his signed Agreement. Such notice of withdrawal shall be effective upon receipt of notice by the Owner.

A conditional or qualified Bid will not be accepted.

Award will be made by the Owner to the lowest responsive and responsible bidder.

All applicable laws, ordinances, and the rules and regulations of all authorities having jurisdiction over the work shall apply to the Contract throughout.

TIME FOR COMPLETION

Contract No. 2: The successful bidder will be required to fully complete all contract work within one hundred twenty (120) days of award of contract by the Owner.

Contract No. 3: The successful bidder will be required to fully complete all contract work within two hundred (200) days of award of contract by the Owner.

AWARD OF CONTRACT

The award of any contract will be made by the Owner.

Bidders are cautioned that bids that are deemed by the Owner to be obviously unbalanced may be rejected.

The Owner reserves the right to reject any proposal for failure to comply with all requirements of this notice or of any of the Contract Documents; however, it may waive any minor defects or informalities at its discretion.

The Owner further reserves the right to reject all proposals, or to award a contract or contracts which in its judgment is in best interest of the Owner.

NONDISCRIMINATION OF EMPLOYMENT

BIDDERS ON THIS WORK WILL BE REQUIRED TO COMPLY WITH THE PRESIDENT'S EXECUTIVE ORDER NO. 11246. THE REQUIREMENTS FOR BIDDERS AND CONTRACTORS UNDER THIS ORDER ARE EXPLAINED IN 41 CFR 60.4.

Notice of Requirement for Certification of Nonsegregated Facilities

Bidders and offerors are cautioned as follows: By signing this bid or offer, the bidder or offeror will be deemed to have signed and agreed to the provisions or the "Certification of Nonsegregated Facilities" in this solicitation. The certification provides that the bidder or offeror does not maintain or provide for his employees facilities which are segregated on a basis of race, creed, color, or national origin, whether such facilities are segregated by directive or on a defacto basis. The certification also provides that he will not maintain such segregated facilities. Failure of a bidder or offeror to agree to the Certification of Nonsegregated facilities will render his bid or offer non-responsive to the terms of solicitation.

Date at Oakland, Maryland, this 16th day of May, 1995.

THE BIG TOP WENT UP in Oakland yesterday, much to the delight of hundreds of local circus enthusiasts - children and adults alike. If you missed last night's performances, you can still catch the Roberts Brothers Three-Ring Circus in the county tonight, as a 7 p.m. performance is planned at the Friendsville Town Park, sponsored by the Friendsville Lions Club. The circus features talented aerialists who swing high above the crowd while performing gymnastic feats, a bevy of trained animals, including llamas, ponies, dogs, goats, and Lisa the elephant, and jugglers, magicians, and clowns. The traditional roasted peanuts in the shell are available for purchase, as well as circus balloons and special programs. For those who can't make it to the big show this evening, the circus will be in Kingwood, W.Va., tomorrow night. Based in Sarasota, Fla., the Roberts Brothers crew travels from Florida to Maine each year, performing in over 220 communities in 18 states.

State Police Seek Maryland's "Most Wanted"

In an all-out effort to reduce Maryland's rising highway fatality rate, Maryland State Police Superintendent Colonel David B. Mitchell today placed Maryland's "Aggressive Drivers" on the Maryland Most Wanted List.

Aggressive drivers account for hundreds of deaths and thousands of injuries each year on Maryland roads. So far in 1995, 270 people have died in highway accidents in Maryland, nearly a 35 percent increase over last year at this time.

"It is absolutely necessary to change the mind set of many Maryland motorist," Colonel Mitchell said. "The dangers created by following too closely, erratic lane changes, failing to grant the right-of-way and speeding, are paramount. We must make Maryland's roads safer. While the majority of vehicular fatalities occur on secondary roadways, we feel that aggressive enforcement will permeate better driving attitudes on all roads."

The Maryland State Police will be able to place additional troopers on the road during peak travel periods through a Federal Highway Administration grant. By using the federal highway dollars, administrators will be able to overlap shifts to maximize this enforcement effort.

The kickoff of the "Aggressive Driver" program coincides with the start of Maryland's first C.A.R.E. Holiday weekend of 1995. The Combined Accident Reduction Effort is a nationwide program that maximizes highway enforcement during peak travel holidays. The Memorial Day Weekend officially begins C.A.R.E. '95. The holiday weekend begins Friday, May 26, at noon and concludes on Monday, May 30, at midnight.

New County Budget Will Not Include Five Percent Cut

Work on the Garrett County for fiscal year 1996 will proceed as usual, despite the Garrett County Commissioners' April request that all county-funded agencies include with their proposed budgets a contingency plan detailing how five percent of their expenses could be cut in the event that the county suffers a significant financial loss through litigation.

Commissioner John Braskey, who serves as board chairperson, stated in an interview this morning that such cuts would only go into effect if the county were to lose money at some point during the year as a result of cu- in state or federal funding or because of expenses associated with Sang Run resident John Hinebaugh's ongoing lawsuit against the county.

Until such a financial loss takes place, the county budgeting process will proceed as usual, he said.

In April, County Clerk Robert Fousek dispatched a letter to county agency directors requesting that they include a separate letter with their budget requests indicating which portion(s) of their FY 1996 budget could be cut "if county funding were reduced by five (5) percent."

The letter went on to state "This request is promulgated by the uncertainty of currently pending litigation (Hinebaugh lawsuit) against the county and the possible financial ramifications depending on the outcome."

On the legal front, Circuit Judge Fred Thayer recently issued an order and memorandum in which he refused Hinebaugh's request to reopen an earlier suit against the county which was settled out of court.

In the lawsuit, Hinebaugh had demanded that the county provide him with documents dealing with the county's 1993 purchase of over $1 million worth of road equipment. When he received a file of documents on the transaction, Hinebaugh dropped the suit. He later filed a second suit claiming that the county did not follow bid laws when the purchase was made.

However, Hinebaugh recently sought to reopen his first case, claiming that he had not received some 42 pages of additional documents pertaining to the purchase when he agreed to settle the suit.

On May 1, though, Thayer denied Hinebaugh's request to reopen the first suit.

According to Hinebaugh's attorney Robert

Police Return Runaways To Youth Center

Two juveniles who reportedly ran away from the Backbone Mountain Youth Center Saturday evening, were apprehended and returned to that facility, according to a report filed with the Maryland State Police, Barrack W, McHenry.

Wanda S. Ahern, an employee at the center, told police the youths, ages 15 and 16, apparently jumped out of a window at approximately 7:15 p.m., and were apprehended at 9 p.m. by deputies from the Garrett County Sheriff's Office, Maryland State Police, and a K-9 unit, according to the report.

DRUG ARREST

A West Virginia teenager was arrested Sunday evening and charged with possession of a controlled dangerous substance (CDS).

According to a report filed by Tfc. M.S. Clapper, Jeremy Todd Jenkins, 19, no address given, was initially stopped on eastbound Interstate 68 at the 18 mile marker, and charged with exceeding the speed limit and not wearing a seatbelt.

A subsequent search of the vehicle revealed a small quantity of suspected marijuana, and related drug paraphernalia, resulting in his arrest for those offenses. A check through the Motor Vehicles Administration revealed Jenkins was driving on a suspended West Virginia driver's license, fol-

Wizard Of Oz To Take The GLAF Stage

"We're Off To See The Wizard" will echo through the Garrett Community College auditorium next week as the Garrett Lakes Arts Festival, in coordination with the Garrett Choral Society, presents The Wizard of Oz, the musical by Frank A. Baum. Under the direction of Nancy K. Learey, the cast is comprised of local actors, including numerous children. Accompaniment will be provided on synthesizer by Dr. John Hawkins.

The show will be given in the GCC auditorium on June 2, 3, 9, and 10 at 8 p.m. and on June 4 and 11 at 2 p.m. Tickets are $8 for adults and $3 for children 12 and under. They are available at the following pharmacies: Beachy's, Gregg's, Englander's, or Deep Creek. If still available, they may be purchased at the door.

The set was designed by Richard Hill, assisted by Ben Sincell. Sincell is also serving as lighting and technical director. The costume designer is Terri Hagglund, and stage managers are David Peterson and Matt Sincell. Ben Grose will serve as stage assistant.

In addition to being part of the GLAF season, the show is being funded in part by the Garrett County Arts Council, the Maryland State Arts Council, and by McDonald's Corporation. It is being presented by permission of Tams-Witmark Music Library.

Graduation Prayer, Elem. School Site Topics At Recent BOE Meeting

Prayer at graduation ceremonies and the site for the county's new elementary school were among the topics of this month's Garrett County Board of Education meeting, held May 9. Upon the advice of Altman & Altman architects, the majority of the board voted to build the new school on a different section of the purchased plot, located on Weber Road. The board also clarified that a moment of silence will be held at both Northern and Southern high graduation ceremonies, and that each valedictorian in his or her speech has the right to offer prayer.

The site change for the Southern Area Elementary School was recommended by Altman & Altman because the new site would offer easier preparation. New soil test borings were done recently, according to Mark Altman, and these tests apparently showed that the different site would require less preparatory ground work, and would have a lessened impact on the wetland areas.

"The results of the test borings were mostly what we had expected," Altman said. "In the long run, it will be less expensive to locate the building closer to the road."

While the new site will result in a new design drawing at a cost of $15,000, Altman stated that locating the building on the new site will in turn result in a net savings of approximately $50,000 in preparation.

Superintendent Jerome Ryscavage recommended to the board members that they vote to accept the new site. Board members Dale Carpenter and Patrick Riley questioned the architects at length on numerous aspects of the school, and then the motion was made by Hannah Sincell to accept the site. It passed three to one, with Charlotte Sebold voting against.

On the issue of prayer at graduation, Ryscavage told the board members that he had shared a memo with the principals of each high school in May 1994 stating that a moment of silence may be included in the graduation ceremony, but that planned, spoken prayer by an invited guest was unconstitutional, according to a ruling by the United States Supreme Court. Ryscavage also reported that commencement programs were solely the responsibility of the principals and their senior class members.

Riley asked if the board members were "under any compulsion" to 'censor a speech given by a valedictorian. Albert Coviello, assistant superintendent of curriculum and instruction, stated that the students have the right to include prayer and that the board could only censor obscenities or slanderous statements. He also stated however that a board member could not "sit down with that student" and instruct

THREE-TITLE CHAMPION - Meghan Dabney, a sophomore at Southern High School, successfully defended her Potomac Valley Conference, Bi-County, and Regional championships this season, and is also sporting a perfect 20-0 record. She will travel to the state tournament this weekend and attempt to bring home the first state singles title ever won by a Garrett County high school tennis player. After dropping the first three games of the first set in Saturday's regional tournament at North Hagerstown High School against an undefeated player from Frederick, Dabney came back to win the next 10 games in a row and ultimately the match, 6-3, 6-2. Dabney, a daughter of Tom and Dayle Dabney, Mtn. Lake Park, is the only five-sport athlete in the history of Southern High School, as she is a member of the varsity soccer team, girls' cross-country, basketball, tennis, and track and field teams. In Friday's regional track and field championships she was a member of the first place 400-meter relay team. She is pictured above with the girls' tennis coach, Mike Sloan. The Southern doubles team of Julie Elswert and Kim Rosenthal finished second in the Bi-County tournament, but lost a close match in the first round of the regional tourney.

Aesthetic Zoning Proposed For New Deep Creek Lake Businesses

The Garrett County Planning Commission will include a recommendation in the county's updated Comprehensive Development Plan that aesthetic regulations be developed for new commercial construction at Deep Creek Lake.

According to John Nelson, director of the Garrett County Office of Planning and Zoning, the planning commission decided to endorse the idea of aesthetic zoning after some lake area business owners expressed their concerns that new commercial development may clash with the appearance of the lake area's existing businesses and natural scenery.

The Comprehensive Plan, a policy document which guides development throughout the county in areas such as transportation, land use, and community facilities, is updated regularly and then submitted to the Garrett County Board of Commissioners for adoption.

Jonathan Kessler, proprietor of Frontier Golf and The Tourist Trap souvenir shop, McHenry, supports the idea of aesthetic zoning for the lake area.

"We need to protect the integrity of the area and the beauty of the lake," he commented in an interview yesterday. Kessler added that while he currently sees no specific problems, the proposed aesthetic regulations would be aimed at preventing future development from looking too busy or commercial.

"People come up here to get away from that," he stated.

Kessler suggested that the aesthetic policies be developed through a "public forum" in which citizens will discuss the issues and develop guidelines through mutual agreement.

"I don't think that this has to be obtrusive," he said.

Kessler added that up to now, local business owners have kept with the existing, somewhat understated architectural style of the lake area. However, he noted that new developers, and particularly outside franchises, may not if some zoning policy is not put in place.

Nelson commented that the aesthetic zoning policy could be added to the Deep Creek Lake watershed zoning regulations or formulated as a separate ordinance. He predicted that the new rules would limit the colors, architectural style, and materials that may be used for commercial structures and the size and colors that business owners can use in their signs.

However, Nelson remarked that he does not know how the lake's official colors and styles will be chosen.

"I have no idea how we would proceed on that," he said.

The Deep Creek watershed zoning ordinance currently applies to such things as density of development, safety, traffic, and commercial and residential patterns of development.

School Counselor Not Prosecuted On CDS Charges

A variety of cases were heard in recent Garrett County District Court proceedings, including one involving a local school counselor who was not prosecuted on one count of possession of a controlled dangerous substance (CDS).

That decision was handed to F. Leslie McDaniel, 44, Oakland, by District Court Judge Ralph M. Burnett, who also granted him probation before judgment on a guilty verdict for a misdemeanor theft charge. McDaniel was ordered to pay $210 restitution on the theft charge, complete 250 hours of community service, and continue substance abuse counseling. He was also placed on two years of supervised probation.

According to court records, McDaniel, who was

A GARRETT COUNTY STATE OF MIND is the title of a new 12 minute video recently released through a joint effort of the Deep Creek Lake Promotion Council, Garrett County Economic Development Department, and the Mtn. Top Chamber of Commerce. The video, written and produced by McHenry resident Glenn Tolbert, will be used to attract tourists and new businesses to the county. The video features an array of businesses and recreational activities in the county. Copies of the video will be distributed to the 11 Maryland State Information Centers, AAA Offices, bus group tour leaders, TV stations, travel writers and agents, and local businesses. Videos may be purchased directly from the promotion council office in Oakland for $5.99 each, or ordered by mail for $6.99 each. To order by mail, checks should be made out to the promotion council and mailed to the council office at 200 South Third Street, Oakland, MD, 21550. For more information, persons may call 334-1948. Pictured left to right are WISP resort manager Jerry Geisler, Diane Wolfe of the promotion council, Garrett County Liaison for Maryland Department of Natural Resources Gary Yoder, David Moe of TCI Inc., and Peggy Jamison of the county economic development department.

Service Trees Distributed By Civic Club

Members of the Civic Club of Oakland and the Enjoying Yesteryear Planning Committee have undertaken a community-wide planting of service trees.

Under the theme "Planting for the Future, Celebrating the Past," the club and committee members are using the tree-planting effort to promote the upcoming Enjoying Yesteryear celebration, an event scheduled for June 10-11 which will feature demonstrations, exhibits, short classes, and audio-visual presentations recalling life in Garrett County 50 to 100 years ago.

As part of the tree distribution effort, planning committee members recently presented service seedlings to the Garrett County commissioners. Several mature service trees will also be planted at yet-to-be chosen locations in the county, a committee spokesperson stated.

Event planners will also present seedlings to the first 50 families attending the Enjoying Yesteryear celebration.

According to Committee Chairperson Martha Jachowski, "The seedlings and trees were purchased with the money presented to the civic club as recipient of a nation-wide third place award for the Celebration of Garrett County Women program conducted two years ago. Members of the Forestry Service have potted the seedlings and will be nurturing them until they are given away."

The Enjoying Yesteryear celebration will be held at Garrett Community College on June 10 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. On June 11, two bus tours of historic Garrett County will be offered beginning at 1:30 p.m. Bus tours will begin and end at the GCC parking lot.

Persons planning to participate in the "Enjoy Yesteryear" tours on Sunday, June 11, may make reservations for those tours at the Ruth Enlow Library in Oakland.

SERVICE TREES GIVEN - In preparation for the upcoming Enjoying Yesteryear celebration, slated for June 10-11, members of the Enjoying Yesteryear Planning Committee presented service tree saplings to the Garrett County commissioners. The trees, which produce white flowers in the spring, will also be distributed at the celebration, an event which will feature exhibits and presentations about life in the county during the first half of the century. Pictured left to right are committee member Dottie Leighton, Commissioner Roger Glotfelty, committee members Helen Earles and Charles Strauss, Commissioners John Braskey and Wayne Wilt, and committee members Martha Jachowski and Bobby Andersen.

Lighthouse, Inc. Receives Grant For Elevator

Thanks to a $95,000 Small Cities Community Development Block Grant (CDBG), the Garrett County Lighthouse, Inc., can install an elevator in a building presently under construction in Oakland.

The new elevator will enable the non-profit organization to increase services to its disabled clients by making programs accessible and providing employment opportunities for people with physical disabilities. The organization's new permanent facility will provide community-based care for the psychiatrically disabled and an enhanced nutritional program.

"These grants help us to meet community needs, and to improve the quality of life for people utilizing the services of Garrett County Lighthouse," Governor Parris Glendening said.

The Small Cities CDBG program is a federal program administered by the Maryland Department of Housing and Community Development (DHCD) and the Maryland Department of Economic and Employment Development (DEED). These grants are provided to jurisdictions throughout Maryland for housing, to improve community infrastructure, and to help produce economic opportunities for Maryland citizens.

Clean-Up Of Upper Yough Is Successful

The Third Annual Upper Yough River Clean-Up was the most successful to date despite rainy weather that kept participation numbers low, according to a spokesperson. More than four square yards of glass, cans, paper, and plastic were removed from the river. Clean-Up volunteers also hauled vehicle parts, wheels, and tires from the water.

Jess Whittemore of the Friendsville Lions and Mountain Surf said that rafts were seriously overloaded as they entered the most dangerous section of the river.

"It was about all the challenge we wanted to make the last seven or eight miles down the rapids into Friendsville," he said. Whittemore's raft, designed for four people, held three truck tires, two car doors, and five bags full of trash when he and Wayne Butler of Grantsville paddled up to the landing.

Jamie Adams of the Maryland DNR picked up other bulky trash by truck at designated drop points along the river. Rodney Glotfelty director of the Garrett County Office of Solid Waste and Recycling, said volunteer cleanup efforts benefit the community, "and we are glad to work with them to keep the county clean."

Thirteen experienced paddlers worked the rapids, while five volunteers cleaned the river from the I-68 bridge to the Friendsville Town Park, including two who cleaned the park's river banks.

Mike McCarty, owner of Mountain Streams and Trails, said that when he ran the first commercial trip ever run on the Upper Yough, he had hoped an event like this would be possible some day.

Robert Lohr Distributors and Friendsville Discount Liquors provided beverages to volunteers, and Demaree Inflatable Boats provided a raft for the event.

"Every volunteer and every business that helped in any way has done good work to preserve the beauty of the river and pride in our area," said Bill Welch, one of the coordinators. "I also want to thank every landowner along the river. I want to be clear that I understand and respect concerns of private property owners along the river who fear government seizure of forced sales."

DCL Boating Rules Included In State-Wide Regulations

Rules governing boating on Deep Creek Lake were recently incorporated into existing state-wide boating regulations.

However, this legal transfer will result in "no real change for the average person [using the lake]," explained Lake Manager Paul Durham.

The previous regulations governing boating use on Deep Creek Lake were part of a broad set of regulations predicated on the management lease between Penelec Inc., which owns the lake bed, and the DNR. When this lease expired in December of 1993, the department saw a need to recodify the lake boating regulations to make them independent of the management relationship with Penelec.

Following a public hearing at Garrett Community College on April 4, the department moved forward with formal promulgation of the lake-specific boating regulations. This process has resulted in the new regulations being moved to the statewide boating regulations under subtitle 18 Boating - Speed Limits and Operation of Vessels.

Working with the statewide Boat Act Advisory Committee and the local Deep Creek Lake Advisory and Review Committee, the department modified the previous regulations' language in an attempt to make it more understandable and consistent with statewide regulations. The following modifications were incorporated into the final proposal:

- A revised definition of "length over all" was formulated that corresponds with acceptable practice, and upon the advice of the Lake Advisory Committee the maximum length for vessels was raised to 26 feet, except for pontoon boats, which may not exceed 30 feet.
- The definition of personal watercraft was changed to reflect the statewide definition. Restrictions of hours of use have not been changed.
- Skiing restrictions at the U.S. Route 219 and Glendale bridges have been replaced and superseded by a statewide restriction that went into effect in 1994. This restriction requires that an individual or individuals on water skis, aquaplane, or other similar device shall keep at all times at least 100 feet from the shore, wharf, pier, piling, jetty, bridge structure or abutment, or an individual or individuals in the water. When passing another vessel, the operator of the towing vessel must stay at least 100 feet away from the other vessel.
- The various three-knot speed limit zones around the lake have been changed to minimum wake zones. In these zones, a person may not operate or give permission to operate a vessel in excess of the slowest possible speed necessary to maintain steerage under prevailing wind and sea conditions.

Copies of the new regulations are available from the Deep Creek Lake Recreation Area Office, 898 State Park Road, Swanton, MD 21561; or by calling 387-4111. Regulations are also posted on bulletin boards at all public access ramps around Deep Creek Lake.

BOE President Explains Comment About Sharpless

Rodney Durst, president of the Garrett County Board of Education, clarified this week a statement printed in last week's issue of The Republican concerning Clark Sharpless, director of transportation for the board.

The comment about Sharpless was related to a situation involving a parent, Terri Hutzel, and her problems with bus drivers George and Kevin Wassell. She had stated that when she contacted Durst about the ongoing problem and complained about Sharpless, Durst had stated that it seemed as if Mr. Sharpless was "trying to neglect his job."

In an interview this week, Durst said that the comment followed a discussion with Mrs. Hutzel during which she made several accusations about Sharpless in his handling of the case. Durst said that he made the statement after saying that "if these accusations are true, then it seems as if Mr. Sharpless is trying to neglect his job."

"I was responding to her list of accusations," Durst said. "And I meant that if these things were truly happening, then it would seem that Mr. Sharpless was being neglectful of his duties."

Sharpless spoke about the issue this week, expressing his dismay and frustration at the comment. He said that he has dealt with the problem with the Hutzel family and the Wassells for years, having scheduled five related conferences over the past three years.

"I have had phone conversations and office conferences with Terri Hutzel and her husband," Sharpless said. "I have tried to direct the complaints to the individual school authorities, because they are truly the ones responsible for discipline on the buses, and that does seem to be the problem in this case."

Sharpless reiterated that he feels he has done his job in the case, and is continuing to have the problems investigated. Hutzel in an interview last week expressed her dissatisfaction with the handling of the ongoing case.

NASHVILLE WINNERS - After competing recently in the Midwest Music Festival in Nashville, the Southern Garrett Band returned home with four trophies. GCC Employees Recognized For Recent Promotions

Thirteen employees at Garrett Community College were recognized for their recent promotions during last week's meeting of the GCC Board of Trustees.

"These are people who genuinely care about the students at Garrett Community College," said Dr. Stephen Herman, president of the institution. "We are honoring those who have helped make the college succeed. They have high standards, and pass those standards on to the students and their fellow employees."

Those promoted to GCC's highest rank of "mastery" are: Manning Smith, associate dean of students; Mike Logsdon, physics teacher and director of the Adventure Sports program; Don Storck, director of information services; Beth Doerr, who provides physical therapy and medical assistance to the athletic program, and who teaches at the college; Linda Sherwood, executive secretary/-administrative assistant to the dean of administration; Judy Sconyers, librarian; and Ann Wellham, athletic director.

Promoted to the rank of "recognition" were Kevin Dodge, associate professor

Little League Concession Stand Robbery Reported

The concession stand for the Oakland Little League was apparently broken into last week and over $170 worth of candy was stolen, according to a report at the Garrett County Sheriff's Office. Elizabeth Shiflett, supervisor of the concession, contacted the police on Friday to report the theft.

According to the report, unknown persons forced open an east-side window sometime late Thursday, May 18, or early Friday. Once inside, the culprits removed numerous packages of candy and gum. An investigation into the theft is continuing.

In another case, an Oakland man reported the theft of several tools from his garage. Henry L. Steyer told officers that he had last seen the items on May 13, and the tools were gone on May 17.

Stolen were two socket sets, a step ladder, and a screwdriver set. The total worth of the stolen items was estimated to be $465.

DWI ARRESTS

Four DWI (driving while intoxicated) and DUI (driving under the influence of alcohol and/or drugs) arrests were logged at the local state police barrack during the past week.

Denine Marie Nave, 37, LaVale, was arrested and charged with DWI on May 20, by Tfc. Lemay.

Shane T. Connor, 20, Lonaconing, was charged with DWI on May 20, by Tfc. Rodeheaver.

Shane A. Limric, 22, no address given, was arrested for DWI on May 20, by Tfc. Clapper.

Patty M. Broadwater, 21, Grantsville, was arrested and charged with DWI on May 21, by Tfc. Lemay.

Oakland Man Is Arrested For Burglary

An Oakland man has been arrested by the Garrett County Sheriff's Office in connection with the theft of personal property items from a residence on Fingerboard Road. Michael R. Stemple, 22, has been charged with first degree burglary, theft less than $300, and malicious destruction of property.

The defendant is accused of destroying a lock on an outbuilding owned by Russell and Pat Welch, and then removing two mowers, a wicker stand, a microwave oven, and various articles of clothing. The theft allegedly took place on March 22, according to the police report. Stemple was arrested on May 22 and released on May 23 after posting 10% of a $3,000 bond, according to a sheriff's office spokesperson.

A Beckley, W.Va., man was arrested for driving while intoxicated (DWI) on May 17, according to the report. J.C. Barber Jr., 49, was stopped on Route 219 North near the Garrett County Fairgrounds when an officer saw him operating his vehicle in an erratic manner. The arrest was effected at 2:17 a.m., according to the report.

A Friendsville woman was arrested this week, charged with battery. Regenia Kaseluris, 47, is accused of assaulting Sherry Stanton, Friendsville, on March 17, according to the report.

Thomas I. Skeweris, 36, Oakland, was arrested on the strength of a warrant on May 18. Teresa L. Skeweris, the complainant, alleged that the defendant followed her on May 17 and then came onto her property after she told him not to do so. He was charged with harassment.

A bench warrant was issued for the arrest of David R. Armstrong, 22, Swanton. Armstrong apparently failed to appear as a witness in Garrett County Circuit Court last Thursday. He was charged with failure to obey a subpoena.

A body attachment was issued for the arrest of Edward A. Powell, 28, Accident. He is accused of failing to obey a subpoena for child support, according to the report.

DRIVER OF THE YEAR - Ronnie R. Miner, who resides along Dung Hill Road near Bittinger, was recently named Driver of the Year by Roehl Transport, Inc., of Marshfield, Wis. Miner, pictured left, has been driving a tractor trailer since 1988 and has been employed by Roehl Transport since 1993. The company employs approximately 975 drivers. Making the presentation to Miner was Everett Roehl, company president.

Let's Be Careful...

Parents and teachers arriving at Dennett Road School one morning this week were surprised to see three Maryland State Police cruisers, complete with troopers, stationed at the entrance to their school. As drivers arrived there, some were waved on through to the parking lot by the troopers while many others were instructed to pull over and stop.

The drivers who were asked to pull over soon learned why. Each was issued a warning for failing to wear his or her seatbelt, or for allowing their children to ride unrestrained.

Memorial Day weekend has always been regarded as the unofficial beginning of summer, and there is good reason for that designation. The weather by that time is usually quite pleasant, the three-day weekend lends itself for travel and family get-togethers, and school is winding down for another year. All of this means that many more people will be on our roadways and, when school finally does let out in another couple weeks, there will be van-loads of young people being transported back and forth all day long, to swim team practice to Little League to picnics to camps to the mall...

There will also be far more young bicyclists and pedestrians on and along our roadways, which greatly increases the potential for tragedy.

While some may describe the state police seatbelt check at the local school a Gestapo-like, sting operation, we appreciate it and hope that such enforcement efforts continue. Too many lives continue to be lost unnecessarily because of carelessness and a lackadaisical attitude about seatbelt use.

So, with Memorial Day weekend upon us, may we all be more aware, more alert, more careful, and more responsible, particularly when we are exercising our privilege (not our right) of driving an automobile. The State Police announced today that they will be doing their part, as they have placed Maryland's "aggressive drivers" on the Maryland Most Wanted list (see front page story). It will also be the first C.A.R.E. (Combined Accident Reduction Effort) holiday weekend of 1995.

The 1995 death rate on Maryland roadways is running 35 percent ahead of last year. We must do all we can to address this morbid statistic.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

On May 16 the Cumberland newspaper reported that two Garrett County business owners appeared before the Garrett County Planning Commission to express concern and request that architectural standards be adopted to protect the aesthetics of the still beautiful Deep Creek Lake area. The newspaper also contained an editorial on May 17 pleading for controls to prevent a "gaudy, tinsel approach" to new development in the area.

We were disappointed that The Republican did not mention this meeting in the May 18 edition. Garrett County needs to wake up now to the fact that as residential building continues around the lake, more and more businesses will be arriving. Commercial growth must continue to be encouraged, however, there is no advantage to allowing new construction or remodeling of existing commercial buildings that adversely impact the lake. It wouldn't take much for Garrett County to become a cheap parody of other uncontrolled tourist areas.

We have the opportunity now to adopt standards and regulations to preserve the existing features of the lake and all of Garrett County. Let's not let the opportunity slip away.

David and Tiddle Wheeler
Deep Creek Lake

Dear Wheelers,

You will find the story on the front page of today's issue. We were aware of the meeting and had a story for the previous week, but space and time factors resulted in our having to delay publishing it one week. Nonetheless, thanks for pointing it out to us, because once in a while we do miss an occasional meeting or event that carries great significance for our county.

Editor

To the Editor:

God's most eloquent lessons are taught in our own backyard. As we struggle to understand how it is possible for neighbors to murder one another in Bosnia, and for those of one "tribe" to slaughter identical-looking people of another "tribe", we need only look at how terribly difficult it is for us, right here in Garrett County, to accept people who are "different."

Whether these are guests to our county who want to have a peace festival, or fellow parents who love their children but have their own ideas on how best to educate them, how often we respond to the differences with scorn, fear, and distrust.

The choice is ours, individually, to respond to these inevitable differences of attitude and belief with either a curse or a blessing.

I am reminded of the story of a man who was accosted by another man holding a gun. He did not have enough money to satisfy the robber, who pointed the gun at his head and said, "I'm going to kill you." The man wanted to do something. He was terrified. He was certain he was going to die. So he said what he had said so many times before when confronted by fear. He said, "God bless you."

The man with the gun stared at him, dropped his weapon, and wept as he walked away.

Such a compassionate and forgiving response can only come through daily practice. Each day God gives us the opportunity to choose to bless in response to offensive or threatening acts--both real and imagined.

This may not change the immediate outcome. There are many stories of Jews courageously giving their blessing and forgiveness to their murderers. They still died.

Yet, if we want to bring healing to the world, if we want to see peace, forgiveness, and compassion rule the day, we must choose to give these things to everyone. God blesses us all--no exceptions.

Until the day that we all act consistently with such grace, it seems that school board meetings, peace festivals, highways, parking lots, politics, TV news, marriages, friendships, and the workplace will give us lots of opportunity to practice.

Sincerely,
Rick Wilkes

To the Editor:

Upon reading of the protests by three local ministers to the proposed Harmony Festival for Peace, I was appalled.

Harmony - what a beautiful word! The blending of many, be it sounds, colors, ideas, or people (to name a few), into one shared existence. No one aspect is diminished, on the contrary, everyone and everything is enhanced by the process.

Just as we are encouraged - and certainly welcomed - to "make our personal worlds larger" by expanding our horizons, we should feel equally comfortable allowing the "outside world" in. Life certainly extends far beyond the borders of Garrett County.

How can we possibly learn to understand and care for one another if we are unable to put aside our obvious differences? Differences such as race, political choices, and religious beliefs do not change the fact that we are all children of God, all brothers and sisters.

We cannot appreciate the full and enriched life each of us has at our disposal if we fail to reach out to one another. To learn how others think, feel, believe, and live does not mean that we will sacrifice how we think, feel, believe, and live.

The mere fact that there are some among us who are unwilling to allow certain religious groups to share their beliefs sends the wrong message to our children. Surely we won't encourage our youth to go out into the world thinking that to be "different" is wrong, or that in order to coexist in a peaceful manner we must all have similar convictions. We are not clones; we are blessed by our Creator with individual hearts, souls, and minds.

Dancing, music, meditation, attitudinal healing, massage, and touch therapy--if any or all of these practices enhance one's faith and strengthen one's belief, how can they be causes for concern? Spiritual evolution, something each of us should strive for, is not a new concept.

We must open our hearts and minds, for to remain closed off from the diverse

An Update From The Superintendent

Dr. Jerome Ryscavage, Superintendent
Of Garrett County Public Schools

TEACHER CERTIFICATION IN GARRETT COUNTY

The term certification refers to the licensing process to teach and work in the public schools of Maryland. Just as doctors, attorneys, and building contractors need licenses to practice their trades, so too do teachers, counselors, principals, superintendents, and other professionals directly responsible for the education of our youngsters. The Garrett County Board of Education is required by law to employ only those individuals who are licensed or who will qualify for such a license.

The determination and decision-making in terms of professional certificates is made entirely by the Maryland State Department of Education. Each local board, however, plays an important role in this process, acting as a liaison to the state department, it directs professionals in the application and renewal cycle.

There are a variety of certificates that professional educators may hold. Such factors as college degrees, areas of training, types of college coursework, national teacher examinations, and years of experience determine the certificate issued to the employee. Professional certificates indicate a specific area in which individuals are qualified to be employed, such as early childhood, elementary, middle school or high school math, science, etc.

The highest certificate issued in the state of Maryland, an Advanced Professional Certificate, is held by approximately 80% of all professionals employed by the Garrett County Board of Education. This figure is representative of a well-trained and highly qualified staff.

Certification in Maryland has undergone dramatic change beginning January 1, 1995. The most significant change has resulted in requiring professionals to continue professional growth on a five year cycle to renew the certificate. This simply means that the updating of professional skills will become a career-long process.

In conclusion, professional certification\licensing is both an involved and cyclical process. It should be noted that professional certificates may be suspended or revoked at any time. Being found guilty of certain crimes, failing to report suspected child abuse, failure to renew certificates, and professional incompetence are examples of causes contributing to the loss of certification. Through an extensive network of information, all Maryland counties are informed of individuals whose licenses are in question, thus preventing their employment.

Questions relative to professional certification may be directed to Ed Green at 746-8570 or 895-5040.

View From My Window

WHAT DO WE REMEMBER?

Memorial Day began as a Civil War holiday. One war succeeded another, and it became the primary day of honoring not only those who fought and died, but also those who fought and lived. Little by little Memorial Day became a day of remembrance for all the beloved dead.

This Sunday flowers will fill our churches in remembrance of loved ones. Petals will be strewn over the graves not only of dead heroes, but of many dead who never wore a uniform. The irony is that on a holiday appointed for remembering we have forgotten the day's origin and purpose.

During the past month we have heard much about remembering events of 50 years ago, the liberation of the Nazi death camps and the end of World War II in Europe. I begin to wonder how much has been forgotten. There are extremists, for example, who deny that the Nazis slaughtered six million Jews. There are a great many other people, very moderate in their opinions, for whom the story of Hitler and the Jews has no meaning.

In cultural terms western society -- Europe, the USA, and the most English parts of the former British Empire -- are guilty of greater transgressions of forgetting. Hitler was, after all, an ideologue. The terror he visited upon the world was rooted in ideas and especially in a particular idea: that there is a minimum standard for worthiness to live. As difficult as it seemed at the time, defeating Hitler's armies was easy compared to the job of defeating his ideas.

The standard of life worthiness not only endures, but prevails in precisely those countries which joined to defeat Hitler. Abortion, assisted suicide, euthanasia, the standard of quality of life (when is life not worth living?) are all Nazi ideas. They are no less dangerous when espoused by milque-toast liberals than when they were espoused by a goosestepping maniac.

The perpetuation of Nazi ideas has not been left to the liberals alone. It is as if the Nazi ideology has been split in half, split between those we call liberals and conservatives. The American right believes in capital punishment, military strength, and jail for those would burn the American flag as an act of political protest. None loved their flag more than the Nazis. None believed in peace through strength more than the Nazis. None has dispatched wrongdoers more expeditiously than the Nazis.

Not just the trains filled with those deemed unworthy of life, it was the rigorous adherence to a set of evil ideas that carried the many millions to their deaths. One day a charismatic demon will once again bring together the two halves of the Nazi idea, and the world will be a sad, sad place for it.

Looking around the world today, is there any institution which stands consistently against both halves of the Nazi idea? There is one: the Catholic Church. I am myself a Presbyterian, but the Presbyterian Church has, as an institution, adopted much of the liberal half of the Nazi idea. It is the Catholic Church alone which has consistently raised the banner for life as it opposes abortion, euthanasia, militarism, the death penalty, and all infringements on civil liberty.

The Catholic Church has as its primary purpose the proclamation of the message about Jesus Christ to a lost world. That, however, is a purpose shared by all other Christians. How did the Catholic Church, as an institution in the world among many other institutions, come by the wisdom to smell the Nazi idea however masked? One answer is that the Catholic Church is the oldest institution in western society. Setting aside its religious claims, the Catholic Church as an institution has seen tyrants come and go. It has seen the totalitarian state in many guises, and therefore possesses the institutional memory to discern the embodiment of evil despite the smiling face painted upon it.

The Catholic Church as an institution is not perfect, of course. It is just ahead of the rest of the west's institutions in remembering. And if we do not remember what it is that we are memorializing, then the heroic dead have indeed died in vain.

This week, we continue with our introduction to readers of the people involved with the Garrett Choral Society's upcoming performance of The Wizard of Oz.

Cathy A. Helbig (the Good Sorceress) is a native of Oakland and a veteran of the Garrett Choral Society having portrayed Josephine in HMS Pinafore and Tzeitzel in Fiddler on the Roof. Cathy is a teacher at Kitzmiller Elementary School, and resides in Oakland with her husband Gene, and children, Justin and Katie.

Brenda Brosnihan makes her debut with the Choral Society and brings with her a wealth of dance talent and experience. In addition to appearing in some of the exciting dance scenes in Oz, Brenda has choreographed the dance scenes for the production. Brenda owns and operates Brenda's Body Shop, a well-known aerobics and dance studio. In addition to helping to keep area residents in shape, she has been responsible for the national recognition which several of her groups have attained over the years. She lives in the area with her husband, Pete (a local contractor helping with the Oz set), and her children.

Dr. John Hawkins is living testimony to the fact that the Choral Society is addictive. Fresh from accompanying the Choral Society in Snapshots of Broadway, Dr. Hawkins returns to accompany Oz. This time, however, he brings with him an assortment of high-tech musical instrumentation that will transport the audience to Oz. In addition to his work in the music department of Potomac State College, Dr. Hawkins has been a pioneer in the area of electronic synthesizing of music. The Choral Society is grateful to Dr. Hawkins, and hopes that he will find a "home" with the Garrett Choral Society in the future.

Robyn Ingram (Mombee the witch) joins up as the Wicked Witch of the West in one of Oz's more hysterical and spooky scenes. Robyn is new to the area, but brings a depth of experience in theatre, including roles in Mousetrap, Blithe Spirit, No No Nanette and Lost in Yonkers. She is a clinical assistant to Dr. Dan Miller. Acting runs in her family, as she is joined in Oz by daughter Emily, who is one of the munchkins. When not cruising about on a broomstick, Robyn enjoys reading, needlework, and dried flower arranging.

Linda Sharpless (Sara the witch) rounds out the company of wicked witches. No stranger to the Choral Society, Linda may best be known for her role as Addie in Oklahoma. Linda is a teacher at Dennett Road and has daughters, Rita and Gina, who also enjoy theatre. Linda has previous experience with dinner theatre and Special Service shows in Germany.

The curtain goes up on Oz next week with performances on June 2 and 3 at 8 p.m. and a Sunday matinee on June 4 at 2 p.m. The same offering will be made the following weekend as well. The show is part of the Garrett Lakes Arts Festival Summer Season, and is also supported by the Garrett County Arts Council, the Maryland State Arts Council and by McDonald's Corporation. Advance tickets are available at the following pharmacies: Englander's, Gregg's, Beachy's, and Deep Creek. The Wizard of Oz is also done through arrangements with and by permission of Tams-Whitmark Music Library.

backgrounds, and health professions in an event focusing on peace, respect, understanding, and growth. We named it the Harmony Festival for Peace.

This event is an opportunity for people of many different cultures and backgrounds to join together for noble ideals. We care about our communities and the world.

The fact that cultural differences cause war and hate is a tragedy that repeats itself throughout the ages. This event is a step towards a respect for the brotherhood of man, and a forum for people to appreciate the similarities between different people, instead of fighting about differences. Only through dialogue and talking together has peace ever been achieved.

We anticipated 300-500 peace-minded people coming to Friendsville. We expected positive economic results for the town and county, and we feel that this event is an example we will be proud of. Drugs and alcohol are not permitted in the town park, and no drugs or alcohol will be permitted at the Harmony Festival regardless of where it takes place. Safety committees are established to look out for the public welfare, and all necessary requirements as to additional restroom facilities and water are being addressed by the festival organizers. This event had a name from the start, and it was never our intention to represent it as an arts and crafts festival, or anything other than what it truly is.

Our initial plan was for

PRESIDENT'S REPORT

Dr. Herman introduced Rosanne Susi, who spoke about the National Adventuresports Forum, planned for Sept. 17-19 at Wisp Resort and Conference Center, Deep Creek Lake.

Titled "Getting Together...Moving In New Directions," the featured speaker for the forum will be Tom McMillen, co-chair of the President's Council on Physical Fitness and Sports. The forum, according to Susi, will show participants how they can capitalize on the growing popularity of adventuresports in order to further their organizations' goals and objectives. Well-known professionals from across the nation will present workshops on the emerging adventuresports industry, and insights about today's trends. The purpose is to identify and discuss these developments, and to plan for a future of shared growth and opportunities.

MOVE-ALONG-A-THON

Herman reported to the board of trustees that the recent Move-Along-A-Thon, sponsored by the GCC Foundation, was "a stunning success." He noted that although a goal of $4,500 had been set for the event, more than $9,000 was realized. The top money-maker was Karisa Weissgerber, and coming in second was Ann Smith.

"A lot of people worked very hard to make this scholarship fundraiser a success," Herman said. "The business and community response was extraordinary."

He announced that from the $9,000 raised, $4,000 of that amount has already been allocated to be divided between the county's two high schools. Described as the largest scholarships ever to be given by GCC, one Northern High student and one from Southern High will each receive a $2,000 scholarship to attend Garrett Community College, Herman said. The recipients will be selected by the principal and faculty from each school, Herman said.

25TH ANNIVERSARY

Garrett Community College will celebrate its 25th anniversary in next year, and a committee has been established to plan an event set for the weekend after Labor Day, 1996. A gala ball and picnic for the GCC family have tentatively been planned, as well as a time capsule to be opened at the institution's 50th anniversary.

OTHER BUSINESS

The final list of GCC candidates for this weekend's commencement ceremony was presented to the board of trustees for its approval. According to Dr. Lillian Mitchell, dean of academic affairs, 75 graduates are scheduled to participate.

Garrett Community College's Communiversity was featured in a recent issue of the weekly publication, Community College Week. The article focused on the project that has brought the "global village to rural Maryland." Recognized in the article were Dr. Herman, who came up with the idea of a communiversity, and Don Storck, the project's director.

FRATERNAL WEEK OBSERVED - In recognition of Maryland Fraternal Activity Days which were observed over the weekend, Lodge 11 Woodmen of the World, Crellin, received a proclamation from the Garrett County Board of Commissioners which stated, in part, "We... call upon all citizens of Garrett County to recognize the purposes and projects of these Woodmen Lodges." The Fraternal Activity Days are intended to inform the public of the philanthropic, civil, and patriotic activities of such organizations. Pictured left to right are Commissioner Roger Glotfelty, Rosetta Rodeheaver and Leota Peck of Woodmen Lodge 11, and Commissioners John Braskey and Wayne Wilt.

him or her to definitely include a prayer in the speech or help the student write a prayer.

Coviello went on to say that both valedictorians last year did include prayer in their speeches. Board president Rodney Durst asked if either student was "harassed" following the ceremony, and both Coviello and Ryscavage emphatically stated that they were in no way harassed.

Riley stated that he felt a discussion about this issue was important so that students are aware that they have the right to offer prayer in a valedictorian speech.

Lowell Leitzel, a teacher at Southern High School, addressed the issue by asking if the board could in any way assure that the moment of silence truly remained silent.

"I, as an attender of that ceremony at Southern last year, having attended the previous board meeting where the discussion took place, having heard the decision of the board, having seen it publicized in the newspaper, individually had prepared my own thoughts for that time," Leitzel said. "And when the voice came out of the crowd behind me [during the moment of silence] starting to pray, my own thoughts were disrupted. I felt offended. I had taken the time to prepare my own thoughts and I was no longer in the mood for meditation whatsoever because I was all of a sudden feeling very resentful inside. My whole feeling was tainted during the rest of that ceremony.

"I think there needs to be some remark on the part of the principal or whomever to invite the audience to respect that moment of silence for what it's intended to be," Leitzel concluded.

Ryscavage stated that he felt the principals should perhaps have something to indicate that "everyone should respect others' rights, all others' rights, with the silent moment of meditation."

"I happened to be the official officiating at Southern High School's graduation when that prayer was offered, and my feelings were the same as Mr. Leitzel's," the superintendent said.

Riley said it was "up to debate" as to how much the spoken prayer truly disrupted the ceremony, but Sincell said the person who prayed out loud was "stepping on the rights of our Jews and our Hindus - we have all kinds in this country."

"It would be the same thing if someone stood up during that moment of silence and starting talking out loud or singing a song," Durst said. "It infringes on the other people - it's supposed to be a moment of silence."

"And when it's silent, everyone has the opportunity to pray to whatever they believe in," Sincell said.

He was a retired landscaper.

Survivors include five daughters, Bonnie Barber and Mary Paugh, both of Pt. Marion, Pa., Ruth Nicholson, Morgantown, Peggy Paugh, Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., and Donna Lewis, Oakland; two sons, Charles J. Paugh Jr., Akron, Ohio, and John Lewis, Oakland; three sisters, Nancy Upole, Gormania, W.Va., and Ruby Baker and Dorothy Cosner, both of Oakland; three brothers, Jack Paugh and Fred Paugh, both of Oakland, and Walter Paugh, Shallmar; 12 grandchildren; and one great-grandchild.

Friends were received at the Stewart Funeral Home, Oakland, where a service was conducted Saturday, May 20, with the Rev. Gail Hixon officiating. Interment followed in the Ashby Cemetery, Oakland.

New Arrivals

The births of three infants this week at Garrett County Memorial Hospital were announced this morning by a hospital spokesperson.

A son was born May 19 to John Wayne and Julia Shuree Martin Lewis, Oakland.

A daughter was born May 21 to James Robert and Robin Alayne Landon Freeman, Oakland.

A daughter was born May 24 to Alan Wayne and Deborah Linn Uphold Klotz, Oakland.

Admissions were listed at 48 with 67 discharges. This morning's census shows 22 patients.

The Rev. and Mrs. Edsel Calhoun Jr., Shippensburg, Pa., announce the birth of a son, Nathaniel Joel, May 18, at Chambersburg (Pa.) Hospital. The mother is the former Beverly Scearce. Paternal grandparents are Edsel Sr. and Carol Calhoun, Oakland. A paternal great-grandmother is Madge Vance, Deer Park.

John and Lois Evans, Centerville, Va., announce the birth of their son, Joseph Scott, on May 16 at Fairfax Hospital. Grandparents are Richard and Deloras Evans, Oakland, and Harry and Toni Grimm of Virginia.

Esther Bender Booksigning Set At LaVale Mall

Esther Bender, Grantsville, will be at Waldenbooks, Country Club Mall, LaVale, for an autographing of her second book, Shadow at Sun Lake, on Saturday, June 3, from 10:30 to noon and 1-3.

Shadow at Sun Lake is a mystery-adventure book for youth age 11 to 15. Its setting is Little Meadows Lake near Grantsville.

"Over the hill from our house near Grantsville is a beautiful small lake, the most peaceful place I know," Bender said. "When we built our home here, I walked around the lake nearly every morning. One day, I knew I wanted to use the lake and its campground for a setting for a book. I cut pictures of two girls from a magazine and began my story. The rest is fiction. Well, almost fiction! The lake is really manmade. And the character, Old Grouse, is made of many characters -- the oldtimers who still live in the mountains of Garrett County and still spend long winter nights huddled around a coal stove telling tales of 'painters' (panthers). The two boys, Ace and Lyle, are strictly fiction."

Bender first interviewed Mr. Davies, builder of Little Meadows Lake, and wrote about the lake for an article which appeared in the Garrett County Weekender in July 1988. Later, at Davies's request, she wrote the text for a monument honoring his deceased wife, "Johnnie" Thelma Davies, placed at the entrance to the campground. Bender says she still feels surprised and honored that he also asked to use her name and a quote from a note she gave him when she was trying to decide what lead to use for the article about the lake. On the final revision of the book, Shadow at Sun Lake, she added part of that quotation on the monument to the book because "it just seemed to fit."

When asked about the cover picture of a black panther, Bender said. "I want to make it clear that this is not a story in which a black panther stands for anything other than what it is, an animal created by God with its natural habits as well as I could understand them. I asked Eric Savage of the DNR to read my manuscript and comment to me about it, which he did, but I am responsible for any errors I may have made about the animals in this book. I wanted it to be fun to read, but also wholesome reading."

Bender's third book will be published this summer, a picture book called April Bluebird. This book was inspired by a reader of The Republican who responded to her first published newspaper story, Bluebird Dies in April Snow, (1987?) by saying that it was a "children's classic." That book will be illustrated by a Garrett County artist Edna Bender.

Library Taking Reservations For Yesteryear Tour

Persons planning to participate in the "Enjoy Yesteryear" tours on Sunday, June 11, may make reservations for those tours at the Ruth Enlow Library in Oakland. Details of the event can be found in a story on page D-7 of this newspaper.

Food For Thought

Chef Francesco Pisano
McClive's Restaurant

Here's a better sandwich than a hamburger for a barbeque. Season vegetables with oil, balsamic vinegar and oregano, then grill until slightly charred. Spread split focaccia with goat cheese, then add the grilled vegetables and the top of the bread.

Or marinate fish filets with orange juice, soy sauce, ginger and sesame oil. Grill. Serve on rolls slathered with mayonnaise mixed with soy sauce and ginger. Try shredded spinach instead of lettuce.

Iced tea and lemonade are even better if ice cubes enclose sprigs of fresh mint. Put a few sprigs in each ice-cube section, then freeze.

Pineapple salsa is great with grilled fish, especially swordfish or tuna. To pineapple chunks, canned or better fresh, add chopped sweet red pepper, grated ginger, chopped cilantro and zippy red-pepper seasoning or chopped jalapeno pepper.

Everybody loves shrimp. Create a "walking" shrimp cocktail for parties with a dip of half-and-half yogurt and sour cream zipped up with as much Dijon mustard as makes you happy.

GCC, Wisp Host Team Building Training Prog.

The first team building training program sponsored by the Adventuresports Institute of Garrett Community College and the Wisp Resort was held last week for 30 participants from Schlumberger MALCO, a laminating company from Baltimore.

These programs are intended to provide team building and leadership training for industry through adventure activity, explained ASI Executive Director Don Storck. Each program is tailored to meet specific goals and interests of the client.

The four-day program began with a workshop, conducted by GCC Associate Dean of Students Manning Smith, which focused on personality types and their associated behavior patterns. Smith conducted personality tests and then led the group in a discussion and exercises dealing with the dynamics of interaction among personality types and the application of these concepts to the work place environment.

A white water rafting excursion on West Virginia's Cheat River was the main activity of the second day. The trip was led by Mike Logsdon, director of the Adventuresports program at GCC. Participants paddled in groups of five or six, and each raft had its own guide. Following the trip, the entire group gathered for a picnic supper on the river bank where Joyce Warner of Team Works led a discussion which related the adventure experience to the work place with references to mutual reliance, respective roles, and working toward common goals.

After a free day of relaxation, the group had its second adventure experience on the fourth day -- orienteering at New Germany State Park under the direction of Ed Hick, owner of Orienteering Unlimited, Somers, N.Y. Following instruction in map reading, the teams negotiated the orienteering course, finding the stations in the prescribed order. At the end of the activity, the facilitator again led a discussion about teamwork and related the experience to the work place.

Team building training programs are now available through the GCC Adventuresports Institute for businesses, corporations, government agencies, and schools. Interested persons may contact ASI at 387-3032.

Not Prosecuted

employed by the Garrett County Board of Education, and assigned to Dennett Road Elementary School, was charged with the offenses by the Garrett County Narcotics Task Force after an investigation revealed he had taken methylphenidate (Ritalin) and dexadrine from the school's locked medicine cabinet. A total of 419 pills, valued at $210, were taken from the cabinet over a several month period.

In other district court news, Ronald B. Stewart, 52, Oakland, was found not guilty, after he was charged with that offense by Jerry W. Gank Jr., also of Oakland. Gank claimed Stewart harassed him each time he passed the defendant's home on his ATV.

Gerald E. Friend, 22, Oakland, pleaded guilty to two counts of malicious destruction of property, and was sentenced to a total of 120 days in jail for the combined offenses. District court records indicate the defendant admitted to breaking off a one-inch thick steel bar from a door at the Garrett County Jail, and using it as a tool to dig through his jail cell wall.

Additionally, Friend was found not guilty of one count of disturbing the peace, and one count of resisting arrest. These charges had been filed by a sheriff's deputy after Friend broke the trim off a window on his cell door with his fist, and refused to leave the cell when ordered to. These incidents occurred in January, while Friend was incarcerated.

One count of battery, filed against Lester O. Bittinger, 55, Oakland, was placed on the stet docket, because restitution was made in full to the complainant. Court records indicate Bittinger paid $375 to Dennis Dumire, for damages to Dumire's teeth, after a Nov. 30, 1994, altercation at the Pawn Run Saloon, Deer Park.

During a sentence revision hearing for Todd A. Whitacre, 26, Kitzmiller, who was sentenced in April to 90 days in jail for assault and malicious destruction of property convictions, the judge reduced his sentence to "time served." The defendant must, however, complete 30 hours of community service. He had been arrested on Nov. 24, 1994, after an incident at the Long Branch Saloon, when he fired a compound bow at a truck parked near the establishment.

A sentence revision hearing for Terry A. Spiker, 34, Grantsville, was also revised to read "time served." He had been sentenced in February to 90 days in jail for DWI and CDS convictions, stemming from his Sept. 23, 1994 arrest by Maryland State Police.

A "time served" sentence revision decision was also handed to Heidi L. Scott, 32, Columbia, on her initial six-month jail term for a CDS possession conviction in February. She had been arrested on July 16, 1994, by state police, following a traffic stop on I-68.

Melissa Y. Palumbo, 22, Winterville Ohio, and Joseph P. Friend, 29, Steubenville, Ohio, were each convicted on one count of CDS possession, and handed 30-day jail terms. Each was ordered to serve 48 hours of that sentence, and pay $50 court costs. They were then placed on one year of unsupervised probation.

The pair was arrested on Feb. 13 by sheriff's deputies, after the vehicle they were traveling in was stopped for a traffic violation. When the vehicle was searched, the defendants were found to be in possession of marijuana and related drug paraphernalia.

DWI CASES

Several DWI (driving while intoxicated) and DUI (driving under the influence of alcohol and/or drugs) cases were heard in recent Garrett County District Court proceedings.

A bench warrant was issued for Belton Marguerite Kepple, 37, Md., on a failure to appear charge for his DWI hearing, and a new $1,000 cash bond was issued. His arrest for the offense was on Oct. 18, 1994, by sheriff's deputies.

Alfred Thomas Marucci II, 43, Md., was found not guilty of DWI. He had been arrested for the offense by sheriff's deputies on Nov. 28, 1993.

Wendy Eline Stewart, 31, Upper Marlboro, pleaded guilty to DWI. She was handed a 30-day suspended sentence, fined $350, and placed on one year of supervised probation. Her arrest by sheriff's deputies was on Jan. 1.

John Richard Leach, 19, Landham, had his DWI conviction amended to read DUI. He was sentenced to 30 days in jail (suspended), fined $150, and placed on one year of supervised probation. He was also ordered to complete 30 hours of community service, and a one-year alcohol restriction was placed on his driver's license. Leach was arrested for DWI on Dec. 17, 1994, by Garrett County Sheriff's deputies.

Jack Wellington Sowers, 37, N.C., pleaded not guilty, and was found not guilty of DWI. His arrest by sheriff's deputies was on Dec. 31, 1994.

Bernard Michael Wolford, 23, Md., was found guilty of DWI, and handed a 30-day suspended jail term. He was also fined $150, and placed on one year of supervised probation. His arrest by sheriff's deputies was on Sept. 24, 1994.

David Scott Gittere, 28, Md., pleaded guilty to one count of DWI. He was sentenced to 60 days in jail, with all of the sentence suspended except 48 hours, fined $550, and placed on one year of supervised probation. He was also ordered to complete a 26-week alcohol treatment program at the health department, and a one-year alcohol restriction was placed on his driver's license.

there to be activities in the Friendsville Park such as: cultural music, demonstrations, environmental awareness, community weaving, arts, displays and booths by health organizations and private businesses, and a vegetarian barbecue.

All park activities were to be free and open to the public. Only participation in the workshops was to have a fee required ($10 per 1½ hour workshop or an all inclusive ticket allowing unlimited workshop attendance). Fifty percent of any profit will be donated to a local charity with the balance being held in escrow toward the expenses of next year's festival. All organizers volunteer their time and energy, and in some cases personal money in the cause for peace.

Entertainers include classical chamber music, a Celtic harp, African drumming, a gospel choir and other diverse music from around the world. Workshops include themes on diet therapy for hyperactive chidren, conflict resolution, coping with cancer, massage therapy, herbal remedies, positive thinking, and a Dance of Universal Peace in which we join hands in multi-cultural celebration of the brotherhood of man.

Our initial flier was intended for out-of-county mailing distribution primarily to promote the workshop attendance. Promotional materials for local distribution were going to promote the free aspects of the event and the available workshops. Unfortunately, in our enthusiasm some mailers were distributed locally and we regret there were some errors and that people got the impression that the event required an admission fee to participate in the park festivities.

The festival is about peace, not about religion. The reasoning behind bringing religious leaders together with this focus is to foster a grass roots support for the importance of peace: peace that transcends cultural differences, and individual faith. Who better to speak on peace than individuals with a foundation in morality, and a commitment to the ideal of peace?

In an effort to include as many people concerned about peace as possible, we began to contact local churches and organizations asking for their participation and assistance.

At a Rotary meeting, Carol Calhoun asked a local pastor if he would like to participate in the Harmony Festival for Peace to speak on peace along with representatives of different religions. Only after the first flier was published did we become aware that he thought Carol meant different Christian religions. We are sorry that this verbal misunderstanding took place, and we immediately desisted from the flier distribution until his name could be removed.

We had also received tentative approval from the Friendsville Rotary Club in April, and the incoming district governor of Rotary International corresponded with us offering his enthusiastic support. Act with Integrity, Serve with Love, and Work for Peace is the new Rotary International Motto. He felt that this event fit perfectly into the Rotary ideals of world peace through experience and understanding.

Our inclusion of the Friendsville Rotary as supporter was done in good faith based on the initial feelings of support that were communicated to us. Upon final vote, the Friendsville Rotary Club declined to support the festival at this time. The Garrett County Arts Council was also prematurely added to the initial flier in the expectation that funding might be available to help financially support the free park activities such as musical entertainment and arts demonstrations. We regret these errors took place, and we are sorry if any organization or individual was connected with this event against their wishes, or before their official endorsement.

If all the necessary permits are complied with, there is no legal ground for the banning of this event and it is dangerous ground that is being tread when a request is made to ban the rights of peaceful assembly, or to restrict the rights of freedom of expression. We are removing the controversial Swami Bhaktipada (from the Hare Krishna community in Moundsville, W.Va.) from the program because of negative publicity and allegations associated with the Swami.

Our country is rapidly becoming a multi-cultural society, and the future will require us to communicate and work together with many different cultures. Let us educate ourselves, work for peace, and practice unconditional love.

The morality and values of our children is under assault by television violence and a declining respect for human life. Perhaps they need our reassurance and example that we can protect the environment, have an impact on our personal well being, and learn to live together in harmony.

This event is an opportunity to set a beautiful example for our community, our country, and the world. "We have nothing to fear but fear itself," and we must rest assured in the protective palm of our chosen faith. Intolerance and hate will continue if we do not attempt to struggle against the harmful effects of racism, stigma, and stereotypes. We must not judge people unfairly, and we must not allow people to judge others for us.

We do not wish to battle with anyone, and we do not wish to hold an event in public space that people feel is being imposed upon them. We are looking for a site.

Let us talk together and pray for peace. We can begin to respect moral devotional manifestations, or we can continue with the violence that threatens our planet. How wonderful it will be when we realize that the basic premise of all morally based faiths are teachings of not to kill, steal, lie, commit sexual sins, but rather to value life, to give, to tell the truth, to love God, and to strengthen the family,

We can rejoice in the opportunity to share our chosen path, and work hard for ideals like peace and health that can transcend our differences. Let's open the door on meaningful dialogue that can make a difference. We can join with our neighbors locally and globally in peaceful cooperation or we can continue on the path of condemnation, killing, and fear.

The choice is ours. Let's choose peace before it is too late.

Sincerely,
Harmony Festival

K-9 Teams Race Grim Reaper

by Craig Speicher

Search and rescue teams had just lifted the final survivor from the rubble of the Oklahoma City bombing.

Mere seconds later on the cosmic clock, another massive "search mission" was launched 1,000 miles away in Garrett County, Maryland, the world's only source of a remarkable mix of education, dedication, and inspiration. In many ways, the Maryland operation seemed to offer its own tacit reassurance to a nation still in shock.

Man trailing -- tracking lost people or dangerous criminals with police bloodhounds -- is ultimately a showdown with the Grim Reaper. If a K-9 hound mission fails, someone may die. And the only organization in the world that comprehensively trains police hound and handler as a team is the National Police Bloodhound Association (NPBA), which teaches here annually.

The NPBA school is rather modest in numbers, with 82 dogs and 112 handlers participating in 1995. However, there is nothing humble about its reputation. Revered for its academic authority and the broad, defiant diversity of western Maryland terrain, the school attracts participants across the Atlantic, the Pacific and North America. They come here seeking literally step by step instruction from the most elite police bloodhound handlers in America, who share their collective wisdom shaped from thousands of actual searches and pursuits.

Chris Read, a student, is from New Zealand -- roughly a hemisphere away. "I decided to learn with the experts," he says, explaining why he traveled so far at a cost of $2,000.

Underscoring that expertise, National Geographic recorded the five-day training event in 1994. PBS aired the resultant film the night before the 1995 training camp opened.

Bloodhound handling is a genuine science that begins, of course, with the breed's unrivaled sense of smell.

"They have not been able to invent a machine as sensitive (to odor)," said NPBA instructor and camp host Sgt. R.E. Brown, of the Allegany County Sheriff's Dept. in Maryland.

Even so, a hound can not track without human help.

"The dog and the handler must become a team. Each must understand the other," said Brown, who estimates he has conducted over 400 searches in 16 years of K-9 work.

A person leaves scent on anything they contact: barren ground, high grasses, brush, low hanging branches and so forth. This odor disperses into the air.

The lingering smell can become "contaminated" or weakened by other odors or the elements. To track, the bloodhound must scan broad areas for the scent, moving in the subject's general direction a piece at a time.

A persons seeking the source of a strange smell similarly wanders about, judging whether the odor becomes stronger or weaker. If he or she loses the scent completely, the person usually retreats to where the odor was last detected and moves in another direction.

However, when a bloodhound loses a scent, the dog has no such backtracking instinct. Left to itself, the animal will roam randomly, even searching for the odor far removed from the actual trail.

"One thing's for sure -- a bloodhound has no road sense about him at all," says. Sgt. Roger Stembridge, Jr., K-9 supervisor for the Macon, Georgia Police Dept.

Thus, when the hound ventures off the trail, its handler must lead the dog back. But how does the handler know when the dog has strayed?"

"Being able to 'read' the hound is 95 percent cent of the job," says K-9 Sgt. Richard Moffett, an NPBA instructor who serves with the Monroe County, New York, Sheriff's Dept.

When a bloodhound detects a subject's scent, the dog exhibits small characteristics in its behavior or "body language," such as the position of it's tail, how it holds its head, its traveling speed and so forth. Similarly, when the dog loses the odor, personality clues alert the handler, who must be very familiar with the dog to track successfully.

"Some hounds are easy to read, others are very hard," says Moffett. "The more training you do (with your dog), the better K-9 team you make. This is what teaches the handler how to read the dog -- (practicing) over and over and over."

Ultimately, "It takes a long time for the handler to learn that the dog is the boss. The dog is the one with the nose," says Brown. "After a number of years of training, you allow your dog to do his job."

Maybe the gravest problem in the K-9 bloodhound world, however, is not finding scents, but finding enough qualified handlers, for numerous reasons.

To start with, man trailing is a grueling task. A typical trail may cover 10-15 miles -- roughly the distance an average adult can travel without food and drink before circulatory shock begins setting in, making travel difficult.

Even with abundant food and water, many adults find 15 miles a formidable hiking distance unless they are physically conditioned. Covering 20 miles or more, as on an extra long search for an escaped convict carrying food, may well be impossible for an unconditioned person.

Adding difficulty to the distances, hounds often move more faster than handlers would like.

"These dogs are extremely strong," says Brown.

To keep the powerful animal from breaking away, some handlers wrap the leash around their gloved hand. Unable to quickly release the hound, a handler must constantly guard against tripping.

"The dog is strong enough to pull you along the ground," says Brown.

Ironically, as physically demanding as man trailing is, many handlers smoke. It's possibly their easiest way of combating the severe mental stress that makes a physically tough job even more draining.

Asked to identify the most unpleasant aspects of his vocation, Stembridge replies, "Getting up or trailing in all types of weather, the pressure put on you by your bosses, the pressure you put on yourself to make a FIND (speaker's emphasis). Finding someone, say, who has died (from exposure) or was the victim of violence, the frustration of seeing the guilty party you tried so hard to catch let go by the courts."

"It's not an easy game," Brown concedes. Thus, the NPBA consists of just a few good handlers.

NPBA spring training begins with teachers, students and dogs forming small teams, which fan out from their secluded Spartan camp in the woods 12 miles south of Grantsville. Handler and dog develop harmony across and around asphalt, swamps, brush, playgrounds, forests, ditches, fences, rocks and streams -- a microcosm of nearly any K-9 bloodhound test imaginable.

After a morning in the field, most trainees return to camp for lunch, where it is fairly evident who has suffered the most on the trial trails. Faces are somewhat vacant, jaws are slack, conversation is minimal. Clearly, most want nothing but food and rest. After eating, the groups head out for more field training.

Over the years that the NPBA has trained here, the teams' ubiquitous caravans of law enforcement vehicles have become a familiar sign of spring for local residents. Non-residents passing through occasionally stop to BEWARE OF THE BADGE - Don't worry about being bitten; just don't touch the dog. In the state of Georgia it is a felony to kill or injure a police tracking bloodhound bearing police identification, such as the one above. Such a dog may be worth as much as $20,000, according to NPBA instructor Sgt. R.E. Brown. Another instructor, R.V. Venable, said, "Hundreds of hours of training, expenses like the NPBA school, and expensive vet bills add considerably to the cost of maintaining a hound. The dog becomes more valuable as his 'finds' (successful searches) increase." All of the above is lost if the hound is hit by a vehicle or for some other reason becomes unable to be used as a working dog.

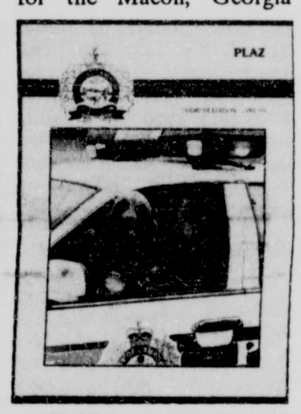
GONE TO THE DOGS - The 34th annual National Police Bloodhound Association School concluded its local session recently. The school, founded in 1962, has been held in Garrett County for the last several years and was the subject of a National Geographic magazine television special which aired on PBS last year. Pictured is NPBA instructor Sgt. Richard W. Moffett, Rochester, N.Y., who confided that bloodhound handlers sometimes begin to look like their dogs. (Photo by C. Speicher)



"PLAZ," a bloodhound used by the Camrose, Alberta, Canada, Police Service, may be the only police bloodhound anywhere to have his own trading card, pictured here. Plaz was among the participants in a recent training camp held in Garrett County.

A WAY OF LIFE may be an accurate description of police bloodhound handling. Several youngsters often accompany a parent to NPBA school. Pictured above at the school held in Garrett County are 6-year-old Brandon Kieffer, of Galena, Ill., and 11-week-old "Cruiser" from Kennebec County in Maine. Photos by C. Speicher.

ask, "What's going on?"

The most impressive "going on," however, is not readily apparent; for it lies within the altruistic spirit common to NPBA trainees.

Suzy and Tim Perry serve as "K-9 reserve deputies" for the Cherokee County Sheriff's Office, Georgia. Actually, both hold full-time civilian jobs, and the time they devote for K-9 functions is volunteered.

Stembridge says that "K-9 is extra with my department and I give it a lot of my off time."

Brian Mahany works with hounds part-time for the Kennebec County Sheriff's Department in Maine. Mahany sees bloodhounds as "One of the more rewarding aspects of law enforcement." A former assistant attorney general, he is the full-time director of enforcement for the Maine Bureau of Taxation. Asked if he minds being quoted in print, he replies:

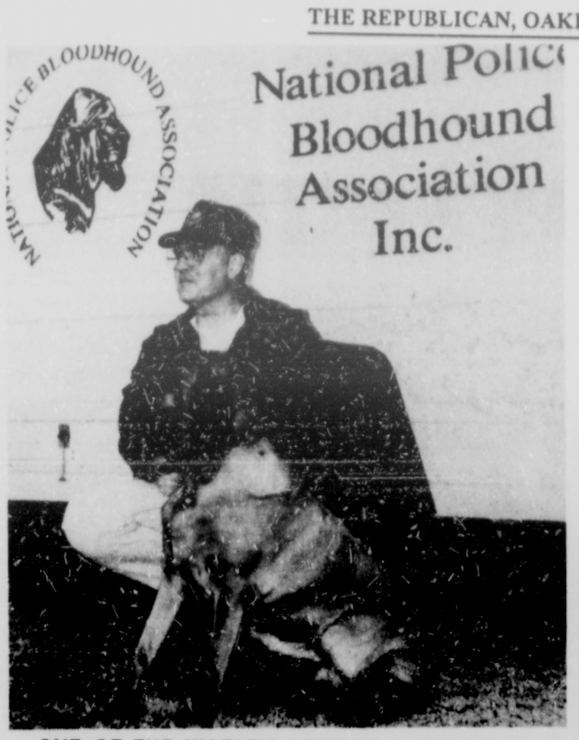
"I'm a probationary member (of NPBA), just starting with hounds. I don't want to take the glory. It takes a special type of person to be a bloodhound handler. These dogs require a tremendous amount of time and love and care. There are people (at training) who have already found lost kids, gone into the woods in all kinds of weather, found dangerous criminals. These people who do it day after day deserve most of the credit."

Kathy Albrecht, a police investigator for the University of California at Santa Cruz, says "This (NPBA training) trip cost me over $700. I had to save for a year to come." She adds, "There are only about 15 working bloodhounds in all of California."

The said reality is, the demand for qualified bloodhound handlers almost universally exceeds the supply. In man trailing, there are no riches to be made. Neither is there widespread public understanding of -- or appreciation for -- the tremendous personal sacrifices most handlers endure. Indeed, many people have trouble believing a dog can find a missing person faster than people can. All of which raises the question: Why would any sane person want such a formidable job with its awesome responsibilities and repercussions?

Perhaps these sane people aren't all that sane. Or, more likely, each of them knows that somewhere, some freezing night, a bloodhound and a handler will become a lost child's last chance.

copyright RCS 1995



ONE OF THE WORLD'S LEADING AUTHORITIES on bloodhound handling, Roger Titus, of the Hamburg, New, Jersey, Police Department, serves as training coordinator and top instructor for the NPBA school that meets annually in Garrett County. Titus has more than 1,000 searches to his credit and says a good bloodhound and handler team will have a success rate of "80 percent, if not higher."

Watson, the judge ruled that Hinebaugh had in fact received all the documents that he had requested when the original suit was settled. However, Watson plans to file a motion asking Thayer to reconsider his May 1 order.

Watson went on to state that the first suit, if reopened, will no longer be a request for documents, but rather will seek punitive damages from the county for allegedly withholding documents.

THRILLS AND SPILLS, coupled with plenty of speed, highlighted a mountain bike competition held on Marsh Mountain, McHenry, the weekend of May 13-14, as over 70 bikers from the Mid-Atlantic region competed in downhill, slalom, and cross-country racing. Gunner Shogren, son of Paul and Donna Shogren, Oakland, was the expert winner of the gruelling 27-mile cross-country event on Sunday. See story for complete results. Photos by Craig Phillips.

Marsh Mountain Classic Results Are Announced

The results of the Marsh Mountain Classic, a mountain biking competition held the weekend of May 13-14 at the Wisp Ski Area in McHenry, were announced this week by organizers.

Over 70 riders participated in the downhill competition on Saturday, and there was also a large field in Saturday's slalom race, and in the Mid Atlantic Championship Series cross-country race on Sunday.

The downhill included fast, dangerous runs down the slopes and trails of Marsh Mountain, while the slalom featured some spectacular crashes and finishes. There were no serious injuries reported.

A two-run combined time with a final eliminator run among the top eight finishers separated the experts from the rest of the field.

The cross-country race on Sunday was delayed about 25 minutes because of severe lightning, flash flood warnings, and a tornado watch. Members of the expert class rode three nine-mile laps, with each lap climbing the 600 vertical feet of Marsh Mountain up Wisp's Possum Trail.

Gunner Shogren, the local favorite and team rider for Diamond Back Racing, finished over five minutes ahead of the second place finisher, Greg Stone, in the cross country. Shogren commented that the first lap was fast and the course was in good shape, but by the third lap it was extremely muddy and hazardous.

Two riders crossed the finish line riding on their front or rear rims, while others "wiped out" on the final turn just 50 feet from the finish line.

Organizers noted their appreciation to the Wisp Resort, Recreation Industries, Rudy's at Wisp, Whitetail Bicycles, and the Northern Rescue Squad, which was on stand-by. The Department of Natural Resources provided transportation to the bikers for the downhill race. Coca Cola Bottling was also among the sponsors.

Complete results of the races are as follows:

Donations Still Being Sought To Have Mat Repaired

The Northern High School wrestling team and its coach, Scott Stough, is still soliciting donations to help defray the cost of having a wrestling mat repaired.

The mat, which is not covered by insurance, was damaged earlier this year when being transported during extreme weather conditions.

Stough said that persons willing to make contributions may send checks made out to Northern Wrestling to Northern High School, 86 Pride Parkway, Accident, MD 21520. Persons with questions about the effort may contact Stough at school (746-8668 or 895-5434) or at home (746-5080).

Soccer League Registration Deadline Noted

The Mountaintop Soccer Association will continue registration for the fall season through next Wednesday, May 31. Forms are available at Englander's Pharmacy in Oakland and at all libraries throughout the county. They must be postmarked by May 31.

"We have tried to inform parents and players about the deadline in every way possible," stated Carole Ann Lovett, MSA president. "It is our hope that everyone who wishes to play fall soccer will register in time."

HIGH SCHOOL BASEBALL, which concluded for 1995 in Garrett County this week with the Southern High Rams' loss to Hancock in the Region 1A finals, has been in the county for many years, as is proven by the above photo of the 1938 Oakland High School team. The Oakland team played its home games at the community ball park, which was located along the right side of Rt. 39 just across the Little Youghiogheny River bridge. The photo was taken by professional photographer Jim Bell, using the side of St. Matthew's Episcopal Church as a background. Pictured left to right, seated, are: Bill "Huck" Sharps, Jim Gower, Darrell DeWitt, Hal Schell, Harry Wolfe (manager), Bob Root, Claude Sweltzer, Harry Sanders, and Boots Wolfe. Standing, same order, are: Frank Kley, Emroy Adams, George "Teener" Stewart, "Chink" Sterling, Smokey Gilmore, "Duck" Paul, William Flaherty, Harrison "Bum" Stewart, and Coach Tom Baucum. A number of these players are still around today, though most are not playing much baseball. The photo is published courtesy of the Garrett County Historical Society and The Republican. Reservations are now being taken for the Historical Society's annual dinner, to be held June 22. See story elsewhere in this newspaper for details.

Four Teams Join Pen-Mar League; Season To Begin

Four new teams have joined the revitalized Pen-Mar Baseball League, as Keyser, Paw Paw, Romney, and Frostburg join Oakland, Cumberland, Hyndman, Morgantown, and Fairmont to increase the league to nine teams.

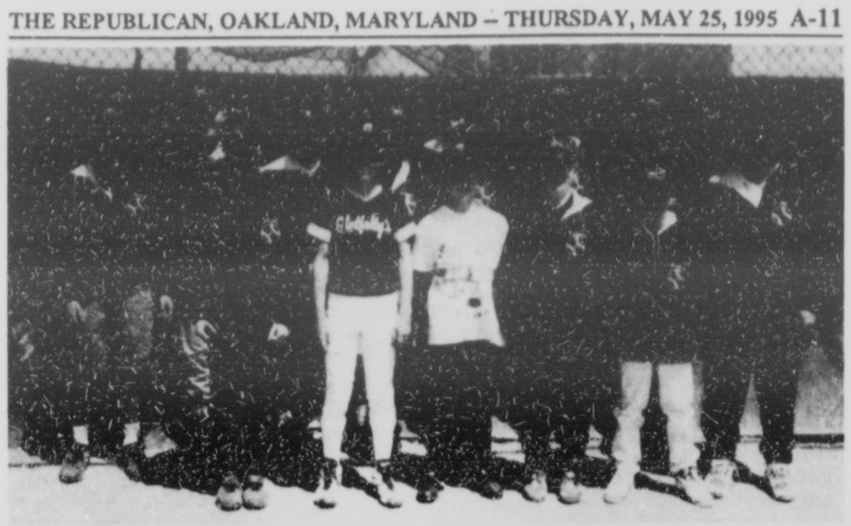
The league will begin a 24-game regular season on June 3, with single games being played on Saturdays and doubleheaders on Sundays. The top four teams in the regular season will advance to a post-season tournament.

The 1995 officers of the league are: John Culp, president; Harry Ritchie, vice president; Randy Cirillo, treasurer; Terry Helbig, secretary; and Joe Litten, yearbook chairman.

Managers of the teams and their telephone numbers are: Myrle Grose, Cumberland, 304-726-8469; Brian Deremer, Hyndman, 814-842-3484; Christian Smith, Oakland, 301-334-6271; Brent Hall, Fairmont, 304-366-8558; Steve Haught, Morgantown, 304-292-4875; Rob Shoemake, Frostburg, 301-689-8377; Bob Arnold, Paw Paw, 304-947-5031; Larry Hott, Romney, 304-822-4738; and Jeff Kuykendall, Keyser, 301-334-4954.

Players interested in participating in the league are urged to contact the manager of the team of their choice as soon as possible.

The next league meeting will be this evening at the Cumberland American Legion. The League officers are still hoping to add teams from Salisbury-/Meyersdale, Bedford, Petersburg, Moorefield, Westernport, Lonaconing, and another Cumberland team. Inquiries may be directed to Terry Helbig at 1-800-662-6573 or 301-334-4491.



OLL SEASON OPENED - The Oakland Little League officially opened its 1995 season on April 29 with a flag-raising ceremony at the Broadford Park fields, and the raising of the Maryland State Championship pennant won by the 1994 Oakland 11-12-year-old All-Star team. Senior Division manager Jeff Cooley served as master of ceremonies and Oakland Mayor Asa McCain threw out the first ball, which was received by Knights of Pythias catcher, Ashley Liller. The All-Star team pictured above was honored, and then presented Mayor McCain with a team picture and an autographed baseball. Coach Joey DiSimone met with the team on Thursday prior to opening day and distributed proclamations of achievement to each player from State Senator John Hafer. Team members above are, front row, from left: Justin Liller, Lance Tressler, Mike Shahan, Nathaniel Panther, and Justin DiSimone. In the back row, same order, are: Keith Parks, Toby Upton, Jordan Uphold, Christian Warfield, Todd Tasker, Josh Bosley, Jason Hinebaugh, and manager Junior Uphold. Not present for the photo were Derek Nelson and Coach DiSimone.

Grantsville Wins, Western Garrett Loses Openers

The 1995 Bi-State Pony League opened its season with games on Monday, as one Garrett County team coasted to a win and the other local team was soundly defeated.

Grantsville topped visiting Midland, 13-1, while host Keyser rolled over Western Garrett, 12-1.

Zach Rawe paced the Grantsville offense with a home run and a single, while Adam Bach doubled and singled. Derek Brown also recorded a pair of hits to help O'Brien and Bach to their four-hit win on the mound.

In the game at Keyser, Nathan Harr led the home team by throwing a five-inning one-hitter. The Western Garrett players assisted Harr by committing eight errors.

Aaron Dupont and Colin Rotruck each singled twice for Keyser.

The two Garrett County teams will play each other this Friday.

Northern Alumni Game Scheduled

The annual Northern High School alumni baseball game will be played on the school diamond on Saturday, June 3, beginning at 5 p.m. There will be free admission to the game and the concession stand will be open.

Northern alumni wishing to play in the game or desiring more information may contact Phil Carr, baseball coach, at 387-8478.

Sorry, Huskies!

In last week's issue of The Republican it was incorrectly reported that the Southern High School junior varsity baseball team had defeated the Northern jayvee team in a pair of doubleheaders the previous week.

In fact, the Rams topped the Northern jayvees in one doubleheader and then defeated the Beall junior varsity in the second twinbill, played Tuesday, May 16, in Oakland.

We apologize to the members of the Northern junior varsity team and all of their fans for this error.

Rams Win Regional Meet; NHS Girls Place Second

There will be a large contingent of Garrett County high school track and field athletes at this weekend's Maryland State 1A Championships at Western Maryland College, Westminster, as the Southern High School boys' and girls' team both captured first place in Friday's Region 1A Meet and the Northern High School girls' squad placed second. The Northern boys' team, which placed fourth, will also be represented at the state meet.

The top four finishers in each event at the regional level qualify for the state meet, with the fifth place finishers going as alternates.

Both Southern teams coasted to victory at Williamsport on Friday, with the boys' team recording a team score of 143 points to top Williamsport with 109.5 points, Beall with 98.5, Northern with 80, Hancock with 68, and Clear Spring with 57.

The Southern girls amassed 153 points, followed by Northern with 126, Clear Spring with 89, Mount Savage and Williamsport tied with 59 each, Beall with 35, and Hancock with six.

Adam Harvey and Nathan McBee were double winners for the Southern boys, as Harvey won the 300-meter hurdles with a time of 42.1 seconds and was on the winning 800 relay team. McBee won the 800-meter run in 2:03.6 and was also on the winning relay team.

Other first place finishers for the Rams were Jared Beckman in the high jump with a leap of six feet and Dave Stevens in the discus with a throw of 130'10".

Taking second places for the Southern boys were Adam Moomau in the 100 and 200 dashes, C.T. Granke in the triple jump, and Charlie Wesley in the 400 dash.

Leading the Northern boys was Andy Kahl, who won the long jump with a jump of 20'5¼" and the triple jump with a mark of 42'6". Dave Schofield placed second in the shot put.

Pacing the Southern girls, as they have all season long, were Miranda Marple, Andrea Devens, and Jenny Reams. Marple and Devens were quadruple winners, with Marple winning the 100 dash in 13.3 seconds, the long jump with a school record of 16'½", and as the anchor of the winning 400 and 800 relay teams. Devens won the 100 hurdles in 16.3 seconds, the 300 hurdles in 47.3, and was also on the same winning relay teams.

Reams was on those same relay teams and also placed first in the 200 dash (26.3) and second in the long jump.

The Southern 1,600 relay team also placed first, while Sylvia Paesani finished first in the high jump with a leap of 5'1" and was second in the 100 and 300 hurdles.

Capturing second places for the Rams were Jennifer Pariseau in the 400 dash, Erika Durst in the 200 dash, and Lauren Newcomb in the triple jump.

The Northern girls had no first places finishers, but set five school records and won a number of seconds and thirds. Kendra Duckworth finished second in the 800 and 1,600 runs with record-setting times of 2:36 and 5:40, respectively. Mitzi White placed third in the 3,200 run with a school record time of 12:43.1 and Amanda Galica set the school discus record with her second-place throw of 92'6".

Also setting a school record was the third-place 1,600 relay team of Michelle Geis, Rachel Leverenz, Chelsea Frickey, and Jill Speicher with a time of 55.7.

Rachel Leverenz placed second for the Huskies in the 100 dash. The Northern 400 and 800 relay teams also finished second.

HEADING FOR STATES - Garrett County will be well represented at this weekend's Maryland State 1A Track and Field Championship at Western Maryland College in Westminster, as all of the local student athletes pictured here have qualified to compete in the state meet. In order to participate in the state meet, one must finish among the top four at the regional championships, which were held Friday at Williamsport. The Southern High School girls' and boys' teams both won first place at regionals, while the Northern girls placed second and the Northern boys finished fourth (see story). Southern athletes who have qualified for the state meet are, pictured left to right above, seated: Mike Sweitzer, Jennifer Pariseau, Dave Jones, Andrea Devens, Miranda Marple, Erika Durst, Alison Rudy, Lindsey Garris, and C.T. Granke; kneeling: Christy Hoalcraft, Dan Sincell, Sylvia Paesani, Tonya Friend, Michelle Teter, Bryanne Miller, Jenny Reams, Lauren Newcomb, and Dave Stephens; and standing: Nathan McBee, Brian Carlson, Adam Moomau, Jared Beckman, Frank Kratofil, Dan Skipper, Paul Berkeridge, Adam Harvey, Todd Howard, and Charlie Wesley. Qualifying for Northern are, pictured below left to right, seated: Megan Sines, Stacy Dolan, Juli Savage, Chris Umbel, and Stefanie Dolan; kneeling: Chelsea Frickey, Kerri Sines, Michelle Geis, Jill Speicher, and Rachel Leverenz; third row: Stephannie Friend, April Enlow, Kendra Duckworth, Mitzi White, Amanda Galica, and Jennifer Morgan; and back row: Stephanie Kamp, Timmy Tusing, Lee Collins, Jason VanSickle, Dave Schofield, Steve Savage, Andy Kahl, Tommy Tusing, and Richard Bowser.

Area Speedway Review

Somerset County Speedway

Action was on the card at the Somerset County Speedway in Meyersdale on Sunday night as 68 cars competed for the checkered flag. Five Stock heats were run as well as two Pro Stock heats.

The first heat of the night went to Bob Davis from Berlin. Davis has been making his presence known in the first three starts of the season already taking two checkered flags. Other heat winners in the Stock division included Doug Shaffer, Bobby Smith, Steve Chipps, and Duane Horning. The first Pro Stock heat went to John Sayler of Meyersdale while the second was won by Lonnie McKenzie.

One of the tightest feature events this season was the "C" Main. Greg Cornell Sr. of Berlin took an early lead and was able to hold off "rookie" Joe Fullerton of Grantsville. This was Cornell's first career win and fans and pit crew swarmed the track to congratulate him. Cornell and Fullerton were followed by Doug Kimmel, Bill Nolf, Rick Brown and Dan Delancy.

Tom Humberson of Grantsville was able to pick up his second win in the Pro Stock division. J.R. Isner held the lead for 18 laps before turning over the last two laps to Humberson. They were followed by Joe Donaldson, Dave Grasser, Ed Kemp, Gene Moats, John Sayler, Lonnie McKenzie, Alvin Hosselrode, Mike Barndt and Dave Porter.

Jim Kemp of Confluence picked up his third checkered of the season when he drove to victory in the "B" Main. Kemp tried a different engine this week and wasn't sure what was going to happen on the track. Kemp was followed by Dwane Shultz, Kevin Bender, Dave Greer, Dale Wilt, Clair Duppstadt, Brad Reckner, Don Bittinger, John Tressler, Eric Stayrook, and Doug Barclay.

The lead changed several times in the "A" Main before finally going to Bobby Smith of Meyersdale. Smith picked up the trophy sponsored by Suder's Beverage in Meyersdale. He was followed by Roger Shaulis, Duane Horning, Brad Dickey, Brian Taylor, Greg Cornell, Jr., Steve Chipps, Bob Davis, Jon Deal, Don Shaffer, L.C. Powers, and Bob Singo.

Racing will continue at the speedway on Friday at 7:30 p.m.

Interstate 79 Speedway

For the second time this season, several days of hard rain forced Interstate 79 Speedway promoters, Steve Baker and Mark Richards to cancel the regular Friday night racing program.

Memorial Day weekend will be a big one at I-79 with racing in five divisions plus a Gold Rush for the kids on Friday evening. Gates open at 6 p.m. with racing at 8 p.m. The Frank Baker/Paul Richards Memorial will be held on Sunday evening. Late models will run 50 laps for $5000. Also on the racing program will be UMP modifieds, pure stocks, and 4 cylinder stocks.

For the first time ever, the West Virginia Small Car Extravaganza was held at Interstate 79 Speedway featuring Micro Sprints, Dwarf Cars, and Go Karts on Sunday, May 21. Taking the feature wins were Keith Barbara in the Micros, Terry Hall in the Dwarfs, Renee Dean in the Gas Karts, and Doug Davis in the Methanol Karts.

The second Small Car Extravaganza is being planned for Sunday, June 18. More details will be available in the near future.

Interstate 79 Speedway is located at Exit 125 just north of Clarksburg, W.Va. For more information, those interested may call the office at 304-592-3200 or on race day, call the track at 304-592-0916.

Elkins Motor Speedway

Chuck Harper won his third Bank One Late Model feature race Saturday night after jumping ahead of Duane Moreland on the first lap and maintaining a comfortable lead 25 times around the clay oval at Elkins Motor Speedway.

In the early running, Moreland kept pace with Harper while deterring Denny Chamberlain's and Paul Wilmoth, Jr.'s attempts to pass him. Then on lap nine, under the flagman's stand, Wilmoth rubbed the concrete barrier along the front straight, turned perpendicular to the track, and was broadsided hard by Robbie Scott whose lane had been abruptly taken away. When the green dropped once again, Harper shot ahead, leaving Moreland, Chamberlain, and a hard-charging Dave Groves to battle for second. Groves caught Chamberlain on lap 12, then Moreland on lap 14 and began to close the half straightaway gap between himself and Harper. With two laps to go, Groves caught Harper in lap traffic between turns three and four but a caution kept Groves from making any passing attempt. The race ended in this order: Harper, Groves, Chamberlain, Moreland and Kevin Marsh.

A smooth track, a pole position start, and seven cautions helped Scott Miles into victory lane for his third Semi-late feature victory of the season. Fourteen cars took the starting green but only seven remained when the checkered flag dropped. Steve Booth and Kevin Hamrick were two of the survivors who, until lap 18, raced bumper-to-bumper, Booth ahead of Hamrick in second. But as they approached the flagman's two-laps-to-go signal, Booth and Hamrick tangled going into turn four. This left the second place finish wide open for Chris Smith which he took ahead of Rick Strickler, Steve Wilmoth, and Booth.

Twenty cars put on an exciting show in the Coca-Cola U.M.P. Modified feature. Ron Parrish jumped ahead of Phil Jeffries on lap four and led Greg Tressler, Rusty Jones, and Steve Cook in a tight chain of speeding metal until the final lap when Tressler dropped out with engine trouble. Parrish held off Jones on the white flag lap for his first feature win of the season. Behind Jones was Cook, Cooper, and Roger Pitzer.

In the Pure Stock special, John Smith, Jr. took the checkered ahead of Denny Sandy who passed Dave Robinson on the last lap for the second spot.

Tommy Pennington led Hurley, Sr. and Bob Perrine across the finish line in the Four Cylinder Stock feature.

Rams Stopped Again In Playoffs By Panthers, 6-1

Despite losing 13 seniors from last year's 17-0 regular season team, the Southern High School Rams actually progressed one game farther this season toward their first state baseball championship. However, the same team that knocked them out of the Region 1A semi-finals last season stopped them this year in the 1A finals, as the Hancock Panthers defeated the host Rams on Monday, 6-1.

Southern, the area champion for the second consecutive year, was ranked number one in the region and earned a spot in the finals by edging visiting Westmar, the number four seed, 2-1, on Saturday. Hancock, seeded second, topped Mount Savage last Friday to reach the finals.

The 6-1 loss on Monday gave the Rams a record of 16-4 for the season.

Sophomore pitcher Joel Uphold pitched an outstanding game against Westmar in the semi-finals on Saturday, as he struck out 14 batters, gave up just two hits, and walked only one in upping his season mark to a perfect 9-0. The Wildcat batters were kept completely off balance by Uphold through the first six innings, as he was perfect against the first 16 batters with several of them going down with just three or four pitches. At one point he had eight strike-outs in a row.

The Rams struck first offensively when Jeremy Fitzwater stroked a solo home run in the second inning. They doubled their score in the third when Andy Woods singled, stole second, and came home on a single by Seth Tressler.

Uphold and the Ram defense held the visitors in check until the top of the seventh, until they were faced with runners at first and third with no outs. Aaron Wilt, who led off the inning with a walk, went to third on a single by Eric Johnson. James Guthrie then connected for a grounder that brought Wilt home, but resulted in a double play started and completed by Ram shortstop Joey DiSimone. Chris Snyder followed with a pop fly to left field to end the contest and preserve the win for the Rams.

A single by Westmar's Mike Miller in the sixth was the only other hit off Uphold.

Johnson, the losing pitcher, also threw well on the afternoon, as he allowed only five hits, walked one, and struck out five.

Jeremy Fitzwater, who started the season as the Rams' ace pitcher but missed the middle segment of the campaign because of a torn tendon in his elbow, got the nod from Coach Jim Bosley to start against Hancock on Monday. He had pitched only one inning over the previous six weeks, but still seemed to be the logical choice for Bosley who had hoped to utilize Uphold again on Tuesday in the state semi-final game at Frederick.

But Fitzwater soon developed a control problem, was tagged for one run in the second inning, and after walking two batters in a row, Bosley knew he had to pull him. Biz Tasker was called in from right field to the mound.

The Rams nearly answered with some points in the bottom of the second with two hits, but left two runners stranded.

Tasker held the Panthers in check until the top of the fifth when Eric True led off with a single, Chuck Connolly drew a walk, and a sacrifice bunt moved the runners to second and third. After a strike-out, Jeremy Swain then brought True and Connolly home with a single to give the visitors a 3-0 lead.

After stealing second base, Swain came home on a single by Tim Boyer.

After the Panthers added a single run in the top of the sixth, the Rams finally cracked the scoreboard with their only run of the day as Tasker drew a walk and went to second on a single by DiSimone. Both runners advanced on a fielder's choice by Jason Sweitzer and Tasker came home on another fielder's choice by Tressler.

Lou Ross, the only left-handed pitcher that the Rams faced the entire season, went the distance for the win, as he scattered five hits, struck out seven, and walked only one. Fitzwater and Tasker gave up a total of six hits.

DiSimone and Uphold each recorded a pair of hits for the Rams.

"Our hitting has not been very good lately," stated Coach Bosley, "and that coupled with facing a good lefty was too much for us to overcome."

Even with the loss, Bosley was pleased with his team's efforts. "We lost 13 seniors from last year's team and had only three starters back, yet we still won our conference (PVC) title, won the area championship for the second year in a row, and reached the playoffs. I think that says a lot for our program."

Bosley, his players, and most Ram fans are already looking forward to the 1996 season, as Fitzwater is the only starter who will be lost to graduation this spring.

Had the Rams won Monday's game, they would have advanced to the semi-finals of the state playoffs, the final game of which will be played this Saturday near Baltimore.

Parents Of Ram Football Players To Meet June 1

The parents of all prospective football players at Southern High School for the 1995 season are urged to attend a meeting in the school cafeteria next Thursday, June 1, at 7 p.m.

The new coaching staff will be introduced and there will be a question/answer session about the season and football program. Parents will also be given a tour of the athletic facilities at the school.

All parents unable to attend the meeting are urged to contact Coach Tom Woods at home or at school.

Gov.'s Youth Fishing Derby Set For June 3

Herrington Manor State Park, near Oakland, will host the Governor's Youth Fishing Derby on Saturday, June 3, from 8 a.m. until noon.

Age groups will include the following: up to 7 years; 8-11 years; and 12-16 years. Loaner poles, tackle and bait will be available on a first-come, first-served basis, and a state-level prize will be awarded by a random drawing. The largest catch of the day will be awarded a weekend stay for a family of six in a Herrington Manor State Park cabin. Admission is free, and no license is required. Free pizza and hotdogs will be provided.

This event is sponsored, in part, by the Governor's Drug and Alcohol Abuse Commission, in cooperation with Herrington Manor State Park and the Department of Natural Resources. For information, persons may call 334-9180. For information about this and other events, contact the Deep Creek Lake-Garrett County Promotion Council, 200 S. Third Street, Oakland, MD 21550; telephone 334-1948.

Trout Unlimited Plans Scholarship Fundraiser, Banquet

The Nemacolin Chapter of Trout Unlimited (TU) will host its 1995 banquet and fundraiser at Penn Alps Restaurant, near Grantsville, on Saturday, June 3, at 6:30 p.m

The speaker for the evening will be Chuck Brookley, TU life member, scientist and environmental activist.

Dinner selections will be from Penn Alps' buffet, which includes chicken, baked steak, mashed potatoes, and a salad bar. A donation of $15 per person, or $30 a couple is required for the dinner.

Proceeds from the banquet and raffle will benefit TU's Frostburg State University Environmental Scholarship Fund, and other chapter projects.

Checks should be made payable to Nemacolin Chapter of TU, and sent to P.O. Box 932, Cumberland, MD 21501. For more information, persons may call K.C. Keith, 777-2145, or 759-9082.

STATE CHAMPIONSHIP BANNER PRESENTED - Carl Booth, coach of the Southern High School boys' cross-country team, was presented the 1994 1A Maryland State Championship banner at the last meeting of the Garrett County Board of Education. It was the second consecutive state title won by Booth's team, which will return this fall completely intact, as there were no seniors on the 1994 squad. Pictured left to right are: Rodney Durst, president of the Board; Coach Booth; and Patrick Riley, Board member.

Sailing School Notes Schedule Of Instruction

The Deep Creek Sailing School, Inc., a non-profit, tax-deductible organization, announced this week that it has expanded its program of instruction to seven weeks for the summer of 1995.

While the instruction provided by the organization in past summers has always been for junior sailors, this year the first week, starting July 10, will be for adults sailors. The course will be for those learning to sail and those wanting to learn how to sail better or to race. There will be individualized instruction in Flying Scot sailing.

The remainder of the schedule, which will be for junior sailors, is as follows: weeks beginning July 17 and August 7, advanced sailing techniques and racing in Lasers and Scots; and weeks of July 24 and 31, August 14 and 21, beginning and intermediate sailing in Optimist Prams and Lasers.

The lessons are open to everyone and all instruction is based at the Deep Creek Yacht Club at Turkey Neck. Instruction is by U.S. Sailing Association certified teachers, with assistance by experienced volunteer sailors at the lake.

The junior sailing sessions have a limit of 12 children who will spend from 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m., Monday through Friday, learning knot-tying, rigging and unrigging sailboats, water safety, and capsize procedures. Most of the time is spent on the water sailing and racing. Tuition is $160 per session, which covers the cost of trophies and t-shirts.

Junior sailors are required to be good swimmers and must wear life jackets at all times on or near the water.

The adult week has a limit of 20 participants. Tuition is $100 per person and the hours will be the same as those of the junior program.

The school also offers private lessons in Flying Scot sailboats on weekdays. Interested families or individuals may contact the school at 387-4497 for more information.

Sailboat Racers To Hold Safety Seminar June 10

The Deep Creek Yacht Racing Association, Inc., in conjunction with the yacht clubs at Turkey Neck and Deerhaven, will hold an informational safety training seminar on Saturday, June 10, at the Turkey Neck Yacht Club, according to Race Safety Patrol Chairman Dwight Jeffrey.

The training session, which will get underway at 10 a.m., will especially target the Safety Patrol boat skippers and crews, many of whom are also active sailboat racers, who patrol the races and are prepared to assist sailors involved in capsizes, accidents, or illness.

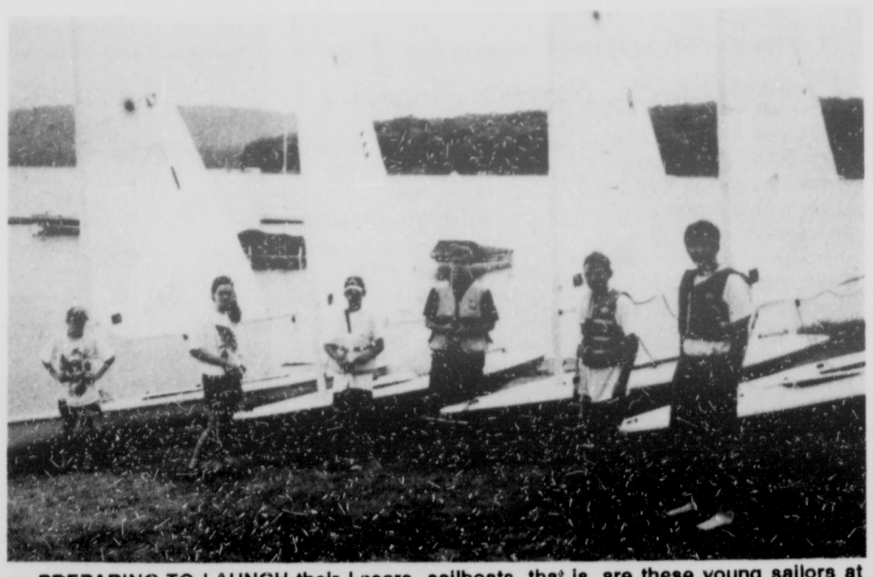
Dave Bardsley, of the American Red Cross, will lead off the session by explaining and stressing the dangers of hypothermia and the importance of accepting assistance quickly if floating in cold water.

Harry Carpenter, co-owner of Flying Scot, Inc., and builder of many of the boats that are raced at Deep Creek Lake, and Keith McMillan, an experienced sailor and racer, will discuss and demonstrate (weather permitting) the ways to approach a boat in distress to prevent a total swamping, how to right it, and then tow it to shore if necessary.

"The emphasis throughout, however, will be to take care of sailors first, and boats second," Jeffrey said.

Jeffrey added that this year, for the first time, race commanders may not start any race until a race safety patrol boat is on the scene. The patrol boats display a large blue "Patrol" flag and are connected to both yacht clubs and the race committee boat by radio.

For more information about the safety seminar, persons may contact Jeffrey at 387-9254.



PREPARING TO LAUNCH their Lasers, sailboats, that is, are these young sailors at Deep Creek Lake. These and other youngsters will have an opportunity to learn sailing or fine-tune their skills this summer when the Deep Creek Sailing School, a non-profit organization, conducts seven weeks of instruction. One of the weeks of instruction this year will be for adult sailors. See story for details.

Southern Girls' Softball Team Out Of Playoffs

The girls' softball team of Southern High School was eliminated from the Region 1A playoffs Friday by losing to host Catoctin, 5-3.

The result left the Rams, coached by Dave Bosley, with a 9-6 record overall and hopes of a better season next year, as only three seniors will be lost to graduation this spring.

The Rams nearly put the first points on the board in the top of the first, as Tina Reese led off with a double and Erin Shaffer walked. But the next two batters were struck out and a pop fly to left ended the inning.

Catoctin took a 2-0 lead in the bottom of the inning when Bollinger and Krietz singled, and, after a ground out, Lawyer reached on an error to load the bases. Welty then singled home the first run and Flabbi, the winning pitcher, reached on an error that sent home the second run.

The Rams came back for a run in the top of the second when Wendy Craver smacked a home run down the right field line.

But the home team answered with two runs in the bottom of that frame, as Warner reached on a throwing error and later scored on a single by Krietz. After stealing second and moving to third on a sacrifice bunt, Krietz came home on a passed ball.

Southern cut the lead to 4-3 with a pair of runs in the fourth, as Craver walked, took second on a sacrifice by Nicole Bosley, and scored on a two-out single by Jenny Panther. Reese and Shaffer both singled to load the bases and Alisa Rugg was walked to force home the second run. The inning ended with a bases-loaded strike-out.

The Rams had another opportunity to take the lead in the fifth when they loaded the bases again, but came away with no more runs as a ground-out by Reese ended the threat.

Catoctin added an insurance run in the bottom of the fifth when Krietz doubled and later scored on a sacrifice fly by Lawyer.

Rugg took the loss on the mound for the Rams, as she yielded seven hits and one walk, and struck out two. Flabbi gave up eight hits, walked six, and struck out six.

"We committed four errors, but played very well defensively after the first two innings," Bosley said.

Not only will the Ram varsity be losing only three seniors to graduation, but should receive considerable reinforcement from this season's junior varsity team, which finished with a 9-1 mark, losing only to the Hyndman varsity.

Breast, Cervical Cancer Awareness Workshop Slated

A breast and cervical cancer awareness workshop will be conducted Wednesday, May 31, at 1 p.m. at the Kingwood Baptist Church. Sponsored by the Preston County Extension Homemakers and the Preston County Extension Office, the workshops will be conducted by the Cancer Education Unit of the Randolph County Health Department.

The program will be led by Donna Riffle, who will present methods of self-examination, what to look for, and breast and cervical cancer information.

"This program is also open to the male population," said Patricia S. Pinnell, home extension agent for the Preston County office. "Research has found that in addition to women, men are also likely to have breast cancer."

The public is encouraged to attend the workshop at the church, located at 201 Jackson Street, Kingwood. For more information, persons may call the extension office at 329-1391.

Sam and Norma Bowman of McHenry are the maternal grandparents and Dayton and Dorothy Alexander of Aurora are the paternal grandparents. Mrs. Grace Martin of Oakland is a paternal great-grandmother.

CEMETERY MEETING

The annual meeting of the Aurora Cemetery Association, Inc., is to be held Sunday, May 28, at the St. Paul's Lutheran Parish Hall at 2 p.m. All interested in the upkeep and operation of the cemetery are invited to be present.

50TH ANNIVERSARY

On Sunday, May 21, the members and families of the Horse Shoe Run Farm Women's Circle, including former member Wilma Rembold, met at the Aurora U.M. Memorial Building for a dinner in celebration of their 50 years as an organization.

The club was formed March 14, 1945, with Sarah Henline serving as the first president. The first quilt made that year sold for $12, a baby quilt for $3. In 1949, the club raised the cost of quilting to two cents per yard. Nineteen members chartered the club and two of the original members, Grace Roth and Grace Bachtel, were honored with plaques presented in appreciation of their years of faithful service.

In addition to the recognition, there were memory booklets, charts with lists of former members, and a shared covered dish dinner. Forty-seven members and their families attended. A copy of "How's That Again?", a book donated by Betty White of Terra Alta, was won by Charles Cassidy as a door prize.

FORMAN STONE HOUSE TO OPEN

The old Lloyd Lantz home on the Fred and Dortha Forman farm at Amboy will open May 30 with tours by chance or by appointment. This little stone house has been restored by the Formans to as near original form as possible. It was built in the late 1700's and occupied by Mr. Lantz.

The public is welcome to view the home this summer and donations will be accepted.

UNION AMBULANCE OPEN HOUSE

Several hundred residents and outside guests attended the Sunday, May 21, open house held at the Union Ambulance Service Squad Hall in Aurora. Senators David Miller and Sarah Minear were present as well as Delegate David 'O.B." Collins. Guests included representatives from Garrett County Memorial Hospital and from both Southern (Garrett County) and other Preston County ambulance squads, as well as from Tucker County.

There were door prizes, demonstrations, informative literature, cake walks, a cake auction, Shriner

LIBRARY NEWS

A summer reading program is planned at the Terra Alta Public Library for students in grades three through nine. All participants are asked to register at the library, and a library card, in good standing, is required. Any and all fines must be paid prior to beginning the reading program.

A large selection of new books will be available at the library, and reserved exclusively for members of the reading program. All books read in the program must come from the library.

Registration will be taken through June 16, and the program will run from June 13 through July 21. An awards presentation is planned for Aug. 3, at 1 p.m., and readers will earn their rewards by reading and reporting on 20 books. An extra prize will be awarded to the student who reads and reports on the most books. Certificates of achievement will be given to each participant.

Library hours are Tuesday through Friday, from 8:30 a.m. until 5:30 p.m.

UNION AMBULANCE HOSTS OPEN HOUSE - A Sunday afternoon rain didn't dampen the spirits of members of Union Ambulance Service as they officially opened their new squad hall, located along Rt. 50 in Aurora, with a ribbon-cutting ceremony. Nearly all of the squad's 58 members lined up in front of the hall's three large garage door openings to cut the ribbon. In the top left photo, a portion of that group, pictured from left to right, included Shirley Helmick, Rose Ina Harsh, Neva Frantz, Robin Feather, Sandy Burdock, Jeff Burdock, Delores Stemple, and David Stemple. Squad President Cindy Harsh, and chairman of the open house, Ellen Harsh, offered opening remarks, and welcomed the large crowd of well-wishers, including Senators David E. Miller and Sarah Minear, and Delegate David "O.B." Collins, who were treated to demonstrations, giveaways, cake walks, refreshments, blood pressure readings, visits by clowns, HealthNet helicopter, and a balloon launch. Governor Gaston Caperton was unable to attend the day's celebration, but sent his congratulations to the squad via an official letter. Senator Miller spent the afternoon hearing citizens' concerns, and discussing his position on the EMS committee in the state legislature. Above left, Miller, left, talks with Aurora area resident Willard Feather. Below left, open house visitors and members of Union Ambulance Service milled about in the squad hall. Below right, a team of volunteers demonstrate the use of Medical Anti-Shock Trousers (MAST) on a "victim." During the afternoon, it was announced that Seneca Sand had donated $100 to be used toward the purchase of a baby CPR mannequin.

Memorial Day Open Houses Slated For TA

In observance of Memorial Day, several Terra Alta churches will host open houses from 1 to 5 p.m. on Sunday, May 28.

Guides at each church will be available throughout the afternoon to conduct tours and offer brief histories of their churches.

According to a church spokesperson, this event "is an effort of church leaders to further the cause of ecumenical understanding."

Participating churches include American Baptist Church, Evergreen Baptist Church, First Presbyterian Church, First United Methodist Church, Hillcrest Chapel, St. Edward's Catholic Church, Trinity United Methodist Church, and Whitedale Church of the Brethren.

Bike-A-Thon, Rodeo Slated In Petersburg

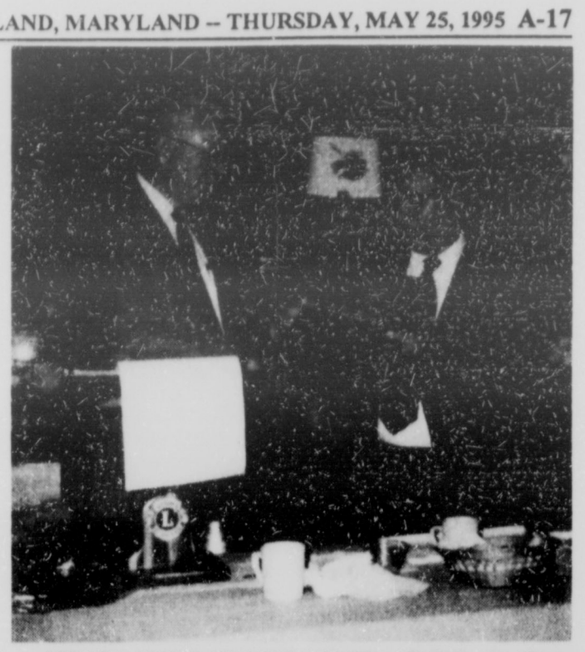
A Bike-A-Thon to benefit St. Jude Children's Research Hospital and a bike rodeo will be held Saturday, June 10, in Petersburg.

The rodeo will be from 9 a.m. to noon in the Petersburg city parking lot for children ages 5-12. It is limited to the first 50 children who register. The rodeo will include a bike inspection station and various skills learning stations, plus a hazard quiz station and refreshment station. It is being sponsored by the Grant County Family Issues Task Force and Grant Memorial Hospital.

The Bike-A-Thon will be held at the same time along old Rt. 42. Pledge sheets are available at the Moomau Library, Grant County Health Department, and Grant Memorial Hospital.

Those youth turning in at least $75 in pledges will receive a sports bag, t-shirt, and certificate. Those earning $35 to $74 in pledges will receive a shirt and certificate and all participants will receive an All-Sport Drink squeeze bottle.

Persons may contact Delores Ait at 257-4015 for more information.



MELVIN JONES FELLOW NAMED - Eugene W. Moreland, a member of the Mt. Storm Lions Club, was recently named a Melvin Jones Fellow for service to his community, and around the world. Named for the founder of Lions Clubs International, Melvin Jones, the feliowship is the foundation's highest honor. Moreland has served his club as president, first vice president, and third vice president. He has had a perfect attendance record for five years, and during 1993-94, he received a 100 percent president's pin. Above, Moreland, right, accepts a plaque and lapel pin from Past District 29-I Governor Richard Walden.

ART SHOW AND PROGRAM

On Friday afternoon and evening, May 19, the art show, dinosaur review and choral program, postponed because of the torrential rain on the previous day, was held at the Aurora United Methodist Memorial Building.

Art teacher Valerie Carlson and music instructor Kent Pomeroy were responsible for coordinating the program.

Art forms included drawing, painting, papier-mache, poetry, and others. The coral reef, the United States map, the rain forest, and the sea creatures were all accentuates of units of learning. Portraits, still-life, fantasy art, were other expressions of talent. The dinosaur review and its accompanying masks were also a portion of unit of study.

DOUGLAS-SMITH NUPTIALS

Lisa Douglas, daughter of Keith and Delores Douglas of Aurora, was wed to David Smith on Saturday, May 13, in Avon Lake, Ohio. David is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Yost Smith. The wedding took place in the First United Church of Christ. The couple left for a scuba-diving honeymoon in Cozumel, Mexico, following the reception.

Also attending from Aurora were: Bill and Sandra Hauser, Wade, Joe, Beth, and Chad Bishop, Frank and Wilda Blambie, George and Jean Drainer, and the bride's parents.

BECOMES R.N.

Cynthia Parks of Eglon became a registered nurse at Davis and Elkins College in Elkins. Pinning ceremonies were on Saturday, May 13, with graduation being on May 14. Cynthia is the daughter of James and Cheryl Parks, Eglon. There were approximately 40 graduates in the class and Miss Parks' parents and others attended the ceremonies.

FIRST-YEAR CAMPERS

Those first-year campers from the Aurora Pioneer 4-H Club who attended the May 12-13 camp at the Preston County 4-H Camp were Lauren Roth, Nicole Britner, and Jenna Partridge. Serving as counselors were Kim Fike, Missy Callahan, and Courtney Fint.

PULPIT EXCHANGE

West Marva District Church of the Brethren sponsors a pulpit exchange on the third Sunday in May. Pastor Dan Hammel of Maple Spring was guest minister at the Laurel Glen Church at Cranesville. Filling the pulpit at Maple Spring Church was Larry Poling of the Mt. Zion Church of the Brethren near Belington. He was accompanied here by his wife, Janet, his son, Ben, and daughter, Jessica.

Confirmation will be at St. John's Lutheran Church, Missouri Synod, this Sunday, May 28, during the worship service with communion at 9 a.m., followed by the Sunday school session at 10 a.m. A covered dish dinner will be served at noon. All members, relatives, friends, and visitors are invited. The pastor is Rev. Ernest Lindner.

Accident's Community Memorial Day ceremonies will be held on Monday, May 29, beginning with a parade at 9:20 a.m. Ceremonies at the Accident Town Park East are scheduled to begin at 9:30 a.m. with Rev. Roland Nairn as the speaker. The public and all veterans are urged to attend. The Northern High School Band will play. After the ceremonies (approximately 10:15 a.m.), a service tree will be planted at the park in memory of all those who died during World War II in the military service.

The Accident Head Start graduation will be held Monday, May 29, at 4 p.m. at the town park.

The Girl Scouts met on Thursday evening at the Accident fire hall with the leader, Mrs. Randy Smith. The next meeting will be Thursday, June 1, at the fire hall. Papers will be due at that meeting for the overnight camping trip to Camp Hickory. Plans will be made for the "end of the year" party to be held Thursday, June 15.

Orders of hoagies to benefit Grace United Methodist Church, near Markleysburg, Pa., are being accepted all week by contacting Mrs. Ben (Emily) Williams at 746-6423. Hoagies are made on large homemade Italian hoagie buns and Mrs. Williams will deliver hoagies to homes in the Cove area on Saturday, June 3. Mr. and Mrs. Williams helped at a refreshment stand on Saturday at Addison, Pa., for the National Pike Festival, where hoagies were among the items sold. They attended the lawn worship service on Sunday at Addison that was a joint service for the Addison United Methodist Charge and the Lutheran Church at Addison. The Williams family attended the band and chorus concert at Northern Middle School on Wednesday evening, where Katie Williams plays the saxophone. The birthday anniversary of a son, Joey, of Washington, D.C., was Friday, May 19, and the birthday anniversary of Mrs. William's sister, Mrs. Rick Snyder, Friendsville, was Monday, May 22. Ben Williams Jr. accompanied his classmates from the fourth grade at Accident Elementary School to Deep Creek Lake State Park on Wednesday for a picnic. Mr. and Mrs. Williams, Katie and Ben, were at the Elementary School on Monday evening for the supper, P.T.A. meeting, and the excellence fair.

FoodSHARE registration for June will be in the Zion Lutheran Church basement, Accident, on Thursday, June 8, from 4-5 p.m. The price has gone up to $14 plus two hours of community service. For more information, contact Mrs. Alice Long at 746-8924.

The Ladies Aid Society of St. John's Lutheran Church, Missouri Synod, met on Thursday with hostesses being Mrs. Randall Harman and Mrs. Harvey Harman. Your Health by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Q. When I get up in the morning, my feet are now swollen. As the day progresses, my feet become more and more swollen. At night, I can almost push my finger a half inch into my feet. This worries me, even though my doctor tells me I have no reason to be alarmed

A. "Pitting edema," or swelling of the legs and feet, can be caused by a variety of conditions. Some are simple, others are more complicated.

Each case should be carefully and individually studied to determine the exact cause. Marked obesity and varicose veins — especially in people who stand on their feet all day — can produce such swelling.

Women in their premenstrual phase sometimes develop temporary accumulation and retention of fluid in their body tissues. These conditions are relatively easy to control. There are more complicated reasons for persistent swelling of the legs and feet. I do not mean to frighten you by telling you and my readers that chronic heart disease, kidney disease, some lung conditions, and severe liver disorders may also cause swelling.

I mention this only so that you will recognize the need for a thorough medical examination in order to pinpoint the exact cause of the swelling. It is very likely that your problem is not a serious one. Nevertheless, you would be doing yourself a great injustice if you do not seek a complete and thorough physical examination.

Q. I have a china jug that is printed in green. On one side are the words "Meredith's Diamond Club Pure Rye Whiskey, Expressly for Medicinal Use." The bottom of the jug is marked KTK. Was it really medicine? It appears to have been bar rye. Am I right?

A. Knowles, Taylor and Knowles Co. of East Liverpool, Ohio, made porcelain whiskey jugs for distillers from 1891 to 1929. The jugs were decorated with transfer designs that were usually black, but some were made in red, brown or blue.

The whiskey was made for sale to saloons or to some customers who needed a recreational drink. The "medicinal purposes" label was used because the laws required no license to sell medicine but they did require a license for liquor sales.

Also, it was believed that alcohol was good as a preventive drink, and as a cure for cholera, kidney diseases and a run-down system.

Your jug is worth about $100.

Q. Several years ago, we bought a dining room suite that had originally been bought at Gump's in San Francisco. Do you have any information on it?

A. Your set was made by Tapp Inc., between 1947 and 1950. The sideboard is made of teak on the top, fronts and sides. The table and chairs are made of bleached mahogany.

Gump's head designer, Eleanor Forbes, and Robert Dore of Tapp designed the pieces.

The Tapp factory is no longer in business.

Q. What is a Hoosier cabinet? I have a kitchen cupboard that has all sorts of spaces for flour and pots and pans and an enameled counter. A friend insists it is a Hoosier cabinet.

A. Hoosier cabinets are freestanding kitchen cabinets with many drawers and special sections for flour, tea, other foodstuffs and kitchen utensils.

The original Hoosier cabinet was made in the late 1800s. The name was a trademark of the Hoosier Co. The cabinet was soon copied and people began calling all the other versions Hoosiers.

The cabinets usually had a built-in flour bin with a sifter, sugar dispenser, a bread drawer, cutting board and hinged or roll-down doors. The counter was made of golden oak or white enamel. The cabinets were usually natural or painted oak.

Cabinets in good original or refinished condition sell from $400 to $1,000.

THROW 'EM OUT: Check your medicine chest and start disposing of medications that could be too old to be effective, and could also be too old to be safe. Seniors tend to hold onto these products, believing it's wasteful to throw them out. Forget about being thrifty. Instead, concentrate on being smart and safe.

Home Tips

RECYCLED PLANT TRAY — I'm always trying to recycle or reuse as much as possible, so a lot of times I can come up with quick ideas.

When I get the plastic containers for salad or food from fast-food restaurants, instead of throwing them away I save them. I cut them and use as plant trays to keep excess water from leaking onto the floor. Jenna B., Toledo, Ohio

A REMINDER — I used to start wondering if I left the iron on about five miles into my commute in the morning. I would have to pull over and call home for someone to check before leaving, causing me to be late for work!

Finally I solved this problem by placing an ugly fluorescent green pony-tail holder on the plug end of the iron. I have to take it off in order to use the iron, so I place it on my wrist. When I'm finished ironing, I replace the pony-tail holder on the plug.

Now I can be sure the iron is unplugged by checking my wrist instead of having that nagging feeling. I haven't left the iron on since I started this! Nellie V., Medford, Ore.

SOAPY SPONGE — What to do with leftover soap: Cut a slit in a sponge and put remnant slivers in it. Use the foaming sponge in the bath.

WRAP IT UP — When wrapping parcels for mailing, use self-adhesive shelving paper. The results will amaze you. You will end up with a very strong, water-resistant, tear-proof and attractive package. No strings or cords are necessary for tying either.

One suggestion, though: If you use a shipping label, it is a good idea to tape it on the package as some of the labels do not adhere to the slick finish. Jan D., Rosenberg, Texas

Health & Nutrition

SMOKING AND HEALING: A few weeks ago, I did a column on how smokers heal more slowly from broken bones and other trauma than non smokers.

Now, there's more evidence that nicotine taken in through inhaled smoke also delays healing after surgery. This supports decisions by surgeons not to perform anything but an emergency procedure on anyone who has smoked within the six weeks prior to surgery. And that includes cosmetic surgery as well as therapeutic.

A recent research program at Baylor University in Houston, Texas, used nicotine patches on people undergoing hand surgery to study how nicotine from inhaled smoke affects nerves and constricts blood vessels leading to the surgical incision.

"Each time nicotine entered the nervous system, blood flow was restricted at the site of the surgery," said Dr. David Netscher, an associate professor of plastic surgery at Baylor. "The decrease in the amount of blood flow to the incision area was significant," he added.

Insufficient blood flow can cause the skin to slough (a term used for improper healing and, eventually, death of the tissue). A skin graft may be necessary to deal with the condition. Sometimes the whole surgical procedure will have to be redone.

P.S. For those who accuse me of being part of a conspiracy against the tobacco industry which, your letters claim, is "one of America's most successful businesses..." I will admit only to being part of a growing number of health writers who feel it's our responsibility to get the truth out about smoking and let our readers make their own decisions.

END NOTE: Researchers in physical medicine at Texas Southwestern Medical Center at Dallas, are warning women who wear thin bra straps that they can suffer serious nerve damage. The binding from the straps causes downward pressure on the clavical nerve, located at the shoulder, which can lead to headaches and neck aches. Over time, it can cause pain radiating down the arm to the hands. This effect would also be caused by swimsuits with thin straps.

To avoid problems, find good support bras with wide straps to distribute the weight more evenly.

That These Dead Shall Not Have Died in Vain. .

MEMORIAL DAY
REMEMBRANCE

Memorial Day is a time for honoring those brave men and women who died for their country, that we might continue to live in peace and freedom. How best can we honor them? Certainly, it is important to hold ceremonies, to place flowers on the graves of those near and dear to us. These are public displays of private grief.

There is another way that we can honor these great men and women, however, that is in upholding the principles that they gave "the last full measure" to defend. Study the Constitution – here we find the principles upon which this nation was founded. Then make every effort to live by these principles.

This Memorial Day pay tribute to the brave men and women who have died for America and continue through the year to honor them by upholding those values that they died to protect.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

MISSING LIFE'S BEST-OF-ALL
May 28, 1995

Background Scripture:
I Corinthians 13
Devotional Reading:
John 15:9-17

Few New Testament chapters are more revered and remembered than I Corinthians 13.

And few biblical passages are more secretly disbelieved or ignored!

What do I mean by that? I mean that, despite what we say about love, we do not often act as if we believe Paul when he says, "If I speak in the tongues of men and of angels, but have not love, I am a noisy gong or clanging cymbal" (13:1). Without the gift of love, says Paul, none of the other gifts really count. Love is "the greatest of these" (13:3), but often we do not act that way.

Unfortunately it is very seldom that I see the gift of love in a person recognized and honored in the church. Ministers are generally not chosen because the gift of love is evident in them. Their perceived giftedness is more likely to do with their sermonic gifts of eloquence or entertainment, administrative skills or ecclesiastical connectedness. But rarely, if ever, are they selected for their love.

MOST CONSEQUENTIAL

This also applies to lay people in the churches. I have seen many lay people recognized for their gifts—financial, leadership, or prominence—but seldom for their love. Even granting that I may be overstating the case a bit, who would want to contend that love is regarded as the greatest gift in the church?

So, if there is anything at all in what I have been saying, why is this so? Maybe one reason is that human beings tend to overvalue the things they can see or touch. A spellbinding sermon is very visible and audible. A benevolent lay person's financial gift is also very tangible and produces tangible results. But love rarely shows up under a microscope, on a radar screen, or on a profit-and-loss statement. Often it is intangible, but we must not therefore conclude that it is inconsequential. Actually, as Paul tells us, it is the most consequential force in the world: "Love never ends."

I first preached on I Cor. 13 some 40 years ago. With my mind I believed Paul when he said "the greatest of these is love." Today, however, I know with my heart that Paul was right. Love is the greatest gift of all and without it all other gifts pale—in our lives, in our churches and in the world.

BEING AND DOING

Looking back today, I don't think I really knew then what love is. I thought that love was synonymous with feeling loving. But notice that nowhere in I Cor. 13 does Paul talk about love as a feeling. He talks about being and doing. Love is not jealous, boastful, irritable, resentful, arrogant or rude. It does not insist on its own way nor rejoice at wrong. There have been times when I have tried to have one or more of the above and love. But it doesn't work. Love is patient and kind. It rejoices in the right, bears all things, believes all things, endures all things. And it never ends.

It does not end because we do not feel loving nor because the object of our love is no longer meeting our conditions. True love—the love that Christ demonstrated for us in his life and in his death and to which he calls us—outlasts everything else.

If we really believe that, then our churches will become fellowships of self-giving rather than circles of self-congratulation, of forgiveness and reconciliation rather than of judgment and separation. Otherwise, we will be missing out on God's greatest of all gifts.

These firms invite YOU to a House of Worship each week.

Northern Students Taking "Driver's Ed" For The Information Superhighway

by Tom Bulka

Yesterday, students at Northern High School took a field trip to the Louvre Art Museum in France, the Smithsonian Air and Space Museum in Washington, D.C., and the Natural History Museum of Los Angeles. They viewed the newly discovered Paleolithic Cave Paintings at Vallon, France, learned how DNA fingerprinting technology is being used to study ancient peoples and artifacts and then traveled to Sweden to visit the Mammoth exhibit at the Swedish Museum of Natural History. Students were visiting the White House when the bell rang and they had to go to their next class period.

The wonders of the Internet have come to Northern High School. Tom Bulka, full-time computer science teacher and advisor to the Northern High School Telecommunications Club, has been instructing students in the use of the Internet and training the student sysops (systems operators) who will be maintaining the system.

At the click of a button, students have the ability to visit far away lands, talk to students anywhere in the world, view weather satellite pictures taken just minutes ago, browse the contents of the Library of Congress, download a copy of the Constitution of the United States or ask a scientist a question about a research project they are currently working on. The educational opportunities of the Internet are limited only by the imagination.

Students in the Computer Applications II and Computer Programming II classes are learning the historical aspects of the net, proper "netiquette" or manners on the information superhighway, and how to use the various "tools" to take advantage of the enormous amount of resources available.

Students have been provided with access for learning the "ins" and "outs" of sending and receiving e-mail and how to use such Internet utilities as telnet, gopher, ftp, archie, veronica, lynx, and netscape. Students are also learning to create their own Web pages using a scripting language called HTML (hypertext markup language). The school has created its own "home page" which can be viewed at the following web address: http://husky.northern-hs.ga.kl2.md.us.

As part of a National Science Foundation grant, Northern High is now part of the Internet, sometimes referred to as the "information superhighway." While students have been using the Internet for the past two years, they have been restricted to a single, text-based account at Frostburg State University. Now Northern is a "hub" on the Internet allowing students to use all of the newer computers in the lab to fully access the resources available on the "web." Students are able to use graphical "web browsers," software programs which allow the use of a mouse to select "links" which show graphics, video, sound or which move the user to another place in "cyberspace." Using Netscape, a graphical web browser free to all educational institutions, students are able to access information in a very short period of time without the need to know the commands or the addresses to get there.

The Internet connection, along with a router, server, software and training, is being provided free of charge as part of Northern High's participation in the Maryland Virtual High Schools (MVHS) project. MVHS is designed to promote the use of computational science (use of computers and supercomputers to solve complex problems) in the high school curriculum, encourage educational collaboration amongst schools in the state of Maryland, and to determine if teachers would be able to install and maintain, with student involvement, a functional Internet hub.

Northern is one of six pilot schools chosen to participate. An attempt was made to choose schools from as varied a geographic and socio-economic background as possible. The other participants are Baltimore City College High School, Smithsburg High School, James M. Bennet Senior High School in Salisbury, Arundel Senior High School in Gambrills, and Montgomery Blair High School, a computer science magnet school, in Silver Spring. The Northern High participants in the grant are Tom Bulka and Von Mosser, physics and chemistry teacher.

MVHS is but one of a number of grants which have occurred as a result of hard work and initiative by the Northern staff. Other grants include the Chrysalis project, several NASA grants, a MICCA grant to create a multimedia history of Garrett County, Potomac Edison energy grant, the Four-Winds weather station project which provides a Washington, D.C., television station with the local area's weather, and a speech recognition program sponsored by Martin Marietta. In partnership with GCC and the county's secondary schools, Northern also participates in "Tune in Math and Science," and USDE grants.

The grant opportunities may have indirectly contributed to the impressive showing of Northern High students at the recent regional science fair competition. Northern students received 44 percent, 18 out of 41 awards, of first, second, third place and honorable mention designations awarded to high school competitors from Garrett, Allegany and Washington counties.

The Internet connection will greatly enhance the ability of Northern's teachers to help prepare their students for the challenges of an ever increasing technological world. The MVHS project not only provides the county with its first on-ramp to the information superhighway, but it will open Garrett County to the whole world, enabling students to become part of a global community.

Correction Noted

Information received by The Republican for a May 11 story on an AmeriCorps raffle contained incorrect dollar values for two prints being donated by local artist Ken Bauer.

The print titled "Phoebe" is valued at $58, and the print titled "Red-Winged Blackbird" is valued at $60.

The prints will be raffled with other donated items to raise money to buy playground equipment for Potomac Garrett State Forest.

Students Earn Honors At PSC

A number of area students were among those named to the dean's list at Potomac State College, Keyser, W.Va., for the 1995 spring semester.

Among those named to the dean's list for earning at least a 3.0 average on a 4.0 scale are: Aaron D. Cropp, freshman, Kitzmiller; Jason C. Evans, Mtn. Lake Park, freshman; Denise G. Evans, Oakland, freshman; Rebecca A. Ward, Elk Garden, W.Va., sophomore; Sharon M. Spencer, Bayard, W.Va., freshman; and Dennis L. Tolley, Elk Garden, W.Va., sophomore.

Only full-time students enrolled for 12 or more credit hours are considered for honors list selection at Potomac State, which is the junior college branch of West Virginia University.

Calhoun Invited To Attend Annual Dynacolor Seminar

Friendsville based Vision Quest Studios was chosen by Miami based printer, Dynacolor Graphics, Inc., to attend its annual Master-Rep Seminar.

Crede Calhoun, co-owner of Vision Quest Studios and The Windrush Gallery, was one of 38 representatives at the seminar which was held April 26-29. Photographers from around the country, including Hawaii and the Caribbean, met in Hollywood Beach, Fla., to learn the latest in full color printing technologies.

An intense four days of workshops and seminars included information on the latest in direct mail advertising, digital manipulation, new technologies in printing, and advances in desktop publishing.

Calhoun has been a professional, award-winning photographer, providing full color brochures, posters, catalogs, and post cards, printed by Dynacolor, since 1983.

Vision Quest specializes in promotional materials for local and regional businesses involving tourism, adventure sports, manufacturing and real estate. A poster, produced for the Adventure Sports Institute at Garrett Community College by Crede and Carol Calhoun, won the Silver Medallion Award for "Promotion and Public Relations" by the National Marketing Council.

In addition to obtaining the status of "Dynacolor MasterRep" for the fifth consecutive year, the Calhouns recently qualified as certified fine art representatives with Dynacolor. This certificate is granted only to Dynacolor sales representatives who have acquired the necessary knowledge, experience, and competence in the reproduction of fine art.

Carol, as the Windrush Gallery Manager and board member of the Garrett County Arts Council, said, "We were honored to be chosen to attend this seminar because it provides us, and, in turn, our clients with the latest information necessary to prepare for the future of visual communication."

Dynacolor works with over 1,500 professional photographers throughout the United States. At the seminar, Crede Calhoun, on behalf of Vision Quest Studios, accepted one of only six awards presented for "Outstanding Sales Performance."

"We at Dynacolor are proud of our association with Crede and Carol. We believe they will continue to grow and expand into new markets, and we look forward to assisting them with award-winning results for years to come", said Bob Duncanson, vice-president of sales and marketing.

ATTENDS SEMINAR - Photographer Crede Calhoun, Friendsville, checks a full color press sheet at the Dynacolor Graphics printing plant in Miami, with its president, Don Duncanson. The annual Dynacolor seminar which he was chosen to attend featured the latest printing, technological and marketing techniques.

Highland Festival Will Feature Sheepdog Exhibition

The 8th Annual McHenry Highland Festival, which will be held Saturday, June 3, at the Garrett County Fairgrounds in McHenry, will feature a wide variety of activities and entertainment, including sheepdog exhibitions by Dr. Gib McLaughlin of Indiana, Pa. McLaughlin and his dogs will perform two field shows during the festival.

Mclaughlin's sheepdog demonstrations appear annually at numerous Scottish games and festivals. These border collies are indispensable to the Scottish way of life and economy as a livestock-producing nation. These collies are true working dogs who respond and work to the shepherd's unseen whistle-call to bring large batches of sheep from far distances. Nearly all present-day registered working collies can be traced back to 1893 to a pair named Roy and Meg in the Morpeth district of Northumberland. The majority are registered with the English-based International Sheep Dog Society formed in 1906, with world-wide membership. The Scottish shepherd uses his own unique language to command his collies. The preferred color of border collies is black and white and they may be rough or smooth coated, weighing from 30-50 pounds. The most striking characteristic of the collie is the one which shepherds refer to as "the eye," or the power of the dog to control sheep with its eyes; no other breed of dog possesses this trait. Dr. McLaughlin's sheepdogs were imported from Scotland and trained by the doctor to work sheep and beef cattle on their home farm, Burnhead.

Festival hours are 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., and admission is $5 for anyone 12 years of age and over. The festival also includes a ceilidh at 8 p.m. Saturday evening at the Will O' the Wisp, hosted by the Wisp Golf & Ski Resort and the Festival Committee (admission $3), and a Kirkin' O' the Tartans Sunday at 9:30 a.m. at St. John's Episcopal Church in Deer Park. The festival is sponsored by the Deep Creek Lake-Garrett County Promotion Council and Bell Atlantic Maryland, and funded in part by a grant from the Garrett County Arts Council, Maryland State Arts Council. For more information, persons may contact the McHenry Highland Festival, 200 South Third Street, Oakland, MD 21550; telephone (301) 334-1948.

Achievements Of Northern Chorus Member Noted

Anthony Layman, a senior at Northern High School, recently performed at Southern Middle School along with many other students at the first All-County Chorus Concert. William Robinson, Northern's choral director, took time out to make an announcement about Layman's accomplishments during his four years as a Northern High Chorus member.

Layman is the only student ever to represent Garrett County four consecutive years at All-State Chorus, which is held annually at the Convention Center in Ocean City. Following his performance at Ocean City his sophomore year, he received an invitation to travel to Europe with the United States Collegiate Choir. This group consisted of students ages 16 through 20 from the United States and Canada. Layman toured eight countries, giving 15 performances in some of the largest cathedrals of the world in 23 days.

Layman has been accepted at the University of Miami, Colorado State, Dowling College, and Frostburg State University, but has not decided where he will attend. He is still in the process of reviewing each college's science and fine arts programs.

First Financial Declares Dividend

The Board of Directors of First Financial Corporation of Western Maryland on May 17 declared a cash dividend of $.12 per common share for the quarter ending June 30, 1995. The dividend will be payable June 30 to stockholders of record at close of business June 15.

The Corporation's common stock is traded on the over-the-counter market under the symbol "FFWM" and trading information has been reported by the Nasdaq Stock Market system subsequent to the issuance of the common stock on February 10, 1992. Quarterly dividends have been paid consecutively since June 30, 1992.

Additionally, the corporation announced that, effective May 17, Richard C. Deckerhoff, former chairman, president and chief executive officer, was removed from the Boards of Directors of First Federal Savings Bank of Western Maryland and its wholly owned subsidiaries Mid-Atlantic Service Corporation and Mid-Atlantic Underwriters Agency, Inc. by action of the Corporation's Board of Directors acting in its capacity as the sole stockholder of these companies. Further, by action of the respective Boards of Directors, the number of board seats at these companies were in each case reduced from 11 to 10.

First Financial Corporation of Western Maryland is the holding company for First Federal Savings Bank of Western Maryland. First Federal Savings Bank of Western Maryland is a federally chartered FDIC-insured savings bank which conducts its business through 11 offices located within the greater Cumberland area, Hagerstown, Hancock, Frostburg, Oakland, and Westernport.

Potomac Edison Adds Customer Service Number

Customers of the Potomac Edison Company can now receive answers to questions about their electric bills or assistance with service connections any time of the day or night by calling its toll-free number: 1-800 654-3317.

Potomac Edison has just begun offering customers 24-hour customer service through its Customer Service Phone Center. The Center's increased hours of operation are part of Potomac Edison's continuing efforts to provide customers with the most convenient, best possible service, according to Executive Vice President James Latimer.

"At Potomac Edison, we are dedicated to providing customers with outstanding customer service. By providing 24-hour customer service through our phone service center, Potomac Edison is able to provide customers with the assistance they need, whenever they need it." Latimer said.

Latimer explained that the Customer Service Center has been preparing to offer 24-hour service for several years. The center opened in 1986 with four employees. Now, 36 customer service representatives, some of whom were relocated from existing division and area offices have been cross-trained to work during any of the center's eight shifts. Potomac Edison's representatives have been thoroughly trained to assist customers, answering questions about existing service, taking applications for new service and providing solutions to billing concerns.

"We know that many of our customers have busy schedules, and busy schedules call for extended hours of customer service," Latimer said. "We want our customers to know that they can reach Potomac Edison 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, 365 days a year, including holidays, to discuss any questions or concerns they may have about their electric service."

Fuel Use Up During March

"Mild March weather put Marylanders on the road, resulting in a 4.4% increase in gasoline consumption and fueling an increase in motor fuel tax revenue as well," State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein said.

March 1995 gasoline consumption of 189.1 million gallons, combined with diesel and other special fuels consumption of 30.1 million gallons, helped to boost motor fuel tax revenue to $506.1 million for the first 10 months of fiscal year 1995. That's a growth of 3% over the $491.2 million collected for the same period of the previous fiscal year.

"Motor fuel tax revenues usually increase in the warmer months of spring and summer when people do more traveling," Goldstein said. "The mild winter and overall improved economy helped to make Marylanders more mobile before the traditional spring pickup in motor fuel consumption."

While the vast majority of motor fuel tax revenue comes from the taxable sale of gasoline and diesel fuel, more than $20 million of the $506.1 million collected for the fiscal year to date was paid by trucks and other motor carriers in road use taxes. This reflects an increase in commercial trucking activity.

Motor fuel tax revenues are turned over to the Transportation Trust Fund of the Maryland Department of Transportation to fund state and local transportation projects.

In a New Light features plain talk about sex

Jared Leto

Teen-agers and young adults get a dose of straight talk about sex from their peers in In a New Light: Sex Unplugged, airing Thursday, June 1, on ABC.

Stephen Baldwin (Threesome) and Oscar nominee Rosie Perez (Fearless) are hosts of the hour-long special, the fourth in a series of AIDS-awareness presentations.

Other teen icons participating in the special include Jared Leto (My So-Called Life), Bon Jovi drummer Tiko Torres, Ed Lover (Yo! MTV Raps), rocker Melissa Etheridge and General Hospital stars Michael Sutton and Kimberly McCullough.

"There are a lot of things that are different (this year)," says Joseph F. Lovett, who has served as executive producer on all four New Light entries. "ABC felt that the information that comes across is so important that it should be as much during the school year as possible.

"When you talk too much about AIDS, people tend to turn off. ... The issue isn't really AIDS, (it's) sexuality. People who work in 'safer sex' education are realizing that the information about AIDS does not make people protect themselves. There are so many other issues in play, the main one being that people just don't talk about sex."

This year's special emphasizes open communication between young people and their peers on a variety of topics in their lives, Lovett adds. Issues include teen-agers having sex before they really want to and, most critically, failing to protect themselves against sexually transmitted diseases.

"This year it's all real-life stories. We do not have 'entertainment,' " he says. "It's a show where young people talk about what's going on with their lives."

The Center for Disease Control (CDC) in Atlanta reports that about three-fourths of American teen-agers are sexually active by the 12th grade, and one-fifth of all Americans need to be treated for a sexually transmitted disease by age 21.

"We found out in our research that (of) girls who have sex at 15 or younger, about 70 percent have sex involuntarily," Lovett explains. "Not necessarily rape, but they feel pushed or pressured to have sex.

"A lot of kids, if they felt supported in their feelings, might be willing to put it off longer, if they felt it was OK to do that. We live in such a sexual culture, with our advertising and our media, that we need to start giving kids some perspective. The only perspective we're giving them is, 'Do it, do it, do it, do it!' "

A sense of hopelessness is feeding a rise in unsafe sex among young gay men, the producer adds:

"What's happening among young gay men ... is when older gay men say to them, 'Listen, you can NOT go through what we've gone through – you must do this and that,' (the younger men) say, 'What's the point? After all, half my friends are going to be dead by the time I'm 40 or 50. Is this what I want to look forward to? A life of caring for them, and then being left alone?' "

Memorial Day offers another side of Cullum

BY SUZANNE GILL

John Cullum will be doing something during the 1995 National Memorial Day Concert his fans may not expect. Cullum, who has portrayed woodsman-restaurateur Holling Vincoeur for six seasons on CBS' Northern Exposure, will sing musical comedy. The concert airs Sunday, May 28, on PBS (check local listings).

"A lot of people just think of me as Holling the bartender," the Broadway veteran says. Cullum is a military veteran, too, but he thinks it's his singing that gives him the right to be onstage with host Ossie Davis and actors Charles Durning and Rod Steiger.

"It's a little intimidating, because they're all old enough to have been in the second World War, and I wasn't.

"I was in the Korean conflict, but I got there in April of 1953, right at the end of hostilities. But these guys are true veterans and war heroes. But then I think, they didn't ask me here to give my memorial comments. I'm there to entertain."

Cullum will join singer Melissa Manchester in a medley of songs from South Pacific. Other performers include John Denver and Marilyn McCoo. Steiger and Durning will give dramatic readings.

Cullum's main memories of Memorial Days past "are parades and veterans marching in the parades, and high-school bands. It was a parade down the main street of Knoxville, Tenn."

As for the massed thousands gathered on the Capitol lawn in Washington, D.C., for the concert, Cullum says, "That'll be the largest house I've ever played to. Three hundred thousand, did you say? Gee whiz, now I'm getting cold feet."

John Cullum (Northern Exposure) will sing musical comedy in the 1995 National Memorial Day Concert Sunday on PBS (check local listings).

BY TAYLOR MICHAELS

Renee Taylor

Q: Is Renee Taylor, who plays Fran Drescher's mom in The Nanny, her mother in real life? –Betty Jones, East Haven, Conn.

A: Taylor is not related to Drescher, but is married to actor Joseph Bologna.

Q: Please tell me anything you can about Jonathan Taylor Thomas, including where I can write to him. –Jennifer Shannon Thomas, Elizabethtown, Ky.

A: Thomas, who plays middle son Randy on Home Improvement, is on the brink of becoming the hottest young actor in Hollywood. His voice work as young Simba in The Lion King got him terrific reviews and his performance in Man of the House – well, does anyone believe young moviegoers turned out in droves to see Chevy Chase? Didn't think so.

Born in Bethlehem, Pa., he moved with his family, at age 5, to Sacramento, Calif. Prior to beginning his acting career in 1989, he worked as a fashion and print model. He's now a straight-A's seventh-grader who likes history, geography and science.

Improvement is Thomas' second series role. Earlier, he was Kevin, Greg Brady's son on The Bradys.

Q: Whatever happened to Disney's The Aristocats? –Dorothy Wright, Penticton, British Columbia, Canada.

A: It's among the very next titles to be released by Disney Home Video. Watch for it in stores soon.

Q: You recently reported that Shirley MacLaine's Out on a Limb is not on video, but I recently viewed it via an ABC Entertainment Corp. videotape. –Marcia Gateus, Champaign, Ill.

A: Thanks for the news. Although Limb appears in none of the latest editions of the video retail catalogs I checked, a friend at Blockbuster confirms it very recently became available. Now the bad news: The video clocks in at 159 minutes, substantially shorter than the original running time of 200 minutes (according to movie expert Leonard Maltin).

Q: A friend has bet me that Jackie Gleason was the man who played Archie Bunker in All in the Family. I say it was Carroll O'Connor. –Pat Zurowski, St. Joseph, Mo.

A: Archie Bunker was similar in some respects to Ralph Kramden of The Honeymooners, but of course that was O'Connor as the former, Gleason as the latter.

VCR Alert: Centennial, a much-requested title not available on video, begins a run in its entirety Saturday, June 3, on The Family Channel.

Crampton chooses love over acting on Light

BY CANDACE HAVENS

Susan Batten

Actors leave daytime TV for many reasons, often in search of greener pastures. But once in a while someone leaves for true love.

That's what Barbara Crampton, who plays Mindy on Guiding Light, is doing. The actress and her boyfriend, Kristoffer Tabori, had planned to have a bicoastal relationship. But once he actually proposed, the couple decided they wanted to live on the same coast.

The couple's engagement coincided with the end of Crampton's contract. She did have the option to re-sign, but decided at the last minute she wanted to be with Tabori.

There is no word yet whether the role of Mindy will be recast. But there is a rumor that Crampton may have landed a job already on the West Coast.

Another daytime favorite leaving the fold is Susan Batten, who plays Luna on One Life to Live. Batten is leaving to stretch her acting wings, but she isn't sure what her next step will be.

Dear Candace: I am so mad at General Hospital. Robin is much too young to be having sex with her boyfriend on the show.

Maybe I'm too old-fashioned, but it just doesn't seem right for a young girl to be so involved. –Edna in Michigan.

Dear Reader: Unfortunately, she is too young, but so are many of the young women in today's society. Robin (Kimberly McCullough) and Stone (Michael Sutton) will be involved in a heartbreakirg story line this summer.

As you may have guessed already, Stone has AIDS. How this affects his family and his relationship with Robin will be told as truthfully as possible.

On Thursday, June 1, you can also catch McCullough and Sutton in an ABC special, In a New Light: Sex Unplugged, an AIDS-awareness program.

Dear Candace: I like the possession story line on Days of Our Lives. Marlena (Deidre Hall) is great. I mean, it really could happen. I never miss a show. –A fan in Champaign, Ill.

Dear Reader: You could be the only viewer in the world who actually likes this story line. Most of the viewers who write in absolutely detest it.

Whatever opinion viewers may hold, this has certainly been one of the more controversial stories of all time.

Carey Moffatt Recognized For Academic Excellence

The United States Achievement Academy (USAA) recently named Carey Moffatt an All-American Collegiate Scholar.

Moffatt, who attends Allegany Community College, was nominated for the award by Dr. James Stickler. The recognition is offered to students who excel in the academic disciplines. Only scholars who earn a 3.3, or higher, grade point average, and are selected by a school official or other qualified sponsor are accepted. Moffatt's name will now appear in the All-American Collegiate Yearbook, which is published nationally.

"Recognizing and supporting our youth is more important than ever before in America's history," said Dr. George Stephens, executive director of the United States Achievement Academy. "Certainly, winners of the All-American Collegiate Awards should be congratulated and appreciated for their dedication to excellence and achievement."

Moffatt is the daughter of Barbara and Denny Moffatt. Her grandparents are Grace and John Braskey, Grantsville, and Elsie Lewis, Fort Myers, Fla.

OAKLAND

Faye Nally, Oakland, traveled to Frostburg, May 13, to attend Frostburg State University's commencement ceremony. Her grandson, Timothy Adam Feldman, son of Steven and Linda Feldman, Ellicott City, was among FSU's graduates.

Feldman majored in mathematics while attending FSU. He was a three-year football letterman, and was named All-American during his junior and senior years.

Others attending the graduation were Mr. and Mrs. David Drazin, Rockville; and another grandmother, Elizabeth Gossin, Pembroke Pines, Fla.

Health, Medicine Info. Available On Healthtouch

Beachy's Pharmacy in Grantsville recently introduced a free source of reliable health and medication information for consumers that is easily accessed by a "friendly, easy-to-use touch screen."

According to Gerry Beachy, pharmacist, the computer, known as Healthtouch, is a premiere interactive health information kiosk, which allows individuals to print any of the materials to take with them for future reference.

"There is free information on nearly 5,000 medicines and information from the American Cancer Society, American Diabetes Association, The Arthritis Foundation, American Heart Association, and American Lung Association, just to name a few of the databases available exclusively in Healthtouch," Beachy said. "Pharmacies and healthcare providers across the nation are focusing their efforts on counseling patients for better compliance, and empowering patients by educating them about their health needs."

The computer is available to anyone who is interested in health or medication information, Beachy concluded.

Meadow Glade Homemakers Meet

Members of the Meadow Blade Homemakers Club gathered recently to make floral arrangements for Memorial Day.

Plans were made to visit the grave sites of deceased club members this weekend.

"Attempts were made to locate the resting places of all departed members," a club spokesperson stated. "However, there were some we could not find. Our prayers and thoughts are with them and their families."

EMS Groups Honored During Awards Reception

The Northern Garrett County Emergency Medical Services Club, the Northern Garrett County Rescue Squad, were among 17 EMS services from Western Maryland who were honored during a "Stars for Life" awards reception, May 15, hosted by the Maryland Institute for Emergency Medical Services Systems.

The Northern club received an EMS Program of the Year Award. Paramedics H.B. Martz Jr. and Jamie Adams, who organized and continue to lead the club for high school students, accepted the award on the club's behalf. The EMS Club provides basic life support training to its members, introduces them to the field of emergency medical services, sponsors field trips to the Baltimore Burn Center and Shock Trauma Center, and conducts accident prevention programs for fellow students. Many of the EMS Club members have been certified as emergency medical technicians and work with rescue squads that are experiencing manpower shortages. Currently, eight members of the club have joined the Northern Garrett County Rescue Squad.

EMT Pauline Faucett, Friendsville, a member of the Northern Garrett County Rescue Squad, was awarded a Certificate of Recognition in the "EMS Lifetime Service" category during the May 15 "Stars for Life" awards reception. She was honored for 21 years of service as an EMT with the rescue squad, and for her work as a public health nurse in the community.

Weekend Events Slated For Deep Creek State Park

A scavenger hunt, campfire, and various hikes are among the events scheduled by the Maryland Department of Natural Resources, State Forest and Park Service, for Memorial Day weekend, May 27-29, at Deep Creek Lake State Park.

A scavenger hunt/nature hike event will be held on Saturday, May 27, at 10 a.m.

"This is a great family activity and all ages are encouraged to hike the 1.5 mile loop, rain or shine," a DNR spokesperson stated.

The park naturalist will then host beach activities for "children of all ages" on Saturday afternoon. Participants are asked to meet at the first aid building at 1 p.m. for this event.

A campfire program will be held at the amphitheater at 8 p.m. on Saturday. Campfire foods will be the featured topic.

The Nature Shop will be open on Sunday, May 28, at 9 a.m. for viewing and activity information.

The park naturalist will lead a hike to the fire tower at 10 a.m. on Sunday. This will be a five mile hike, so participants are asked to bring water and wear sturdy shoes.

A Night Hike for adults will be held on Sunday at 9 p.m. Hikers should meet the park naturalist at the park office before beginning this hike.

Park visitors will get the chance to construct nature crafts in the park Nature Shop from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. on Monday, May 29. Also on that day, a guided hike to the historic Brant Mine will be offered at 10 a.m. Participants are asked to meet at the park office.

For more information on these activities, persons may call the park office at 387-5563.

Day-Long Bike, Canoe Excursion Slated By DNR

An all-day Pedal and Paddle Outdoor Adventure excursion trip has been slated by the Maryland Department of Natural Resources, State Forest and Park Service, for June 17.

Participants in the trip will travel through four of Western Maryland's state forests and parks: Deep Creek Lake State Park, Potomac State Forest, Savage River State Forest, and Big Run State Park. The bicycle portion of the route will include both roads and trails.

The cost of the trip is $35, and this fee included an interpretive guide, use of canoeing equipment, and a catered dinner served outdoors.

Since spaces are limited, preregistration and a deposit are required. To make reservations or to obtain more information, persons may contact Diane Miller at 387-5563.

Local Students May Attend PSC For "Half Price"

The cost of attending Potomac State College has been cut in half for Garrett County residents under the just-approved Metro Fee. Located in Keyser, W.Va., Potomac State is a two-year branch campus of West Virginia University, offering WVU classes and career education classes.

Residents of Garrett County, Allegany County and two other counties can now attend Potomac State for $1,411 a semester as compared with other non-West Virginians who pay $2,822 a semester.

"This is an exciting opportunity for students in a four-county area to complete the first two years of a university education and to learn marketable job skills," said Dr. Kathryn A. Brailer, president of the college. "We are a border college, and we are responding to many requests for a tuition price break from people in local communities who would love to attend Potomac State or would love for their children to attend."

In addition to Garrett and Allegany counties, Bedford County, Pa., and Frederick County, Va., are included in the Metro Fee area.

One important reason that students attend Potomac State College is its ease of transfer to West Virginia University, said Charles H. Via, director of admissions and records. Potomac State is a college of WVU; PSC faculty and students are WVU faculty and students.

The WVU transfer programs include agriculture, biology, business, chemistry, computer science, engineering, forestry, horticulture, journalism, law, math, music, nursing, pharmacy, physical therapy, psychology, physics, social work, veterinary medicine, and others.

PSC credits transfer to Frostburg State University, Fairmont State College, Shepherd College, and most other colleges and universities.

Another reason that students choose PSC is for a two-year degree program leading to a job.

The career-technical programs are agriculture, horticulture, business, accounting, computer programming, desktop publishing, electronic technology, occupational development, office systems technology, and more.

PSC offers small class sizes, day and evening classes, one of the best computer-to-student ratios in the state, residence halls for on-campus living, and intercollegiate football, basketball, baseball, and volleyball.

Financial aid is available to most students.

For more information about the Metro Fee at Potomac State College, persons may call the Admissions Office, 800-262-7332.

Homemakers Honored For Achievements

The Garrett Association for Family and Community Education (formerly the Garrett County Extension Homemakers) recently held its annual Achievement Day event to recognize the club's and club members' accomplishments of the past year.

President Opal Fazenbaker awarded certificates to several members.

Fourteen members were recognized for one year's perfect attendance.

Members receiving the title of Homemaker of the Year were Afle Sisler, Betty Ann Aronhalt, Shelby Diehl, Pam Bentley, and Alice Smith.

Isabelle Sisler, Nellie Johnson, Dessie Pattison, Eleanor Arnold, and Iris Streets were each honored for 25 years of membership.

Helen Harmon, who is president of the Accident club, received a certificate for her 50 years of membership.

Guest speaker at the achievement day ceremony was horticulturist Joanna Beckman, who spoke on the culinary, medicinal, and aromatic uses for various herbs, and then showed the group how to plant an herb garden.

After a covered dish lunch, two guests from Washington County, June Haupt and Barbara King, judged crafts made by local members. Ferne Beachy received a first place ribbon, Loretta Wotring's entry was ranked second, and Joan Schultz placed third.

Fazenbaker then reported on the state district meeting and future plans for the organization.

The event ended with an exchange of plants and cuttings provided by those attending.

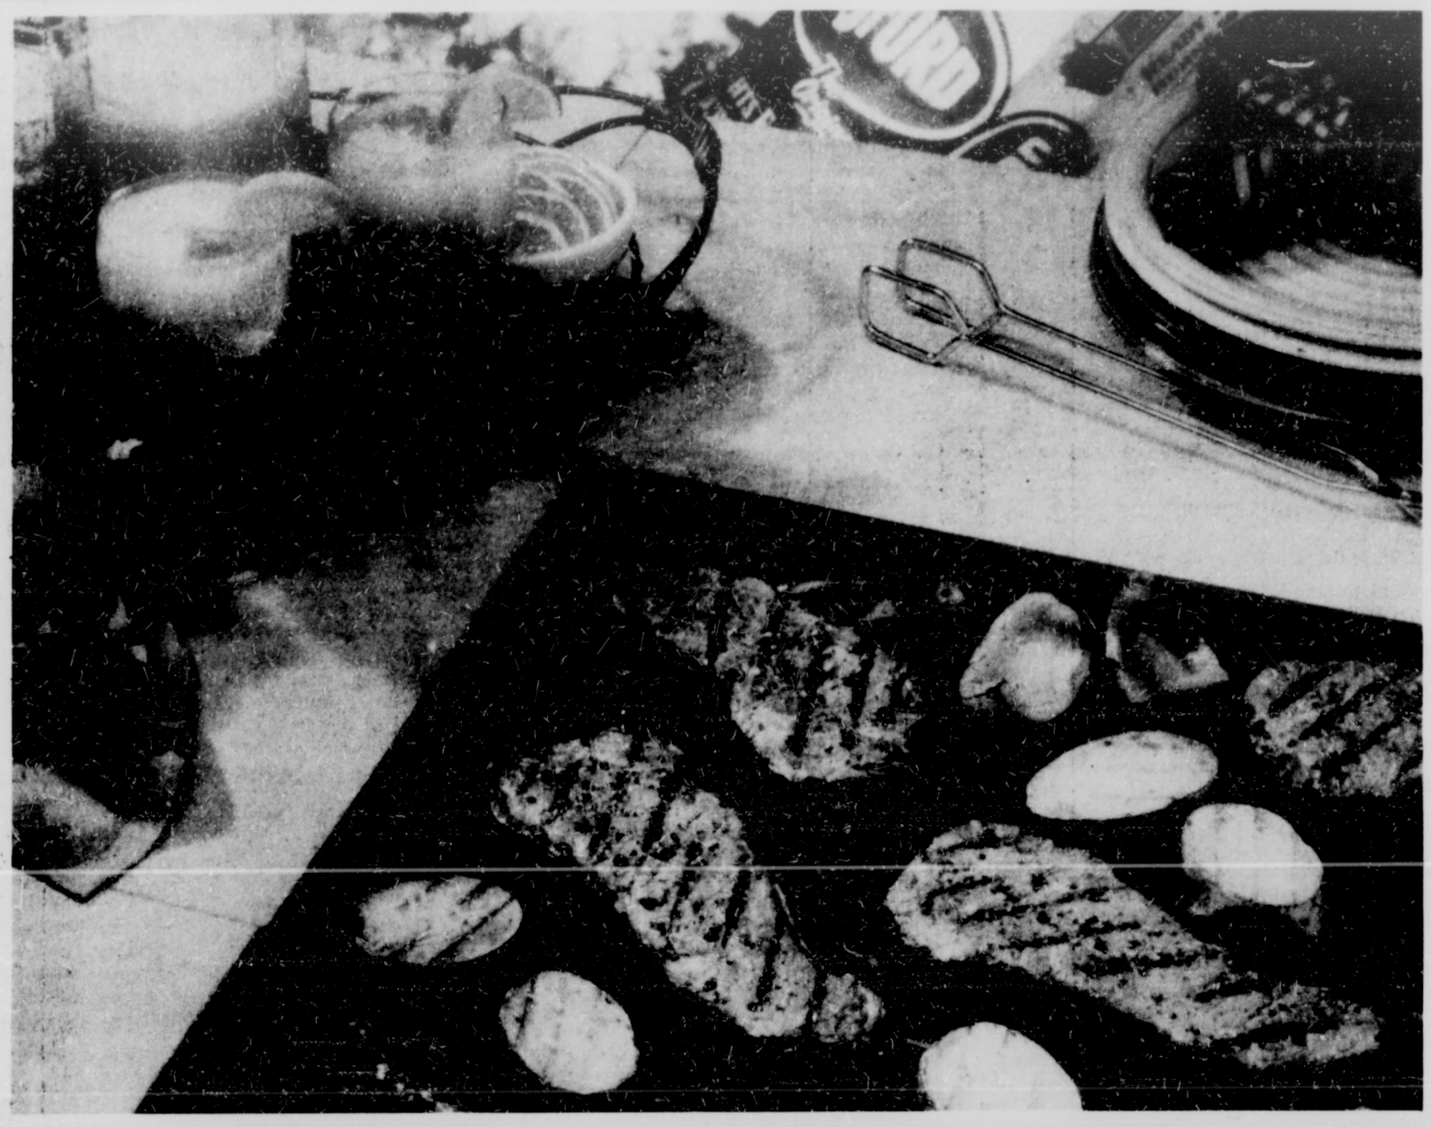
On The Menu...



Savor the best of the season and prepare exciting, mouth-watering meals. Every meal needs a memorable beginning, so start by offering guests tall glasses of Orange Fizz. This two-ingredient, vitamin-packed alternative to soft drinks is easy and refreshing — proof positive that orange juice transcends the breakfast table.

For the main dish, savory, smoky-flavored, charcoal-grilled beef is unbeatable. To ensure perfectly cooked steaks, the Kingsford barbecue pros recommend grilling over medium temperature coals. Using premium charcoal saves time — it lights quickly and burns evenly.

Rubs and marinades add extra pizzazz to beef steaks, and they're easily made with on-hand ingredients. For rubs, simply combine dried or fresh herbs and seasonings. Another on-hand ingredient, Florida orange juice, is a healthy, flavorful replacement for the oil typically called for in marinade recipes.

A quick rub of cracked black pepper, parsley and garlic adds a spicy hint of heat to Peppery-Garlic Grilled Top Loin Steaks. Add colorful bell peppers and Grilled Parmesan Potatoes to round out the meal.

Or impress guests with Citrus Grilled Beef Sirloin & Vegetable Kabobs — it's two meals in one. Orange juice and orange zest team up with your favorite vinaigrette to make a zippy, flavorful marinade for the thick-cut sirloin steak and a dressing for the "dividend" salad of orange segments, fresh spinach and slices of grilled sirloin.

For a cooling finale, scoop up homemade Orange Sorbet. Only four ingredients and three simple steps make it convenient to prepare in advance. This recipe uses less sugar than traditional sorbets, thanks to the natural sweetness that orange juice provides.

Thrilling Grilling

FAST, CREATIVE & DELICIOUS

Grilling TIP #1

To determine the temperature of the coals, use this easy method: cautiously hold your hand, palm side down, above the coals at cooking height. Count the number of seconds you can hold it there before the heat forces you to pull it away: 4 seconds indicates medium temperature. Grill thermometers also can help gauge the temperature.

Peppery-Garlic Grilled Top Loin Steaks

Total preparation and cooking time: 25 minutes

- 4 well-trimmed beef top loin steaks, cut 1 inch thick
- Salt

Seasoning:

- 2 tablespoons finely chopped parsley
- 2 cloves garlic, crushed
- 1 teaspoon coarse grind black pepper

1. Combine seasoning ingredients; press into both sides of beef steaks.
2. Place steaks on grid over medium ash-covered coals.
3. Grill, uncovered, approx. 12 to 15 minutes for medium rare to medium doneness, turning once.
4. Season steaks with salt, as desired. Trim fat and carve steaks crosswise into thick slices.

Makes 4 servings.

✔ Food Safety Tips

- ✔ Always place cooked foods on a clean plate or platter, not one that has previously held uncooked meat, poultry or fish. Wash plates and cooking utensils in hot soapy water and rinse well.
- ✔ Grill beef over medium coals to ensure even cooking; if coals are too hot, beef can char on the outside before the interior is cooked.
- ✔ Grilling times are based on beef and other perishable foods taken directly from the refrigerator. Also, always marinate foods in the refrigerator, never at room temperature—even for a short time.

Orange Fizz

Total preparation time: 5 minutes

- 3/4 cup frozen Florida orange juice concentrate, thawed
- 2-1/4 cups carbonated or tonic water, chilled
- Ice cubes
- Florida orange slices

1. Pour orange juice concentrate into a pitcher. Gently stir in carbonated water. Pour over ice cubes in glasses. Garnish with orange slices. Serve immediately.

Makes 4 (6-ounce) servings.

Grilling TIP #2

Prepare the fire correctly. Start with good quality charcoal briquets and follow these three easy steps.

1) Arrange briquets in a pyramid; add lighter fluid and carefully light with a match. (Lighter fluid is not necessary if using instant-lighting briquets.)
2) Allow briquets to burn (about 30 minutes) until they reach medium temperature; coals will be covered with gray ash.
3) Spread coals in single layer; place cooking grid over coals.

Orange Sorbet

Total preparation time: 15 minutes
Freezing time: approx. 20 to 30 minutes

- 2-3/4 cups water
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 3/4 cup frozen Florida orange juice concentrate, thawed
- 1 teaspoon finely shredded orange zest
- Florida orange slices

1. In small saucepan, combine water and sugar. Cook and stir over medium heat until sugar is dissolved; cool to room temperature.
2. Add orange juice concentrate and orange zest to water mixture. Stir until concentrate is blended.
3. Transfer orange juice mixture to 1- or 2- quart ice cream freezer. Freeze according to manufacturer's directions. Can be made up to 5 days in advance. Garnish with orange slices.

Makes 8 (1/2-cup) servings.

Grilling TIP #3

To determine the number of briquets needed, the barbecue experts at Kingsford recommend using enough to make a single layer that extends about one inch beyond the area the food will cover.

Grilled Parmesan Potatoes

Total preparation and cooking time: 30 minutes

- 1 pound all-purpose potatoes, scrubbed
- 1/2 tablespoon olive oil
- 1 tablespoon shredded Parmesan cheese
- Salt

1. Cut potatoes diagonally into 3/4-inch thick slices. Place in bowl; toss with olive oil.
2. Place potato slices on grid over medium ash-covered coals. Grill, uncovered, approx. 20 minutes or until tender, turning occasionally.
3. Garnish with Parmesan cheese. Season with salt, as desired.

Makes 4 servings.

Cook's Tip: For grilled bell peppers, cut two medium bell peppers lengthwise into quarters; remove seeds. Brush lightly with olive oil. Place on grid over medium ash-covered coals. Grill 12 to 15 minutes or until tender, turning occasionally.

Grilling TIP #4

Trim excess fat from beef prior to grilling to reduce the chances of flare-ups while grilling. Lightly spritz flare-ups with water.

Citrus Grilled Beef Sirloin & Vegetable Kabobs

Total preparation and cooking time: 40 minutes
Marinating time: 30 minutes to 2 hours

- 2-pound well-trimmed boneless beef top sirloin steak, cut 1-1/2 inches thick
- 1/2 small red onion, cut lengthwise into 4 wedges (reserve other 1/2 onion for salad)
- 1 medium yellow or zucchini squash, cut lengthwise in half and then crosswise into 3/4-inch thick slices
- 1 small red bell pepper, cut into 1-1/2-inch pieces
- Salt

Orange Marinade:

- 1 cup Florida orange juice
- 1/3 cup vinaigrette dressing
- 1 tablespoon grated orange peel

1. Soak four 9-inch bamboo skewers in enough water to cover for 10 minutes; drain.
2. Combine marinade ingredients. Place beef steak and 3/4 cup marinade in plastic bag, turning to coat. Close bag securely.
3. Alternately thread vegetables onto skewers. Place in another plastic bag with remaining marinade, turning to coat. Close bag securely. Marinate steak and vegetables in refrigerator 30 minutes to 2 hours.
4. Remove steak and vegetables from marinade; discard marinade. Place steak on grid over medium ash-covered coals. Grill, uncovered, approx. 22 to 26 minutes for medium rare to medium doneness, turning several times. Approximately 15 minutes before steak is done, place vegetable kabobs on grid; grill 12 to 14 minutes or until vegetables are tender, turning once.
5. Season steak with salt, as desired. Trim fat from steak; reserve and refrigerate half of steak for salad. Carve remaining steak into slices; serve with kabobs.

Makes 4 servings.

ORANGE-BEEF SALAD

Cut reserved steak lengthwise in half, then crosswise into thin slices. Stir together 1/2 cup Florida orange juice and 1/4 cup vinaigrette dressing; pour 1/4 cup over beef. Combine 1 package (10 ounces) salad spinach, 1 cup orange segments and 1/2 red onion, thinly sliced. Add beef and remaining dressing mixture; toss lightly.

Makes 4 servings.

Grilling TIP #5

Use tongs or a spatula for turning foods on the grill; a fork will pierce, causing flavorful juices to escape.

Springs Museum, Farmers Market Will Open Sat.

The Springs Museum and Farmers Market, Springs, Pa., will open for the season this Saturday, May 27. A working steam engine will power an antique wood shingle making machine, shingles with bicentennial stamps will be sold, commemorating the bicentennial of Somerset County, and an industrial exhibit will illustrate the life and work environment of coal miners and loggers around the turn of the 20th century.

The Museum and Farmers Market are located on the Springs Folk Festival Grounds. The Farmers Market will be open every Saturday until September 23 from 8:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. The museum will be open Wednesday through Friday, 1-5 p.m. and Saturday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., or by appointment.

The Springs Museum houses artifacts depicting life of the early settlers of the Casselman Valley. The museum will be located in the building adjacent to the main museum building (formally known as the train building) because of building improvements. This facility will not only house selected items from the original museum collection, but will also include a new exhibit developed by a local historian, Beth Holler. The exhibit theme centers around the industrial heritage of the region, specifically coal mining and logging.

Adjacent to the Springs Museum is the Springs Farmers Market which will begin its fourth season. The market is an outlet for those interested in selling their wares. Vendors sell fresh produce, vegetables, plants/flowers, meat, eggs, baked goods, crafts, used clothes/furniture, tools, antiques, and quilts. The cost to sell is $5 per table a week or a season fee of $70 which guarantees a table at the same location each week.

Over forty local farmers or residents participate by selling freshly baked goods and farm items. Early in the season when produce is sparse, freshly baked bread, pies and pastries are sold.

The Farmers Market and Museum are located along Route 669 in Springs. Signs designating the location are visible on Route 669.

Persons who have questions about the market may contact the Market Manager Elwood Tressler at (814) 662-2625 or Stephen Prosser at (301) 895-3315.

Safety Clinics On Watercraft Slated At Lake

In recognition of National Safe Boating Week, May 20-26, the Maryland Department of Natural Resources and All Seasons Motorsports, an authorized Kawasaki Jet-Ski dealer, will be conducting a personal watercraft safety clinic this Saturday, May 27, from 1-4 p.m. at Deep Creek Lake State Park. Cost is the $2 per person service charge at the park.

Participants will be familiarized with operating procedures, watch demonstrations, and get a chance to take a ride on a personal watercraf., In addition, the first 30 people who sign up and complete a Personal Watercraft Safety Course will receive a free Kawasaki lifevest.

For more information, persons may call Deep Creek Lake State Park at (301) 387-5563.

Post Offices To Be Closed Monday

Offices of the United States Postal Service will be closed Monday, May 29, in observance of the Memorial Day holiday, according to Richard W. Rudez, District Manager, Customer Service and Sales, for the Post Service's Baltimore District.

Delivery services on the holiday are limited to Special Delivery and Express Mail. Stamps are available at over 50 24-hour self-service postal units in postal lobbies across Maryland, including those of the Oakland and Mtn. Lake Park post offices.

Northern GOP Women To Meet

The Northern Garrett County Republican Women's Club will meet at Hill Top Inn in Grantsville on Tuesday, May 30, at 7 p.m. Domenic Cagluiso, of Key Investor Services Laughlin Group Advisors, Inc., will be the guest speaker.

All members and all other interested Republicans are invited to attend.

Tree-Mendous Wins National Project Award

Maryland Department of Natural Resources Secretary John R. Griffin this week congratulated Tree-Mendous Maryland, a DNR Forest Service program, which recently received the 1995 Project Award from the National Arbor Day Foundation at ceremonies in Nebraska City, Neb.

"This award recognizes the efforts of the 200,000 volunteers from every county in Maryland who have worked with the Tree-Mendous Maryland program to plant trees and improve our forest resources," Mr. Griffin said. "It also demonstrates that Maryland continues to be a national leader in forming partnerships with business, private organizations, and volunteers to improve the quality of life in communities across the state."

The 1995 Project Award honors Tree-Mendous Maryland for helping Maryland residents to plant, care for, and maintain trees to restore and protect the environment. Since its inception in 1989, the program has worked with volunteers to plant more than 5.5 million trees and seedlings.

Trees have been planted on state, county, local, and community properties in every county and in Baltimore City. Plantings have taken place along highways, at parks, and on public open spaces. The program has also improved stream buffers to help prevent sediment and silt from getting into the Chesapeake Bay and its tributaries. Tree-Mendous Maryland has also been involved with environmental remediation projects designed to restore lost trees.

For information about Tree-Mendous Maryland, persons may call the local DNR Forest Service office or (410) 974-3776.

Oakland Chapter Holds Initiation

Oakland Chapter No. 67, Order of the Eastern Star, met Tuesday, May 16, at the Paul B. Naylor Masonic Temple in Oakland.

Delmar Sliger, Worthy Patron, led all in the pledge of the allegiance and singing the National Anthem. Worthy Matron Elizabeth Daniels opened with a reading, "I Believe," by Theodore Roosevelt, and then greeted Wilda Hile, Deputy Grand Lecturer; Betty Foy, Grand Representative to South Dakota; Past Matrons, Past Patrons, officers and members, of Oakland Chapter, and Brothers holding Masonic Honors.

The degrees of the Order were conferred on Mrs. Peg Doyle, and a Mother's Day program titled "I'll Love You Forever" was presented with each mother receiving a flower from the chapter.

A school of instruction will be held in Frostburg, on June 3 at 1:30 for all members. A school for the Associate Matrons and Associate Patrons will be held at 11 a.m. with a luncheon to follow at noon.

The next meeting will be held on June 6 with a program honoring fathers. Signs and passes will be reviewed.

Mrs. Daniels closed with a reading "The Love of a Mother" and refreshments were served by Kitty Stewart and committee.

Dyck To Speak At Cherry Glade Mennonite Church

Peter J. Dyck will be the guest speaker at the Cherry Glade Mennonite Church, Accident, June 2-4.

Friday and Saturday evening services will begin at 7:30 p.m. Sunday morning service will begin at 10:45 a.m., Sunday afternoon service will be held at 1:30 p.m., and the Sunday evening service will start at 7:30 p.m.

Topics for the weekend event, which is open to the public, will include "The Roots and Wings of Mennonite Central Committee" on Friday, "How Do You Bring About Change?" on Saturday, "When Is Service Christian?" on Sunday morning, "Passing on the Faith" on Sunday afternoon, and "Rooting and Uprooting" on Sunday evening.

Dyck was born in the Soviet Union and emigrated to Canada with his family when he was 12. He received his master of divinity degree from Bethany Theological Seminary, Chicago.

During World War II, Dyck served with the Mennonite Central Committee in England. After the war, Dyck and his wife Elfrieda, another Canadian MCC worker, were transferred to Holland to work with refugees.

Dyck served as pastor of the Eden Mennonite Church, Moundridge, Kan., from 1950 to 1957. In 1957 the Dycks returned to Europe to direct the MCC program there and in North Africa. After ten years he was transferred to Akron, Pa., where he continued with MCC until his retirement in 1982.

Dyck is the author of the following five books: A Leap of Faith, Up From the Rubble (co-authored with Elfrieda,) The Great Shalom, Shalom at Last, and Storytime Jamboree.

PROMOTION COUNCIL MARKS 40TH YEAR - The Deep Creek Lake-Garrett County Promotion Council, founded 40 years ago in the spring of 1955, hosted its annual membership dinner and meeting recently at the Will O' the Wisp restaurant. During the event, the council reviews the past year's accomplishments and plans new projects for the coming year. Guest speaker at the dinner meeting was Maryland Lieutenant Governor Kathleen Kennedy Townsend, who discussed the importance of tourism to Garrett County and Maryland. Pictured left to right are council secretary Helen Neel, council employee Marge Evans, manager of Wisp Resort and council President Jerry Geisler, council Executive Director Diane Wolfe, Townsend, and council employees Bill Sipple and Ed Bender.

Randolph Lake Memorial Day Schedule Noted

The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers has announced the activities planned for the Memorial Day weekend at Jennings Randolph Lake.

Nature movies will be shown Saturday, May 27, and Sunday, May 28, at the amphitheater located in the Robert W. Craig Campground at 9 p.m. The general public is welcome.

For the campers' daytime enjoyment, the campground also features sandbox and playground for the children; a 3/4-mile tree identification trail; Sunset Trail, which is a 1.2 miles down-and-back trail that offers a panoramic view of the dam and lake; horseshoe pits, and basketball court. Sports equipment is available upon request.

In addition to the evening programs in the campground, tours of the intake control tower will be conducted on Sunday from 2 to 4 p.m. All those people who are interested in how the project operates to improve water quality along the North Branch of the Potomac River, supplies water downstream, and prevents downstream flooding, are invited to meet the rangers at the West Virginia Overlook.

For further information concerning the lake or camping, persons may call 304-355-2346 or 301-359-3861, Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Farming In Maryland.....

Farm Bureau Says Voluntary Species Protection Needed

Farmers and ranchers need a reauthorized Endangered Species Act that recognizes the rights of property owners and relies on voluntary species management activities, Farm Bureau told a House Resources panel.

"It is our hope that congress will write an Endangered Species Act that farmers and ranchers embrace, not fear," said American Farm Bureau Federation President Dean Kleckner. "Farmers and ranchers do not want to see any plant or animal species become extinct. But, not many of our members want to find endangered species on their property with all the restrictions and red tape that go along with it. That is sad, and I think that is a clear indication that the act has failed."

Appearing before the Resource Committee's Endangered Species Task Force, Kleckner told members that Farm Bureau has many ideas for positive changes to the law to "make it work for people, plants and animals alike." He said farmers and ranchers take pride in the crops and livestock they grow, and that pride could be tapped for the protection of endangered and threatened species, if the law allows it.

"Farmers and ranchers will serve as this nation's foremost stewards, conserving species when they know their ability to continue as farmers and ranchers will not be threatened by species protection," Kleckner said. "When those in agriculture feel no threat from the Endangered Species Act, we will hear the pride of a Texas hill country rancher that the number of golden-cheeked warblers on his land is increasing. We will know the act is working when farmers and ranchers in Montana, Wyoming and the Dakotas want to know how to establish black-footed ferret colonies on their property--thus assisting an endangered species and naturally controlling prairie dogs."

Kleckner told the task force that formation of a voluntary Critical Habitat Reserve Program, similar to the Conservation Reserve Program, would be beneficial for landowners and species.

Under the voluntary approach, Kleckner said, farmers and ranchers would maximize and enhance the habitat of endangered plant and animal species that reside on their lands. The landowners would implement plans for listed species that "focus on the active enhancement of the species instead of relying on the blanket use of prohibitions."

Another idea involving agriculture is the commercial propagation of endangered species--particularly plant species that might be valuable for medical purposes. Kleckner said farmers who excel at commercial crop production would have the skills to succeed at endangered plant production.

Kleckner told the panel that compensation should be paid to landowners if their land values decrease because of species protection activities. But, Kleckner said, if the new law is written properly, compensation could well become a moot point. "If congress is steadfast and innovative in providing incentives for landowners, compensation becomes the last resort, but one that is needed to ensure that all stakeholders in species protection work toward a management plan that is fair to everyone," Kleckner said.

FB Explains Use Of Farm Truck Tags

Often farmers have questions regarding the use of a "farm truck" tag, or farm truck registration. Currently in Maryland there are approximately 9,000 farm trucks and farm truck tractors registered in the state. According to Farm Bureau's Public Affairs Department, the use of the farm truck tag is restricted to just farmers who transport farm products and the labor, supplies, equipment and other materials necessary for the operation of a farm.

Since the tag is restricted, there are also prohibited uses.

1.) A farm truck or farm truck tractor may not be used for hire except to haul farm products for another farmer.

2.) A farm truck or farm truck tractor may not be used in any manner other than as a farm truck or tractor.

3.) A farm truck or tractor may not be used to haul products acquired by a farmer for resale or to haul farm products for hire for another person who is not a farmer.

Advantages of having the restricted farm truck registration include:

* Reduced registration fees. Registration fees for farm trucks range from $2.75 to $3.00 per thousand pounds, where as the registration fees for other Class E trucks range from $4.75 to $11.75 per thousand pounds.

* Exemption from the International Registration Plan (IRP).

* Exemption from sales and use tax. The sale to a farmer of a vehicle used only in the farming business is exempt. Replacement parts and additional equipment for these vehicles are also exempt.

The reduced registration fees and exemptions have been granted by the state due to farm trucks operating on a seasonal basis, operating only a few miles annually and operating to transport agriculture products to market. Abuse and violations regarding the use of the farm truck tag could encourage removal of such exemptions.

Wetlands Reserve Program Sign-up Begins May 30

Maryland landowners can have their wetlands and be paid for them, too. The USDA's Natural Resources Conservation Service (formerly the Soil Conservation Service) will conduct a sign up for the Wetlands Reserve Program from May 30 to June 30 at local NRCS offices.

The Wetlands Reserve Program is available to Maryland landowners who agree to grant permanent easements to USDA in exchange for a one-time payment. It is targeting enrollment of wetlands which were converted to agricultural uses (for example, cropland or pasture) before 1985.

The easements will set limits on the future use of the land. They will protect the land's wetland values while maintaining private ownership. The easements will become part of the property deed binding future owners of the land to the same terms and conditions agreed to by the present landowner. The easements will not require landowners to allow public access to their land.

Anne Lynn, NRCS state biologist, says a landowner will be paid the lesser of three amounts in exchange for a permanent easement: a geographical area cap; an appraisal of the agricultural value of the site; or a bid submitted by the landowner. In addition, NRCS will pay 75 percent of the costs to restore the previously converted wetlands. Other cost sharing may be available to pay the remaining 25 percent restoration costs.

Nationally, about 75,000 acres have already been accepted into the Wetlands Reserve Program through previous sign-ups in states that pilot-tested the program. Maryland was not chosen as a pilot state. The current sign-up, from May 30 to June 30, is extended to all 50 states, Guam and Puerto Rico because of the success of the pilot program and the response from landowners who desire to protect and conserve their wetlands. USDA expects to enroll about 120,000 acres this year with the $92 million budgeted for the program.

Lynn says land accepted into the Wetlands Reserve Program will be ranked according to each site's environmental benefits in relation to the easement and restoration costs. The Department of Interior's Fish and Wildlife Service will assist NRCS in determining the environmental quality of the acres offered by landowners.

"Each tract will be competing with other Maryland tracts for acceptance into the program," Lynn says. "However, we expect several sign-ups over the next several years so landowners will have several chances to participate."

Lynn says the process for selecting sites and finalizing easements is time consuming because of the work involved to conduct title searches, get appraisals, etc.

"Landowners should know sometime in August whether their application has been accepted, but it could be eight to 12 months from the time they sign up before they receive payment," she says.

Wetland areas are increasingly considered to be valuable because they: improve water quality by filtering sediments and chemicals; reduce flooding; supply critical wildlife habitat; and furnish educational, scientific, recreational and aesthetic benefits for people.

" This is a good opportunity for landowners who would prefer to return some of their cropland back to wetland," Lynn says. "There is a public benefit, too, in improved water quality, floodwater control and wildlife habitat."

For further information on the Wetlands Reserve Program, landowners should contact the NRCS district conservationist at their county Soil Conservation District Offices.

Cattle Production and Income On Increase In Md.

Maryland's January 1, 1995 cattle and calf inventory totaled 315,000 head; an increase of 15,000 head from a year earlier. The calf crop was unchanged at 127,000 calves born in 1993 and 1994. Inshipments, at 8,000 head, declined 1,000 head from 1993 to 1994. Farm slaughter was unchanged at 3,000 for the past several years. Death loss amounted to 16,000 head; up 1,000 from a year earlier. Marketings declined from 133,000 head in 1993 to 101,000 head during 1994. This decline partly was at the expense of the increase inventory.

Cash receipts from cattle and calf marketings, at $47,700,000, declined 40 percent from 1993 to 1994. The volume of marketings declined as well as the average price of cattle from 1993 to 1994. Cattle prices averaged $49 during 1994, a decrease of almost $15 per hundredweight (cwt). At the same time average calf prices also declined to $88.20 for a change of $5.30 per cwt.

SPECIAL AWARD WINNERS -- Special awards were presented to members of the Mt. Top Saddle Club at their recent awards banquet. Above, left, Brooke Mace holds the Bobby Bornschlegel Memorial Trophy. This trophy is awarded to the year-end high point winner of the Small Fry Division. Bobby was an inspiration to the 4-H Riding for the Exceptional Equestrian Handicapped Riding Program. Center above is Betty Harman, whose horse, Dandy Sneaker, is the winner of the Pam Miske Memorial Trophy. This trophy is a rotating award to the horse with the most combined points in the English and Hunter divisions. At the right is Danielle Harman holding the John D. Downin Youth Challenge Trophy which was awarded to her for the most points in youth classes. Col. Downin is a longtime friend of Garrett County's horsemen.

Planting Lagging Behind Normal

For the week ending May 21, recent rains have put planting of field crops and vegetables behind schedule. Across the state, topsoil moisture was 87 percent adequate and 13 percent surplus. Subsoil moisture was 12 percent short, 83 percent adequate, and five percent surplus. Conditions allowed for an average of 3.6 days suitable for fieldwork. The first cutting of other hay and alfalfa is also running behind normal because of wet field conditions.

Farmers made good progress with the planting of crops and vegetables during the time available. Small grain crops were in fair to mostly good condition. Wheat heading was still ahead of normal, while rye heading was running behind normal. Barley heading was virtually complete and turning was well underway. Corn and soybean planting was at a slightly below average pace. Vegetable planting was still behind normal. Planting of green peas is virtually complete. Cucumbers, lima beans, and snap beans were all running behind average. Sweet potato planting was underway. Apples continued to bloom, but have not yet reached 90 percent, which is behind normal. Strawberries continued to bloom and harvest has begun. Pastures were mostly good to excellent with eight percent reported as fair, 62 percent good, and 30 percent excellent.

Maryland's progress for the week ending May 21 was as follows, listing the item, this week's percentage, last week's percentage, last year's percentage, and a percentage for the 5-year average.

Small Grains Progress: Wheat, heading, 96, 66, 71, 78; Barley, turned, 15, 0, 28, 32. Planting progress: Corn, field, 80, 67, 82, 81; Soybeans 12, 5, 14, 15; Sweet Corn 59, 53, 62, 62; Watermelons 51, 42, 70, 69; Tomatoes 61, 54, 78, 76; Cantaloupe 56, 48, 73, 72. Haymaking: Alfalfa, first cutting, 10, 4, 32, 32; Other hay, first cutting, 12, 4, 17, 17. Fruit Crops: Apples, bloomed, 87, 85, 99, 99; Strawberries, bloomed, 95, 87, 90, 94; harvested, 9, 0, 13, 13.

WEATHER

Maryland weather for the week ending May 19 had above normal temperatures and precipitation. Temperatures averaged 65.4 degrees, 2.4 degrees above the normal of 63.0 degrees for the week of May 12 through May 19. The low temperature for the week was 33 degrees at Oakland. The high temperature was 86 degrees at Patuxent. Precipitation averaged 1.45 inches, 0.62 inch above the normal of 0.83 inch. Precipitation ranged from 0.78 inch at Patuxent to 2.29 inches at College Park.

In 1930 it took a farmer six to eight hours to produce an acre of corn using horses and early tractors.

To Raise Heifers -- Or Not To Raise Heifers

That is the question! In the dairy business it is very important to have a good steady supply of "top-notch" heifers to bring into the milking line. Without this steady supply, one is more apt to keep problem cows in the milking line, generally resulting in increased costs and less bulk tank milk. The key factor here is to have a supply of heifers that are better, or at least equal, to the cow that is being replaced.

Over the years, I have seen replacement heifers of all shapes and conditions going into the milking line. Some dairies actually regress backwards in genetics and animal quality. If you're not producing heifers that are of good quality, then you should step back and take a closer look at your managements. Economist tells us that the average cost of raising a replacement heifer is between $1,000 and $1,300. Also, that she should be ready to milk at 24 months of age. Therefore, if your costs are above $1,300 and the calving is beyond 24 months, you probably should be buying your replacement heifers.

Unfortunately, heifers are "second-rate citizens" on many dairy farms. They get the left-over and the lower quality feed. But, wouldn't it make sense that these heifers should receive the same "loving care" as the milking cow? The replacement heifer is your future. She determines progress.

If you're raising replacement heifers, feeding for optimum growth is a high priority goal. The following standards may help you measure if you are on track: (Holsteins) 1) Ready to breed at 13 months of age, weighing around 800 pounds and 48 inches high at the shoulders; 2) at 18 months she should be around 52 inches at the shoulders; 3) at 24 months (calving time) she should be around 54 inches at the shoulders.

Last, but not least, you should be keeping accurate cost records on replacement heifers. Good decisions cannot be made without good, accurate cost records.

Crop Notes

* There is a lot of alfalfa being cut this week that looks pretty good. In Garrett county the next cutting should be around 40 days. I would recommend that you scout the second growth often for the presence of the potato leafhopper. In our area the leafhopper causes more economic damage then any other factor.

* There appears to be an excellent crop of wild mustard in the small grains this year. If the mustard is less than three inches, you can get fair control with 2,4-DB. For larger mustard plants you may have to use MCPA at 0.5 to one pint per acre. MCPA can damage legumes. Use the lower rate if the small grain is inter-seeded.

* There are plenty of insects to infest fruits this year. Be sure to scout often and treat, if needed.

Important Agricultural Survey To Begin Soon

A major survey of the nation's farms and ranches will be conducted during the first half of June by the National Agricultural Statistics Service (NASS) of the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

The June Agricultural Survey is the first and largest of a series of surveys conducted throughout the year. The surveys are designed to assess crop and livestock production and inventories. A sample of about 125,000 farmers and ranchers nationwide will provide information to be used in making state, regional, and national estimates. About 1,500 farmers in West Virginia will be contacted by the West Virginia Agricultural Statistics Service. Local interviewers will contact the participants in the survey by telephone or in person. Farmers selected for the survey will soon be notified by mail.

"This survey provided the crucial information needed to make reliable crop and livestock estimates, which contribute to an orderly marketing system," said David Loos, who heads the West Virginia Agricultural Statistics Service. "Such a system is essential to everyone involved in agriculture."

After results of the survey have been compiled and analyzed at NASS headquarters, the information will appear in a series of reports prepared by USDA's Agricultural Statistics Board. Survey participants will receive a copy of the Mountain State Reporter, which will contain results for their state and the nation. This report will be mailed in late July.

The 125,000 farmers and ranchers expected to participate in the June survey were selected at random from 2.1 million farms nationwide. "The cooperation of West Virginia farmers is needed to ensure our state is fully represented in the national picture," Loos said.

To assure a geographic spread of the sample, a portion of those surveyed are selected from specific "segments" or land units in each state. Facts about an individual's farm or ranch are strictly confidential and used only in combination with reports from other farmers to produce agricultural statistics for West Virginia and the nation.

For further information, contact Dennis Belderes, Agricultural Statistician, West Virginia Department of Agriculture, Charleston, West Virginia 25305, or by calling 1-800-535-7088.

Western Md. 4-H/FFA Spring Show Planned

Garrett County will be hosting the Annual Western Maryland 4-H/FFA Spring Show on Saturday, June 17, at the Garrett County Fairgrounds at McHenry. The public is invited to attend the show which will include baby beef, veal, sheep, dairy, dogs and rabbits. The sheep, veal, and rabbit shows are scheduled to start at 9 a.m. and other shows will follow during the morning hours.

The dairy goat show of the Western Maryland 4-H/FFA Spring Show will be held June 17 in Cumberland.

In conjunction with the Spring Show, the Garrett County Livestock Association will be holding the weigh-in and tagging of market lambs and hogs for the Garrett County 4-H/FFA members on both Friday evening and Saturday morning.

A swine fitting and showing demonstration will be held Friday evening, June 16, at 7:30 p.m. Also Friday evening Eric Bowser will be available to shear project animals for the 4-H and FFA members.

The Livestock Association will be sponsoring a Swap Shop and sale of equipment and supplies for 4-H/FFA livestock projects from 4-9 p.m. on Friday. Four-H Clubs and FFA Chapters as well as individuals are invited to donate items or set up tables for this fund raiser. Proceeds from the sale goes to the 4-H/FFA Scholarship Fund sponsored by the Garrett County Livestock Association.

All members with projects in sheep, beef, dairy, rabbits and veal are encouraged to participate in the show and activities, and they are reminded to return the pre-registration papers for the show by Monday, June 5. For additional information, those interested should contact the Extension Office at 334-1990.

Acreage Reports More Important Than Ever

Farmers are reminded that their crop insurance and certain U.S. Department of Agriculture benefits are in jeopardy, if they fail to file their planted acreage reports on time.

The reminder, from Michael R. Kozier of the Garrett County Consolidated Farm Service Agency, said that crop insurance acreage reports must be signed by the insured or a designated agent by the required deadline, which differs by crop and locality.

Acreage reports for farm program purposes must still be filed at the CFSA office: however, crop insurance acreage reports must also be filed with the insurance provider. If insured through a private crop insurance agent, the crop insurance acreage report must be submitted to that agent. If farmers purchased the basic, catastrophic insurance coverage (CAT) through the CFSA office, they can sign their crop insurance acreage reports at the same time they report acreage for farm program purposes, Kozier said.

The other major risk management program, termed the Noninsured Crop Disaster Assistance Program (NAP), applies only to those crops for which insurance is not available. NAP provides a comparable level of benefits as that offered under CAT, but no premiums are charged. Planted acreage of NAP-covered crops must be reported on time to the CFSA office, or no NAP benefits will be paid if a crop loss occurs.

The CAT and NAP coverages replace the ad hoc disaster programs of past years. Unlike previous disaster programs, however, they require timely reports of planted acreage to receive benefits.

Acreage reporting dates for crop insurance and NAP in Garrett County are: insured oats - May 31; insured corn - July 17; all other crops, including barley, wheat, hay, fruits and vegetables, noninsured corn and oats - July 17.

All producers, even those not currently participating in USDA programs, are encouraged to report their crops. Questions about these programs can be answered at the Garrett County CFSA Office in Oakland or by calling 334-1901.

Maryland Milk Production Up

Maryland dairy operators produced 120 million pounds of milk during March 1995, up six percent from the same month a year earlier. The number of milk cows were unchanged at 93,000 head compared with the year earlier number. Yield per cow, at 1,290 pounds, increased six percent from last year. Last year's average output per cow during March was 1,215 pounds. Farmers fed an average of 15.0 pounds of grain and concentrates to each cow on April 1, 1995, down 0.6 pound from the year earlier ration. In 1995 the value of this feed was $9.20 per 100 pounds compared with the 1994 value of $9.30.

TERMS OF SALE: Cash (no checks) on the day of sale of the full amount of taxes due on the property sold, together with interest, penalties and expenses of sale. Residue of purchase price shall remain on credit.

Purchasers will be issued a certificate of sale, which may be recorded among the Land Records of Garrett County. The holder of any certificate of sale, his heirs or assigns, may at any time after the expiration of six months from the date of sale, file a bill of complaint to foreclose all rights of redemption of the property to which such certificate relates. Unless a proceeding to foreclose the right of redemption is filed within two years of the date of the certificate of sale, the certificate shall be void and all rights to the holder of the certificate shall cease and all money received by the Treasurer on account of said sale shall be deemed forfeited. Upon foreclosure and payment of the balance of the purchase price and all taxes, interest, penalties and costs, which have accrued, in the meantime, the Treasurer will execute a deed which will vest in the purchaser an absolute and indefeasible title in fee simple in the property, free and clear of all alienations and descents.

The right of redemption continued until foreclosed as above, upon payment of the whole amount of money received by the Treasurer from the sale of the property, together with interest at 10 percent (10%) per annum from the date of sale to the date of redemption together with all taxes, interest and penalties accrued which have been paid by the holders of the certificate of sale and the total disbursements of the holder of the certificate of sale made in accordance with law. All costs as to examination of title, preparation and deed. Court costs and other expenses accruing after the sale must be assumed by the purchaser.

ALL BIDDERS MUST REGISTER AT THE TREASURER'S OFFICE PRIOR TO THE SALE.

Chesapeake Bay Health Improving

According to the 1995 State of the Bay report prepared by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency's Chesapeake Bay Program (CBP), the Chesapeake Bay is improving steadily in many areas and dramatically in others. Some of the good news for the bay includes a 75 percent increase in underwater bay grasses since 1978 and record breaking numbers of juvenile striped bass. A representative from the CBP office noted that after 12 years of effort by government, farmers, development, watermen and private citizens to protect and restore the bay, it looks like the bay is coming back.

Data from this report show that the efforts to reduce nitrogen, phosphorus and sediment entering into the bay are working, and water quality is improving. Inputs of nitrogen, phosphorus and sediment from the bay's rivers are declining, but levels of nitrogen are not dropping as fast as phosphorus. The levels of dissolved oxygen remain steady. According to the report, these are positive signs, especially in the face of continued stress from an expanding population and changing land use in the Chesapeake Bay Watershed.

The report cited several trends, including the continuing shift to more urban/suburban land use in the bay's watershed. Population, the report said, is the single most important factor underlying the various stresses on the bay's ecosystem. The State of the Bay also noted that the two largest contributors of nitrogen and phosphorus entering the bay are point sources, such as wastewater treatment plants and agriculture.

Maryland Hog Production Declines

Maryland's December 1, 1994 hog and pig inventory totaled 120,000 head, a decline of 50,000 from a year earlier. The pig crop was down six percent with 319,000 pigs weaned in 1994 versus 338,000 pigs in 1993. Inshipments numbered 7,000 which was down 1,000 from the previous year. Farm slaughter was unchanged at 4,000. Death loss for 1994 was 13,000 for a decline of 4,000. Marketings in 1994 totaled 359,000 head compared with 335,000 in 1993.

Cash receipts from hog and pig marketings, at $28,564,000, declined three percent from 1993 to 1994. The volume of marketings increased and the 1994 average price of $36.70 per hundredweight was off $4.50 from 1993 to 1994.

Farm Bureau YF&R Contest Prizes, Topics Announced

Entrants in the American Farm Bureau Federation's 1996 Young Farmer and Rancher award programs can begin dreaming of the exciting prizes they can win when they start preparing for this year's contest. Among the prizes are 1996 Dodge pickup trucks, which will be presented to the top winners of the YF&R Achievement Award and Discussion Meet contests.

The winners of both contests will be determined during AFBF's 77th annual meeting in Reno, Nev., January 6-12, 1996.

In addition to a 1996 Dodge 3400 4x4 pickups, the Achievement Award winner will receive a one-year subscription to the Farm Bureau ACRES market information and analysis program and paid registration to the 1996 YF&R Leadership Conference in St. Louis. The four runner-ups will each receive use of a new Case IH tractor for 250 hours, or until November 30, 1996. The Case IH winners will have the option of buying the equipment at the end of the award period.

The top Discussion Meet winner will be awarded a Dodge Dakota Club Cab 4x4 pickup truck, and will receive paid registration to the Leadership Conference. Each of the runners-up will be presented a $6,000 U.S. savings bond, courtesy of Cummins Diesel.

The Discussion Meet competition is open to all Farm Bureau members between the ages of 18 and 30. Participants first compete at the county and state levels, with the state winners advancing to the national competition at the annual meeting. All national contestants in both contests will receive an inscribed plaque.

Dodge is sponsoring the contests at the state level, and will provide $500 cash awards for each contest held by the state Farm Bureaus that are participating in the Dodge truck rebate program.

For more information on the contests, interested persons should contact your state Farm Bureau.

Topics

Here are the topics for this year's Discussion Meet.

* How does tax policy affect the future of American agriculture? How do estate taxes affect a farm's future? What changes need to be made in current tax pol-icies to secure profitability? What legislation has been useful?

* Should the U.S. continue foreign aid? Should foreign aid exist? Is so, what form and what purpose? Is foreign aid good for American agriculture? Does it help create our future competitor or future markets? Where does it rank compared to our domestic needs? Where should charity start--at home or abroad?

* What are the implications of the trend toward non-family farms vs. family operations? What is the future of the family farm? What role does vertical integration play? Can family farms compete with corporate non-family farms as we approach the year 2000?

* What should education reform include? Is outcome-based education appropriate? Who should teach morals: parents or teachers? What is the parent's/citizen's role in determining curriculum? Should schools be required to provide education in a native language? Is so, who should provide for additional teachers and materials?

Maryland Egg Production Noted

Maryland laying flocks produced 85 million eggs during March 1995, of which 75 million were table eggs and 10 million were hatching eggs. The rate of lay was 71.7 percent. The average number of layers on hand during March 1995 was 3,823,000. As of April 1, 1995, six percent of the layers in Maryland were being molted and 23.5 percent were through a molt.

All layers in the U.S. on April 1, 1995, totaled 294 million, compared with 291 million a year ago. The 294 million layers consisted of 242 million layers producing table or commercial type eggs, 49.4 million layers producing broiler-type hatching eggs, and 2.94 million layers producing egg-type hatching eggs, Rate of lay per day on April 1, averaged 71.0 eggs per 100 layers, up one percent from the 70.6 eggs a year ago. Egg-type chicks hatched during March totaled 34.8 million, up four percent from March 1994. Eggs in incubators totaled 33.1 million on April 1, up two percent from a year ago. The March 1995 hatch of broiler-type chicks, at 677 million, was six percent above March of the previous year. There were 559 million eggs in incubators on April 1, up six percent from a year earlier.

FB Calls For Passage Of Food Quality Protection Act

The nation's largest farm organization is calling for quick action on legislation (H.R. 1627) to modernize the nation's food safety laws.

"Passage of the Food Quality Protection Act is a top priority for farmers and ranchers," said American Farm Bureau Federation President Dean Kleckner. "Without this legislation, we will continue to operate under the unrealistic, outdated standards of the 1958 Delaney Clause, the zero-risk provision which will mean the loss of vital crop protection tools for farmers."

The Delaney Clause is an amendment to the federal Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act that bars any trace of any additive or pesticide residue in processed food if the substance has been found to cause cancer in laboratory animals. "Most scientists agree this standard is obsolete due to the great advances in science in 37 years," Kleckner noted. "Scientists now can detect residues measured in parts per trillion, a minute amount that doesn't pose any health risk yet is still subject to the Delaney standard."

Kleckner said the measure introduced by House Agriculture Committee Chairman Pat Roberts (R-Kan.) and Commerce Committee Chairman Thomas Bliley (R-Va.) would also overhaul the Federal Insecticide, Fungicide and Rodenticide Act, the nation's basic pesticide-control law, making it easier to remove unsafe products and to protect infants and children from pesticide residues in their diet.

In addition, the bill would eliminate the regulatory barriers that in recent years have caused chemical manufacturers to give up product registrations for chemicals used on so-called "minor" crops. The measure also would establish national uniformity for food pesticide residues.

The bill introduced by Roberts and Bliley has 60 original co-sponsors. A similar measure in the last congress also had widespread support, garnering 224 co-sponsors.

"Comprehensive reform of our pesticide laws, especially the Delaney Clause, is long overdue," said Kleckner. "This is our best chance in many years to improve and maintain farmers' access to needed crop protection tools and to improve the safety of the food supply for consumers."

MDA Hosts Kyrgyzstan Visitors

Maryland Deputy Secretary of Agriculture Dr. Henry A. Virts and the staff of the Maryland Department of Agriculture hosted visitors from Kyrgyzstan (formerly part of the Soviet Union) May 15. Visiting Maryland were Jumgalbek Amanbaev, deputy prime minister of agriculture affairs; Leonid Khodyachikh, deputy minister of agriculture; Ms. Gulbara Umetova, deputy director of the Government Stock Company; and Almas Chukin, Charge D'Affaires at the Kyrgyzstan Embassy in Washington, D.C.

"During the last year, we have been privileged in Maryland to establish a strong agricultural relationship with the people of Kyrgyzstan. Last year, we hosted some twenty Kyrgyzstan agricultural leaders for three weeks in Maryland. I then visited Kyrgyzstan and found the poeple overwhelmingly friendly and eager to learn about our agriculture. This visit of the deputy prime minister of agriculture affairs and the deputy minister of agriculture continues the exchange of both friendship and agricultural ideas," said Virts.

Maryland is one of the national leaders in establishing agricultural agreements and exchange programs with the new republics resulting from the break up of the Soviet Union and the emerging democracies of Eastern Europe.

In 1867 barbed wire was invented.

Maryland Earns Grant For Organic Farming

Maryland Secretary of Agriculture Lewis R. Riley has announced that the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Federal State Marketing Improvement Program (FSMIP) has awarded the Maryland Department of Agriculture a grant to determine the feasibility of establishing a cooperative to market organically grown local produce.

"Our organic farming program is growing in Maryland. We now have some 45 officially certified organic growers in the state and the number keeps growing. This grant will help us improve our efficiency in getting the organically grown local produce from the farmer to the consumer," Riley said.

The Maryland Department of Agriculture will match the grant which is for $49,812. The money will be used to sustain the growth of this new agriculture program, which the Maryland Department of Agriculture started in 1991 as the Maryland Organic Certification Program.

"The growth in the retail business for organic producers in the last several years, shows that more and more people are interested in purchasing organically grown fresh fruits and vegetables. This grant will help to improve the marketing of these commodities," said Riley.

For more information on the Maryland Organic Certification Program and the FSMIP grant, contact the Maryland Department of Agriculture, Marketing Services, 50 Harry S. Truman Parkway, Annapolis, MD 21401, or telephone (410) 841-5770.

NORTHERN MIDDLE STUDENTS HOST EGG HUNT - Members of Linda Wengerd's eight grade health li class, pictured above, were incorrectly identified as Southern Middle School students in last week's issue of The Republican. They are, in fact, Northern Middle School students, and they recently organized an Easter egg hunt for local children which raised $74 for House of Hope. Pictured in the front row, left to right, are David Platter, Justin Heslop, Jeff Carr, Craig Kamp, and Sorinne Ardeleanu. In the second row, same order, are Jason Patterson, Erika Kahl, Chris Kolher, and Ann Sebold. In the third row, same order, are Janelle Bender, Kelli Elliott, Laura Taylor, Seth Huber, and Kerry Ashby. In the back row, same order, are Cheri Whiteman, Krista Hummel, Josh Neubert, Mike Auvil, Craig Miller, Lee Railey, and John Carey. Not pictured are Laura Bowser, Brian Harvey, Gerrick Haynes, and Kristin Wright. The error is regretted.

WINS 50/50 DRAWING - Carolyn Shreve, left, was the winner of a recent 50/50 drawing, sponsored by the Ryan's Glade 4-H Club. Money raised from the drawing will be used to help members attend camp. Shreve donated a portion of her winnings back to the club. She is pictured above with Ray Cummings, club treasurer, as he presents her with the money. During a recent club meeting, Jeanine Cummings gave a demonstration on how to create a gift mug.

RED HOUSE
by Marcella Moreland, reporter

The May meeting was called to order by Aliza Green with 29 attending. Bonnie Riley led pledges. Lori Evans took roll and read the secretary's report. Andy Rounds gave the treasurer's report.

Our club voted to have June's meeting at 5:30. We will meet at the church, go to Stevie Knepp's for his demonstration, go to Emily Consner's for her and Becky Shipe's demonstration, and have a covered dish dinner with softball following dinner.

We also voted to go to the Pittsburgh zoo for our trip in July. Also voted on was insurance for our club members. Each member will pay $1 in June.

G.W. Beckman gave a demonstration on his meat birds and Aliza on making a bandanna neck tie.

A lamb project workshop was held at Allan Warsaw's farm with Aliza and Eli Green attending.

Local Eatery Receives Food Service Award

A Quality Food Service Award was recently presented to Rita Morgan, left, manager of Keyser's Ridge Truck Stop, by Tina Buckel, right, food service manager for the Garrett County Health Department.

"It is a pleasure to see such effort put into a food service facility," a health department spokesperson stated. "The public will benefit greatly by this."

After taking over the management of the facility in 1990, Morgan has made significant operational changes and renovations which have improved the quality of the restaurant dramatically," the spokesperson noted.

"The presentation of the Quality Food Service Award is extremely meaningful to a facility such as Keyser's Ridge Truck Stop... Sanitation and routine repair of equipment is a challenge to all facilities. The employees of Keyser's Ridge Truck Stop do an excellent job of maintaining a high level of sanitation especially for a facility which operates 24 hours a day," the spokesperson added.

In addition to Keyser's Ridge Truck Stop receiving its first Quality Food Service Award, two food service facilities, Casselman Restaurant and Hilltop Delite, each received renewal awards for continued quality of operations.

Report Suggests Not All Md. Grads Ready For College

Of Maryland high school graduates enrolling in Maryland community colleges in 1993, 47 percent required remediation in mathematics, 33 percent needed remediation in English, and 27 percent needed help in reading, a new report indicates.

The recent Student Outcome and Achievement Report (SOAR), produced by the Maryland Higher Education Commission, includes information about the 1993 graduates of Maryland high schools who entered Maryland colleges in the fall semester of that year.

The report shows that 61 percent of the 17,454 graduates that year entered community colleges, 32 percent enrolled at public four-year schools, and 6 percent at independent institutions.

The state remediation figures are similar to those of Garrett Community College for the same year. During the fall of 1993, 68 percent of the Maryland students entering GCC required remediation in math, 31 percent in English, and 9 percent in reading, according to the report.

At Allegany Community College that same year, 57 percent of Maryland students required remediation in math, 42 percent in English, and 14 percent in reading.

The SOAR findings are published each year by the Maryland Higher Education Commission to provide detailed information on the academic success of Maryland high school graduates who go to Maryland colleges and universities.

GARRETT COUNTY HABITAT FOR HUMANITY began its 13th year of service to the community during its annual meeting, May 15, at the Deep Creek Baptist Church. In operation since 1983, the organization has completed 27 new homes, and renovated another 110. Plans for 1995 include the building of two new homes, and the renovation of three to five others. Pictured above are Habitat's current officers and committee members, shown left to right, front row: Virginia Grove, outgoing president; Dick Staufenberger, president; Katherine Zimmerman, treasurer; and Duane Yoder, vice president; back row: Connie Margison, chairperson of the Family Selection Committee; Judy Finkel and Jan Finkel, new directors elected to the board; Ida Maust, chairperson of the Family Ministry Committee; and Christina Staufenberger, member of the Family Selection Committee. Not pictured are Skip Case and the Rev. Fred Simmel, who were elected to serve two-year terms; the Rev Rich Tepper, Willis Beitzel, Art Naylor, and the Rev. Charles Teets. Below, Vice President Yoder presents Grove with a plaque in honor of her dedicated service to the organization. Ms. Grove is a fifth grade school teacher at Broad Ford Elementary School. She has been an active member with the community for more than 25 years.

Bartlett Speaks On Term Limits, Ed. Standards

District VI Congressman Roscoe Bartlett recently issued comments on two issues, the debate over congressional term limits and the House's recent decision to eliminate the National Education Standards and Improvement Council.

In response to the U.S. Supreme Court's decision that statutes placing term limits on members of Congress are unconstitutional, Bartlett issued the following comments:

"I can't say that I am surprised by [this] Supreme Court decision.

"I believe that the public deserves the opportunity to consider whether to adopt term limits. That's why I voted for all four versions of constitutional amendments to impose term limits this spring. That's why I look forward to the opportunity to vote for term limits again in the next session of Congress.

"This decision does not end the debate over term limits. In the long run, I have great faith in the wisdom of the American people to assess whether term limits are necessary. However, the Supreme Court ruling means that they can only get that opportunity through the amendment process."

In the U.S House of Representatives, members voted recently to drop all education guidelines developed by the National Education Standards and Improvement Council (NESIC) and eliminated the council itself, which had been created under President Bill Clinton's Goals 2,000 program.

On this issue, Bartlett remarked, "I am relieved to see the beginning of the end of a bad experiment in federal government involvement in setting education curriculum.

"Initial recommendations by the NESIC for the study of U.S. history suggested that George Washington played a nonessential role in founding our nation. The suggested curricula also excluded prominent Americans such as Alexander Graham Bell, Thomas Edison, and the Wright Brothers, but included the founding dates of interest groups such as the Sierra Club.

"The overall premise of these standards was that our great nation is aggressive, oppressive, and tyrannical toward all of its people. While we should never shield our students from our sometimes-disagreeable history, it is outrageous for the federal government to have deliberately set out to demoralize and misinform students.

"In addition, though the standards were supposed to be voluntary, NESIC required schools to adopt the curriculum in order to be certified. Only our federal government could give the states a 'requirement' to follow 'voluntary' standards.

"That's why I introduced legislation to prevent the federal government from using more taxpayer dollars to force these standards on the American people."

NEW AND IMPROVED - The Loar Auxiliary Gift Shop of Garrett County Memorial Hospital now has a brand new look and atmosphere, thanks to the efforts of auxiliary members Shirley Panther, Eleanor Plachta and director of volunteer services Charlotte Bock. The newly renovated gift shop features new carpeting, shelving, slat walls and a wider selection of merchandise, "allowing merchandise to be displayed attractively," according to Panther and Plachta. New gift shop hours are: Monday through Friday, 10 a.m. until 8 p.m.; Saturday and Sunday, 1-4 p.m; and holidays, 1-4 p.m. The Loar Auxiliary is a volunteer organization that has been in existence almost as long as the hospital itself. It sponsors fundraising events which provide financial support to GCMH. Pictured above is the gift shop before renovations, left, and afterwards, right.

Let's Get Down To Business!

Home Pet Care/ Transportation

HomePetCare/Transportation introduces a new concept to pet boarding. Owner Dana Smoot asks if it wouldn't be great to go away on a long deserved vacation without the worries of finding quality care for your best friend. "This is why I have started a new pet service in Garrett County," she said.

Smoot says that as times change it feels like businesses keep getting more impersonal with less quality. "As a new mother wanting to start my own business, I felt these two characteristics should be the basis for starting a new business. The next step was to provide a useful service to local residents. The last step, and one of the most important, was to create a career doing something I love."

Smoot is experienced in her chosen career, as over the years her friends would ask her to take care of their pets and watch their homes while on vacation. "It was a good feeling knowing people wanted me to take care of their best friends," she says. "Even as a child living on a small farm, I loved helping my father tend to the animals."

Persons taking advantage of the services of Home Pet Care/Transportation like the fact that they can leave their pets in their own environment where they feel safe and comfortable. The fact that Home Pet Care will turn the house lights on and off or maybe check the temperature of the house are added safety features that make people choose Home Pet Care and leave for their trip feeling good about their decision.

Home Pet Care/Transportation will first set up an appointment to meet with the prospective client and their pets. During this meeting the care provider has a chance to get to know the pets and vice versa. This is also a perfect opportunity to discuss any special needs the care provider can offer the pets and the home.

At each visit, the pet will receive personal and quality care. The care provider will not only feed and walk each pet, but will also provide personal attention by playing and spending time with the pets.

Surprisingly Home Pet Care/Transportation's services are not expensive. Smoot adds, "I wanted to offer our residents this service at a price everyone could afford. Our prices are very competitive with pet boarding. We also offer a transportation service. For a small fee we will safely transport your pets to and from their appointments."

For more information, those interested should call Smoot at 387-2556. Senior citizens will receive a 15% discount on all pricing.

U.S. Navy Petty Officer 2nd Class Charles E. Graham, son of Fred J. and Sherry L. Graham, Star Route 2, Oakland, recently returned to Norfolk, Va., after completing a six-month overseas deployment aboard the guided missile cruiser USS Cape St. George, which included duty in the Adriatic Sea off the coast near Bosnia-Herzegovina.

Graham was one of the 400 sailors who completed the 31,000-mile voyage. Graham's ship was part of the USS Dwight D. Eisenhower Battle Group that included an aircraft carrier with fighters and attack aircraft, and ships and submarines armed with Tomahawk cruise missiles.

During the first part of the deployment, Graham and fellow shipmates traveled from the Mediterranean Sea to the Aegean Sea in response to growing tensions in the area.

Graham then traveled back to the Adriatic Sea, where the 567-foot ship patrolled the waters near Bosnia, helping enforce both the no-fly zone and the United Nations embargo. Graham's ship helped prevent ships from transporting prohibited materials to the former Yugoslavia.

While spending 135 days at sea, Graham visited Crete, Cyprus, Greece, Italy, Malta, Sicily, Spain, and Turkey. While in Malta, USS Cape St. George Sailors volunteered their free time to help clean up a house for the elderly and renovated a local school.

Graham and fellow sailors were awarded the Battle Efficiency award for their excellence in command and control, engineering, war fighting and damage control. Graham also participated in several multinational naval exercises designed to train allied units in combatting submarines, aircraft and surface ships.

With its Tomahawk cruise missiles and sophisticated air tracking radar, Graham's ship provided a formidable forward presence and could travel nearly 700 miles a day.

"Graham's involvement in the deployment is an example of how U.S. sailors are serving a board ships, submarines and aircraft carriers around the world from the Persian Gulf and Western Pacific Ocean to the Mediterranean Sea. Whether delivering humanitarian assistance, cargo, or troops from the sea, these highly-trained naval forces provide a unique on-scene presence and crisis-response option, which can be withdrawn quickly when no longer needed," stated a Navy spokesman.

Graham, a 1990 graduate of Southern High School, joined the Navy in September 1990.

Marine Pvt. James C. Strawser, son of Okey J. and Sheilah M. Strawser, Rt. 1, Terra Alta, W.Va., recently completed the 11 weeks of intensive training required to earn the title "Marine."

During the training conducted at Marine Corps Recruit Depot, Parris Island, S.C., Strawser completed a variety of challenging training evolutions designed to improve physical and mental strength.

In addition to the rigorous physical conditioning program, classroom instruction and practical application exercises, Strawser was introduced to the core values of the Marine Corps which include: honor, courage, and commitment. The importance of the core values were illustrated throughout the training which included customs, courtesies, Marine Corps history, and traditions.

Through teamwork and self-discipline Strawser became proficient in military skills including rifle marksmanship, uniform regulations, first aid and close-order drill.

Strawser is a graduate of Preston High School, Kingwood.

Fey Speaks To Math Teachers

Garrett County mathematics teachers participating in the U.S. Department of Education Math and Science grant program recently assembled to hear Dr. James Fey of the University of Maryland present a program on the historical development of mathematics education and on the training of teachers to use computer intensive algebra software.

Fey described the crisis, reform, and reaction cycle beginning in 1925 with excerpts from the writings of Raleigh Schorling, the first president of the National Council of Teachers of Education.

Fey and Kathleen Heid, a colleague from Penn State University, developed the text materials and computer software for the second presentation. The curriculum development, teacher preparation, evaluation, and research activities of the project had been jointly based at the University of Maryland and Pennsylvania State University.

The project was developed and field tested with a series of grants from the National Science Foundation and is now used nationally to support algebra I education in middle school and high school classrooms.

Fey focused on the topics of variables and functions and demonstrated modeling with mathematics. He introduced variables related to data in tables, graphs, and rules. Teachers built models of mathematical relations to be used in classrooms with students. Fey plans to return to Garrett County for a follow-up presentation in the fall.

Pastor To Host Couples' Clinic

The Couples' Clinic, a ministry of Pastor Bruce Knorpp of the Oakland Church of the Nazarene, will meet on Friday, June 2, at 7 p.m. at the church, which is located at the corner of Eighth and Alder streets.

The two and one-half hour seminar, which is offered free of charge, is designed to enhance healthy marriages and give aid to troubled ones, according to Pastor Knorpp. All are invited to attend.

Persons desiring more information may contact Pastor Knorpp at 334-9161.

Wiley Represents GCC As Member Of Academic Team

"I hope to make a difference some day" are the words of Keith Wiley, Garrett Community College student who was chosen to represent Garrett as a member of the All Maryland Community College Academic Team at a recent banquet in Annapolis.

Criteria for the award, according to Dean of Academic Affairs Dr. Lillian Mitchell, include academic scholarship, community involvement and leadership. Wiley, who will graduate from GCC this week, has been an honor student and member of Phi Theta Kappa, national honor society.

He plans to enter the University of Maryland in the fall to study political science. Claiming to have been influenced by the idealism of John F. Kennedy, Wiley believes that one person can make a difference.

His interest in politics has been spurred by his reading of biographies of former presidents and prominent Americans. He claims that the Autobiography of Malcolm X has made a lasting impression on him. At the same time, he admits to having been "turned on" to poetry -- especially the works of Byron, Keats, and Robert Frost.

When he isn't reading or studying, Wiley likes to hunt and fish, and he takes an active role in the Garrett County Democratic Club. He is the son of James and Virginia Wiley, Grantsville.

Counseling Group Transferred To Hospital Corp.

Jean James, owner and operator of Garrett Counseling, Inc., has announced her relocation from Garrett County and the transfer of her practice to the ownership of Garrett Community Health Services, Inc. Garrett Community Health Services is a new corporation owned by Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

"I felt an obligation to our clients that their needs should be met and that all the same quality services will continue to be available to them," James said. "I feel assured that the quality of care provided by Garrett Counseling will continue to exist under the new ownership."

The effective date for the transfer of ownership was Friday, May 19. Account balances owed for services rendered through May 19 are due and payable to Garrett Counseling, Inc., and are to be mailed to P.O. Box 147, Oakland, MD 21550. Services rendered after May 19 are payable to Garrett Community Health Services, Inc., at 317 East Oak Street, Oakland, MD 21550.

Sarbanes Reviews Cuts To Student Loans, Medicare

During a recent meeting of the Senate Budget Committee, Senator Paul Sarbanes offered some remarks as that body began consideration of the federal budget for the next fiscal year.

During his comments, Sarbanes questioned proposed cuts to federal student loan, school lunch, and Medicare programs, stating that such cuts should be given careful thought.

Sarbanes, who is a member of that committee, stated, in part, "In discussing the federal budget, some of my colleagues have mentioned the legacy we leave to the next generation, and that is a very important question. But the legacy to the next generation also involves nutrition programs, health care programs and education programs.

"What legacy is it to the next generation if a young student loses, or is denied the opportunity to a college education, because of cut backs in the student loan program? That's an opportunity lost. And for that person if that opportunity is eliminated, their chance for a positive future is severely impacted. I might also add that the society is severely hurt because we lose what the educated person, a person whose capacities and abilities have been developed to a greater degree, can contribute to the society. Other countries recognize this. Why have other advanced industrial countries developed systems that ensure that anyone with an ability can go on and get an education? Part of it is that they recognize what that person can then contribute to the society and the society is enhanced. Not only does the individual benefit from the education, but the society benefits as well.

"The same thing applies to health care and to nutrition programs. I think that one of the reasons why there was such a strong reaction in this country with respect to prospective cuts in the school lunch program was that these all represent investment in the future of our society. If we fail to make those investments, the next generation is not going to be stronger. It is going to be weaker as a consequence.

"With regard to Medicare, I know it is asserted that the actual dollar amounts for Medicare will not drop, but if the costs of medical care goes up faster and additional people are being added to the medicare rolls, the end result is you actually have a cut in services, and that is what senior citizens, with good reason, are apprehensive about. Now I'm frank to tell you, I fail to understand why increased cuts should be placed on the senior citizens in respect to their Medicare, in order, as the House does, to create room for a tax cut that goes primarily to the people at the upper end of the income scale. There is obviously no equity in that and we need to recognize that. These are tough decisions and we need to think them through very carefully."

Pittsburgh Band To Participate In Festival

The Allegheny and District Pipe Band of Pittsburgh will perform in concerts and massed bands performances during the 8th Annual McHenry Highland Festival on Saturday, June 3, at the Garrett County Fairgrounds in McHenry.

The band was formed just over a year ago by the merger of the Grove City Pipe Band under the direction of Pipe Major David Thompson and the Black Thistle Pipe Band under Pipe Major A. G. Lee, Jr. The band was formed with the idea of competing and 1994 proved to be a successful year. The band plays some of Scotland's finest traditional music as well as contemporary music. The tartan worn by the band is the ancient Duncan.

Festival hours are 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and admission is $5 for anyone 12 and over. The festival also includes a ceilidh at 8 p.m. Saturday evening at the Will O' the Wisp, hosted by the Wisp Golf & Ski Resort and the Festival Committee (admission $3), and a Kirkin' O' the Tartans Sunday at 9:30 a.m. at St. John's Episcopal Church in Deer Park.

The festival is sponsored by the Deep Creek Lake-Garrett County Promotion Council and Bell Atlantic Maryland, and funded in part by a grant from the Garrett County Arts Council, Maryland State Arts Council. For more information or advance tickets, persons may contact the McHenry Highland Festival, 200 South Third Street, Oakland, MD 21550; telephone (301) 334-1948.

Chautauqua Planned In July At GCC

Echoes from Garrett County's past, when the Mountain Chautauqua attracted thousands of visitors to the area each summer, will return in July, with the four-day appearance of "Democracy in America" Chautauqua at Garrett Community College.

Sponsored by the Inland Empire Educational Foundation Humanities Coalition of San Bernadino, Calif., the program is scheduled for July 5-8, with evening performances under a tent on the college campus. Seven humanities scholars will portray 19th century observers of democracy, appearing in costume and character each night under the tent, and in daytime workshops for children and adults at designated locations in the community.

"From Alexis de Toqueville's perceptive observations of American democracy in its formative years published in 1835 as the now classic Democracy in America, to P.T. Barnaum's 'Greatest Show on Earth,' the program will present multi-cultural perspectives on the history, character, and future of American democracy." said a GCC spokesman. "The purpose of the Chautauqua is to provide audiences with a series of questions that help create a framework for intelligent participation in democratic institutions."

Other 19th century figures to be portrayed include author Harriet Beecher Stowe, former Argentina President Domingo Sarmiento, pioneer black abolitionist Marie Stewart, lecturer and women's rights activist Frances Wright and journalist Horace Greeley.

GCC president Dr. Steve Herman expressed his pleasure at having the college selected as one of four sites in the United States for the "Democracy in America" Chautauqua, "This Chautauqua is a return to the Chautauqua spirit of Garrett County's turn of the century history," he said. We are delighted to be part of the resurrection of the Chautauqua spirit."

Members of the local committee helping to plan the Chautauqua are chairperson Terry Norris, Dorothy Leighton, Lillian Mitchell, Emily Ferren, Paul Shogren, Joan Crawford, Patsy Baker, Fred Stemple, Augustine Twyman and Thomas Twyman.

The committee hopes to involve local service organizations as hosts for the evening performances.

County Museums Will Open For Summer Season

The Garrett County Historical Museum, located along Center Street in Oakland, will open for the summer season May 30. The museum has a large and growing collection of artifacts representing the progression of Garrett County through the years. The museum also offers an Indian and military exhibit containing artifacts from the USS Garrett County.

The museum contains a genealogical library for public use -- free for members and a non-member fee of $3 per day. The museum will be open from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., Monday through Friday, noon - 4 p.m. Saturday, and 1 p.m. - 4 p.m. Sunday during the summer, and weekends only after Labor Day through mid-October from noon - 4 p.m. on Saturday and 1 p.m. - 4 p.m. on Sundays. The museum will be open extended hours during the 28th Annual Autumn Glory Festival October 12-15.

There is no admission charge to the museum, and group tours are available by appointment. For more information about the museum, persons may contact Mrs. Beth Friend, curator, at (301) 334-3226 or (301) 334-3403.

The Friend Family Association National Heritage Museum and Library on Maple Street in Friendsville is open Wednesday, Friday and Saturday from noon - 3 p.m., and other times by appointment. This museum depicts the history of the town of Friendsville, first settled by John Friend in the early 1760's and contains artifacts of early Indian dwellers. The library contains 700 general genealogical books and files on most local families in addition to the Friend family. For information, persons may call Ina Hicks at (301) 746-5615.

Mellon Pipers To Perform At Highland Fest

The Carnegie Mellon Pipe Band of Pittsburgh will participate in field performances and massed bands ceremonies during the 8th Annual McHenry Highland Festival on Saturday, June 3, at the Garrett County Fairgrounds in McHenry.

The band was formed approximately 11 years ago when Jimmy McIntosh moved to Pittsburgh and joined Carnegie Mellon University to teach piping; until that time, there was no bagpipe instruction in the school. Nearly all the members of the band have learned to play either the bagpipe or drum since joining the school and all band members are either students or alumni. The band is sponsored by Carnegie Mellon University and participates in any events where its presence is requested. Instruction in bagpipe or drum is offered as an extra curriculum subject or students can elect to study through the Music Department. The band is a member of the Eastern United States Pipe Band Association and won first prize at the Anne Arundel Gathering in 1994. The band director is Jimmy McIntosh, M.B.E., drum instructor is Larry Allen and the pipe major is Patrick Regan.

Festival hours are 10 a.m. - 5 p.m. and admission is $5 for anyone 12 and over. A ceilidh will be held Saturday evening at 8 p.m. at Will O' the Wisp (admission $3) and a Kirkin' O' the Tartans on Sunday, June 4, at 9:30 a.m. at St. John's Episcopal Church in Deer Park. The festival is sponsored by the Deep Creek Lake-Garrett County Promotion Council and Bell Atlantic Maryland and funded in part by a grant from the Garrett County Arts Council Maryland State Arts Council. The ceilidh is co-hosted by the Wisp Golf & Ski Resort and the festival committee. For more information, persons may contact the McHenry Highland Festival, 200 South Third Street, Oakland, MD 21550-1581; telephone (301) 334-1948.

18th Annual Grantsville Days Planned

Members of the Grantsville Lions Club and Grantsville Volunteer Fire Department met recently to plan for the annual Grantsville Days celebration, slated For June 23-25 this year.

This will be the twelfth consecutive year that the fire department will organize and co-sponsor the Grantsville Days Parade. Almost $2,000 in prizes and trophies will be awarded to participants in the event.

During the parade, a total of 11 different classes of fire apparatus will be judged and winning entries will be awarded trophies. Bands, floats, and other parade entries will also be judged, with winners receiving trophies. Invitations will be sent to last year's parade participants, but others who would like to join the parade may contact Parade Chairman Ken Miller at 895-5470.

Following the parade, food and game booths will be featured at the Grantsville Park.

"All the food at Grantsville Days is non-commercial, being prepared by local, non-profit organizations," an event spokesperson stated.

Spaces will be provided for local, non-profit organizations to sell food or craft items, upon approval by the booth committee. Groups that operated booths last year will be sent invitations to participate in this Year's festival, but others who are interested may call Booth Chairman Rich Towers at 895-5903.

Fireworks displays will be featured on Friday and Saturday evenings. Grantsville Foodland will again sponsor the Friday night display, and fireworks on Saturday night will again be provided Casselman Lumber, Diehl's Ford Sales, and Tom and Pat Shroyer.

The weekend of events will also offer daily musical performances. Perry Kamp will perform Friday evening after the parade. Kamp is being sponsored by Hilltop Delite. Musical entertainment on Saturday will begin with disk jockey Paul Mullan, whose appearance is sponsored by Newman Funeral Homes. Live bluegrass music will be provided by Sandspring in a performance sponsored by the Garrett Lakes Arts Festival.

A performance by Tale Weavers, sponsored by Hershberger Insurance, will feature children dressed in full costume. A western dance demonstration, sponsored by Summer's Auto Parts, will be provided by Back to Country, a group of local dancers. Local country/rock band Rumors will then be featured in a performance sponsored by Billy Bender Chevrolet, Yoder-Hershberger Insurance, and Hey, Pizza!

Sunday's entertainment will begin with a karate demonstration, followed by a student talent exhibition sponsored by Beachy's Pharmacy. Also on Sunday, nationally known gospel recording artists The Vicksburgs will be featured in a performance sponsored by American Trust Bank. First United Bank and Trust Company will sponsor the sound equipment and technicians for Sunday's entertainment.

Musical performances will take place on a new stage located next to the basket ball court, and planners have stated that audiences will be permitted to watch from the court. Festival organizers suggest that those planning to attend a concert bring lawn chairs and blankets for seating and umbrellas for sun and rain protection. Organizers have also stated that basketball playing will not be permitted during musical performances.

Other events this year include a tractor pulling contest on Saturday and horse pulling contest on Sunday, sponsored by Flushing Shirt Manufacturing Company, Hilltop Fruit Market, and other local businesses and individuals. A tennis tournament will be sponsored by Grantsville Holiday Inn, games for children will be sponsored by Northern Athletic Boosters, and Braskey Law Offices will sponsor the annual horse shoe pitching contest.

A basketball foul shooting contest is also slated. For more information about this event, persons may call Paul Edwards at 895-5720 or Brian Kamp at 689-3253.

Any suggestions for new activities or entertainment for the weekend celebration may be directed to Grantsville Days Chairman Gerry Beachy at 895-5177.

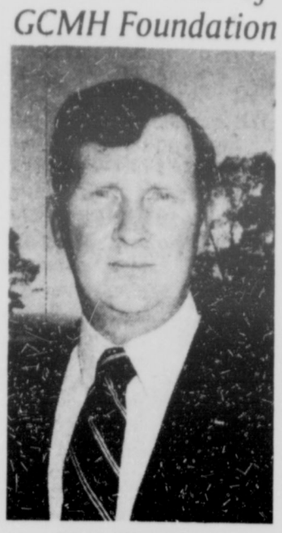
Thayer Named Vice Chairman Of GCMH Foundation



JON THAYER

Elaine L. McDonald, chairman of the Garrett County Memorial Hospital Foundation, has announced the election of Jon Thayer to the position of vice chairman of the foundation.

Thayer, a native of Garrett County, retired from the Medical Service Corps of the Navy in 1989 with the rank of lieutenant commander, after having served for 22 years. He and his family have maintained a home in the county since 1983.

After serving more than six years as a hospital corpsman, Thayer was commissioned as an officer in the Navy Medical Service Corps in 1973. During his career, he was awarded the Defense Meritorious Service Medal, the Navy Commendation Medal, the Navy Good Conduct Medal, and the Navy Sea Service Ribbon.

An active member of the hospital foundation since 1992, Thayer also heads the foundation's Community Relations Committee. The primary function of this committee is planning and coordinating special events such as Family Fun Day, which is scheduled for Saturday, July 29, from 11 a.m. until 6 p.m. at the Garrett County Fairgrounds.

"Jon's enthusiasm and leadership with the community relations committee have been a great asset to the foundation," said McDonald. "I am looking forward to working with him in the capacity of vice chairman."

Thayer is a member of the Deep Creek Lions Club, and assists with Hospice and Meals on Wheels. He and his wife, Jeanne, a county health nurse, and sons Dan and Evan, live near Deep Creek Lake on the Glendale Road.

Artworks By Garman Couple To Be Shown

Original works by artists Charles and Donna Jennings Garman will be on display in the Bausch and Lomb Art Gallery of Garrett Community College during the month of June.

The public is invited to attend a reception for the artists on Saturday, June 3, from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. in the art gallery.

The exhibit will include masks; dolls in porcelain, cloth and wood; and toys produced by the Garmans in their studio, Adonna Dolls of Bethlehem.

According to the artists, their team effort begins with ideas and progresses through sculpting molds, firing, painting, designing, and sewing the outfits.

"Charles brings his 35 years experience as a stone mason and master carpenter to the doll making craft and Donna brings her study of art at the University of Youngstown State to her creative work," an event spokesperson stated.

In addition to producing original creations, the Garmans also restore dolls.

The exhibit is sponsored by the Garrett County Arts Council and the Maryland State Arts Council. Gallery hours are 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. daily. The facility is also open evenings during special performances.

Read. Then Recycle.

NOT JUST DOLLS - A show by artists Charles and Donna Jennings Garman, proprietors of Adonna Doll Company, Bethlehem, will include toys and masks - such as the pictured Iroquois mask - as well as dolls made of various materials. The exhibit will continue through June at Garrett Community College.

NR Police May Be Contacted At MSP Barrack

Maryland Natural Resources Police (NRP) boats now have dispatch capabilities through Maryland State Police (MSP), McHenry barrack.

Citizens may call the McHenry barrack of MSP at 387-1101 or 895-1101 to report natural resource incidents such as lake and fishing violations and boating accidents.

"We hope this cooperative effort will encourage people to report violations more readily and make Deep Creek Lake a safe and pleasurable place for families to enjoy," stated a NRP spokesman.

Local Woodmen Host Convention At Wisp Resort

Eleven members of Woodmen of the World Lodge 11 were among the 94 delegates who attended the W.O.W. Jurisdictional Convention for Maryland, New Jersey, District of Columbia, and Delaware held May 19-21 at the Wisp Resort Hotel at McHenry.

The local delegates were Elaine Bateman, Delbert Bittinger, Georgia Durst George Zimmerman, Jr., Elaine Marple, Asa McCain, Marilyn McCain, and Allen Zimmerman. Local past presidents attending were Tom Bernard and Floyd Durst. Rosetta Rodeheaver, convention chairperson, is also a delegate to the W.O.W. National Convention.

The Lodge 112 Youth Flag Team, directed by Deborah Zimmerman, presented the colors in the opening ceremony of the convention.

Leota Peck, jurisdictional president, introduced James L. Mounce, national secretary and James L. Harmon, national trustee. Harmon gave the memorial address at a service given by members of Lodge 11 on Friday evening. Those participating were Robert Rodeheaver, Delbert Bittinger, Elaine Marple, and Betty Pritt. Erica Lewis was the soloist for the ceremony, which was in memory of the deceased jurisdictional members in 1993-1994.

An initiation ceremony was held by the members of the Drill Team of Lodge 6, Cumberland.

At the banquet Saturday evening, Asa McCain served as master of ceremonies and introduced James Mounce, who gave the address and presented degree stipends.

Kathryn Jenkins, the fraternal coordinator, presented the Fraternal Challenge Awards: Scrapbook Awards were given to Lodge 6, Cumberland, first place, Lodge 11, Crellin/Oakland, second place; and Lodge 41, Grantsville, third place.

Bonnie Haines, Miss Allegheny County, entertained with song and dance selections.

Officers and members of Lodge 41, Grantsville, presented the devotional service on Sunday morning.

After the roll call by Jurisdictional Secretary Paul Yuhas Jr., James Mounce and installing escort, State Manager William T. Groce II, installed the new jurisdictional officers.

CHILDREN AND MONEY

There is still no creditable answer for the assumption that children and young adults are born excellent money managers.

Most of our youngsters grow up receiving an allowance that can be spent any way the child desires. Most of it is spent on luxuries of short duration. When the child becomes a teen this un-directed spending pattern continues, the only change being that more money is involved, society accepts that without criticism.

As soon as the young person finishes school and earns money for work, our society is very critical of the "spend for luxuries first" priority system established so long ago.

Money management, like parenting, must be learned. Generations ago, that was not necessary be-cause money was in very short supply and the extended family helped with and guided the raising of children.

A typical teenager spends several thousand dollars a year, mainly on clothes, food (not family meals), entertainment and, for those who have them, on cars. This amounts to nearly $80 billion annually nationwide.

It is more difficult to change the money management habits of a teenager or adult than to start the child out with this proper value and priority system concerning money. To think that a college education will correct the misconceptions young persons have about spending their dollars may be compared to waiting for snow in July. Every once in a while it happens, but more than 90% of our young generation will fall prey to serious credit problems before they are able to change spending habits. We are not adequately prepar-

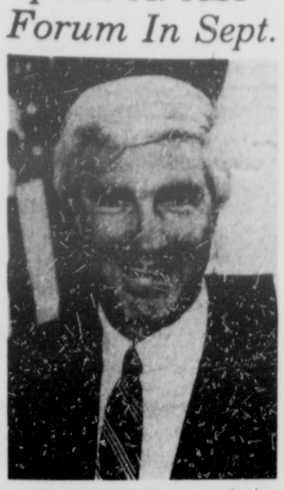
McMillen To Speak At ASI Forum In Sept.



Tom McMillen, co-chairman of the President's Council on Physical Fitness and Sports, will top the list of speakers at the first National Adventuresports Forum scheduled for September 16-18 at the Wisp Resort, Deep Creek Lake.

The forum is being planned by the Adventuresports Institute at Garrett Community College to attract educators, health professionals, business entrepreneurs, adventure sports athletes, and students to meet other practitioners and learn about new developments in the industry.

"McMillen, who will deliver the welcome address on Sunday, September 16, has been a leading figure in athletics and politics for several decades," an event spokesperson stated. "He was a three-time All-American in basketball and an Academic All-American at the University of Maryland, from which he graduated Phi Beta Kappa with a B.S. degree in chemistry."

McMillen was a member of the 1972 U.S. Olympic Team and was the first University of Maryland graduate to be awarded a Rhodes Scholarship. Through the scholarship, he received an M.A. degree in politics, philosophy, and economics from Oxford University in 1978.

After playing for 11 seasons in the National Basketball Association with the New York Knicks, the Atlanta Hawks, and the Washington Bullets, McMillen retired in 1986 to run for Congress. He was elected to three consecutive terms in the U.S. House of Representatives from the fourth Congressional District of Maryland where he served on the Energy and Commerce Committee and the Science, Space, and Technology Committee.

While in Congress, McMillen held the Maryland record for consecutive House floor votes, casting 2,050 votes in a row during his first five years in office. He served as chairman of the congressional Chesapeake Bay caucus, co-chairman of the congressional biotechnology caucus and vice-chairman of the federal government task force.

McMillen currently serves as chairman and president of the Complete Wellness Centers, Inc., a health care clinic management company. Previously, he served as chief administrative officer of CliniCorp, Inc., a publicly traded clinic management company where he was responsible for implementing sweeping restructuring and cost reduction programs.

McMillen was inducted into GTE Academic All American Hall of Fame in 1988 and is a charter member. He served on the Knight Foundation's Commission on Intercollegiate Athletics, investigating abuses within college sports. He also co-authored Out of Bounds, a book on sports and athletics in America.

McMillen serves on the Board of Visitors of the University of Maryland School of Public Affairs and is national chairman of the University of Maryland Presidents Club. He sits on the advisory council of the Paul Nitze School of Advanced International Studies of Johns Hopkins University and is a member of the board of directors of the International Visitors Center.

"We feel very fortunate to have a person of Tom McMillen's stature in the world of fitness and athletics, as well as in government, among our speakers," commented GCC President Steve Herman. "He will have an important message to share with the Forum."

March For Jesus Set For Saturday in Meyersdale, Pa.

Meyersdale, Pa., will host its 13th Annual March for Jesus on Saturday, May 27, beginning at 10:30 a.m. Marchers will convene on the playground, adjacent to the Meyersdale Manufacturing Company, at 9:30 a.m.

A spokesperson for the event indicated the local march has been organized in conjunction with the March for Jesus, USA, and the March for Jesus, International. More than 500 United States cities and 178 nations around the world participated in the 1994 march, with 10 million participants.

"The goal of the marches is to take the church to the streets," said Tom Pelton, national director of March for Jesus, USA. "Churches in cities come together simply to express their unity and common faith."

There is no charge to participate in the march, but participants are asked to register at the playground prior to the event. A freewill offering will be accepted to provide funds for next year's march.

"The march is not a protest," said a spokesperson for the Meyersdale march. "It is not politically motivated, and banners or slogans promoting any cause other than Jesus Christ, such as prayer in school or pro-life issues...even the names of local churches, are not acceptable."

The march is approximately three-fourths of a mile long, and takes about 45 minutes to walk. A prayer rally, which will include music, will conclude the activities.

Video Conference On Ecosystems Held At GCC

A satellite video-conference titled "Management of Forest Ecosystems: Assessing New Opportunities" was held Saturday at Garrett Community College. This conference was presented by the Oklahoma Cooperative Extension Service, and sponsored in Garrett County by the Garrett County Forestry Board, the Maryland Cooperative Extension Service, and the Maryland Tree Farm Program. Mike Kozier, chairman of the Garrett County Forestry Board, introduced the program which was designed to help landowners learn more about ecosystem-based management, and what the individual, nonindustrial forest landowner can do as a part of ecosystem management.

Eighteen people, landowners and professionals, attended the program to learn about ecosystem management. There were case studies of areas where ecosystem management had been applied, and professional land managers, private forest Landowners, and industry representatives had worked together to attain a common goal.

As a part of the video conference there was a panel of experts that answered calls from the various downlink stations across the country. When this portion of the program was over, there was a panel of local professionals on hand to try to answer any questions that may have arisen. The local panel of experts consisted of Daniel Hedderick, Md. DNR-Forest Service; Dr. Ray Hicks, professor of silviculture, West Virginia University; Aryln Perkey, USDA-Forest Service; and Ken Roberts, Md. Tree Farm Committee.

Courtesy Boat Inspections To Be Available

Maryland Natural Resources Police (NRP) and Coast Guard Auxiliary will be conducting "Courtesy Boat Inspections" on Saturday, June 4, at Deep Creek Lake Boat Ramp from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m., both days. They will be checking the serial number of the engine and trailer, safety equipment on board, PFD's horns, lights, and checking that everything is working properly.

Effective May 1, all recreational vessels under 16' must carry wearable personal floatation devices (PFDs) for every person on board. In the past, Type IV PFDs, like seat cushions, could be used as a substitute for life jacket on boats of this size.

After the boat inspection, the NRP and Auxiliary Coast Guard will present the board owner a decal, a completed inspection list, and a packet of information. During those hours, they will also be available to answer any questions.

Mrs. Maryland Is Guest Speaker At Recent Banquet

SHERRY AND BRITTANY UPOLE

Sherry Upole, Mrs. Maryland 1994-95, was the guest speaker at a recent Mother's Day banquet, sponsored by St. John's United Church of Christ, Grantsville. She talked to the mothers and daughters present about setting goals and achieving them, volunteer work, domestic violence, and how she plans to continue making public appearances, educating victims about their rights.

The banquet, held at the Bittinger Fire Hall, was served by area volunteer firemen. The blessing for the meal was asked by Esther Stanton, and a welcome was offered by Sue Beachy. Scripture was read by Wilma Wilburn, and Margie Menges and Helen Bender each offered Mother's Day readings.

Entertainment for the evening was provided by Tessa Folk, Emily Carey, Kerry Murray, Jackie Folk, Sue Beachy, Helen Bender, and Sherry Carey.

Also attending the banquet was Mrs. Maryland's daughter, Brittany Lynn.

Persons interested in learning more about domestic violence, and where to go for help, are asked to call the Domestic Violence and Sexual Assault Resource Center at 334-9000.

SMS STUDENTS PARTICIPATE IN CTY TALENT SEARCH - Sixteen seventh graders from Southern Middle School recently participated in an academic talent search, hosted by Johns Hopkins University. Known as the CTY Talent Search, the purpose of the event is to identify, challenge, and reward young people with academic talent. Students invited to attend have scored at or above the 97th percentile on nationally standardized achievement or aptitude tests. Pictured above, from left to right, front row, are Jessica Hinebaugh, Amy Evans, Evie White, Tonya Cottrell, Jennifer Sanders, and Marianne Peracchio; and back row, Jennifer Teagarden, Eric Tressler, Ben A. Jones, Andrew Zimmerman, Justin Stephens, Nick Pratt, Tim Beckman, James Marc, Bryson Paugh, and Sarah Winter. Marc, Peracchio, Tressler and Zimmerman each received certificates of distinction, an invitation to the CTY awards ceremony, and a state award.

Yesteryear Bus Tours Offered By Civic Club

Something new has been added to the Enjoying Yesteryear program being sponsored by the Civic Club of Oakland at Garrett Community College June 10-11.

An opportunity to visit historical landmarks in Garrett County and learn about the history of the area is being offered with the two bus tours scheduled on Sunday, June 11. Buses will leave the Garrett Community College parking lot at 1:15 p.m. and return about 5 p.m.

According to Martha Jachowski, chairperson of the planning committee, advance tickets will be sold to ensure sufficient participation in the tours. Cost will be $10 for adults and $7 for children under 12. Checks should be made payable to the Civic Club of Oakland, and mailed to Mrs. Jachowski at 524 Summit Drive, Sky Valley, Swanton, MD 21561, specifying which tour is desired.

Tour #1 will be conducted by Rev. John Grant through McHenry, Deep Creek Lake and south to historic landmarks of Oakland, site of the Chautauqua movement in Mtn. Lake Park, and the hotel and cottages of Deer Park. Also included in this tour will be the ski slope of 50 years ago, the Seneca Trail and the old Indian camp.

Tour #2 will be conducted by Charles Strauss through historic Accident and the recently restored Drane House. This tour will visit the Bear Creek Trout Rearing Station and Camp Hickory, site of the Garrett County Environmental Education Center where a nature tour will be included.

The two-day Enjoying Yesteryear celebration will begin on Saturday, June 10, at Garrett Community College when a program of seminars, workshops, demonstrations and exhibits will depict life on the mountaintop 50 years ago and more, and conclude with the bus tours on Sunday.

May Is Older Maryland Month; OAA 30 years Old

by Tammy Bowman
Garrett County Community Action Comm.

When Older Americans Month was established in 1963, only 17 million living Americans had reached their 65th birthdays. About a third of older Americans lived in poverty, and there were few programs to meet their needs. Interest in older Americans and their concerns was growing, however. In fact, President John F. Kennedy's meeting with the National Council of Senior Citizens in April 1963 served not only as a prelude to designating May as Senior Citizens Month but also has an opportunity to express his support of the legislation that would create the Medicare program. Today the situation is vastly different. There are now almost 33 million older Americans, representing roughly one in eight citizens. There are a wide array of programs to serve their needs. Thanks to President Jimmy Carter's 1980 designation, what was once called Senior Citizens Month is now called Older Americans Month, and has become a tradition.

This year's Older Americans Month as a special significance. In addition to raising awareness about the contributions and needs of older Americans, 1995's Older Americans Month will celebrate the 30th anniversary of the Older Americans Act (OAA). One of President Lyndon B. Johnsons' Great Society programs, the OAA set up an entirely new structure for delivery much-needed services to older Americans.

At the top of that structure is the U.S. Administration on Aging (AoA). Charged with serving as the leading advocate for older people at the federal level, AoA presides over a host of programs nationwide ranging from research projects to job training for low-income older people. AoA relies on a network of 57 State Units on Aging, 670 Area Agencies on Aging, 228 Native American and Native Hawaiian tribal organizations, 5,000 senior centers and more than 25,000 local groups to provide a huge array of services.

Using money funneled down from AoA, this network makes a huge difference in people's lives. The services offered include access programs designed to help older people get the care they need, in-home services to help frail older people stay in their homes as long as possible, senior center programs, nutrition programs, legal assistance and advocacy. Last year members of the network helped millions of people in need.

*A home repair assistant responded to a call about a leaking roof from a woman trying to make a home for her grandchildren, whose father was in jail and whose mother had abandoned them. After fixing the roof, the assistance helped the tearful woman find out about other services she desperately needed.

*A Meals-on-Wheels driver discovered that one of his clients, a Native American man living alone on a reservation, had fallen and broken his hip. The driver called for help and stayed with the incoherent man until the ambulance arrived.

*A nutritionist taught new nutritional strategies to a woman who was so overweight that she was confined to a wheelchair. Soon the woman was able to walk again for the first time in years.

*A legal services assistant was contacted by a woman whose nephew had put her in a nursing home against her will. The assistant helped her get the nephew out of her home, move back in and sign up for various social services. Legal Services even helped her replace some of the furniture the nephew had stolen.

*A caregiver support assistant helped a woman who had spent eight years caring for her Alzheimer's-afflicted husband, giving the wife a chance to get out of the house occasionally for much-needed breaks.

Those are just a few examples of the kind of help that older people and their caregivers receive from OAA programs all across the county.

Garrett County Community Action Committee's Area Agency on Aging is promoting activities during the month of May which focus on the health and well being of older individuals.

The Agency's Flowery Vale Senior Center was the site for a workshop featuring the National Tap Dance Ensemble today, May 25, at 1:30 p.m.

In partnership with Garrett County Health Department Prevention Program, the Agency is providing two Health & Fitness Fairs for senior citizens. The fairs provide fun activities with a emphasis on health and physical fitness. Seniors will also enjoy a nutritious picnic-style lunch provided through the Senior Nutrition Program. The first fair was held at Grantsville fire hall on Tuesday, May 20. The second will be held at the National Guard Armory, Oakland, on Wednesday, May 31, 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Seniors may make reservations by calling 334-9431, ext. 140.

Finally, the Area Agency on Aging's two assisted homes, Truesdell and Rose Terrace, each hosted an open house on Sunday, May 21.

For information about programs for seniors in Garrett County, persons may contact the Area Agency on Aging at 334-9431.

MLP Man Found Guilty Of Theft, Trespassing

A Mountain Lake Park man was found guilty on theft and trespassing charges by a jury in Garrett County Circuit Court. Joseph R. Kisselovich, 40, stood trial last week with Judge J. Frederick Sharer presiding.

Kisselovich made a motion for acquittal of the charges, but Sharer denied the move and the jury rendered the verdicts of guilty to the charge of felony theft and guilty to the charge of trespassing on private property. A pre-sentence investigation was ordered and bail was continued pending sentencing, according to the court report.

Kisselovich was charged in connection with the theft of several cherry trees on the property of Douglas Coal Company that took place during the months of January, February, and March of last year. According to the report, the defendant was accused of trespassing on the company's land, cutting cherry trees, and then selling the lumber to Sisler Lumber Company. The owner of Douglas Coal, Christopher Palino, had reportedly told Kisselovich in December 1993 to stay off the company's property.

Damage done to the property has been estimated at approximately $30,000, according to the report. The investigation was led by the Garrett County Sheriff's Office.

Savilla E. Broadwater
Who Passed Away June 19, 1988

She bore the pain to give us life.
She pulled us close and held us tight.
She rocked us fast to sleep at night.
She had a sweet and loving way.
She taught us how to kneel and pray.
She worried most when we were gone.
She waited for us all night long.
She tried to teach us right from wrong.
She had a soft and warm embrace.
She can never be replaced.
Our Mother.

We still all love and miss you,

Miss Pangle, Mr. Nightingale Exchange Vows In April Ceremony

Catherine Anita Pangle and Harold Francis Nightingale were married April 28 at the Westminster Courthouse, in the office of the deputy clerk, by Jean Seitz.

The bride is the daughter of Delores A. Pangle, Finksburg, and the late Donald L. Pangle. The groom is the son of James D. Nightingale and Mary E. Uhler, both of Finksburg.

Maid of honor was Cyndi Roberts, Sykesville. Best man was William Simms, Oakland, cousin of the bride.

Out-of-town guests included the bride's grandmother, Catherine Harvey; her aunts, Carolyn Shreve and Reba McPeek; a cousin, Sandra Crosby, Oakland; the groom's grandmother, Ruth Nightingale, Finksburg; and the couple's youngest daughter, Emily Nikole.

A picnic reception is planned for close family and friends on Sunday, June 11. Invitations will be sent.

The couple resides in the Gamber and Finksburg area. The groom is employed by Starview Excavating, Inc.

Frantz, Lucas Nuptials Planned

Jeannie Louise Frantz and William Lee Lucas Jr. announce their forthcoming marriage.

Miss Frantz is the daughter of Bob and Kathy Frantz, Eglon, W.Va. She is a 1991 graduate of East Preston Senior High School.

Mr. Lucas is the son of Buck and Marcy Lucas, Kitzmiller. He is a 1990 graduate of Southern High School, and is currently employed by Larry Wagner Trucking.

The couple will be wed Saturday, June 24, at 3 p.m. at St. Paul's United Methodist Church, Oakland. A reception will immediately follow the ceremony at the Oakland Fire Hall.

Although invitations are being sent, all family and friends are welcome to attend the ceremony and reception.

Children, Money

ing our own children to make wise decisions, we are not allowing them enough time to practice managing money wisely while we can still guide their actions, and most detrimental is the fact that many adults are not well informed about banking, credit and judging the quality of consumer products.

Income is not likely to increase in the near future. This makes it imperative to learn money management if we are to keep a life style we find acceptable.

The Cooperative Extension service has planned two, two-hour classes "It's In to be Money Smart." Friday, April 21, 7-9 p.m. and Saturday, April 22, 10-noon. Attend either session, registration requested; charge $3 for printed materials and refreshments. The programs is specifically for teens over 12 years old and their parents. Please request a brochure or pick one up at county libraries starting April 1. Our programs are open to all citizens without regard to race, color sex, disability, religion, age or national origin.

For more information, please contact Irmgard R. Koscielniak, Cooperative Extension Service, 202 South Third Street, Oakland, MD 21550; or call (301) 334-1990.

Gnegys Will Celebrate 50th

The children of Harold and Jessie Gnegy, Oakland, will honor their parents with a 50th wedding anniversary celebration on June 4. The event will be held at the Oak Park Church of the Brethren from 2 to 5 p.m.

The couple was married on June 2, 1945, at Glade View Church of the Brethren, Red House, with the late Rev. Lorenza Fike officiating.

The Gnegys are the parents of six children: Harold Jr., Robert, Larry, Timothy, Ronald, and Kathy DeBerry, all of Oakland. They also have nine grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Some invitations for the celebration have been sent, but the children extend an invitation to all friends and relatives to attend. The church is located in Oak Park across from Southern High School.

Rev. Nairn To Speak May 29 In Accident

American Legion Post 208 will sponsor Memorial Day ceremonies in the town of Accident on Monday, May 29, at 9:30 a.m., in the Town Park. Featured speaker for the event will be the Rev. Roland E. Nairn III, pastor of the Accident Lutheran Parish.

Nairn served as a chaplain's assistant in the U.S. Army Reserves from 1980 to 1987. He currently holds the rank of 2nd Lt. Chaplain Candidate in the U.S. Air Force Reserves. He received the Air Force Achievement Medal for service at Andrews Air Force Base during Desert Storm-Desert Shield.

During the Memorial Day Ceremonies, music will be provided by the Northern High School Band under the direction of William Robinson. The public, members of the American Legion, and all other veterans are invited to attend.

Following the ceremonies, at approximately 10:15 a.m., a memorial service tree will be planted in the Accident Park in memory of those who died in World War II, as a part of the fiftieth anniversary commemoration of World War II.

Santos To Speak At Memorial Day Program Monday

Richard J. Santos, National Executive Committeeman for the American Legion, Department of Maryland, will be the speaker for Oakland's annual Memorial Day program at the Oakland Cemetery on Monday, May 29.

Santos, a resident of Greenbelt, represents the 86,000 members of 170 American Legion posts in Maryland on the National Executive Committee. He was elected to this position for a two-year term by the delegates to the 76th annual Department of Maryland Convention in Ocean City in 1994.

A native of Massachusetts, Santos was a member of the U.S. Naval Reserve and active Navy from 1961 to 1965. He was honorably discharged from the Reserve as a radioman second class.

In his professional life he has 28 years of experience in the insurance claims field as an employee of the CIGNA Property and Casualty Companies in Columbia.

He is a member of numerous veterans organizations and commissions, the Fraternal Order of Police, the Moose Lodge. His home American Legion post, of which he is a past commander, is Greenbelt Post 136. He has also held various other district, state, and national American Legion positions.

Presently, Santos serves as post adjutant, chairman of the Internal Affairs Commission for the Department of Maryland, and on the National Commander's NEC Liaison Committee to the National Veterans Affairs and Rehabilitation Commission.

Santos resides with his wife, the former Linda Lee Perry. They are the parents of two sons and one daughter.

The annual Memorial Day ceremony at the Oakland Cemetery, coordinated by Proctor Kildow Post #71, Oakland, will follow a parade through downtown Oakland. Persons desiring more information about the parade or the observance at the cemetery should contact Jerry Swiger, Memorial Day chairman, at 334-1707.

Memorial Day Services Set In Grantsville Area

Grantsville Post 214, American Legion, will commemorate the Memorial Day holiday on Monday, May 29, during a tribute to their departed comrades at the following cemeteries: Monument to the B-52 flyers at Little Crossings, 8 a.m.; St. Ann's Cemetery, Avilton, 8:40 a.m.; Johnson Cemetery on Little Savage Mountain, 9 a.m.; Finzel Cemetery, 9:20 a.m.; memorial monument to World War II veterans, Grantsville Town Hall, 10:15 a.m.; Bittinger Cemetery, 12:30 p.m; and New Germany Cemeteries, Twin Churches, 1:10 p.m.

A parade will form in Grantsville at 10:45 p.m. on Monday, and proceed to the Grantsville Cemetery for services at 11 a.m. The principal speaker will be District 1-A Delegate George C. Edwards, a member of the Maryland Legislature who is also a veteran of the Vietnam Conflict, and a member of Grantsville Post 214.

Recently-installed officers of American Legion Post 214 for 1995-96 include: Jerry W. Fritz, commander; Roger C. Resh, first vice commander; Gary Kamp, second vice commander; Charles C. Bender, adjutant; William D. Sipple, finance officer; Kennth Wilson, chaplain; William T. Frickey, sergeant-at-arms; Edgar A. Bender, service officer; Matthew Stieringer, judge advocate; Jeff Green, historian; and Paul L. Durst, color bearer. Garrett County Commander Moses Miller of Proctor Kildow Post 71, Oakland, was the installing officer.

Grantsville Post 214 meets at the post home, 108 Miller Street, Grantsville, on the second and fourth Tuesday of each month at 8 p.m. Commander Fritz encourgages members to attend.

Historical Soc. Dinner To Be Held June 22

The annual dinner of the Garrett County Historical Society will be held Thursday, June 22, at the Bittinger Community Building, beginning at 6:30 p.m.

The featured speaker will be Rev. John Grant, editor of the Society's quarterly publication, the Glades Star. His talk will center on the march of General Braddock's army some 240 years ago through what is now Garrett County. Parts of his presentation will be highlighted by slides of places Braddock passed through on his ill-fated expedition.

The cost of the baked steak dinner is $8 per person and reservations may be made by sending checks made out to the Garrett County Historical Society to Dorothy Cathell, GCHS Secretary, 550 Liberty Street, Oakland, MD 21550. Reservations must be made by June 16.

beauty in all God's children is suffocating. We must respect others' rights to their beliefs. This is not to say that in doing so we throw away whatever faith practices we value.

Peace throughout our world is not a possibility until we realize that it begins within the heart and soul of each of us. Until we learn to appreciate the individuality of all inhabiting our earth (which again does not mean tossing our own individuality aside), we will constantly be engaged in a struggle for power--power to prove that there is but one way to live. It is time to step back and look at the big picture. Certainly we have the ability, both intellectually and emotionally, to peacefully share our existence with all.

The caring, loving, and sharing that we practice within our homes are of little benefit if they fail to extend to our neighbors, both near and far. When that offering of peace is made, when we are able to appreciate the differences surrounding us, when we no longer feel animosity, fright, or condemnation toward those that choose to believe in a way that appears alien to what we know -- it is then that a tremendous step in the direction of world peace will have been taken.

I applaud the Calhouns and others responsible for their efforts in attempting to organize the festival. After all, until we are able to live here in harmony and to encourage the growth of peace, we cannot realistically expect the many nationalities and cultures residing alongside us to achieve oneness.

Sincerely,
Mary Wachter

To the Editor:

You know, our world is really going crazy. There are a couple of reasons I say that.

1) We are forced to wear seat belts. If it helped the people in other cars, I could see having that law. That should be our choice.

2) You can murder your unborn child but you can't kill a rattlesnake.

3) You can go in a bar and get drunk as an idiot, and unless you really hurt someone, you're O.K. But let someone smoke a little pot or whatever they call it, you are in big trouble. Don't get me wrong, I don't use either one.

4) You can puff on a cigarette and blow smoke in everyone's face. That hurts other people. It sure is a sad world.

5) The main one of all: this county was stolen from Indians so we could be a God-fearing county, and what have the so-called good people done? Taken God out of everything.

Also, these girls having babies and us keeping them. I don't think it is fair; put welfare people who are able to work to work. Help the senior citizens who are too old to get a job. Sure, give the children lunches in school. But, cut out these baby collectors -- save a lot of heartache.

I have heard unwed moms say they wanted to have another baby, raise on check. Let people work for their keep. I do say help the little girl with that first baby -- everyone makes mistakes. Second baby, force them to give it up. Third one, sterilize them.

Put God back in our county and clean this county up.

A concerned citizen,
Jo-An Duckworth

To the Editor:

The "Contract with America" the collection of legislative proposals pushed by Republican leaders in Congress would, if passed, cut the school lunch program drastically, dismantling what most Americans have come to think of as the bedrock of America's fight against poverty.

"Nothing is more important in our national life than the welfare of our children," President Harry S. Truman said at the time. "and proper nourishment comes first in attaining this welfare."

The national school lunch program now helps serve meals to more than 25 million children, more than half of whom receive their meals free or at a reduced price. The "Contract with America" plan pushed by House Speaker Newt Gingrich would mean the end of federal guidelines that help ensure that schools serve nutritious meals. The plan would replace the national school lunch with block grants to states, a step that's supposed to give states more flexibility. In reality, states will have fewer dollars to feed the same number of kids.

Under the Gingrich plan, congress would provide states $309 million less for nutrition programs in 1996 more than $2 billion less over the next five years. State governments wouldn't have to use the dollars they receive for nutrition. The Gingrich plan would allow states to use 20 percent of the block grants for other purposes.

The same plan would end the Child and Adult Care Food Program that provides nutritious meals to children in child care centers, Head Start programs, and family child care homes. The result? The slashing of summer food programs to preschoolers in child care by 45 percent.

All of us have been affected by the school lunch program in one way or another in our lives. The time is now to speak up and tell congress that it's unacceptable for them to send hungry kids to our classrooms. There are 10 reasons why cutting the National School Lunch Program is a bad idea.

1. The National School Lunch Program is one of the most successful, cost-effective, and popular federal programs ever. The program, available in 95 percent of all public schools, reaches 97 percent of all public school children. For many children, the school lunch is the only square meal they get all day.

2. Hungry children cannot learn. When children don't eat adequately, their health and ability to concentrate suffer, and they do poorly in school.

3. This is the worst possible time to cut back school lunch funding. Over the next five years, the school age population is expected to increase by five percent.

4. Cutting the school lunch program by $2 billion over the next five years, the plan currently before congress would deny states the resources they need to maintain program quality and respond to growing needs. Between 1990 and 1994, the number of free lunches served to low-income children increased by 23 percent. Reduced funding would make it impossible to meet the needs of future kids.

5. Ending the federal school lunch program would mean the elimination of national nutrition standards that have been developed over 50 years. These standards ensure that school meals meet basic vitamin and calorie goals. Without national nutrition standards, states might cut the quality or amount of food provided to squeeze as many meals as possible out of available funds.

6. Without national school lunch standards, states would have to develop 50 different standards, wasting resources on unnecessary duplication.

7. The safety net for America's children is already torn. Billion have already been cut from basic child protection programs, mainly because children don't have the resources to defend themselves against unfair budget cuts. Attacks on the school lunch program, if successful, would shred the social safety net for our poorest kids.

8. No other federal food program is on the chopping block; only school lunches. Why pick on children?

9. Two billion dollars in school lunch cuts would reduce, by approximately 20 percent, the number of jobs for food service workers. That would place new economic burdens on already strapped communities.

10. Without a national school lunch program, states would find it harder to meet the needs of poor children when times are tight.

To the Editor:

In response to the "Butchered Dog" story from Grant Co., W.Va., I would like to say:

1. How would you have felt if it had been a child killed by that hungry pack of dogs? And it very well could have been.

2. Why is it suddenly right for everyone in the community to keep their dogs tied except for this one woman?

3. And why when we do keep ours tied, is it right to let starving animals come in to your house and kill them? I don't think any of us would allow or permit this to happen to our pets.

4. How could the Garrett Co. Humane Society side with this person if they knew of the terror and destruction caused by these animals?

I have a couple of toddler cousins that could have very well fallen victim to these dogs just because they needed something to eat. Then people question why the dogs were destroyed. The dogs are better off and so is our community.

Finally, I would like to say that I am an animal lover myself, as I own three dogs and two cats. All are cared for properly such as paid taxes, vet care, and regular feeding. I feel that if people cannot meet the needs of their pets, then they should not have them. I could not stand idly by and watch someone's dogs come in and attack and brutally kill my pets that are kept at home and well cared for, and not respond. Would you?

To the Editor:

Last Thursday evening, May 18th, my husband and I attended a musical concert at Northern Middle School. The performance was terrible--the performance of the audience that is. It was disgraceful, and we felt so sorry for the band members, especially. Their performance was outstanding and they and their director are to be commended for all their hard work and talent.

In all my 60 years, I have never been part of such a rude audience. Not only were the young chorus members, waiting their turn, loud and disruptive, but so were many, many of the adults. Their bad behavior surely explained the sorry behavior of the students who were out of line.

I was shocked that in wonderful Garrett County, where family values are so often referred to and preached, there was no appreciation in this audience for one of the strong tenets of my upbringing--parents teach best by example. Surely we can do better. We must do better.

and
All other parties having or claiming to have any interest in the parcel of land containing 0.58 acre, more or less, situate in Election District No. 1, Garrett County, Maryland, and being the same as described in deed from The Board of County Commissioners of Garrett County, Maryland, to James Edward Murphy dated August 11, 1976, and recorded March 14, 1977, in Liber No. 374, folio 404, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland,
Defendants.
ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this proceeding is to secure the foreclosure of all rights of redemption in all that parcel of land containing 0.58 acre, more or less, situate in Election District No. 1, Garrett County, Maryland, and being the same as described in deed from The Board of County Commissioners of Garrett County, Maryland, to James Edward Murphy dated August 11, 1976, and recorded March 14, 1977, in Liber No. 374, folio 404, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland.

The Complaint states, among other things, that the amounts for redemption have not been paid, although more than six (6) months and one (1) day from the date of sale had expired.

IT IS THEREUPON, this 26th day of April, 1995, by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, ORDERED that notice be given by the insertion of a copy of this Order in some newspaper having a general circulation in Garrett County, once a week for four successive weeks before the 26th day of May, 1995 warning all persons interested in the said property to be and appear in this Court by the 26th day of June, 1995, and redeem the property and answer the Complaint, or thereafter a Judgment will be rendered foreclosing all rights of redemption in the property, and vesting in the Plaintiffs a title, free and clear of all encumbrances.

PUBLIC NOTICE

The Deep Creek Watershed Board of Zoning Appeals will conduct a public hearing on June 1, 1995 at 7:30 p.m. in the Planning Commission Meeting Room (Third Floor Courthouse, Oakland). The Board will review applications on the followed docketed cases:

1) Docket SE-259; an application made by Fairfax Concrete Products, Inc. for a Special Exception permit to allow the expansion of the Fairfax Concrete plant which is an accessory to the quarry operation on the Keystone Lime Company property located on the Quarry Road (Zoned TC).

2) Docket VR-361; an application made by Mr. Michael Stephens for a Variance from the terms of the Zoning Ordinance as it affects the provisions of the Ordinance regarding the storage of materials associated with a home occupation. Specifically, Mr. Stephens wishes to store vehicles and equipment used in a bituminous paving business. The property is located off U.S. 219 (Zoned LR).

3) Docket VR-362; an application made by Mr. and Mrs. Beard for a Variance from the terms of the Zoning Ordinance as it affects the side yard setback requirement for residences. Specifically, Mr. and Mrs. Beard are requesting a Variance to allow the construction of an addition which would extend to within 8.9 feet of the side line instead of the required 15 feet. The property is located on Kuskie Lane (Zoned LR).

4) Docket VR-363; an application made by Guy and Elaine Buzzelli for a Variance from the terms of Zoning Ordinance as it affects the set-back requirements for distances between mobile homes in a mobile home park. Specifically, Mr. and Mrs. Buzzelli are requesting a Variance to allow construction of an addition to their mobile home which would extend to within 14.6 feet of another unit instead of the required 20 feet. The property is located off Rock Lodge Road (Zoned LR).

5) Docket VR-364; an application made by Dr. and Mrs.. R.S. DeWaters for a Variance from the terms of the Zoning Ordinance as it affects the front yard set-back requirement for residences. Specifically, the applicants are requesting a Variance to allow construction of an addition to their residence which would extend to within 25 feet of the front line instead of the required 40 feet. The property is located on Hickory Ridge Lane (Zoned LR).

GARRETT COUNTY SANITARY COMMISSION
Town of Grantsville WWTP Improvements
RECEIPT OF PROPOSALS

Contract No. 2: Sealed bids marked "Bid of Chestnut Ridge Sewer Project - Contract No. 2" will be received by the Garrett County Sanitary Commission (hereinafter referred to as Owner), at 313 East Alder Street, Old Courthouse Room 200, Oakland, Maryland, 21550, until 2:00 p.m. on Friday, June 23, 1995, and the bids will subsequently be publicly opened and read.

Contract No. 3: Sealed bids marked "Bid for Chestnut Ridge Sewer Project - Contract No. 3" will be received by the Garrett County Sanitary Commission (hereinafter referred to as Owner), at 313 East Alder Street, Old Courthouse Room 200, Oakland, Maryland, 21550, until 2:00 p.m. on Friday, June 30, 1995, and the bids will subsequently be publicly opened and read.

GENERAL DESCRIPTION OF WORK

Contract No. 2: The project is to provide a sewer line extension from the Grantsvillle sewer system to the Chestnut Ridge Sanitary District. Contract No. 2 will construct approximately 20,800 linear feet of gravity sewer line, 340 linear feet of boring and jacking under I-68, 1,020 linear feet of 8" force main, 90 linear feet subaqueous force main crossings, approximately 4,100 linear feet of small diameter force main, thirty-two grinder pump stations, and one large capacity duplex sewage pumping station including emergency generator and site work, and various appurtenant work to the described scope.

Contract No. 3: The project is to provide a wastewater treatment plant expansion for the existing Town of Grantsville facility. Contract No. 3 will construct a new treatment train of 0.300 MGD capacity including a primary clarifier, submerged biological contactor unit, secondary clarifier, aerobic sludge digestor, sludge pumping station, and appurtenant piping and site work.

PRE-BID CONFERENCE

Contract Nos. 2 & 3: A pre-bid conference will be held for Contract No. 2 and No. 3 on Tuesday, June 6, 1995 at 2:00 p.m. in the office of the Owner to answer any questions concerning the contract documents. All bidders are invited to attend.

CONTRACT DOCUMENTS

Contract Documents will be available for inspection during regular working hours at the Office of the Owner.

Contract Documents may be obtained from the Owner upon written request and remittance of full payment of One Hundred-Twenty Dollars ($120.00) for Contract No. 2 and eight-five dollars ($85.00) for Contract No. 3 for each set with checks made payable to the Garrett County Sanitary District, Inc. Payment will not be refunded, said payment being retained by the Owner to cover cost of printing, handling and shipping. Requests for Contract Documents shall be submitted to:

Garrett County Sanitary District, Inc.
313 East Alder Street, Old Courthouse, Room 200
Oakland, Maryland 21550

All Bids must be made on the required Bid form. All blank spaces for Bid prices must be filled in, in ink or typewritten, and the bid form must be fully completed and executed when submitted.

The Owner reserves the right to waive any informalities or minor defects, or to reject any and all Bids. Any Bid may be withdrawn prior to the above scheduled time for the opening of Bids or authorized postponement thereof. Any Bid received after the time and date specified will not be considered. No Bidder may withdraw a Bid within 90 days after the actual date of the opening thereof. Should there be reasons why the contract cannot be awarded within the specified period, the time may be extended by mutual agreement between the Owner and the Bidder.

All questions and requests for clarification regarding the Contract Documents shall be made in writing to Jeff Gilbert, Engineer for the Garrett County Sanitary Commission, at the above address.

Bidders must satisfy themselves of the scope-of-work by examination of the site and a review of the Contract Documents including Addenda. After Bids have been submitted, the Bidder shall not assert that there was a misunderstanding concerning the quantities of work or of the nature of the work to be done. All excavation is unclassified without provisions for extra payment for rock excavation.

The Contract Documents contain the provisions required for the work included in the Project. Information obtained from an officer, agent or employee of the Owner or any other person shall not affect the risks or obligations assumed by the Contractor or relieve him from fulfilling any of the conditions of the Contract.

BID SECURITY AND BOND REQUIREMENTS

An acceptable Bid Bond, payable to the Owner, in the amount of five percent (5%) of the total bid must accompany each Bid. A certified check in the amount of five percent (5%) of the total bid, drawn on a solvent bank chartered in the state of Maryland, and payable to the Owner, may be substituted for the Bid Bond.

Attorneys-in-fact who sign Bid Bonds, Performance Bonds, Payment Bonds, or Defective Materials, Workmanship and Equipment Bonds must file with each Bond, a certified and effective dated copy of their power of attorney.

The Bid Bonds of all bidders, except the bonds submitted with the three (3) lowest acceptable bids, will be returned within a fifteen (15) day period following the time of opening of the bids. The Bid Bonds accompanying the three lowest acceptable bids will be returned after the Contract has been awarded to and executed by the successful bidder. Provided the Owner, for any reasons whatsoever, determines that it is not in its best interest to award a Contract, the Contract award will not be made by the Owner and the Owner will not then be liable for any payments whatsoever to the Bidder. Extension of time beyond the ninety (90) day period of the award may be made only by mutual agreement between the Owner, the Bidder, and the Bidder's Surety.

The party to whom the contract is awarded will be required to execute the Agreement within ten (10) calendar days from the date when Notice of Award is delivered to the Bidder. The Notice of Award will be accompanied by the necessary Agreement and contract forms. In case of failure of the Bidder to execute the Agreement, the Owner may, at his option, consider the Bidder in default.

The Owner within ten (10) days of receipt of an acceptable Agreement signed by the party to whom the contract was awarded, will sign the Agreement and return to such party an executed duplicate of the Agreement. Should the Owner not execute the Agreement within such period, the Bidder may, by Written Notice, withdraw his signed Agreement. Such notice of withdrawal shall be effective upon receipt of notice by the Owner.

A conditional or qualified Bid will not be accepted.

Award will be made by the Owner to the lowest responsive and responsible bidder.

All applicable laws, ordinances, and the rules and regulations of all authorities having jurisdiction over the work shall apply to the Contract throughout.

TIME FOR COMPLETION

Contract No. 2: The successful bidder will be required to fully complete all contract work within one hundred twenty (120) days of award of contract by the Owner.

Contract No. 3: The successful bidder will be required to fully complete all contract work within two hundred (200) days of award of contract by the Owner.

AWARD OF CONTRACT

The award of any contract will be made by the Owner.

Bidders are cautioned that bids that are deemed by the Owner to be obviously unbalanced may be rejected.

The Owner reserves the right to reject any proposal for failure to comply with all requirements of this notice or of any of the Contract Documents; however, it may waive any minor defects or informalities at its discretion.

The Owner further reserves the right to reject all proposals, or to award a contract or contracts which in its judgment is in best interest of the Owner.

NONDISCRIMINATION OF EMPLOYMENT

BIDDERS ON THIS WORK WILL BE REQUIRED TO COMPLY WITH THE PRESIDENT'S EXECUTIVE ORDER NO. 11246. THE REQUIREMENTS FOR BIDDERS AND CONTRACTORS UNDER THIS ORDER ARE EXPLAINED IN 41 CFR 60.4.

Notice of Requirement for Certification of Nonsegregated Facilities

Bidders and offerors are cautioned as follows: By signing this bid or offer, the bidder or offeror will be deemed to have signed and agreed to the provisions or the "Certification of Nonsegregated Facilities" in this solicitation. The certification provides that the bidder or offeror does not maintain or provide for his employees facilities which are segregated on a basis of race, creed, color, or national origin, whether such facilities are segregated by directive or on a defacto basis. The certification also provides that he will not maintain such segregated facilities. Failure of a bidder or offeror to agree to the Certification of Nonsegregated facilities will render his bid or offer nonresponsive to the terms of solicitation.

Date at Oakland, Maryland, this 16th day of May, 1995.

By: Wendell R. Beitzel, Administrator
Garrett County Sanitary Commission

NOTICE OF FINDING OF NO SIGNIFICANT IMPACT AND OF INTENT TO REQUEST RELEASE OF FUNDS

Date: May 24, 1995

Maryland Department of Housing and Community Development
Community Development Administration
Housing Development Programs
100 Community Place, Crownsville, Maryland 21032-2023
(410) 514-7446

On or about June 12, 1995 the Maryland Community Development Administration, Housing Development Programs (the "Agency") will request the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) to release funds under the Cranston-Gonzalez National Affordable Housing Act of 1990 (Title II, PL 101-628, "HOME Investment Partnership Act" (HOME) for the following projects:

Yough West Apartments $707,447
West Liberty Street, Oakland, Garrett County, Maryland
and
Glades West Apartments $787,649
West Liberty Street, Oakland, Garrett County, Maryland

The Agency proposes to assist in funding these new construction rental housing projects through the HOME Program. The Yough West project will consist of 32 units available for lower income elderly households. The Glades West project will consist of 32 units available for lower income families. The sites are located on the former Bradley Manor housing project site.

Finding of No Significant Impact (FONSI)

The Agency has adopted an Environmental Review Record (ERR) completed by the Town of Oakland for the use of CDBG funds to develop a park adjacent to and in support of the housing development projects. The Agency has utilized the ERR to document the projects environmental effects. The Agency has determined that the Request for Release of Funds (RROF) for the project will not constitute an action significantly affecting the quality of the human environment and accordingly the Agency has decided not to prepare an Environmental Impact Statement (EIS) under the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (PL 91-190).

The FONSI is based on the following:

During construction of the housing projects, the adverse environmental impact will be temporary and limited to construction noise and dust. It has been determined that the site meets all Federal, State and Local environmental requirements and is acceptable for this proposed activity.

The ERR for the HOME projects documents the environmental review of the project and more fully sets for the reasons why such Statement is not required. This review is available for public examination and copying upon request at the Agency's offices, at the above address, between the hours of 9:00 a.m. and 4:00 p.m., Monday thru Friday. No further environmental review of such project is proposed prior to the RROF to the Maryland Community Development Administration.

Public Comments on FONSI

All interested agencies, groups and persons disagreeing with this decision not to prepare an EIS for the proposed HOME project are invited to submit written comments for consideration by the Agency at the above cited address. All such written comments should be received at the above cited address on or before June 12, 1995. All such comments so received will be considered and the Agency will not RROF or take any administrative action on the project prior to the date specified in the preceding sentence.

Request for Release of Funds

The Agency is certifying to the HUD that the Agency and E. Wayne Freeman, in his official capacity as Director of Housing Development Programs, consent to accept the jurisdiction of the Federal courts if an action is brought to enforce responsibilities in relation to environmental reviews, decision-making and action; and that these responsibilities have been satisfied. The legal effect of the certificiation is that upon its approval the Agency may use HOME funds and the Agency will have satisfied its responsibilities under the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969.

Objections to Release of Funds

An objection to the release of funds will be accepted by HUD, but only if it is on one of the following basis: (a) that the certification was not in fact executed by the Certifying Officer; or (b) that Agency's ERR for the project indicates omission of a required decision finding or step applicable to the project in the environmental review process; or (c) no opportunity was given to the Advisory Council on Historic Preservation or its Executive Director to review the effect of the project on a property listed on the National Register of Historic places, or found to be eligible for such listing by the Secretary of the Interior, in accordance with 36 CFR Part 800 (d) another Federal agency has submitted a written finding that the project is unsatisfactory from the standpoint of environmental quality.

Objections to the release of funds must be prepared and submitted in accordance with the required procedure (24 CFR Part 58), and may be addressed to the HUD Baltimore Office, 10 S. Howard Street, Fifth Floor, Baltimore, Maryland 21201-2505

Objections to the release of funds on basis other than those stated above will not be considered by HUD. No objection received after June 28, 1995 will be considered by HUD unless, because of unforeseen delay, the request for release of funds was received after the date mentioned at the beginning of this Notice. Since this is possible and would cause a change in the objection period, objectors should contact the Agency to verify the date of the last day of the objection period.

This publication meets two notice requirements (1) notification to the public of the Finding of No Significant Impact (FONSI); and (2) notification to the public of the intent to request release of funds. Comments submitted must specify which requirements (1 or 2 above) are being addressed.

ASSIGNEE'S SALE OF VALUABLE REAL ESTATE

situate in Garrett County, Maryland.

Under and by virtue of a power of sale contained in a certain mortgage from Manuel M. Ferreira, Trust, established in the Last Will and Testament of the said Manuel M. Ferreira, in Estate No. 31798 in the Orphans' Court for Prince Georges County, Maryland, by David M. Ferreira, Trustee, dated August 7, 1986 and recorded in Liber No. 476, folio 686, as Modified in the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland. Default having occurred under the terms and conditions of said mortgage and it having been duly assigned to the undersigned for the purpose of foreclosure, I hereby give notice that I will on, at the hour of 10:00 o'clock a.m.

in the Rotunda of the Garrett County Courthouse in the Town of Oakland, Garrett County, Maryland, offer for sale and sell at public auction to the highest bidder, which is described as follows:

Condominium Unit No. 223, in the Wisp Condominium as described and shown on the Declaration of Condominium of the Wisp Condominium recorded among the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, in C.C.D. Liber No. 461, folio 328, as amended to date; together with an undivided percentage interest in the common elements of The Wisp Condominium appurtenant to that unit.

Subject to and with the benefits of the Condominium Declaration aforesaid as amended and The Wisp Condominium By-Laws, both recorded among the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, in C.C.D. Liber No. 461, folio 328, and further subject to all rights, easements, restrictions, covenants, and reservations contained in or referred to in The Wisp Condominium Declaration and By-Laws as amended as if the same had been fully set forth herein, including, but not limited to, the obligation to pay the assessments as described in the Condominium Declaration and By-Laws as amended.

Together with all improvements thereon, and the rights, roads, waters, privileges, appurtenances, and advantages, including, but not limited to, the percentage interest in the common elements of the said Wisp Condominium, to the same belonging or appertaining.

Being the same property conveyed to the Mortgagor herein by deed dated August 7, 1986 and recorded in Liber 481, folio 391, of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, herewith to be recorded among the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland.

TERMS OF SALE: A deposit of FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS cash on day of sale will be required from the purchaser at the time and place of sale, to be paid in cash or by cashier's or certified check, or in such other form as the Assignee may in his sole discretion determine. The balance of the purchase price shall be paid in cash or by cashier's or certified check upon final ratification of the sale by the Court for Garrett County. Taxes and all other public charges and assessments, if any, payable on an annual basis to be adjusted to date of sale and assumed thereafter by the purchaser. Cost of all documentary stamps and transfer taxes to be paid by the purchaser. The above described property will be sold in "as is" condition and without warranty as to the accuracy of information furnished to and/or by the Assignee and made available to prospective bidders.

Many Visitors In County Over Holiday Weekend

A large number of travelers visited Garrett County over the Memorial Day weekend, according to the Deep Creek Lake-Garrett County Promotion Council.

The Route 219 Information Booth at Deep Creek Lake opened for the summer season on Friday, May 19. From Friday through Monday of the Memorial Day weekend, the staff greeted 901 travelers who stopped at the booth seeking information about accommodations, restaurants, recreation, and historical sites in the county. Visitors over the weekend were from 11 states, Washington, D.C., and France.

This booth is open seven days a week from mid-May through the Autumn Glory Festival weekend and is staffed by William Sipple and Edgar Bender, both of Grantsville, and Brenda McDonnell of McHenry.

County Band Students To Perform In Friendsville Lions' Music Fest

County high school and middle school bands will provide part of the entertainment at the Garrett County Secondary Schools Music Fest, set for this Saturday, June 3, at the Friendsville Lions Park. Sponsored by the Northern Band Boosters and the Friendsville Lions Club, the festival will get underway at 11 a.m. The $2.00 admission, which includes raffle tickets, will help provide funds to support school music programs in Garrett County.

The series of concerts is intended to showcase the talents and performing abilities of the county secondary schools. The middle school bands will provide entertainment between 1 and 3 p.m. and the high school bands will perform from approximately 3 to 5 p.m.

The Fest will kick-off with a trout fishing rodeo at 11 a.m. with participants ages 14 and under. Prizes will be awarded for the largest and smallest fish caught. The rodeo will run throughout the day with the prize winners being announced near the end of the concerts. Judging the rodeo will be the DNR Police. Contest rules for the rodeo will be posted in the Friendsville Community Park on the day of the rodeo.

Along with the entertainment will be food services provided by various local service organizations such as a chicken barbecue by the Friendsville Lions Club, and other food booths by the Friendsville Rotary Club, volunteer firemen, and Western Garrett Pony League parents.

Persons attending the festival are encouraged to bring a lawn chair, sunscreen and any other items for an entertaining and relaxing afternoon, according to a Lions Club spokesperson.

Eleven Arrested On Drug Charges At State Park

A total of 11 arrests were made Saturday at Swallow Falls State Park for possession of a controlled dangerous substance and drug paraphernelia. The drug check point was initiated by the Garrett County Sheriff's Department in cooperation with the Maryland Department of Natural Resources State Forest and Park Services.

The charges also included driving while intoxicated while two citations were issued for failure to wear seat belts. Four vehicles were seized.

Maryland residents arrested for possession of marijuana and drug paraphernalia were Karen Francis Chaney, 27, Baltimore, and George Manley Albright III, 35, Baltimore.

The out-of-state residents arrested on the same charge included: Cheryl Lynn Smith, 41, New Cumberland, Pa.; Wayne Timothy Donahue, 25, Washington, Pa.; Keith Randall Via, 26, Pittsburgh. Timothy Donahue, 27, Washington, Pa.; Curtis Clint Simpson, 20, Princeton, W.Va.; Bryan Arnold Coburn, 33, Rivesville, W.Va.; Sandra Dee Holzer, 35, Pittsburgh; Terri Linda Benson, 38, Pittsburgh; and Rebecca Jean Roeter, 33, Fairmont W.Va. Coburn was also charged with DWI. Deputies and rangers manned the checkpoint for eight hours on Saturday.

Four Arrested On Drug Charges After Four-Month Invest.

Maryland State Police arrested four people, including three from Swanton, that broke up an alleged marijuana growing and distribution operation that stretched from Garrett County to Baltimore.

On Friday, police arrested Kenneth T. McConnell, 45, and Yvonne A. McConnell, 39, both of Swanton, Nathan G. Ciszek, 21, Glen Burnie, and a 15-year-old juvenile.

The three adults were charged with conspiracy to distribute marijuana, possession with intent to distribute marijuana, possession of marijuana, and possession of drug paraphernalia, according to a report filed with the state police barrack in McHenry.

State police served a federal search warrant at the Garrett County and Anne Arundel addresses, after a four-month investigation revealed that marijuana was reportedly being grown indoors at both locations.

Items recovered at the Swanton residence included high intensity grow lights, growing materials, pipes, bongs, scales, and approximately one and one-half pounds of suspected dried marijuana, according to the report.

In the basement of the Glen Burnie residence, police found 47 marijuana plants in various stages of growth. The plants ranged in size from seedlings to 48-inch tall, cultivated sinsemilla plants. Troopers found an intricate growing system that included revolving high intensity grow lights, hydroponic growing materials, a watering system, and fans.

The state police were assisted in the investigation by the Drug Enforcement Administration. The report indicated police believe the suspected marijuana was being grown at both locations for sale in the Baltimore Metropolitan area. An investigation is continuing.

REAR-END COLLISION

One vehicle overturned several times after it was rear-ended on Rt. 219 Tuesday afternoon, according to state police reports.

Robert Wible, 54, McMurray, was treated and released from Garrett Me-

Mettiki Recognized As MAPCO's Safest Underground Mine

Mettiki Coal Corporation was recently honored by its parent company, MAPCO Coal, for having that company's safest underground coal mine. MAPCO's president, Joe Craft, present's the award each year during an annual Safety Summit, to the company's safety leader.

"The presentation of the award to Mettiki, for safety excellence in 1994, was especially significant since it also won the award last year," said Craft. "This is the first time that any underground mine in MAPCO has won the award two years in a row."

The Safety Summit is an annual event, hosted by one of MAPCO's four coal regions. This year the site was Lexington, Ky., the location of the coal division's main office.

Mettiki was represented at the summit by Jody Theriot, manager of health and safety; A.B. Smith, manager of underground operations; Dave Thomas,

TO PLAY FOR YALE BULLDOGS - A member of the Northern High School Class of 1995 has not only been accepted to Yale University for the fall semester, but will also be a member of the Yale Bulldogs' football team. Lee Collins, son of George and Madeleine Collins, McHenry, who was an outstanding player for Coach Tom Vent at Northern and an excellent student in the classroom, will continue his academic and athletic career at Yale where he hopes to fill a tight-end spot on Yale Coach Carm Cozza's football team this fall. Collins is the second player in the past two years from Northern High School to have been recruited by an Ivy League university, as 1993 graduate Chris Wachter is presently a member of the Columbia University team. Collins is pictured above with his parents, seated, and Coach Vent. See story on sports pages.

Forestry, Logger Field Days Set; Schedule Noted

With everything from old-time horse logging to state-of-the art logging equipment demonstrations and numerous exhibits, the fifth Western Maryland Loggers/Forestry Field Day and Equipment Show will be held June 9-10 at the Garrett County Fairgrounds in McHenry.

Sponsored by the Maryland Forests Association, show hours are from noon to 7 p.m. on June 9 and from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., June 10.

New this year are several special demonstrations, including one by a forest fire-fighting foam team, set for 1:30 p.m., June 9 and 9:30 a.m., June 10, and the region's first-ever log skidder pull competition.

Forestry industry suppliers will display the latest in

Sheriff's Deputies Investigate Theft Of Bldg. Supplies

The Garrett County Sheriff's Office investigated the reported theft of several building supplies from a lot at Blakeslee Estates, located on the Boy Scout Crosscut Road, this past week.

Deputy Crossland responded to a call Tuesday from Frank Fitzwater, Oakland, who reported 24 2x4x8 boards; eight 2x6x8 boards; 50 pounds of 16-penny nails; a 10x15-foot blue tarp; a digging mattock; a round-nosed shovel; and two 3/4-inch sheets of plywood, were stolen from a construction site on his lot. The combined value of the missing items are valued at approximately $300.

The police report indicated most of the materials were found, and had been constructed into a tree house, located approximately 100-feet off Penn Point Road. Fitzwater verified the materials were those taken from his property, according to the report, and further investigation is continuing into the matter.

A residence on the Mayhew Inn Road was apparently the target of an attempted breaking and entering sometime between April 16 and May 28, according to the home's owner, Rhea S. Glisan.

Glisan told sheriff's deputies she had stopped by the residence on Sunday and noticed glass had been broken out of a back door window. No items were reported missing from the residence, but a hasp had also been pried off a door to a crawl space area.

Approximately $300 in damages were reported to Glisan's home. Deputies are continuing their investigation.

A Swanton man was arrested for driving while intoxicated (DWI), and possession of a drug paraphernalia on May 28, according to a report filed by Deputy Clark Warnick. Randolph Lee Harvey, 37, was charged with the offense after the officer observed his vehicle weaving across the center line. A subsequent search of Warnick's vehicle revealed a pipe containing suspected marijuana residue, according to the report. The arrest was effected at 1:40 a.m.

A body attachment was issued for the arrest of Harold Eugene Faidley, 28, Frostburg (Garrett County address), for failing to obey a subpoena for child support, according to a report filed at the Garrett County Sheriff's Office.

A bench warrant was issued for the arrest of Ellen Kay Truman, 24, accident, on a failure to appear charge.

David Morgan Lebon, 22, Bayard, W.Va., was arrested on the strength of a warrant on May 29. Julie Ferguson, the complainant, alleged that the defendant had been harassing her.

OPD Arrest MLP Man For Attacking Former Girlfriend

Oakland City Police arrested a Mountain Lake Park man on May 21 and charged him with various offenses, after he allegedly attacked his former girlfriend at the Oak-Land Motel.

Jeffrey L. Collins, 24, was charged with disturbing the peace, trespassing, battery, and theft following the 11:20 a.m. incident at the motel, involving an alleged attack on Rechel J. Werdebaugh.

According to a report filed by Cpl. E.L Alexander, he responded to the motel when he learned Werdebaugh had apparently been beaten, and required medical attention.

A witness, Craig Kovacs, Oakland, told Cpl. Alexander that Collins was waiting for Werdebaugh in the motel's parking lot when she arrived for work, and the two apparently argued. Kovacs said he told Collins to leave. Another witness reportedly heard thumps and screaming coming from one of the motel's rooms, and later said she saw Werdebaugh going across the parking lot, holding her head. She said she then saw Collins leave the room, the report said.

Collins reportedly told police he attempted to break off a relationship with Werdebaugh, and tried to get his ring from her. He told the officer she possibly hit her head on the wall as he tried to get the ring.

The charges of trespassing and battery were filed by Kovacs, and Werdebaugh filed the battery and theft charges. Following Collins' arrest, he was released on his own personal recognizance.

DWI ARRESTS

Two DWI (driving while intoxicated) arrests were logged by Oakland City Police during the past week.

Richard Andrew McIntyre, 68, Cumberland, was arrested along Rt. 219, near the Oak-Land Motel, and charged with DWI on May 27 by Officer C. Feller.

David Nordeck Shaffer, 41, Oakland, was stopped May 25 on High Street, and charged with DWI by Officer Feller.

MUNCHKINS LEARN ABOUT MAKE-UP - Watching intently at a make-up workshop/demonstration is this group of local young people, most of whom will be playing the roles of "Munchkins" in this weekend's production of Wizard of Oz. David Cartwright, who studied the performing arts in Pittsburgh and recently moved back to Garrett County, conducted the workshop. The production, under the direction of Garrett Choral Society director Nancy Learey, will open this Friday evening at 8 p.m., the first of six performances over the next two weekends.

Rabies Clinics Are Scheduled For Next Week

The Garrett County Health Department announces the second series of low-cost rabies clinics for the vaccination of cats and dogs beginning Monday, June 5, and concluding Thursday, June 8. Area residents are encouraged to check the following schedule for exact locations of the clinics in their area: Monday, June 5,- Bittinger fire hall; Tuesday, June 6, Garrett Community College, Maintenance Bay; Wednesday, June 7, Deer Park fire hall; and Thursday, June 8, Route 40 School at Longstretch. All clinics will be held from 5 to 6 p.m.

Cost of the vaccination is $5 per animal at the clinics. Dogs should be brought to the clinics on a leash and under control of a responsible individual. Cats should be brought to the clinics in a wire cage or tightly secured box with air holes.

According to a Health Department spokesman, the vaccination of dogs and cats is one of the most critical measures which can be taken by pet owners in protecting themselves and their families from possible exposure to the rabies virus. As the number of reported cases of wildlife rabies in Garrett County continues, the vaccination of pets becomes even more important.

As of May 18, the Environmental Health Services section of the Health Department has documented eight positive cases of rabies in Garrett County raccoons. Last year, Garrett County experienced 10 laboratory confirmed positive rabies cases. All of these cases involved raccoons.

Because of the wide geographical distribution of rabies seen thus far, no dog or cat in Garrett County can be considered safe from exposure to the disease, the spokesman said, adding that pet owners are highly encouraged to check the expiration date on their pet's rabies certificate to determine the need for vaccinations at one of the upcoming clinics or at a local veterinarian's office.

While Maryland law requires dogs and cats over four months of age to have the required vaccination against rabies, animals at least three months of age can be brought to the clinics and adequately protected by vaccination.

Advice to Our New Grads...

Although we don't do it every year, we occasionally use this column on this particular week to offer some advice to our newest "crop" of high school graduates, about 280 of whom will be crossing the stage this Sunday to receive their diplomas in recognition of 13 years of school work. This step into a new and totally different stage of life that each of these young people is about to take can be somewhat unnerving.

Work hard, at whatever you choose to do, be it college, the armed services, or the workplace. Learn all you can in whatever realm you select.

Don't be afraid to: ask questions, try new things, and make mistakes. Be proactive rather than reactive.

Be opportunistic, but be patient and don't expect to climb to the top of the ladder of success too quickly. There are usually dues to be paid, for which you will ultimately be a stronger, more confident, more informed person.

Don't ever take yourself too seriously; always try to have a good sense of humor and be able to laugh at yourself.

Take responsibility for your own actions. One of the "in" things in our society right now is to find someone else to blame for our weaknesses and our mistakes.

Learn from your mistakes, but always try to look forward rather than backward. You can do nothing to change the past, but you will almost always have an opportunity to influence the future.

Always leave something better than how you found it.

Always give a good, strong handshake, and look right into the eyes of the other person in the process.

Smile as often as possible.

If you go to college, always take a seat in or near the front row, and always introduce yourself to each of your professors/instructors at the end of class on the first day. Such an action could mean the difference of a letter grade one way or the other in close situations.

The above are not pieces of advice offered by trained counselors or wise philosophers, but simply by a few persons who happen to work in a newsroom and who happen to have considerable experience in day-to-day living. We hope they are of some help.

Congratulations to each and every 1995 Garrett County high school graduate, and good luck!

To the Editor:

How sad that such a beautiful idea of the Harmony for Peace program should be scuttled by those who may be well meaning, but who prefer to continue the divisive prejudices which are tearing our country apart.

Despite initial setbacks, a modified program will be held on July 8, and it is hoped that the many people who support this concept for peace, will attend.

Sincerely,
Margaret Beadle
Accident

To the Editor:

We attended a band concert at Accident Elementary School today and listened to the fourth and fifth grade participants play beautifully. We are really impressed with what the music program and the teacher, Suzanne Clark, have done for these children. The children seem to be getting a lot out of the program and this will mean that music concerts in the county will be more and more appreciated by them. The excellence of instruction and the caring teachers at Accident Elementary really make a difference with these children.

We are really fortunate that our daughter goes to such a fine school. Thanks to the teachers and staff.

Sincerely,
Marci McClive
and Mark Halsig

To the Editor:

I see a lot of news about the end of the "War" in Vietnam during the past few days, and I can't help but wonder why we were there to begin with. I saw a documentary on Public Television that answered it for me. I want to share this with all the veterans who are "still" wondering why. So far the news media, the historians and even our government will not tell the truth, or just refuse to tell us. Why?

I feel that "our best and brightest," did serve. Also, I feel that "our best and brightest" need to know why. I hope that our local newspapers will follow this letter up and investigate what I am going to tell you that served, and still wonder why.

Before we get involved in Vietnam, we need some history before the Vietnam Conflict.

When Hitler invaded France, during the early part of World War II, the country of Indo-China was a French colony. After World War II began, the French troops left in Indo-China were pulled out to help retake France from the Germans.

After the war ended and before France could move back into Indo-China and re-establish control, Ho-Chi-Minh and the people declared their "independence" from France. They also thought that America, the strong believer of democracy and independence, would help them stay independent of France. Ho-Chi-Minh was even shown waving an American flag in 1945, along with all the people on the streets. They wanted what we had, "independence from a totalitarian country." Ho-Chi-Minh was pro-democracy at that time.

With the consent of America, and our support and aid of France, we helped with the French re-occupation of that country. Ho-Chi-Minh was needing help to remain independent of the French, so he got help from where ever he could; it just so happened that his support was from the Communist block countries. This involvement of the Communist block infuriated our leaders.

America, with the fall of the French occupation of that country about 1959, decided, "We'll show them." So entered the "best and brightest," without knowledge of why.

Never once did our news people let our young boys know why. History will prove that you can't defeat the heart of people who are determined on "independence" and "freedom." It is still that the history of Vietnam is being hidden from the ones who were too young to know what happened after World War II, and did their patriotic duty, to follow our leaders.

There you have it. I dare you to prove me wrong.

Thank you sincerely,
L. L. "Buddy" Duckworth

To the Editor:

After hearing and reading much of the rhetoric concerning the possible implementation of outcome-based education (or elements thereof) in Garrett County public schools, I feel compelled to offer my opinions out of concern for the education of my children and countless others like them. The Board of Education, county and school administrators, teachers, and the citizens of this county have a far-reaching decision to make. We must not approach this on the premise that just because it represents a relatively new trend that it is necessarily going to be better for our children.

The trend for approximately the last 30 years in education has been toward the centralization of authority and away from local control. We've seen power solidified at the top (the National Education Association and the U.S. Department of Education) and dictated through various agencies to the state and local organizations, school boards, etc. During that time, policy has been moving toward a value-free education and away from anything that even hints, however vaguely, of religion. The values and moral character that were once considered an integral part of the makeup of an American are now being derided by the very organization(s) that should have a major part in installing these perspectives in the minds of our young people. Parents are becoming concerned that the values and morals taught to their children at home will become reinterpreted and devalued at school.

One of the major publications of the NEA's assault on these conservative values is titled, "Combatting the New Right." In it they disparage the pro-family movement, any teaching of "values," and put down much of what we now know as content-based education. I can illustrate this further by citing the titles of several of their other publications and articles: "What's Left After the Right?", "Profile of a Censor," "How the Religious Right Views the New Age and the Force," and "Friends of Public Education." Throughout this literature, parents who resist these changes on moral grounds are labeled as censors, ignorant or unscholarly dimwits, or extremists, while left-wing activists and social reformers are called friends and supporters.

Not surprisingly, outcome-based education was first developed in the 1960s by Benjamin Bloom in an approach he entitled "Learning for Mastery." He simply refined the controversial theories first expounded by Horace Mann and later by John Dewey during the first part of this century. The fundamental assumption of this theory stresses equality, not excellence; attempts to reduce student competition; exhorts success at every level for everyone, not individual achievement. What does this sound like to you?

Students learn better and achieve more quickly in a competitive atmosphere. All students cannot learn all things at the same rate or level of comprehension. We are fooling ourselves if we think that all children are of equal ability, or can be made to be so. (I don't think I'll ever grasp quantum physics.) But to remove the incentive to do a job quickly and well, which mastery learning can do, is to ultimately allow all students to slide farther into mediocrity. Self-esteem cannot be taught or given, but must come from within the individual through a sense of pride in achievement won at some cost through the efforts of that individual. Too often in our schools today students are being rewarded for substandard work and an inadequate cognizance of the given subject under the guise of increasing self-esteem. Believe me, when a superior job is done, the student will feel it without anyone having to say anything. Of course, adult and peer reinforcement are always helpful.

I have beside me here the May 1995 issue of "Education Update," a publication of the Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development, a self-proclaimed "diverse, international community of educators, forging covenants in teaching and learning for the success of all students." In it are articles that support a "no-grade" assessment of student progress, a student community free from competition; another two on diversity and multiculturalism; one on removing the standard curriculum and replacing it with an integrated outcome-based one consisting of only four subject areas; another on meeting the needs of gay students; and one that included such statements as, "Traditional Christians have a real problem with anything in the curriculum that deals with gender equity or family structure." A real shocker from that same article stated that "For traditional Christians, eternal salvation is the pre-eminent goal, and anything that interferes with that goal must be resisted." Whoever came up with a radical idea like that? Without too much study and research, the name Jesus Christ keeps coming up! Interspersed throughout this issue were a few articles supporting a more sane view of education.

Now, some may argue that fringe ideas like those above don't translate into a clear and present concern, but when they come from educators in the higher echelons of our state and national organizations, it doesn't make me feel very comfortable to know that many of these people are the agenda setters and curriculum planners for future classrooms all across our great nation. Having been a teacher for nearly 30 years, I have seen many changes take place in our classrooms. In my opinion, it's time to step back, take a good look at how we've reached this point, and to scrupulously chart the educational course our children should take in the future.

It is difficult for people to become a part of something that they don't know much about. In American schools, I think we should teach American history, traditional American values and precepts, assimilate all immigrants and diverse, multicultural groups into our American heritage and once again become the melting pot of the world, rather than the salad bowl it is now becoming, where every ethnic group strives to retain its own individual flavor rather than working for the betterment of the whole. I believe most people still come here to be Americans; they just need to be taught how to do so.

The State of Maryland says it won't adopt all the pieces-parts of the OBE program, but only select ones. Herein lies the danger. All series of events, be they in war or educational reform, in time tend to escalate to the highest level of technology available. The technology though, in this case, is in liberal diversification of instructional methods and subject contents. Escalation of this sort will adversely and profoundly affect the cohesiveness of this great nation, the moral structure of our societies and most importantly, our most precious asset, the minds of our children.

Thank you very much.

Sincerely,
John W. McLaughlin

View From My Window

by Jeffrey Wilson

Down on the Farm

Two weeks ago I realized an ambition of six years standing, I bought two pigs with a view to ham and bacon for Christmas. This has not been the only expansion of my farm. I split one of my beehives so that there are now three instead of two. And I have been working great guns in the garden.

I realize that most people in the agricultural industry would not regard me as a "real" farmer. I used to believe that the reason they didn't think I could travel under that umbrella was because I do not make my living solely or primarily from farming. No longer do I believe it.

The prevailing attitude about what constitutes a "farmer" is more cultural than economic. If I used lots of equipment, plenty of chemicals, owned a little land and rented a lot more, had a dairy herd, specialized facilities for raising poultry and pigs, and lost money each and every year, I would be deemed a farmer.

I decided not to go that route, because -- for one reason out of many -- I realized that in farming of such a kind, I would lose money each and every year. The route I have chosen puts hundreds of dollars worth of groceries on my family's table, puts some money in my own pocket, but it is not considered farming.

The issue in terms of public perception is not whether my enterprise is profitable, but rather whether I go through the motions that others (many of whom would profit from those motions) have set as criteria for farming. Production agriculture has its place with its big inputs and equally big outputs. It is an efficient way to produce cereal and feed grains, for example. As a nation we need production agriculture for the security of our food supply. No one disputes that. What I dispute is that production agriculture should define farming.

Our country was founded upon another kind of agricultural enterprise which I call homestead farming. This consists of each family, in cooperation with their neighbors seeking to ensure a measure of economic independence by producing as much of their food as possible and by acquiring as many other of life's necessities as they could through the sale or barter of food and fiber raised on the farm and, when possible, converted into a higher value product (e.g. wool to thread to cloth to clothes).

The great machines of government and industry have told us for most of this century that the industrialization of farming would free us from so-called drudgery. Freed to do what? To write poetry, to make music, to create paintings and sculpture -- what great cultures do when they have the leisure and money to do it -- or, pursuing a higher ideal, to spend more time strengthening relationships with relatives and friends? It might have been so, but that has not happened.

As a nation we watch lots of television. Many of us go to a former farm and hit a small ball with a stick, and then chase it in a cart. Because we don't get the exercise we got in the old days of drudgery, we go to health clubs for exercise. Is this progress?

I work up quite a sweat turning the soil in the garden with a broadfork. Before the summer is out I may have the pleasure of chasing a pig over a farm that is still a farm. When it rains I may even write a poem. And I am home with my family all the while.

I am not alone in this effort to restore homestead farming. I can hear the crowing of roosters in different directions. Next door my brother's house cow is about ready to be bred. Down the hollow I can see a neighbor s garden which puts mine to shame.

With 10 laying hens, two pigs, three hives of bees, a garden, and an orchard, I feel like I'm really getting somewhere.

This is the last column before the curtain goes up on the Wizard of Oz this weekend. Plans are set, the cast is ready, the music is great, and the stage is a work of genius.

Ben Sincell is the genius behind the set. With no curtain and a small stage, Ben has again worked miracles. The audience is taken from Kansas to Oz to the Emerald City and back to Kansas. A professor of theatre at Garrett Community College, Ben has served as designer and technical director for the Garrett Lakes Arts Festival since its inception. He has designed scenery and lighting for numerous plays produced locally as well as at Frostburg State University and West Virginia University. He holds a master of fine arts degree from WVU and has been a performing magician for over 30 years. In addition to his theatre work this summer, Ben and his family are presently building their own home and hope to move in sometime this summer.

Paul Shogren (the Wizard) is a retired forester for the federal government, which he served for 30 years. He became the Wizard of Oz by accident when he appeared at the first practice to volunteer as a stagehand, read the Wizard part as a fill-in, and landed the role. This is his stage debut, and Paul said he figures it was serendipity that led him to the part. He and his wife Donna Lee moved to Oakland in 1991 to be near their sons Gunnar of Morgantown and Bjorn of McHenry. He has sung with the Garrett Choral Society in several productions.

Sandy Wilson (Aunt Em) has lived in Garrett County for six years and has recently become a homeowner here. She has taught school in the county for eight years, and currently teaches fourth grade at Broad Ford Elementary School. While this is Sandy's first local appearance, she has performed in several productions in Allegany County. Her roles have included Miss Brill in Cheaper By The Dozen and Mrs. Sowerberry in Oliver. Sandy says that as in any play with children, Wizard of Oz is very enjoyable.

Chuck Nolan (Uncle Henry and Lord Growley) is a deputy with the Garrett County Sheriff's Office, for which he has worked for several years. This is Chuck's first appearance with the Choral Society - and it is one which will be long remembered and - we hope - repeated. If you see Chuck, ask him about his Spanish portrayal of Uncle Henry! He is a decorated veteran of the Vietnam War, and resides in the county with his wife Jane and their daughters and son.

Bill Grant (the Cowardly Lion) is the writer of this column, and somehow completely forgot and/or avoided including himself in the line-up of players. Not to worry - we here at The Republican know Bill - boy oh boy, do we know Bill. We could go off on quite a tangent here, but we'll be nice. He has sung with the Garrett Choral Society for years and years and years, and in that time has managed to play umpteen practical jokes on our fearless leader, Nancy Learey. (She has gotten him back once or twice.) He is reprising his role as the Cowardly Lion from when he performed the part in high school. We think the year was about 1912. While rather elderly, Bill really is a nice guy and works at the First United National Bank and Trust. He is married to a really nice person named Laurie, who also sings with the Society, and they have two really nice kids, Jenny and Andrew. The whole lot of 'em lives in Oakland. Now, back to Bill's writing . . .

Munchkins - In addition to the adults who have been featured, the readers need to know that nearly 50 youth have involved themselves in this performance. They range from farmers (Jeremy Gosnell) to lawyers (Chris Lantz) to dancers to Lollipop Guilds, etc., etc., etc - and, oh yes, our stage managers Matthew Sincell, and David Peterson, who are assisted by Daniel Sincell, Ben Grose, and Josh Teets. All have worked hard over the past months and are sure to please even the most critical audience members.

Performances are slated for this Friday and Saturday, June 2 and 3, at 8 p.m., and again on Sunday, June 4, at 3 p.m. The performances will be offered the following weekend, June 9, 10, and 11, at the same times. Tickets are available at the following pharmacies: Gregg's, Englander's, Beachy's, and Deep Creek.

The Wizard of Oz is part of the Garrett Lakes Arts Festival summer season, and is supported by the Garrett County Arts Council, the Maryland State Arts Council, and McDonald's. It is being presented with permission of Tams-Witmark Music Library. The Garrett Choral Society extends its gratitude to Garrett Community College for the use of its facility for this production.

"Democracy In America" Chautauqua To Bring Historical Figures To Life

RICHARD JOHNSON

Characters out of the 19th century will come to life next month when "Democracy in America" Chautauqua appears at Garrett Community College July 5, 6, 7, and 8. The Chautauqua will present modern day actors and actresses playing the roles of seven famous observers of American democracy in a series of day-time workshops for adults and children and evening performances under a tent on the college campus.

Through the perspectives of these seven characters many facets of American democracy will be examined, including individualism, morality, religion, manners, community participation, role of the media, justice and equality, as well as democratic influences on the family, man's ambitions, and material pursuits. These themes were first expressed in the classic Democracy in American by Alexis de Toqueville, French nobleman who traveled through the United States in 1831 to better understand democracy, its character and principles, its successes and its failures, its history and its future.

Toqueville will be the first historical character to take the stage on Wednesday evening in the person of Richard Johnson, professor of American history and associate director of interdisciplinary studies at California State Polytechnic Institute, Pomona. He is a well known scholar and lecturer on the social, religious, and political history of 19th century America.

On Thursday evening, two 19th century women, Harriet Beecher Stowe and Frances Wright, will appear on stage. Stowe, best known for her anti-slavery novel Uncle Toms' Cabin addressed many compelling issues of her day in over 30 books and 200 articles. Her character will be presented by Sulvia Sherman, chairperson of the Department of History at San Bernardino Valley College.

Frances Wright, born in Scotland, was a frequent visitor to the United States, touring with the Marquis de Lafayette and meeting with Thomas Jefferson at Monticello. She is best know for her writings and lectures against the subjugation of women and the institution of slavery. Her character will be presented by Dr. Sally Drucker, professor of English at North Carolina State University.

All evening performances of the Chautauqua are set to begin at 8 p.m. and are free to the public. The Chautauqua is sponsored by the Inland Empire Educational Foundation Humanities Coalition with partial funding from the National Endowment for the Humanities and the Maryland Humanities Council.

Garrett Community College is one of four sites in the United States selected for this summer's "Democracy in America" programs told the assembled guests that its employees had "once again demonstrated premiership in action."

In accepting the award on behalf of all the people of Mettiki, Smith attributed Mettiki's safety success to employee pride and ownership. He stressed that winning the president's award for the second year in a row "was not an accident. It was won by leadership, hard work, and dedication to Mettiki's core values of: job security, quality of life, and safety."

Smith told the group that the company is "off to a great start in 1995," and challenged all comers for the award to be presented next year in west Kentucky.

Men Of Accord Performance Set At Penn Alps

The local barbershop quartet; Men of Accord, will perform Saturday, June 10, at 7 p.m. as a part of the summer series, Music at Penn Alps. Tickets are available at the door. The weekly concerts are held in the Great Hall at Penn Alps, Grantsville.

Members of the group are Charlie Pitrolo, Fairmont, W.Va., tenor; Tom Peterson, Oakland, lead; and Jack Harvey, baritone, and Ron Leif, bass, both of Cumberland.

The quartet recently released its first recording, Nothin' Too Serious, featuring a variety of barbershop favorites and novelty songs.

Every Saturday evening throughout the summer, Music at Penn Alps brings a variety of music to the area. Others scheduled to perform are: Linda DiGiustino Sabak, pianist, June 17, and the blue grass band, Fresh Cut, July 1. There will be no concert June 24, the weekend of the Grantsville Days celebration.

Last year's performance by Men of Accord was an early sellout and advance tickets are recommended. For more information on the series and reservations, person may call Spruce Forest Village, at 301-895-3332. Music at Penn Alps is sponsored by Spruce Forest Village and Penn Alps, with additional support from the Maryland Arts Council.

Annual Historical Dinner Scheduled At Bittinger

Plans have now been competed for the annual Garrett County Historical Society's dinner, to be held Thursday, June 22. As in the past, the meal will be held at the Bittinger Community Building, beginning at 6:30 p.m. The price for the dinner is $8 per person.

The speaker for the evening will be John A. Grant, editor of The Glades Star. His talk will center on the march of Gen. Braddock's army through Garrett County 240 years ago. He will focus on people who accompanied Braddock, such as Thomas Cresap, Christopher Gist, John Frazier, Daniel Boon, and Tom Fossit. A slide presentation will accompany the talk.

During the evening, there will be the customary business session, which will include items concerning the society, election of new members to the Board of Directors, and reports by various committees.

Reservations for the banquet may be made by sending a check or money order to Mrs. Carl M. Cathell, 550 Liberty St., Oakland MD 21550.

corporate affairs manager; and Charlie Wesley, vice president of operations. Theriot presented an overview of Mettiki's accomplishments during 1994, and recognized the individual and team efforts of all Mettiki employees. He attributed the company's success to the safety attitude there.

"At Mettiki, safety is not a department or division," Theriot told summit participants, "it is a vital part of everything we do.

In presenting the award, Craft stressed the importance of safety to MAPCO Coal, and recognized Mettiki's leadership in this area. Craft also acknowledged the many challenges faced by Mettiki during 1994, and What Manner of Book is This?

The Bible reveals the mind of God, the state of man, the wey of salvation, the doom of sinners, and the happiness of believers. Its teachings are holy, its instructions are binding, its histories are true and its decisions are unchangeable. Read it to be wise and believe it to be safe. It contains light to direct you, food to support you, and comfort to cheer you. It is the traveller's map, the pilgrim's staff, the pilot's compass, and the Christian's charter. Here Heaven is opened and the gates of hell disclosed. Christ is its Grand Subject, our good its design, and the glory of God its end, It should fill the memory, rule the heart, and guide the feet.

Read it slowly, frequently, and prayerfully. It is a mine of wealth, and a river of pleasure. It is given you in life and its truth will stand forever. It involves the highest responsibility, rewards the greatest labour, and condemns all who trifle with its holy contents.

The Bible stands alone. There is nothing like it in the wide world of literature; and if anything further were needed to prove that the book which we call "The Bible" is, in very deed, the living and eternal Word of God, it may be found in the ceaseless efforts of the evil to prove that it is not. "Forever, O Lord, Thy Word is settled in heaven." "All scripture is given by inspiration of God."

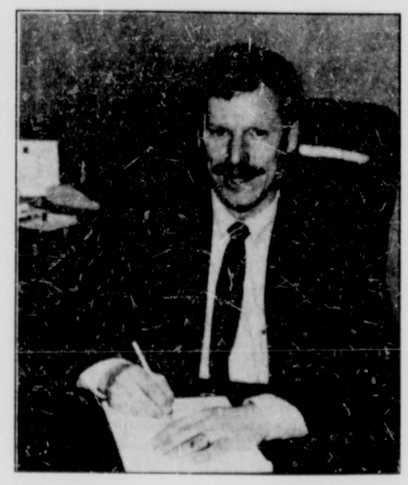
Garrett County Public Schools Prepared me to succeed!



"After graduating Southern High in 1971, I attended and successfully completed college and law school. The public schools I attended in Garrett County had prepared me well for higher education.

"The academic preparation was excellent. But just as important, the Garrett County schools taught me life skills, how to get along with people, and a lot about character— the importance of discipline and hard work.

"Now, I have two children attending Garrett County schools. Judging from their progress, our public schools are every bit as good now as they were when I was a student, maybe even better!"

SCHOOL WILL SOON BE OUT for the summer, but school was out for good at the old Kitzmiller High School midway through the school year of 1922-23, as students and staff moved from the old building, pictured above some years later, into their new school building, pictured below, near the Christmas of 1922. These photos appear in the 1926 Kitzmiller High School yearbook, a copy of which is on loan from Donna McRobie. Food For Thought

Use your microwave to make easy lemonade. Cook 1½ cups sugar and the same amount of water on high for 5 to 7 minutes, stirring halfway through. Boil 1 minute. Heat 10 lemons--in batches--about 1½ minutes, then squeeze. Stir into syrup, chill, add a quart of water.

What is America eating: The favorite vegetable is the potato, followed by iceburg lettuce, tomatoes, onions, carrots, celery and corn.

Combine equal amount of olive oil and minced fresh herbs, then brush them over a split loaf of peasant bread. Brown lightly under the broiler, then turn and top with a little parmesan cheese and broil again. It's like a trip to Italy.

What a super breakfast treat! Cut up a couple of ripe bananas and freeze. Blend them until smooth with 1½ cups skim milk, a cup of low-fat flavored yogurt and cinnamon and nutmeg to taste.

Did you know that California is the largest raisin producer in the world--some 450,000 tons a year?

Two Guests To Speak With OBE Study Committee

The ad hoc committee to appointed by the Garrett County Board of Education to investigate outcome-based education (OBE) as it relates to the local school system has invited two representatives of the Public Education Network to address the public on June 5. Nancy Staible and Virginia Miller will begin their presentation at 6:30 p.m. at Garrett Community College in room 314. A public question and answer session will follow the talk, which in turn will be followed by an open meeting of the OBE committee.

A spokesperson for the Public Education Network (PEN) stated that the goal of the organization is to inform, equip, and mobilize public involvement for well-constructed reform in education on a local, state, and national level.

Nancy Staible graduated from Pennsylvania State University in 1969 with a bachelor of science degree in biology. She is a former high school science teacher, and has worked extensively in counseling troubled adolescents as a probation officer with Summit County Juvenile Court in Akron, Ohio. She graduated as a physician's assistant in 1975 from the Medical College of Georgia and currently is associated with Ellwood Family Medicine in Ellwood City, Pa. Mrs. Staible is the chairperson of PEN and is a member of the executive committee of the Pennsylvania Coalition for Academic Excellence.

Virginia Miller graduated from Pennsylvania State University in 1977 with a bachelor of arts degree in pre-law. She also attended Duquesne University Law School, and gained several years of experience as a systems analyst for a Pittsburgh corporation. She presently researches, writes, and speaks on topics concerning education. Mrs. Miller is the author of Changing Face of American Education: An Analysis of Goals 2000 and Related Legislation. She has also penned her analyses of the national standards in writings titled War Against Western Culture: A Look at the Nation's History Standards and It Doesn't Add Up: A Look at the National Mathematics Standards.

The public is invited to attend.

IN RECOGNITION OF OLDER AMERICANS' MONTH, senior citizens at the Mary Browning Senior Center, Oakland, and the Flowery Vale Senior Center, Accident, shared noontime meals with children in the Head Start programs last week. Also at the Accident center, the two groups were treated to a performance by the National Tap Dancing Ensemble. A first-time interaction for the two age groups, organizers hope to make it an annual event. In the above photo, senior citizens and children sharing a meal at the Mary Browning center, pictured from left to right, are Harold Bittinger, Leo Stottlemeyer, Betty Trickett, Julia Knotts, Elizabeth Rodeheaver, Debbie Zimmerman, and Matthew Rodeheaver.

Jurisdictional W.O.W. Election Of Officers Held

Woman, Child Injured In DWI 4-Wheeler Mishap

An Oakland woman was charged with driving while intoxicated (DWI) after she and her young child were injured Monday evening in a four-wheeler accident along Rt. 50, east of the Table Rock Road.

According to a report filed with the Maryland State Police, Barrack W, McHenry, 29-year-old Marie Angela Bosley was operating the vehicle on the shoulder of the road, when she lost control, causing it to overturn.

Bosley and her 3-year-old passenger, Emily Morgan Bosley, were transported to Garrett County Hospital, where the child was treated and later transported to Ruby Memorial Hospital, Morgantown, W.Va., for treatment of head injuries. She has since been released from that facility. Marie Bosley was admitted to Garrett Memorial, but has since been released.

In addition to the DWI charge, Bosley was also charged with negligent driving, operating an uninsured and unregistered vehicle, and for not wearing a helmet, following the 10 p.m. accident.

Lee Collins To Play Football For Yale University Bulldogs

For the second time in two years, a graduating member of the Northern High School football program is headed for an Ivy League university to continue his academic and athletic careers.

Lee Collins, son of George and Madeleine Collins, McHenry, has been accepted for admission into Yale University and accepted by Coach Carm Cozza as a member of the Yale Bulldogs football team.

The 6-3, 210-pound Collins has been a standout on Coach Tom Vent's teams for the past several seasons, particularly at the tight end position.

"Our program desperately needs some good tight ends right now," Coach Cozza told The Republican, "and after looking at films of Lee we really think he has excellent potential to help us fill that gap. He has good athletic ability, he moves his feet well, and he can really pluck the ball out of the sky.

"Plus he's just a real solid, academically sound young man, and I'm looking forward to working with him," Cozza added.

Scholarships for football are not awarded by Yale, but financial aid is provided to students who have the academic record to earn admission to the university. Aid is also awarded based partly upon financial need.

Collins was also a standout in wrestling and track and field for the Huskies the past three years, having recorded a winning record in wrestling and finishing seventh in the state last weekend shot put. He is an honor student, president of the Lettermen's Club, treasurer of the Northern High School chapter of the National Honor Society. He has been a Student of the Month at Northern and was named Best Student Athlete and Outstanding Student of the Year in recent awards ceremonies.

He is also an Eagle Scout and served as a volunteer for the Blind Skiers' Program at the Wisp Ski Area. Mountain biking is among his other athletic interests.

"I honestly believe that Lee was the best tight end in the area this past season," stated Coach Vent. "He is, in my opinion, a true student athlete; he motivates himself to the point that he believes there is nothing he can't achieve, he's an excellent team leader, and he's top quality in the classroom. It's going to be tough for us to replace him."

Vent noted that Collins is the second Husky gridder in the past two years who has been accepted to an Ivy League university. "Chris Wachter, who graduated two years ago, is now the second receiver on Columbia University's team," he said. "I am so proud of these kids, who are setting a real example for every student athlete in the county."

Oakland Jets To Conduct Tryouts At Dennett Road

The Oakland Jets of the Mountaintop Youth Football League will conduct tryouts for the 1995 season this Sunday, June 4, at Dennett Road Elementary School beginning at 11:30 a.m. Team membership is open to all youth ages 9-13 who are in grades five through eight.

Persons desiring more information about the tryouts or the team in general may contact Vic Compitello at 334-3192.

Garrett Leads State In Record Turkey Harvest

Maryland Department of Natural Resources (DNR) Secretary John R. Griffin announced this week that sportsmen harvested a total of 2,440 wild turkeys during the four-week season, a new Maryland record. These unofficial results of the state's 1995 spring wild turkey hunting season represent a 40 percent increase from 1994's record of 1,744 turkeys.

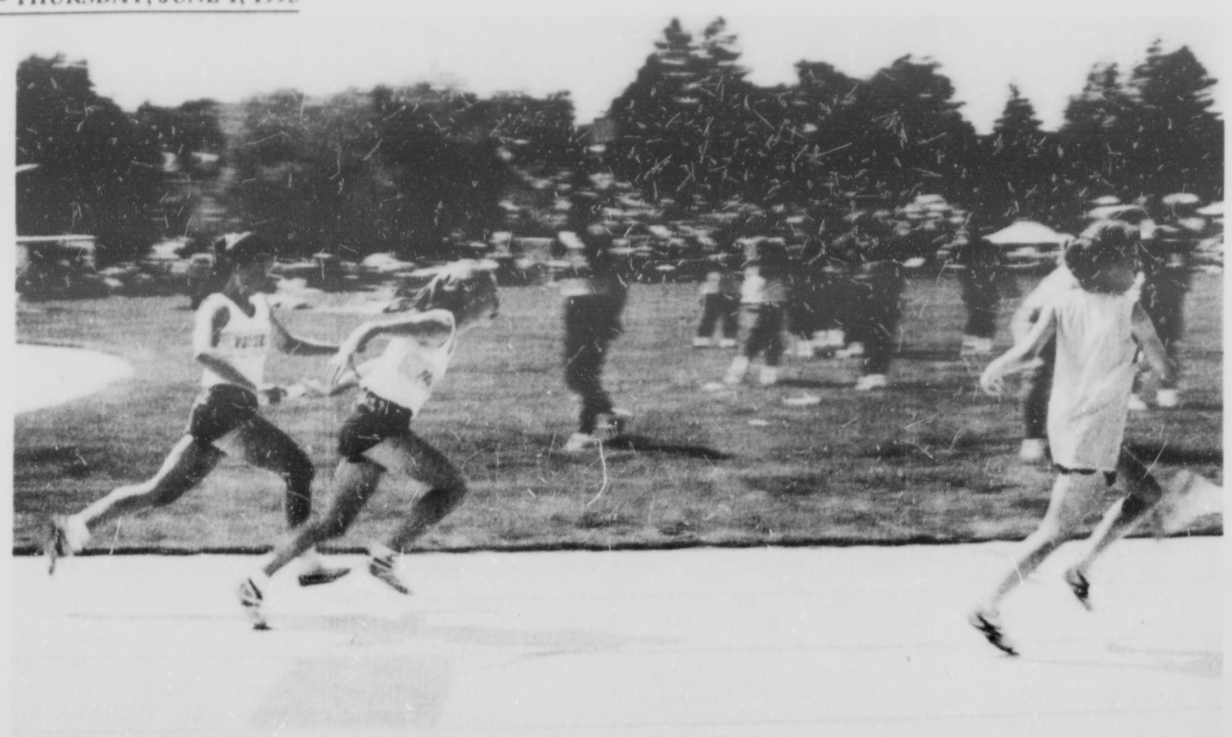
Garrett County led the state with 722 birds harvested, followed by Allegany with 490, Washington with 335; Calvert with 143, Frederick with 140, and Worcester with 101.

"The success of Maryland's turkey trap and transplant program is directly responsible for this record harvest," Griffin said. "The Wildlife Division has established turkey flocks in every county of the state by trapping wild birds and releasing them into unoccupied habitats, and successful reproduction has allowed wild turkey populations to increase dramatically."

The success of the program allowed the Wildlife Division to open the entire state to spring turkey hunting for the first time ever in 1995. The increasing popularity of the sport, as well as the statewide hunting season, are the two main factors that led to the record harvest.

Griffen said that a large turkey harvest was expected in 1995. An excellent hatch during 1994 meant that there were large numbers of turkeys present last fall. Also, the mild winter had little effect on turkey populations, he said. This combination resulted in excellent conditions for the 1995 spring season. Favorable hunting weather also was a factor in this spring's successful harvest.

"The success of Maryland's turkey restoration efforts are remarkable, especially considering how urbanized Maryland has become in the last 50 years. Many people thought they might never see wild turkeys in some areas of the state. However, recreational opportunities, both hunting and non-hunting, should continue to expand as wild turkey populations become firmly established," Griffen said.



SETTING A SCHOOL RECORD at last weekend's Maryland State 1A Track and Field Championships at Western Maryland College was the Northern High School girls' 400-meter relay team. Above, Michelle Geis successfully slaps the baton into the waiting hand of teammate Rachel Leverenz. Although the Northern girls, coached by Charlie Himmler, did not place in the top six in any of the events at the state meet, they did set four school records. The 400 relay team, which also included Chelsea Frickey and Jill Speicher, finished with a new best time of 55.18 seconds, while Mitzi White set a school mark in the 3,200 (two-mile run) at 12:32. Kendra Duckworth, who has led the Huskies' distance events all season, set school records in both the 800-meter run (2:35.5) and 1,600 (5:38). Photo by Ellen Housley. Pictured below is the Huskies' only medalist at the state meet, Dave Schofield, who won the bronze medal in the discus. See story for details.

Northern Girls Set School Marks At State Meet; Schofield Medals

The track and field teams of Northern High School were represented by nearly two dozen athletes at the Maryland State 1A Championships, held Friday and Saturday on the campus of Western Maryland College, Westminster.

The Northern boys' team, coached by Harvey Speicher, had two members place among the top six, as Dave Schofield, a junior, won the bronze medal (third place) in the shot put and Rich Bowser, a senior, finished fifth in the 1,600 (mile) run.

Just finishing out of the top six were senior Lee Collins, who missed sixth place in the shot put by three-quarters of an inch, and Andy Kahl, who missed sixth place in the long jump by one-quarter of an inch. Kahl also finished seventh in the 110 hurdles.

Steve Savage finished ninth in the shot put to give the Huskies three of the top nine places in that event.

The Northern girls, coached by Charlie Himmler, did not place in the top six in any of the events and thus did not score any team points; however, four school records were set.

Kendra Duckworth set a new school record in both the 800-meter run (2:35.5) and the 1,600 run (5:38), while Mitzi White set a school mark in the 3,200 run with a time of 12:32.

The 400-meter relay team of Michelle Geis, Rachel Leverenz, Chelsea Frickey, and Jill Speicher set a new school mark of 55.18 seconds.

Southern Girls Finish Third In State Meet; Boys Eighth

The Southern High School track and field teams concluded a successful season last weekend with a strong showing at the Maryland State 1A Championships, held Friday and Saturday at Western Maryland College in Westminster.

The Southern girls, coached by Louis Newcomb, finished with 53 team points to finish in third place in the state among 39 schools that were represented, while the boys' team, coached by Steve Cosner, recorded 26 team points to place eighth among 39 schools.

Sophomore Sylvia Paesani captured the first gold medal (first place) ever for the Rams, as she won the 100-meter hurdles.

Paesani also finished third in the high jump, was a member of the fifth place 400-meter relay team, and placed sixth in the 300 hurdles.

Winning a silver medal and a bronze medal for the Southern girls was Miranda Marple, a junior, as she placed second in the 100-meter dash and third in the long jump. She was also on the fourth place 800-meter relay team and the 400 relay team.

Jenny Reams, one of only three seniors on the team, won the bronze medal in the 200-meter dash and was also on the 400 and 800 relay teams, while Andrea Devens, a junior, captured the bronze medal in the 100 hurdles and was also on the two aforementioned relay teams.

The fourth member of the 800 relay team was Erika Durst, also a junior.

The only two teams that finished higher than the Southern girls were Central and Wilde Lake, both of which will convert to the larger 2A schools this fall.

Leading the Southern boys to their eighth place team finish was Adam Harvey, a senior, who won the silver medal in the 300 hurdles and the bronze medal in the 110 hurdles. He was also a member of the sixth place 800-meter relay team.

Dave Stephens, a senior, placed sixth in the discus.

Other members of the sixth place 800 relay team, besides Harvey, were Dave Jones, Frank Kratofil, and Adam Moomau.

SGAA To Meet, Discuss Future

The Southern Garrett Athletic Association (SGAA) will meet Monday, June 5, at 7 p.m., in Southern High School's cafetorium.

Among the items on the agenda for the evening's meeting will be discussion of the organization's future, according to a SGAA spokesperson.

All Southern High athletes, parents, and SGAA supporters are urged to attend.

Fitzwater Is Named To Md. All-Star Team

Jeremy Fitzwater, who has been a standout athlete at Southern High School for the past four years, has been named to the Maryland Crown High School All-Star Team by virtue of his performance at two levels of try-outs.

Fitzwater, son of William and Shirley Fitzwater, Deep Creek Lake, will be one of 30 high school players in the entire state of Maryland who will square off against each other (North vs. South) at Camden Yards, Baltimore Oriole Park, on June 11. Fitzwater will play second base for the North team.

Fitzwater, who will graduate from Southern on Sunday, was among 80 seniors, 20 from each of the state's four regions, selected at a try-out session held in Hagerstown that was open to all senior players in the state. The second try-out, held at McCurdy Field in Frederick, cut the number to the final 30. Fitzwater was the only player at the Frederick session to hit a home run.

Fitzwater batted .429 for the Rams this past season and, until an elbow injury early in the season, he was Coach Jim Bosley's number one pitcher. Sophomore Joel Uphold took over that spot and went on to record a perfect 9-0 record for the Rams this season.

Bosley said that Fitzwater is only the third player in Garrett County history to ever make the Crown All-Maryland team. J.R. Bosley of Southern made the squad in 1988 and Northern High School's Alan Sebold earned a spot on the squad last year.

The June 11 game will follow the Baltimore Orioles/California Angels game at Camden Yards. Local persons wishing to obtain tickets for both games may contact Bosley at 334-1131 or William Fitzwater at 387-5779.

Free Fishing Days Slated

The Chesapeake Bay and Maryland's lakes, rivers, and streams offer some of the best fishing on the East Coast, and while anglers already know this, the Maryland Department of Natural Resources (DNR) wants all Maryland citizens to have the opportunity to enjoy fishing.

To make fishing accessible to all, June 3, June 10, and July 4 are free fishing days in Maryland. For these three days, anyone can fish without purchasing a license. All other fishing regulations apply, and a striped bass permit is necessary to fish for and keep striped bass.

"Our fisheries, in the Chesapeake Bay and across the state, are an important and treasured resource," DNR Secretary John R. Griffin said. "The more that people understand, appreciate and enjoy them, the more commitment there will be to protect and preserve them."

For more information about Maryland's free fishing days, persons may call 1-800-688-3487.

Garrett County's youth fishing derby will take place on Saturday, June 3, at Herrington Manor State Park. For more information on this event, persons may call 334-9180.

Area Speedway Review

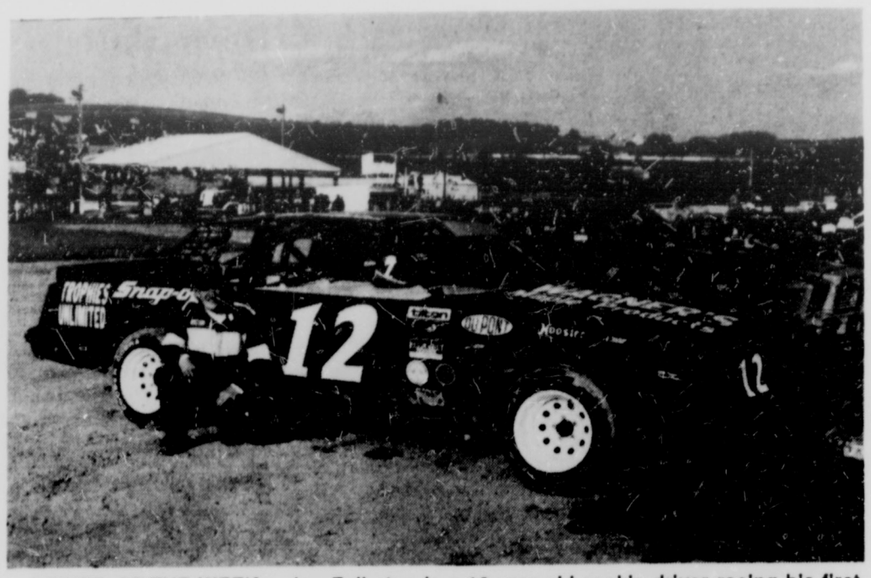
Somerset County Speedway

The Somerset County Speedway in Meyersdale finally got in a Friday night of racing after several rainouts. Sixty four drivers took to the track to try their luck at the oval.

Coming out on top in the heats in the Street Stock Division were Ben Ansell, Rodger Stephens, Jeff Nicholson, Doug Shaffer and Jamie Kemp. The Pro Stock Heats went to Brad Brown and J.R. Isner.

There was a new winner for the "C" Main as Dave Geyer, from Johnstown, Pa., picked up his first feature win of the season. He also received a trophy from Tressler Ashland in Confluence, Pa. Geyer was able to pull out the win in the last lap by taking "rookie driver" James Will, Jr. from Somerset. Doug Kimmel of Somerset also passed Will to pick up the second spot. They were followed by Greg Cornell, Sr., Chuck Bailey, Dan Delancy, and Toby Griffith.

The "B" Main had Jim Sayler of Meyersdale on the pole but he turned over the lead to Craig Breegle of Rockwood, Pa., in the second lap. Breegle didn't hold the lead for long as Sayler took over again in the third and dominated the remaining laps. Sayler and Breegle were followed by Brad Dickey, John Valentine, Brad Reckner, Nelson Bailey, Clair Duppstadt, John Tressler, Dale Wilt, Eric Stayrook, Dave Greer, Carl Riskus, Carl Arnold, Henry Bockes, Bob Singo, Jack Dively, and Terry Mitchell.



DRIVER OF THE WEEK -- Joe Fullerton is a 16-year-old rookie driver racing his first year at Somerset County Speedway in Meyersdale, Pa. Joe is a Grantsville resident who is a junior at Northern High School. His red number 12 is an Olds Cutlass with a 350 Chevrolet motor built by Gene Moats. Gene and Ellen Moats of Moats Motor Sports are the owners of his car and his sponsors include Wagner's Maple Products, Salisbury, Pa.; Trophies Unlimited, Bittinger; and Moats Motor Sports, Grantsville. Members of his pit crew are Gene Moats, Duane Folk, Brian Opel, and Roman Yoder, Jr. Joe's goal for the 1995 season is to be the Rookie of the Year at Somerset County Speedway.

Jeff Nicholson of Confluence never looked back in the "A" Main as he went from pole to pole to pick up the win and trophy. He led the way for Rodger Stephens, Jon Deal, Steve Chipps, Don Shaffer, Duane Shultz, Ben Ansell, Eric Paugh, Jamie Kemp, Bob Davis, Kevin Bender, and Bobby Smith.

The Pro Stock feature went all the way for J.R. Isner of Cumberland. He was challenged by John Sayler of Meyersdale for 15 laps but Sayler had to pit and wasn't able to make it back out. If Sayler gets it all together, he will be a driver to watch in this division. Isner did have to keep an eye on consistent driver Tom Humberson of Grantsville who pulled out the second spot. They were followed by Quint Milburn, Ralph King, Dave Porter, Duane Folk, Brad Brown, Matt Hayman, and Gene Moats.

Racing will continue at the speedway this Friday at 7:30 p.m.

Elkins Motor Speedway

Denny Chamberlain, Tim Hitt, and Dave Groves traded paint for 35 laps Saturday night in a classic duel that left an exasperated crowd gasping for breath in the $2,000 Bank One Late Model feature event at Elkins Motor Speedway.

Only two cautions slowed the blazing pace set by Chamberlain early in lap five after he passed Chuck Harper for the lead on the back straight. Groves slipped past Harper two laps later and the battle for the checkered flag began. Lapped traffic bothered the two veteran drivers very little as both cars slipped over, under, and through the field, seemingly attached by an invisible string.

Midway through the race, Hitt began his assault, finally catching then passing Groves on lap 20. With more lapped traffic ahead, Chamberlain's two car-length lead over Hitt remained in jeopardy. Amazing maneuvering through the blockade of cars broke Chamberlain out of the pack ahead of Hitt with three laps to go and he went on for the comfortable victory. Behind Hitt under the checkered flag were Groves, Henry Hornsby and Chuck Harper.

Greg Tressler, of Oakland, took home his second feature win in the Coca-Cola U.M.P. Modified feature after breaking out in front on the first lap and holding off points rival Ron Parrish. Phil Harris, Robbie Teter, and Ray Johnson, Jr. filled in the top five finishers.

Bill Tincher and John Smith, Jr. raced door-to-door for most of the pure stock 12-lap feature that saw Tincher slide out of first place on turn four with only two laps to go, leaving the track wide open for Smith's victory. Denny Sandy and Dave Robinson were second and third, respectively.

Jeff Pennington won his first four cylinder stock feature of the season with an impressive victory over Rich Teter and Tommy Pennington.

Local Drivers Win At Area Go Kart Tracks

Several drivers from the Oakland area placed in go kart races last weekend. At the Augusta Motor Speedway in Romney, W.Va., last Saturday evening, Mike Sloan finished fourth in the Stock Medium class; Cody Hardesty finished fourth in the Stock Heavy class and third in Modified; Jeremy Murphy finished fourth in the Junior Stock class.

Friday evening at the Fishertown Speedway in Bedford, Pa., Cody Hardesty finished first in the Stock Heavy class.

Interstate 79 Speedway

Mike Smith, from Mineral Wells, W.Va., won the late model feature in his first appearance of the year at Interstate 79 Speedway. Smith started on the outside pole and jumped to the lead on the first lap. He never relinquished the lead. He was followed at the checkered flag by Steve Steele, Frank Wilson, Dave Groves and Shane Lee Hitt. Rounding out the top 10 were Mike Hawkins, Danny Hamrick, Doug Horton and Butch McGill.

In the semi-late feature it was a three-peat for Sonny Conley. Conley came from the ninth position to win. He was followed at the checkered by Scott Miles, Jon Messenger, Tim Harsh and Rick Strickler.

The pure stock feature was picked up by Jim Shaffer. Shaffer took the lead on lap four. He was passed on lap nine by Jim Byers. Byers, however, headed to the pits on lap 11. Shaffer then regained the lead on lap 11. He was followed by Carl Sullivan, Jim Bendeshaw, Butch Summers and Jay Martin.

Mike Wilson picked up his fourth UMP feature event of the year. He took the lead on lap seven from Phil Harris when Harris ran into difficulty and spun. Second went to Mark McGill and third to Buck Barker.

Roger Gower, of Oakland, picked up his first ever feature in the 4-cylinder class. He was followed by Dana McIntyre and Mike Simpson.

The dwarf cars made their second appearance of the season. Jeff Shuck picked up the win. Terry Hall was second followed by Al Roach.

Deep Creek Lake Yacht Racing Schedule Noted

The Deep Creek Yacht Racing Association has announced its summer schedule of sailboat races to be held on the southern portion of Deep Creek Lake, near the Yacht Club on Turkey Neck. The season began with the Becker Cup Regatta over the Memorial Day weekend and races are held each weekend throughout the season, with the summer broken up into the June Series and the July/August Series.

In addition to the regularly scheduled weekend races, the following special events are scheduled. Races begin at noon Saturdays and 1 p.m. Sundays, unless otherwise noted:

July 1-2 - Firecracker Regatta - Races will be begin at noon each day, with two on Saturday and one on Sunday.

July 29-30 - Sandy Douglass Memorial Regatta - Three races will be held Saturday, beginning at 11 a.m., with two races on Sunday, beginning at 10:30 a.m.

August 12-13 - Women's Regatta - Two races will be held Saturday beginning at noon and one race on Sunday, beginning at 1 p.m.

September 2-4 - Commodore's Cup Regatta - Two races will be held Saturday and Sunday and one race on Monday, all beginning at noon.

These races feature the Laser and locally-built Flying Scot sailboats and are open to any racer of these vessels. Young sailors are encouraged to participate in the racing program by sailing a Laser with a junior rig, known as a "4.7 Laser." These sailors will start with Lasers, but be scored separately. Prizes and trophies will be awarded to winners. Races are best viewed from spectators boats near the Yacht Club.

American Trust Plans Charity Golf Tournament

American Trust Bank is planning its seventh annual Charity Golf Tournament, to be held at the Oakland Golf Club July 21.

The bank has sponsored a charity tournament of this nature for the last six years and has succeeded in raising over $82,000 for a number of philanthropic organizations through the generosity of area contributors.

Once again, the recipient of funds will be the Friends of Ruth Enlow Library. The library, which serves all of Garrett County, conducts a fund-raising campaign each year during July. According to a library spokesman, proceeds from the tournament and the entire campaign help support the public library's projects, such as the Children's Book Fund and the Bookmobile service.

The spokesman said that the largest segment of library materials used are those produced for children and young adults, which results in a more frequent need for replacement. The Children's Book Fund allows the Library to continually replace these materials (children's books, reference sources, and video tapes) as necessary. Funds gained from the 1995 American Trust Bank Charity Tournament will be used for the Children's Book Fund where an emphasis will be placed on improving the juvenile fiction and easy readers; especially toddler's selections.

Registration forms for the tournament are now being accepted by American Trust Bank. The event has been planned to include the golf tournament, contests, prizes, and dinner. Businesses and/or individuals can participate by entering teams, sponsoring teams, or by simply contributing a donation. Those interested may call American Trust Bank at (301) 334-5451 or the golf professional at Oakland Country Club, Wheeler Stewart, at (301) 334-3883.

Grantsville Wins; Central, Western Split Two Games

Grantsville won a pair of games in Bi-State Pony League action this past week, while Central and Western Garrett each won one of two contests.

Grantsville topped Western Garrett at Friendsville on Friday, 6-2, as Matt Fritz recorded a pair of singles to lead Grantsville's offense. Tim Umbel singled twice for Western.

Central Garrett dropped a 6-5 contest to Lonaconing in Accident on Saturday, as John Miller went four-for-four at the plate for Lonaconing with a double and three RBI.

Joey Langham was the winning pitcher and aided his own cause with a pair of doubles. Chad Custer added a triple in Lonaconing's 11-hit performance.

Langham and reliever Josh Broadwater gave up only four hits, one of which was a double by Herman Arndt. Broadwater was awarded the win over Scott Sisler.

It was Lonaconing's second win in as many starts.

Fritz led Grantsville again on Tuesday, as he smacked a home run, a double, and a single to lead his team to an easy 15-3 win over Mount Savage. The contest was called after five innings because of the 10-run rule. Grantsville scored 12 runs in the second inning.

Gary O'Brien went the distance on the mound to record the win and was also three-for-four at the plate with three singles. Derek Brown also singled twice.

Grantsville (2-0) will play at Elk Garden Friday.

Central Garrett evened its record to 1-1 with a 20-4 win over host Ellerslie on Tuesday.

Ellerslie pitchers yielded 18 walks, while Sisler tripled and doubled and Herman and Settle each recorded two hits for Central.

Luke Bartlett and Joe Shaffer each had a double and a single for Ellerslie, while Luke Miller singled twice.

Central Garrett will host Keyser this Friday.

Western Garrett recorded its first win of the season by edging Midland, 19-18, also on Tuesday at Friendsville.

A bases-loaded double by Aaron DeWitt in the bottom of the seventh gave Western the victory.

DeWitt also had a triple and two singles for a total of four RBI.

Ed Andrews homered and had three RBI for Midland. J.R. Monahan, Travis Wilt, Norman McKenzie, and Tim Marchinkle each hit a double for Midland (0-2).

Western Garrett (1-2) will play at Mount Savage on Monday.

Deep Creek Lake Sailboat Racing Season Begins

by Harry Filemyr

The Deep Creek Yacht Racing Association opened the 1995 season in wind and rain with the traditional one race Steiding Cup and four race Becker Cup regatta.

Ocean racing is said to be like standing in a cold shower tearing up hundred dollar bills. With more modest boats, last weekend on the lake was like standing in a cold shower lifting weights.

The Steiding race, open to all sailboats, is intended to encourage sailors to get on the water early. It succeeded. Twenty-four participated. The Spinnenweber brothers brought out their light and speedy 5-0-5, but lack of practice showed. John Meredith, who has already had great success at spring regattas, held them off for first.

Saturday and Sunday of the Becker Cup had squally winds and driving rain. The number of participants dwindled with each race. Crews asked, "Is this really fun?" instead of "How much time to the start?" By Monday/tornado spawning winds blew away the rain. Those with a shot at the cup hung in. Dick Gregory said that when Allison screamed it meant to release the jib.

Some Deep Creek regulars attended the Wife-Husband National Championship at Lake Norman North Carolina. Harry and Karen Carpenter placed second and Don and Barbara Griffin 15th.

Results:

Steiding Cup

John and Barbara Meredith and Jennifer Judkins, first; Bruce and Keith Spinnenweber, second; Dick Gregory and Allison Felix, third.

Becker Cup

FSU Offering Housing During Redskins' Camp

Housing will be available on the Frostburg State University campus for fans of the Redskins during their 1995 summer training camp scheduled for July 20 through August 14. Single and double rooms in Cambridge Hall are now available through FSU's Office of Conference and Events. Rooms will be reserved on a first-come, first-served basis.

It is expected that over 30,000 will be coming to the area to catch a glimpse of the Redskins in training. A celebratory Welcome Redskins Day July 20 is scheduled with a train ride for the team from Cumberland to Frostburg and festivities at both cities. A parade from the train depot to the FSU campus will also be held.

For more information, or to make reservations to be close to this year's Redskins camp, persons may contact FSU at (301) 689-4020. Payment may be made with cash, personal check, or traveler's check. No credit cards will be accepted.

morial following the accident near Sand Flat Road. Wible reportedly slowed to make a left turn, and was hit from the rear by a vehicle operated by John A. Qualls, 23, Bayard, W.Va.

Charges were filed against Qualls following the 2:25 p.m. accident. Wible was not wearing his seat belt, but Qualls was, police said.

Southern Garrett Rescue Squad and volunteers from Oakland and Deep Creek fire departments also responded to the scene.

DWI MISHAP

A single-vehicle accident last Thursday on the Durst Road, near the Amish Road, resulted in DWI charges against the driver, state police said.

Richard Allen Wright, 37, Grantsville, was transported to Garrett County Memorial Hospital after the 1969 GMC pickup truck he was operating ran off the road and struck a tree. Wright was released on his own personal recognizance while at the hospital, according to the report.

JUVENILE ESCAPES

A 16-year-old juvenile detainee at Meadow Mountain Youth Center reportedly escaped from that facility Tuesday morning and drove away in a 1993 Pontiac Sunbird owned by Denise E. Cutter, Cumberland.

The youth apparently drove the vehicle on Rt. 220, at Interstate 68, until it ran out of gas. State police at Barrack C, LaVale, reportedly received a report of a suspicious person at a rest area along Rt. 220, and found the suspect covered with leaves, hiding in a ditch, according to the report.

The car was returned to its owner following the 10:30 a.m. incident. The juvenile has been charged with auto theft.

CDS ARREST

An Elizabeth, Pa., man was arrested early Sunday morning and charged with possession of a controlled dangerous substance, driving on a suspended out-of-state license, and driving a vehicle without the permission of its owner.

According to a report filed at the local state police barrack, Charles William Bugan, 34, was apprehended in the parking lot of Arrowhead Deli, after the vehicle he was operating was reportedly taken without the authorization of its owner, Sherri L. Yonek, also of Elizabeth.

A subsequent search of the vehicle revealed suspected marijuana, resulting in the drug-related charge, following the 1:15 a.m. incident, police said. Bugan was initially held on $500 bond.

ONE-CAR MISHAP

An Oakland area man was slightly injured early Sunday morning after the vehicle he was operating on the Cranesville Road, near the Lake Ford Road, traveled off the road and struck an embankment.

State police said David R. Anderson, 31, was apparently southbound on the Cranesville Road, when he attempted to make a U-turn. The car crossed the center line, traveled off the road, and struck an embankment.

Anderson was transported to Garrett County Memorial Hospital where he was treated and released following the 2:25 a.m. mishap.

THEFT, TAMPERING CHARGES FILED

Two juveniles were charged with felony theft and tampering with motor vehicles after they reportedly removed several items from unlocked cars in the Deep Creek Lake area.

According to a report filed at Barrack W, the 16- and 17-year-old youths, who were released to the custody of their parents, were charged with taking three cellular phones, a radar detector, a portable compact disc player, numerous CDs and audio tapes, and a headset from the vehicles as they were parked at the Turkey Neck Loop, Deep Creek Lake.

DWI ARREST

One additional DWI arrest was logged at Barrack W during the past week.

Cathy Gray, 36, Oakland, was arrested and charged with DWI by Tfc. M. Rodeheaver, on May 27.

Health & Nutrition

KEEP KIDS SAFE: Summer is the favorite time for most youngsters. It's a chance to get out into the open air and indulge in one's favorite sport and that means hospital emergency rooms are primed to accept more young people with injuries sustained during these expanded play periods.

Orthopedists are especially concerned about injuries to young people because their bones, muscles, tendons and ligaments are still growing, making any injury potentially more serious than they would be in an adult.

For example, growth plates — the areas of developing cartilage where bone growth occurs in youngsters — are weaker than the nearby ligaments and tendons. What may be just a bruise or a sprain in an adult can be a potentially serious growth plate injury in a young person.

Overuse injuries are also being found in young athletes. One example is called "Little League Elbow," a term that describes a group of common overuse injuries in various sports, not just baseball. Other overuse injuries affect the heels and the knees with tears in the tissue where tendons attach to the leg bone or the heel bone.

Parents need to be aware that no child should be asked to play through pain. Any coach who insists on sending the injured child back into the game needs to be advised that this is not acceptable.

Remember, any injury left untreated can result in permanent damage and even inhibit proper physical growth. Rush the child to a doctor or orthopaedic specialist if any of the following symptoms develop:

1. Inability to play following an acute or sudden injury;
2. Decreased ability to play because of chronic or long-term complications following an injury;
3. Visible deformity of the arms or legs;
4. Severe pain which prevents the use of an arm or leg.

For most minor injuries, R.I.C.E. is still a pretty good means of providing first aid. The R stands for Rest (stop doing what you did when you were injured); I is for Ice (apply ice to the injury site to keep the swelling down); C is for compression (a brace or tape can be used to support the injure area); and E for elevation (keep the limb elevated while you're resting). This cuts down on swelling.

Antiques

Kitchen collectibles are "in."

Almost anything from your grandmother's kitchen is now collectible. Eggbeaters, mixing bowls, food molds, toasters, cookie cutters ... even rolling pins, breadboards and knives are in demand. Your mother's Pyrex dishes and aluminum or cast-iron pots are also desired.

Here are a few clues to help you spot the treasures in a kitchen that was stocked more than 40 years ago:

Eggbeaters or other utensils with cast iron, Bakelite, or wooden handles painted green or red are usually old. Iron pots with the name Griswold on the bottom have value. Streamlined chrome examples are often worth more than $100.

Look for mixing bowls of yellow ware, Depression glass or brightly colored pottery. Copper molds should be heavy. Tin cookie cutters are best if the backing piece is irregularly shaped.

Don't discard anything until you check with a collector or dealer.

Q. When I was small, I collected Plasticville toys from what was then called the 5 & 10-cent store. Each year, I chose one or two new buildings for the train village under our Christmas tree. I still have some in their original boxes. The prices marked ranged from 75 cents to $1.89.

A. Bachmann Bros. of Philadelphia was founded in 1833. It produced Plasticville buildings and accessories.

The parent company originally made ivory cane handles and combs. The growth in the toy train market turned Bachmann's to plastic picket fences and buildings for train villages.

There was a set of 24 "Plasticville citizens," boxes of street accessories and even seasonal trees. The company ended production in the late 1960s. Prices for Plasticville buildings in good condition range from $2 for the Cape Cod House kit to $45 for an apartment house. The original boxes can add 30 percent to the value of the toy.

Pet Care
by Cleo & Brad Conrad

The following are travel tips for you and your pet:

Make sure all pets' identification tags are intact and up to date. Have rabies vaccination certificates with you if crossing state or international borders.

Call your veterinarian before you leave to find out about any special precautions you can take to make the move easier on your pet.

If your pet has not traveled by car before, or is easily agitated in the car, take a few short trips before you go to help him get ready. Small pets may travel better in carrying cages.

Stick to your pet's regular feeding schedule. Taking favorite foods and toys along may prove helpful. If you're traveling for more than a day, stock up on pet food and supplies like cat litter and dog biscuits.

Take a supply of your own water with you to keep the pet from developing a stomach ache.

DO NOT allow the pet to keep its head out the window. Dust particles may cause injury or infection.

DO NOT leave the pet unattended in the vehicle, even if the window is "cracked a little." Temperatures easily soar to fatal heights within minutes.

Your Health

Q. What is the difference between a congenital and a hereditary disease?

A. A congenital illness, or malformation, is one that is noted at birth and is acquired during the pregnancy period.

A hereditary condition is one that is inherited by the offspring, or passed on through the chromosomes and genes of the parents. Some conditions are both congenital and hereditary.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

THE PATHOLOGY OF POWER
June 4, 1995

Background Scripture:
1 Kings 11:26 — 12:24
Devotional Reading:
Psalms 14

The story of the split between the ten northern tribes of Israel and the two southern tribes of Judah is a dusty page of history.

Yet the meaning behind what happened almost 3,000 years ago in a little Palestinian town is as current as tonight's television news or the headlines of tomorrow's newspaper. For behind this tragic event in the long ago history of the people of God was a reality that is just as much a curse in our world as it was in theirs: the misuse and abuse of power.

The late Norman Cousins is perhaps best-known in our time for his writings—Anatomy of an Illness—exploring the relationships between the mind and the body in relation to the health and wholeness of the individual. But Cousins also wrote a book about another kind of sickness, The Pathology of Power (W.W. Norton, 1987), an examination of how the lust for power contaminates and destroys the moral fabric of a nation.

POWER CORRUPTS

Cousins begins with the well-known quotation from Lord Acton: "Power tends to corrupt; absolute power corrupts absolutely" and then goes on to chronicle and explore other tendencies of power that "emerge from the pages of the historians." One of these, says Cousins, is that of becoming "a theology, admitting no other gods before." Human power becomes a substitute for God!

Although King Solomon had made a good beginning in ruling Israel, along the way he succumbed to the theology of power. For the sake of power Solomon had forsaken God and "worshipped Ashtoreth the goddess of the Sidonians. Chemosh the god of Moab, and Milcom the god of the Ammonites" (11:33) and therefore God warned, "I am about to tear the kingdom from the hand of Solomon..."

When Solomon died it was logical that his son, Rehoboam, should succeed to the throne. But, journeying to Schechem to receive the confirmation of the ten northern tribes, Rehoboam is confronted by their representatives with an important condition: "Your father, Solomon, made our yoke heavy. Now therefore lighten the hard service of your father and his heavy yoke upon us, and we will serve you" (12:4). It was certainly a legitimate complaint for Solomon had virtually enslaved many of his citizens to build his royal trappings.

POWER'S ARROGANCE

Before answering, Rehoboam took three days to seek the advice of first the old counselors who had served his father. Their advice: "If you will be a servant to these people today and serve them, and speak good words to them when you answer them, then they will be your servants for ever." Apparently, that wasn't the answer he wanted and instead he took the advice of his youthful advisors who counselled, "Thus shall you speak to this people... 'And now whereas my father laid upon you a heavy yoke, I will add to your yoke: My father chastised you with whips, but I will chastise you with scorpions' " (12:10,11).

Why did Rehoboam reply in such an arrogant and stupid manner? The seduction of power! Rehoboam did not possess power; it possessed him. The exercise of power became more important to him than either God or even common sense, although he was probably convinced that he was possessed of both.

Often those who abuse power most—then and today!—are those who are convinced that they are doing so with the blessing of God. As John Adams wrote to Thomas Jefferson, "Power always thinks it is doing God's service when it is violating all His laws."

Thus it was almost 3,000 years ago; thus it is even now.

SOME MEDICINES DEMAND CONTROLLED ENVIRONMENT

The atmosphere around us has become a very popular topic and air pollution, ecology, etc., have thus become very familiar terms. In a pharmacy, we have always been especially concerned with the close control of the environment because so many of the medicines we stock are susceptible to atmospheric changes..

Just as changes in heat, light, cold, humidity, most definitely effect our normal way of living, so too can they effect the life cycle or potency of a great many drugs. As a pharmacist, we must know how to best protect every medicine so that when it reaches the patient it is ready to perform as the doctor intends.

Edwards Praised For Contributions To Municipal Govt.

Maryland Municipal League President Floyd S. "Pete" Elliott recently announced that District 1 Delegate George C. Edwards will be receiving a Certificate of Appreciation from the Maryland Municipal League for his significant contributions to municipal government during the 1995 session of the Maryland General Assembly. The award will be presented to Edwards by the Allegany-Garrett Chapter of the Maryland Municipal League at meeting later this year.

Edwards, a member of the House Appropriations Committee, co-sponsored the league's priority initiative to put a constitutional amendment on the ballot to prohibit future unfunded state mandates on local governments, and sponsored legislation that will help ensure municipal government access to Program Open Space. He was also a key supporter of MML positions in committee and on the floor, on a number of important issues, according to a spokesperson for the league.

The Maryland Municipal League is a non-profit, non-partisan association representing 150 city and town governments, and three special taxing districts throughout the state. MML works to strengthen the role and capacity of municipal government through a program of services that includes legislative representation, research, and technical assistance.

County Students Graduate From ACC

Allegany Community College graduated 339 students in its spring class, during the recent 33rd commencement exercises, including four from Garrett County.

Those receiving associate degrees in their respective fields were: Accident, Debra Lynn Friend, nursing; Grantsville, Jason Shawn Miller, forest technology, and Donald S. Wilt, electromechanical technology; and Swanton, Kelly Lynn Gover, nursing.

Open Houses Held At Local Senior Centers

An open house was held May 21 at the Truesdell Senior Home, Deer Park, and Rose Terrace Senior Assisted Home, 104 E. Center St., Oakland. The two homes are owned by Garrett County Community Action and are coordinated by the Area Agency on Aging.

Garrett County Commissioner Roger Glotfelty and his wife, Joanne, attended the open house at Truesdell. Mrs. Glotfelty baked cookies for the occasion.

At Rose Terrace, AmeriCorps member Jeannie Frazee and AmeriCorps volunteer David Frazee built a large trellis for climbing roses. Mr. Frazee is also building boxes for plants for the Terrace Garden. The garden is being constructed for the enjoyment of the residents as well as visitors.

Nellie Ashby To Speak At Center

Nellie Ashby will be the guest speaker of the Ladies Love-in-Action luncheon to be held at the Pleasant Valley Community Center on June 6 at noon.

Mrs. Ashby is the director of the Mt. Top Crisis Pregnancy Center located at 111 Alderson Street in Loch Lynn. The center offers alternatives to abortion and is a non-profit organization operated by volunteers.

The cost of the meal is $6.50. For more information or reservations for the luncheon, persons may call Lynn Shaffer at 334-4475 by Sunday, June 4.

Westvaco Reports Record Quarterly Sales, Earning

Westvaco Corporation, a major manufacturer of paper, packaging, and chemicals, has reported record fiscal 1995 second quarter and six-month sales and earnings.

Second quarter sales for the period ended April 30, 1995, were a record $804 million and 28.4 percent higher than during the year earlier period. Sales for the first six months of 1995 were at a record level, rising 28.5 percent compared to 1994 to total $1.55 billion.

Second quarter 1995 earnings were a record $65 million, 97 cents per share, compared with 1994 second quarter earnings of $16.3 million, or 24 cents per share. Earnings for the first six months of fiscal 1995 totaled a record $114 million, or $1.70 per share. This compares with fiscal 1994 first half earnings of $32 million, or 48 cents per share.

John A. Luke Jr., president and chief executive officer, noted that at the close of the first half of fiscal 1995 the company's primary product order backlogs were at their highest mid-year level in the company's history.

"All during 1994, we saw a steady growth in demand for our products," said Luke. "Starting in the middle of last summer and continuing through the fall and into the early part of winter, the rate of growth in demand accelerated even further. While since the turn of the calendar year, we have seen some moderation from the unusually high level of demand of late last year, each sector of our business is now still very healthy by any previous standard."

OAKLAND

Emma Jane (Kisner) Shaffer, Oakland, and her sister and brother-in-law, the Rev. Nellie (Kisner) Fraley and Don Fraley, attended the Stevenson family reunion, May 28, at the Ambassador of Christ campgrounds in Pocahontas County campgrounds near Marlinton, W.Va.

Also attending were the Rev. and Mrs. Kenny Stevenson, Farmington, W.Va.

DONATES PAINTING TO PARK -- The Maryland Department of Natural Resources, Forest & Park Service, Herrington Manor State Park announces the donation of a large oil painting. Local artist Sharon Bernard contributed her oil painting of the Youghiogheny River to Herrington Manor/Swallow Falls State Park. The painting measures three feet by four feet and hangs on display at the Herrington Manor office. Ms. Bernard is a Garrett County native and enjoys painting landscapes, seascape, floral, and portraits. She also does paintings on wood and bracket fungi. She resides in Pleasant Valley with husband, Tom. Pictured with her is Park Manager Roger Riley.

Local Student Is Elected To Honor Society

Mary Lynne Withrow, daughter of Edna Sebold, McHenry, and the late J. Paul Sebold, has been elected to membership in Sigma Theta Tau International Honor Society of Nursing. She was inducted as an undergraduate member of Alpha Rho Chapter at West Virginia University in Morgantown on April 8.

Sigma Theta Tau International is a prestigious organization of leaders and scholars in nursing. This honor society, founded at Indiana University in 1922, currently has 301 chapters at more than 326 colleges and universities worldwide.

Membership in the society is awarded to bachelor's, master's, and doctoral nursing candidates who achieve high scholastic averages and to graduates of the college programs who achieve excellence in nursing leadership roles. The undergraduate inductee must have at least a 3.0 grade point average on a 4.0 scale and be in the upper one-third of their class.

The honor society is committed to improving the health of the public by advancing nursing science. Sigma Theta Tau International sponsors nursing research, produces various publications, and hosts scholarly programs on the international, national, regional, and local level.

I'm embarrassed.
I'm nervous.
I'm not getting undressed for anyone.
There's no history of breast cancer in my family.
I take care of myself.
My doctor never told me to go.

The only reason why you should.

It may save your life.

Even though your doctor may not have told you to go for a yearly mammogram, that's no reason not to. A yearly mammogram takes less than fifteen minutes and can detect lumps too small to find even by frequent self-examination. And finding breast cancer early may just save your life.

On The Menu...

Summer Entertaining Made EASY

Company's coming tonight and you need something that's fast and easy to prepare, something that will impress your guests, and preferably, something that won't ruin your diet. Impossible? Not when you invite two old friends: beans and rice.

Beans and rice have kept each other company in traditional favorites such as red beans and rice, Hoppin' John and Spanish rice and beans. Staples of many cultures for centuries, beans and rice should be regulars in today's kitchens, as well. They're the perfect duo to keep around to help you entertain because, whether the occasion calls for something warm and comforting or zesty and exotic, beans and rice fit in.

Especially during the warm summer months, you don't want to spend a lot of time over a hot stove before guests arrive. To make recipe preparation easy, center your menu around foods that are quick and simple to prepare -- like beans and rice. To save time, you can cook dry beans in advance or substitute canned beans when a recipe calls for dry beans. Once cooked, beans and rice can be kept in the refrigerator for up to a week, or in the freezer for up to six months. Make several batches of both to keep on hand for your next party.

With beans and rice as a base for your meal, time isn't an issue -- neither is taste. Just about anything you make with these counterparts will taste great because few foods complement their fellow ingredients as well as beans and rice. By absorbing and enhancing seasoning and spices, beans and rice bring out the maximum flavor of a recipe.

Best of all, beans and rice prove that food that tastes good actually can be good for you. Rice is a natural for today's lighter, healthier meals. It is an excellent source of complex carbohydrates and is fat-, sodium- and cholesterol-free. Another low-fat food, beans also are high in carbohydrates, as well as protein, fiber and vitamins. When you serve beans and rice together you get a complete protein and double the nutritional punch. You also get a dish you can enjoy without guilt; one you can serve your friends and family with pride.

So, don't sweat it when company's coming. Just remember to have two old friends -- beans and rice -- on hand to help make your entertaining easier, tastier and healthier. The Bean Education & Awareness Network and the USA Rice Council have teamed up to develop the following recipes to help you impress your guests this summer. Compliments guaranteed.

HEALTHY CAJUN BEANS AND RICE

- 1 tablespoon vegetable oil
- ½ pound turkey sausage or other low-fat smoked sausage, sliced into ½-inch thick slices
- 1 medium onion, chopped
- 1 medium green bell pepper, chopped
- 2 cloves garlic, minced
- 6 cups cooked rice
- 1 15-ounce can kidney beans, drained and rinsed
- 1 15-ounce can navy or Great Northern beans, drained and rinsed
- 2 14½-ounce cans Cajun-style stewed tomatoes
- 1 teaspoon oregano
- ½ teaspoon hot pepper sauce
- 1 cup thinly sliced green onions

Heat oil in large skillet over medium-high heat until hot. Add sausage, onion, green pepper and garlic. Cook, stirring 7 to 10 minutes or until sausage is browned and onion is tender. Add rice, kidney beans, navy beans, tomatoes, oregano and hot pepper sauce. Cook and stir 2 to 3 minutes more until well blended and thoroughly heated. Sprinkle with green onions and serve immediately.

Makes 6 servings.

Each serving provides 466 calories, 21 g protein, 7 g fat, 80 g carbohydrate, 4 g dietary fiber, 0 mg cholesterol and 1235 mg sodium.

POWER PILAF

- 1 tablespoon olive oil
- 2 medium carrots, thinly sliced
- 2 cups broccoli flowerets
- 1 medium onion, chopped
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- ¾ cup spicy vegetable juice
- 2 tablespoons low-sodium Worcestershire sauce
- 2 teaspoons dried thyme leaves
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon ground black pepper
- 6 cups cooked white rice
- 1 15-ounce can black beans, drained and rinsed
- 1 15-ounce can kidney beans, drained and rinsed

Heat oil in large skillet over medium-high heat until hot. Add carrots, broccoli, onion and garlic. Cook 4 to 5 minutes or until vegetables are crisp-tender. Add vegetable juice, Worcestershire sauce, thyme, salt and pepper. Stir in rice, black beans and kidney beans. Cook 2 to 3 minutes more until thoroughly heated. Serve with grilled chicken breasts, pork chops or as a vegetarian meal.

Makes 6 servings.

Each serving provides 378 calories, 14 g protein, 3 g fat, 74 g carbohydrate, 6 g dietary fiber, 0 mg cholesterol and 736 mg sodium.

SOUTHWESTERN TRI-BEAN SALAD

- ⅓ cup olive oil
- ¼ cup cider vinegar
- 1 teaspoon chili powder
- ½ teaspoon ground cumin
- ½ teaspoon garlic salt
- ½ teaspoon hot pepper sauce
- 6 cups cooked rice
- 1 15-ounce can kidney beans, drained and rinsed
- 1 15-ounce can pinto beans, drained and rinsed
- 1 15-ounce can black beans, drained and rinsed
- 1 11-ounce can corn, drained
- 1 medium-size red bell pepper, chopped
- 1 4-ounce can chopped green chiles

Combine oil, vinegar, chili powder, cumin, garlic salt and hot pepper sauce in small bowl; set aside. Combine rice, kidney beans, pinto beans, black beans, corn, red bell pepper and chiles in large bowl. Pour dressing over salad. Toss until thoroughly combined. Serve immediately, or chill 1 hour before serving.

Makes 6 servings.

TUSCAN WHITE BEANS AND RICE

- 1 tablespoon olive oil
- ¾ pound boneless, skinless chicken breasts, cut into ¼-inch thick strips
- 1 medium onion, chopped
- 3 cloves garlic, minced
- ½ pound fresh spinach leaves, washed, stems removed, torn*
- 1 14½-ounce can diced tomatoes, drained
- 6 cups cooked rice
- 2 15-ounce cans navy or Great Northern beans, drained and rinsed
- 2 teaspoons Italian seasoning
- 2 tablespoons red wine vinegar
- 2 tablespoons dry sherry
- ½ teaspoon ground black pepper
- ¾ cup grated Parmesan cheese

Heat oil in large skillet over medium-high heat until hot. Add chicken, onion and garlic; cook 7 to 10 minutes or until chicken is slightly brown and onion is tender. Add spinach and tomatoes. Cook 3 to 4 minutes or until spinach is wilted and tomatoes are simmering. Add rice, navy beans, Italian seasoning, vinegar, sherry and pepper. Cook and stir 3 to 4 minutes more until thoroughly heated. Sprinkle with Parmesan cheese.

Makes 6 servings.

*Substitute 2 (10-ounce) packages frozen spinach leaves, thawed and drained, for fresh spinach, if desired.

Each serving provides 535 calories, 33 g protein, 8 g fat, 81 g carbohydrate, 7 g dietary fiber, 44 mg cholesterol and 810 mg sodium.

SPICY CUBAN CHICKEN

- 1 8-ounce bottle fat-free Italian dressing
- 3 cloves garlic, minced
- ½ teaspoon ground red pepper
- 1 pound boneless, skinless chicken breasts, cut into ¼-inch thick strips
- 1 tablespoon olive oil
- 2 medium-size red or green bell peppers, chopped
- 1 medium onion, chopped
- 1 teaspoon oregano
- ½ teaspoon ground black pepper
- ½ teaspoon ground cumin
- 6 cups cooked rice
- 2 15-ounce cans black beans, drained and rinsed
- 2 14½-ounce cans diced tomatoes
- Chopped fresh cilantro

Combine dressing, garlic and red pepper in 2-cup glass measure or medium glass bowl. Place chicken in large glass bowl, pour dressing over chicken, cover and refrigerate 30 minutes to 1 hour*. Remove chicken from marinade, drain well, discard marinade. Heat oil in large skillet over medium-high heat until hot. Add chicken, cook 5 to 7 minutes, stirring until chicken is slightly brown, spooning off any excess liquid. Add bell peppers, onion, oregano, pepper and cumin. Cook, stirring 4 to 5 minutes or until vegetables are tender. Add rice, black beans and tomatoes.

Cook 2 to 3 minutes more or until thoroughly heated. Garnish with cilantro, serve immediately.

Makes 6 servings.

*Chicken may be marinated overnight.

Each serving provides 490 calories, 31 g protein, 6 g fat, 77 g carbohydrate, 5 g dietary fiber, 48 mg cholesterol and 761 mg sodium.

To help you keep your cool in the kitchen, no matter how hot it is outside, try these time-saving, temperature-reducing tips:

- Keep cooking utensils and pots and pans to a minimum.
- Choose recipes that don't require lots of preparation or cooking time.
- Do your cooking on the range-top so you don't have to turn on the oven. Better yet, serve cold dishes that don't require heating prior to serving.
- Keep your kitchen well-stocked with a variety of spices, vegetables and non-perishable staples like white and brown rice and canned beans so you can create a variety of tasty dishes in a pinch.
- Plan ahead. Cook items such as dry beans and rice in advance and store in the refrigerator or freezer. Do time-consuming chores, such as chopping vegetables, ahead of time. Begin marinating early in the day and keep in the refrigerator, both to save time during the pre-entertaining rush and to allow meats to absorb maximum flavor.
- Think light. You and your guests will find healthful meals to be a refreshing summer treat.
- Always begin cooking the dish that takes the longest first. That way it can cook while you prepare other items.
- Clean up as you go. You'll be able to move around the kitchen better and you won't have to deal with a mess after your guests leave.

COVER STORY

Tony telecast salutes slim Broadway season

Nathan Lane

Broadway babies come and go, but Nathan Lane is one of the few actors who actually took part of his professional name from a stage character.

"That's right," he confirms. "When I joined Actors Equity, there was already a Joe Lane ... and I had played Nathan Detroit in a dinner theater production of Guys and Dolls when I was about 21. I loved the character, and the name, so I said, 'OK, I'll be Nathan Lane.' "

Lane, along with Tony winners Glenn Close and Gregory Hines, is a co-host of this year's Tony Awards, which CBS airs live Sunday, June 4.

"He's not exactly a good omen for me, is he?" Lane says of Hines. "The last time that I was nominated (for Guys and Dolls), he won. This year, when (we're) co-hosting, I didn't even get nominated!"

The actor is referring to one of the most gossiped-about aspects of this year's ceremonies: A week after the Outer Critics Circle named him the season's best actor for Love! Valour! Compassion!, Lane was passed over by the Tony nominating committee. He tactfully declines to comment on the rampant rumors of backstage politicking.

"It certainly gives me a LOT of material for the Tonys," he laughs.

Best known to millions of young moviegoers as the voice of Timon, the high-strung little meerkat in The Lion King, Lane is one of the most beloved performers on the New York theater scene.

His flair for the outrageous will get a workout during this year's ceremonies "honoring" what is, in many respects, the worst season in Broadway history.

"You have to have a sense of humor about it," he chuckles. "It was a very slim year. I HOPE they'll have a sense of humor. They may say, 'Don't say that,' but that doesn't mean I'm not going to say it."

The scarcity of Tony-worthy productions is reflected in this year's put-on-a-happy-face premise, which Lane gleefully sends up like a demented camp (in every sense of the word) counselor.

"Don'tcha love a theme?" he asks with exaggerated enthusiasm. "The theme for this year's spring formal is 'Broadway Across America' – because there wasn't too much going on on Broadway in New York."

Nowhere is the dire situation more obvious than in the best musical category, which has only two candidates.

"It's a really hot race," Lane says drily, "because you've got Smokey Joe's Cafe and Sunset Boulevard, and then the popular Smokey Joe's Cafe and the colossus Sunset Boulevard, and, of course, you can't forget Smokey Joe's Cafe and Sunset Boulevard."

Co-host Close, a nominee for Sunset, is considered a shoo-in as best musical actress. Her category has only one other competitor, Rebecca Luker from the revival of Showboat, which had its Broadway premiere in 1927.

Likewise, the leading contender for best musical actor is Matthew Broderick in a revival of the 1962 Pulitzer Prize-winning How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying.

Tecumseh: Last Warrior latest in TNT film series

BY JEFF PLASS

Tecumseh: The Last Warrior profiles a Shawnee Indian chief, orator and military leader whose story symbolizes the struggle faced by American Indians throughout history.

The film, premiering Sunday, June 4, on TNT, is the latest installment of the cable network's ongoing series of original films portraying events in Indian history. Tecumseh tells the story of a series of bloody battles, punctuated by Pyrrhic victories, deceit, treachery and, ultimately, bitter defeat.

Jesse Borrego (Fame) plays the title role, portraying the young leader from about the time he broke from Old Northwest chiefs in 1795 over the issue of land ownership.

Tecumseh was born in 1768. His father was killed by white settlers while he was still a child. Soon, his mother moved away and left him behind.

Growing into a fierce and articulate warrior, Tecumseh believed land should be the common property of all Indians and couldn't be signed away to American settlers by any particular tribe.

As settlers pushed west, fulfilling their "manifest destiny" – gobbling up millions of acres of land one meaningless treaty at a time – Tecumseh and his brother, Tenskwatawa (Lorne Cardinal), sought to unite the scattered tribes into a confederation capable of repelling the blue-eyed menace.

While Tecumseh was out crusading for his cause, territorial Gov. William Henry Harrison dealt him a heavy blow, leading a crushing attack on a Shawnee settlement in 1811. Tecumseh sided with the British in the War of 1812, and died fighting in 1813. Harrison went on to become president in 1840.

Jesse Borrego (Fame) has the title role in Tecumseh: The Last Warrior, TNT's latest in a series of films about American Indians. It premieres Sunday.

SOAP TALK

Fans want sleaze factor out of soap operas

BY CANDACE HAVENS

Erika Slezak

Dear Candace: Soaps have touched on all the lurid subjects there are. I want to know if you think Todd Manning will turn out to be Viki's son instead of her half-brother on One Life to Live? I have a sick feeling about it. If they try to pull something like that, I've had it. There will be no more soap watching for me. –G.P. Zomek, Lehigh, Fla.

Dear Reader: Viki (Erika Slezak) has already discovered one child she had forgotten she had borne, Megan. Let's hope it doesn't happen again. There is also the fact Kevin and Todd are supposedly the same age, which means they would have been twins. And Kevin is Joe Riley's son.

Dear Candace: Really, the fact The Bold and the Beautiful is the No. 2 syndicated show behind Baywatch should tell you what kind of cretin audience watches the Bell family productions.

I too was a fan many years ago. I never could understand the complete disregard for their audience. I remember writing them because the shows had become so ridiculous. Their answer to my letter was an application to join their fan club. I was terribly insulted and have not watched a Bell production since. Having a huge audience does not necessarily mean it is a good soap.

It could be there are more morons in this country than we realize. I've watched As the World Turns for more than 20 years, but even at its worst it has more class than any Bell show could ever muster. Bill Bell and his family live in la–la land. –Mrs. W. Bollenback, Merritt Island, Fla.

Dear Reader: The Young and the Restless, the other Bell soap opera, has been No. 1 in the ratings for the last six years. It would not be fair to say the millions of people watching this soap aren't very bright. The loyal fans see it through the good and bad story lines, which all soaps experience.

Dear Candace: I have been a fan of Days of Our Lives for many years. I am very upset by the replacement of the character Austin on the soap. I want to know why the original actor was replaced. –Mrs. Alyce Russ, Fortuna, Calif.

Dear Reader: Patrick Muldoon, who originated the role of Austin, chose not to renew his contract. He is currently working on Melrose Place.

Tom Conti

Q: Where did Tom Conti (The Wright Verdicts) get a British accent? –H. Sulyma, Sarasota, Fla.

Q: What was the name of the movie in which Tom Conti played a young pope? Is it on video? –Mrs. Anna Fantozzi, Sandusky, Ohio.

A: Like many actors, Conti, a native of Paisley, Scotland, can adjust his accent as needed.

Saving Grace is available from Movies Unlimited, 6736 Castor Ave., Philadelphia, Pa. 19149.

Q: Can you help us locate The Garden of the Finzi-Continis on video? –J.C., Sarasota, Fla.

A: Assuming you want the subtitled version, it's available from Movies Unlimited at the above address.

Q: I say Paul Reubens in Buffy the Vampire Slayer is the same guy who plays Pee-wee Herman. My husband disagrees. Who is right? –A. and L. Green, Jackson, Mich.

A: I would think his hilariously over-the-top "death scene" in that movie would have tipped off your husband. Yes, it's the same actor.

Q: Please settle an argument. Was Colleen Dewhurst really Candice Bergen's mother? –M.M.H., Ulysses, Kan.

A: No, but she won an Emmy playing that part on Murphy Brown.

Q: What was the name of the short-lived TV series that starred David Soul as the head of an FBI homicide-forensic team? –A reader in Rapid City, S.D.

A: Unsub, which ran on ABC from February to April 1989, took its title from the fact this team of behavioral scientists was seeking serial killers who were unknown subjects – "unsubs," for short.

Q: I enjoyed the recent rerun of The Sound of Music. What else has Christopher Plummer done? –L.H., Hartford, Conn.

A: Well-known for his stage roles (he won a Tony Award for Cyrano), the 67-year-old, classically trained Canadian actor made waves with his oft-quoted dismissal of the movie as The Sound of Mucous.

Among his 50-plus movies on video are Eyewitness, Lily in Love, The Man Who Would Be King, The Silent Partner and Somewhere in Time.

He is the father of actress Amanda Plummer.

CORRECTION: An ABC publicist recently identified the roller coaster in the opening credits of Step by Step as an attraction at Magic Mountain in Ventura, Calif. Robert Tol, an editorial assistant at The Daily Californian in El Cajon, called to say it's actually the Colossus at Six Flags Magic Mountain in Valencia, Calif. Thanks a bunch, Robert!
